

Designer Flunked Muncie Exams, Fled to New York

This is the costume Phyllis Greely works in at the Fashion Academy.

Not Dumb, Says Style Student, But Didn't Like 'Middletown'

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—Phyllis Greely had to flunk all her exams for two years in Muncie High School to get to New York, but here she is, and lovely even to the discerning Gotham eye.

"Don't get the idea that I'm dumb," explains Miss Greely, who is studying dress designing at the Fashion Academy, "but after attending art school in Chicago for six months I simply couldn't stand the sophomore year in Muncie. I told mother I'd probably flunk in every subject unless I studied designing in New York or some place."

One glance at Miss Greely leads to the conviction that professors in Muncie would flunk her. She is five-foot-two, has brown hair, blue eyes and several others to pose for hosiery ads. She thinks she is a fair representative of Muncie's young womanhood, and there is no disputing that.

"Most go to Indianapolis," Muncie—better known, perhaps as "Middletown," the typical American city, which publications have been giving a fine going over of late—has 45,999 other natives, but Miss Greely is sure that her coming to New York to study makes her unique in our community, because, "Most of the kids go to Indianapolis or Chicago."

"It was all right before I went to Chicago, but, good night, when I came back—honestly, the streets are so rough driving home at night it's enough to knock a girl's teeth out," says Miss Greely.

"No smoking, no drinking, no nothing. Boy, this place has it all over Muncie, with the Stork and El Morocco and right near Yale and Princeton and everything."

"Of course, Muncie isn't slow, you understand. You just have to belong to the right clique, and if you don't there is no use staying there. T. B. C. (The Boys Club) is the snooty men's club, and the Triangle. I belong to the Sewing Club. That's the swanky women's clique."

Not Dumb, She Says

"But just don't get the idea that I'm dumb on account of those flunk exams. I've always wanted to do fashion work, and I'm doing real well now. Ask Director Hartman. I of Muncie's wealthiest family and great-grandpa Greely were pioneers in "Middletown," which sort of establishes Phyllis on the right side of the railroad tracks.

There is nothing like gold cloth with rhinestone clasps for evening wear, says Miss Greely.

"Horace Greeley (although he had an extra 'e' in his name) was my great-granduncle, or something," she avers.

"There is a new version of 'Go West,' though. Have you heard it?" "No."

"Well, dad always says: 'Go West, young man, make money.'"

"Oh, I knew you must have heard it," Miss Greely adds disappointedly.

PASSENGER TRAFFIC AT AIRPORT GAINS

Passenger traffic at the Municipal Airport increased by 619 for four months ending Sept. 30 over the same period in 1936, according to Nish Dienhart, superintendent.

Passengers arriving here totaled 2910 during the period; departures were 3010, through passengers totaled 11,143. T. W. A., American, and Eastern Airlines sent 1670 ships in and out of the airport during the 1937 period, as compared to 1533 in 1936.

LISTS THREE AS POSSIBLE JUDGE IN PINBALL CASE

Markey Names Deery, Ross And Patrick for Attorneys' Selections.

Three men from whom a special judge is to be named to hear a suit seeking to restrain police from seizing pinball and marble machines were named today by Superior Judge Joseph T. Markey, in whose court the suit was filed.

They were James E. Deery, former City Corporation counsel; Frank B. Ross, former Probate Court judge, and Fae W. Patrick, United States Commissioner. It was indicated the selection might be made this afternoon.

Before naming the three men, Judge Markey called in Chief Deputy Oscar Hagemeier and the attorney for the plaintiff, Wilbert Williams, and asked that the test case be changed to Criminal Court. The plaintiff's attorneys, however, said they preferred a special judge in Superior Court.

Preparing Affidavits

Police Chief Morrissey and Mr. Hagemeier announced today they were preparing affidavits against owners and operators of an estimated 60 pinball machines seized recently and now held in Police Headquarters.

They indicated the affidavits would be filed in Municipal Court, and that the cases probably would reach Criminal Court, making tests of the 1935 State anti-slot machine law in two courts here.

Judge Markey said yesterday: "A civil court should not rule on a matter of this kind. I do not see why it was filed in my court in the first place."

The suit charges police and the Safety Board with unlawful seizure of marble or pinball machines. It contends the machines are not gambling devices under the 1935 antislot machine law.

Marble-machine owners filed the suit, it is reported, as a test of the 1935 act. Attorneys for both parties have indicated they might take the case as far as the State Supreme Court.

Pierce, 25-year-old Indianapolis citizen, drew a gun on Chief Shaul in downtown Alexandria to escape and then surrendered peacefully after Chief Shaul and State Policeman George Daugherty had trailed him to the cornfield and fired one shot at him.

The officers reported Pierce had confessed stealing a car belonging to Forrest Metz, Leesburg. He was to be questioned in connection with a Sunday filling station robbery here.

Pierce is on parole from the Indiana State Reformatory. He is a brother of Paul Pierce, serving life term for the slaying of Orville Quinette, Indianapolis City Detective.

Lose Bad Breath—Keep Your Friends

This gentle bile-producer might help

In spite of all that has been written about bad breath, thousands still lose friends through this unpleasant fault. Yet sour stomach with its resultant bad breath is frequently only the result of constipation. Just as it can cause loss of appetite, early weakness, nervousness, and mental dullness.

So keep regular. And if you need to assist Nature, use Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. This gentle laxative can help bring relief. Extremely important, too, is the mild stimulation it gives the flow of bile from the liver without the discomfort of drastic, irritating drugs. That's why millions use this laxative yearly. All druggists, 15¢, 30¢, 60¢.

"Your liver secretes from 20 to 30 ounces of bile every day to aid in the digestion of fats and stimulate muscular action of the intestinal system. Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, besides helping keep you regular, contain an ingredient which definitely assists in the secretion of bile. That is one of the reasons why Olive Tablets have unsurpassed effectiveness."—Advertisement.
