

CEREMONIES SET AT WASHINGTON SCHOOL TODAY

Annex Cornerstone Is Laid; Pupils at Shortridge Show Exhibits.

Cornerstone laying ceremonies for the $335,000 Washington High School addition features today's celebration of Education Week in Indianapolis.

Earl Buchanan, School Board member, was to speak on "Significance of This Building to the Community" and School Superintendent DeWitt S. Morgan, on "Cornerstones and Milestones." Carl Wilde, School Board vice president, was to lay the cornerstone.

This program, starting at 3:30 p. m., also was to mark the 10th anniversary of the school's founding. Others to take part in the program include Miss Vivian B. Eby and William H. Bock, faculty members; Mrs. D. H. Badger, Parent-Teacher Association president; Dr. L. M. Satter, George Washington Club president; Cecil Whaley, a pupil; Mrs. L. A. Pottenger, P-T. A. past president and the Rev. C. G. Baker, George Washington Club former president.

Pageant Scheduled

A Horace Mann pageant is to be presented at 7:45 o'clock tonight by Washington pupils in the school auditorium.

With 400 eighth-grade pupils from East Side elementary schools looking on, the cornerstone for the Thomas C. Howe High School in Irvington was laid yesterday. Hilton U. Brown, Supt. Morgan and Alan W. Boyd, School Board president, participated in the program.

Mrs. Mary D. Ridge, School Board member; A. B. Good, School Business Director; the Rev. Abram S. Woodward, and the Technical High School Concert Band also participated.

Speaking at a School 43 Fathers' Night program, Supt. Morgan said last night that "the undeveloped abilities of men and women are the only undeveloped resources of the nation today. These human resources can be developed only through education. Democracy and ignorance never can exist together."

Represent Board

Supt. Morgan, Mr. Buchanan and John F. White are to represent the board at the dedication of the new auditorium in School 35, at 2201 Madison Ave., at 8 tonight. M. B. Stump, principal, will preside.

A number of window exhibits by Shortridge High School pupils are on display in the school halls in observance of Education Week. The exhibits, done with the aid of the faculty, illustrate classroom work. Among the displays are pottery. Alan W. Boyd, School Board president, was to speak at the open house in Crispus Attucks High School tomorrow night. Mr. White is to be guest speaker at School 39, at 601 S. State Ave., at its open house, tomorrow, 7 to 9 p. m.

NEW PATENTS TO AID FLYING APPROVED

WASHINGTON, Nov. 11 (U. P.).—The U. S. Patent Office has granted three patents on inventions designed to increase transport flying safety, it was disclosed today. Intended to overcome major flying difficulties, they are a wing-declining device, a liquid compass and an altimeter which shows distance from the ground to the plane.

20,000 MEASLES CASES IN STATE ARE PREDICTED

Dr. Harvey Expects Largest Number of Victims Since 1933.

There probably will be about 20,000 cases of measles reported in Indiana by the beginning of next summer, Dr. Verne K. Harvey, State Health Director, predicted today.

Basing his estimate on department statistics compiled within recent years, Dr. Harvey said measles cases are reported here in cycles of three or four years, and this winter we should have the largest number of cases since 1933.

Although this disease is not generally classed as dangerous, he said there usually is an average of one death to every 500 cases.

Measles is a disease of childhood, according to Dr. Harvey, and 97 per cent of the cases are reported in children under 15. Ninety per cent of the deaths occur among 1 and 2-year old infants, while records show deaths rarely are reported for patients between the ages of 5 and 15.

Dr. Harvey, in explaining the cycle, said in 1931 there were 18,277 cases; 1932, 3240; 1933, 19,009; 1934, 11,396; 1935, 875, and 1936, 6059.

Discovers Way to Make Measles Virus Visible

NEW YORK, Nov. 11 (U. P.).—Jean Broadhurst, bacteriologist of Teachers College in Columbia University, announced today that she had discovered a means to make visible the virus bodies that cause measles, and thus to accelerate diagnosis of the childhood disease.

Her discovery, reported in the Journal of Infectious Diseases, will enable doctors to identify the disease even before the characteristic rash of measles appears.

The prohibition followed an inquest into the death of James Parks, 57, Negro inmate, who died a week ago of pneumonia. Freall Robinson, chief officer of the mental block, admitted he had been using a formaldehyde spray upon unruly prisoners. He had not received authority from prison officials to do so, he said.

BAN FORMALDEHYDE TO SUBDUCE CONVICTS

JACKSON, Mich., Nov. 11 (U. P.).—Southern Michigan Prison officials today banned the use of formaldehyde to subdue unruly prisoners, except under the direction of competent physicians.

The prohibition followed an inquest into the death of James Parks, 57, Negro inmate, who died a week ago of pneumonia. Freall Robinson, chief officer of the mental block, admitted he had been using a formaldehyde spray upon unruly prisoners. He had not received authority from prison officials to do so, he said.

Drunken Driver Is Sentenced; Lagrange Crash Kills Autoist

Fines of $201 Assessed 15 Speeders; 64 Drivers Face Court.

Of 64 motorists arraigned in Municipal Court on traffic charges today, one alleged drunken driver was given a 30-day jail sentence and 15 speeders were assessed $201 fines and costs.

Thirty-four others were assessed $147 on miscellaneous charges and cases of the remainder were continued.

Earl Dowden, Kokomo, was sentenced to 30 days and assessed $65 on charges of drunken driving, reckless driving and drunkenness.

Ozzie Henry, 1812 Somerset Ave., was bound over to the Grand Jury under $500 bond on a charge of failure to give assistance to injured persons after an accident last Friday.

The traffic "dawn patrol" will be continued to stop speeding and drunken driving in the early morning hours, Lieut. Lawrence McCarty, Accident Prevention Bureau head, said today.

Mrs. Marie Self, 20, of 207 W. Wisconsin St., was treated in City Hospital for head and body bruises after a car driven by her husband, Robert E. Self, collided head-on with another driven by William Beals, 19, of Southport, at S. Meridian St. near Troy Ave. last night.

ASKS NEW SLAYING TRIAL

NEWCASTLE, Nov. 11 (U. P.).—A motion for a new trial for Carson Smith, 19, Albany, Ky., was on file in Circuit Court here today. Smith was convicted of second-degree murder Oct. 20 for the slaying of Bertram L. Soini, transient tomato picker.
