

Lambs Applaud 'Superb, Stupendous Symphony of Stars' in Minstrel Show

Club Forgoes 'Big Apple,' But Holds Lusty Frolic At Season's First Dance

Dinner Coats Survive Summer Battle With Moths; Edward G. Stokley's Song and Cake-Walk Gets Thunders of Applause.

By VIRGINIA MOORHEAD MANNON

Everyone was very gay at the Lambs' opening frolic Saturday night at the Columbia Club. Those girls who hadn't got around to buying new winter dinner frocks made last year's model presentable with a new clip or two and a bunch of flowers in their hair. The Lambs, themselves, had pretty good luck with their dinner coats and tails. A remarkable number had won the summer's battle against the moths.

Here and there one glimpsed a resplendent gentleman clad in voguish midnight blue dinner clothes set off with a boutonniere and a boutonniere. Despite the fact that the "Big Apple" has not yet hit Indianapolis, the start of the season turned out pretty hotcha, and a general milling around proved a satisfactory substitute for "trunkin" and "going to town."

Dorothy Jay Robinson, prima donna of the minstrel show, brought down the house with her animated rendition of "Where or When." Edward G. Stokley, who managed to cakewalk over most of the ballroom floor as he sang, received thunderous applause for "Oh, You Beautiful Doll."

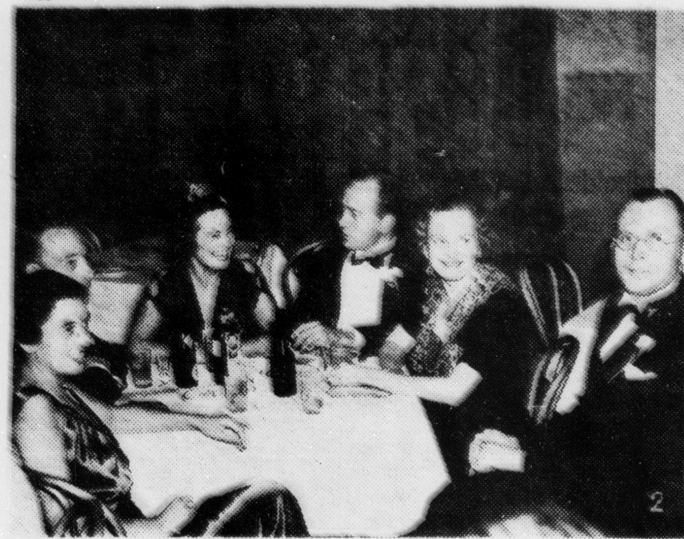

Charles A. Rockwood, interlocutor par excellence, and the Lambs' Little Sinfonietta endeavored themselves to the audience with their presentation of "The World's First Premiere Performance and probably its last." The Sinfonietta was composed of Mrs. Ralph W. Lieber, Mrs. J. Perry Meek, Robert Davy Eaglesfield, Walter J. Hubbard Jr., Harry S. Shepard, Robert Ferriday Jr. and Mr. Rockwood.

"The Two Spades," colored tap dancers, added just the right note to the minstrel show with their "Four Feet of Rhythm."

All in all the "superb, stupendous, scintillating symphony of stars" put on a rollicking performance and the Lambs and their wives did a good job of assisting by joining lustily in the "gang singing" of "Oh, You Beautiful Doll," "Comin' Thru the Rye," "Because My Baby Says It's So" and "Good Night, Ladies."

Mr. and Mrs. Paul R. Matthews were chairman of the minstrel show committee. They were assisted by Mr. and Mrs. John B. Stokley and Mr. and Mrs. Eaglesfield.

Other members of the "company" were Mr. and Mrs. John Bookwalter, Mr. and Mrs. William J. Kothe, Mr. and Mrs. Yale Rice, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Stuhldreher, Mrs. Rockwood, Mrs. Ferriday, Stuart Dean and Jack H. Rhoades.

1. Among the parties at the Lambs Club Frolic on Saturday night was one including (left to right) Mrs. Bennett Bobbitt, Ralph Lieber, Mrs. Walter Stuhldreher, Bennett Bobbitt and Mrs. Ralph Lieber.

2. Another large party enjoying a number of the chorus included Mrs. Jeremiah Cadick, Mr. Cadick, Mrs. Stanley Shipnes, Stanley Shipnes, Mrs. William J. Kothe and William J. Kothe.

3. Chorus members who helped to contribute to the success of the minstrel included Mesdames Yale Rice, John Bookwalter and Paul R. Matthews.

4. Included in one party were Miss Joan Pratt Johnson, Mrs. Russell Willson Mrs. Carl H. Wallerich, Mrs. Uz McMurtie, Carl H. Wallerich and Uz McMurtie.

5. Perry Meek (left) chats with Mrs. David P. Andrews and Mr. Andrews.

6. Aids assisting the "superb, stupendous, scintillating symphony of stars" was the chorus.

Washington Honeymoon Tour Begun

Bette Clare Mumford Is Bride in Meridian Heights Church

Mr. and Mrs. James Joseph Lamb are on a wedding trip to Washington. Upon their return Nov. 1 they are to be at home at the Chateau Apartments, 1501 E. Maple Road.

Their marriage at 4:30 p. m. Saturday in the Meridian Heights Presbyterian Church, was one of the most attractive events of the fall season.

Mrs. Lamb was formerly Miss Bette Clare Mumford, daughter of Mrs. Marguerite Lewis Mumford and Rufus Wilson Mumford. Mr. Lamb is a son of Mrs. Laura Lamb.

Candelabra Light Church

Wine red and silver blue predominated in the church decorations. On either side of the altar stood a large delphinium blue vase filled with white chrysanthemums, centered with wine-colored American Beauty roses. The altar was lighted with tiers of candelabra and the altar rail was trellised with greenery. Palms and cacti ferns provided a background for the arrangement.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a candelabra light velvet gown on princess lines with a draped bodice and long bouffant sleeves. At the neck she wore a family heirloom garnet brooch.

Carried Orange Blossoms

Her circular fingertip illusion veil fell from a Juliet cap caught with orange blossoms. Clustered about an orchid in her bouquet were white pompons and white roses.

Miss Joan Mumford was her sister's maid of honor. She wore a French wine velvet gown on similar lines, fashioned with short puffed sleeves. In her hair she wore a matching band of velvet with a silver-blue ostrich tip. She carried delphinium and wine carnations tied with wine ribbon.

The bridesmaids, Misses Berenice Brennan, Betty Williams, Greenwood, Miss Marcella McDermitt, Greensburg, and Miss Helen Barton, Covington, Ky., all wore gowns of silver blue made on similar lines. They wore bands of the same velvet with wine red ostrich tips in their hair. They carried wine carnations, scabiosa and miniature dahlias.

Nancy Lewis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold C. Lewis, was flower girl.

Brother Best Man

Mrs. Mumford wore an Alix burgundy crystal gown and a draped turban. She wore a corsage of white spray orchids. Mrs. Lamb wore a sapphire blue lace gown with a matching velvet turban and gardenia corsage.

Jack Lamb was his brother's best man. George Mumford, a cousin of the bride; Hugh Lamb, another brother of the bridegroom and Jack Elder and William Orme ushered.

Mrs. Mumford and Mr. Mumford entertained with a dinner at the Columbia Club after the ceremony. The bride travelled in rust colored wool, a baranduki fur jacket and woodbrown suede accessories.

She attended St. Mary-of-the-Woods College, Florida Woman's College and Butler University and was a member of the Pi Beta Phi Sorority. Mr. Lamb attended Purdue University.

Sorority Rushes Are Guests Tonight

Rushes of Alpha Epsilon chapter, Delta Theta Tau Sorority, are to be guests at a Halloween party tonight in the home of Mrs. Noble Biddinger, 3901 Park Ave.
