

Past Styles To Be Club Show Theme

Smith College Group Will Model Fashions at Dance Tonight.

Styles of the Empire, "gay nineties," and the Crinoline Era are to be revived tonight when members of the Smith College Club appear in a fashion promenade at the organization's dance in the Woodstock Club.

More than 50 members are to don outmoded commencement and wedding gowns for the show about 11 o'clock. The ensembles to be modeled have been collected from the wardrobes of great-grandmothers, great-aunts, mothers and others, at least one creation dating from before the 1850's. Many of the gowns are more than 60 years old. Mrs. James F. Carroll, club president, is to wear a gown representative of the 1890 fashion.

Frank Hoke is to be master of ceremonies. Numerous parties are being arranged for the dance. Several are to attend the Players Club production at the Civic Theater early in the evening and go on to the dance later.

Dutch Treat Party Listed

Among the parties at the club is to be a Dutch treat party including Messrs. and Mesdames Hobson Wilson, Robert I. Blakeman Jr., Edward L. Van Riper, William Macomber, Kendallville, and William Kothe.

Mrs. David P. Williams is to entertain for Mr. and Mrs. Lyman Ayres, and Mr. and Mrs. Talcott Griswold, Wapakoneta, Ill. Mrs. Williams is co-chairman of the dance with Mrs. Frederick T. Holliday. Mrs. Williams' costume for the fashion show will be a pale gold tulle gown that was in the trousseau of Mrs. Arthur V. Brown.

Mr. and Mrs. John P. Collett are to hold a dinner for Messrs. and Mesdames Perry, Lesh, Frank Hoke, Evans Woollen Jr., Donald Test and William Munk.

At the table of Mr. and Mrs. Neil Estabrook are to be Messrs. and Mesdames Vance Smith, Herbert Todd, Leroy Gardner and Arthur Naumann, Grosse Point, Mich.

Adams to Entertain

Mr. and Mrs. Byron Lundblad and Mr. and Mrs. George K. Jones are to be the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Elder Adams.

Before going to the dance Mrs. Lafayette Edge plans to entertain informally at her home in Woodstock Drive. The guests are to include Messrs. and Mesdames Donald Mattison, Wayne Ritter, Miss Gladys Heaslip, Dr. Walter Breusch and Bomar Cramer.

Mr. and Mrs. Harlan Hadley's party is to attend the Players Club performance and then attend the Smith Club dance. Included in the group are to be Mr. and Mrs. James F. Rogan, honor guests, and Messrs. and Mesdames John R. Brant, Kurt F. Pantzer, Robert Stempfel and Mr. Caleb Lodge.

Dr. Myers to Be Host

Dr. and Mrs. Charles W. Myers are to have as their guests at their home Mr. and Mrs. F. Noble Ropkey, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Myers and Dr. and Mrs. C. B. Jackson. Mr. and Mrs. Walker Winslow also are to entertain a group.

In Mr. and Mrs. Frederick T. Holliday's party are to be Messrs. and Mesdames Sylvester Johnson, John Gould, Austin Brown, Elias Atkins and others.

Reservations also have been made by Richard Hoberg, Miss Florence Barrett, Messrs. and Mesdames Greer McIntosh, John and Mrs. Kittie, A. T. Wilson and Carl Mott.

Kokomo, Gary Voters' League Units End Patronage Probes

Reports from Kokomo and Gary Leagues of Women Voters on results of the patronage system survey being conducted by the Indiana League, have been received by Mrs. Tristram Coffin, Indianapolis, state personnel campaign chairman.

Local surveys to determine the part of the precinct committee and other County party officials in the patronage setup are to be completed by Nov. 30, Mrs. Coffin said. Arrangements for interviews with State party officials are being made by league leaders.

Mrs. Coffin explained that the surveys are parts of a nation-wide investigation by the National League seeking to prove patronage system inefficiency, injustice and extravagance.

National directors of the organization, at their recent semiannual meeting in Washington, endorsed President Roosevelt's merit system recommendations to the special session of Congress.

The directors cited specific clauses of the President's message, urging Congress to "extend the merit system upward, outward and downward to cover practically all non-policy determining posts" and to set up "a statutory modernized machinery for the permanent enforcement of merit principles in appointment, promotion and personnel management throughout the Government service."

The 15-member league board expressed as its concerted opinion: "It is to be hoped that in carrying out these recommendations, proposals for an advisory board of citizens and for highly qualified personnel administrator, selected from a list prepared by a special examining board other than the appointing power, be included."

Knapp-Moore Rites To Be on Christmas

Col. and Mrs. Walter Moore, formerly of Ft. Benjamin Harrison, announce the engagement of their daughter Marjorie, to Raymond H. Knapp, South Bend, son of Mr. and Mrs. John F. Knapp, 43 N. Vine St., Indianapolis. The wedding is to take place Christmas Day in Venice, Fla.

Mr. Knapp attended DePauw and Indiana Universities. He is a member of the Sigma Phi Epsilon Fraternity and Scabbard and Blade Fraternity. Col. and Mrs. Moore have left for Venice, where they are to make their future home. Col. Moore recently retired from army service.

She'll Be 'Miss 1900' Tonight

Ottomans Give Comfort

Fat, squatty ottomans give a note of real comfort to almost any room in the house. For the nursery, have them in washable oilcloth in a gay, childish print; for the living room, real leather, tapestry, chenille or brocade to harmonize with your furnishings; for bedroom, hand blocked linen, chintz, or L. The room is more formal, damask.

Child Asks Little From Santa Claus

'If I Get Scooter, My Sister Will Want One Too.'

By OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON

The sweetness of children, little ones particularly, almost makes my heart ache. They possess a certain calm logic that is later lost sight of in the turbulence of life.

I took a small fellow on my knee and asked him if there was anything he would like Santa Claus to bring him. A silly question, I knew. I was being stupid and a bore. But he clasped his little hands gravely and nodded.

"Yes, a scooter and a car." Then added: "That's enough."

Now as he is my grandson, this chap of 4, I said, "Yes, it is enough, dear. But I thought you would have a whole barrel of things to ask for."

"Oh, I want more things, but that's enough," he insisted.

"Well let's hear what is in the barrel," I said.

"What did you say?"

The Rest of the List

"Tell Olive what the other things are you were thinking about." I tried to get him to call me "Granny" from the first. But he chose the name himself. He calls his mother "Mother," but his father, who used to be Daddy Dick is now plain Dick. "Granny" is my preference. I like it much better than Grandma. But we are talking about Christmas and really serious things now.

"I want another sled that you can turn. And a big wheel-barrow and a shovel, and a big yellow car like the one Teddy stepped on and broke. And a two-wheeled bicycle, but I'm too little. I can ride it, but Dick says I can't."

"How about new blocks?" His old building sets are almost round from wear. And drably colorless, also sketchy from loss.

"I have blocks," he nodded, gravely.

"If Santa Claus brings you nice new bright ones what kind would you like?"

He was ready. "I need lots to make a garage. I can't make do any more. The long ones got lost."

"What about Deedie," I asked. "What does she want?"

"I guess she wants my toys."

"Then what do you think Santa should bring her?"

How Desires Are Born

"If I get a scooter and a car she'll want a scooter and a car. But she'll ride a scooter. Maybe she'd better get one anyway," he concluded. "Deedie wants a scooter and a car. Yes, that's right."

"What do you think Mary wants?" "Mary wants everything. She pulls my hair," he laughed.

"Let's tell Santa Claus to bring her a lot of hair to pull."

He laughed hard. "Mother, Olive says for Santa Claus to bring Mary (the baby) some hair to pull. Isn't that funny?"

I held him close. But when he said, "Olive, what do you want Santa Claus to bring you?" I filled up and wept. This 4-year-old, with his parents, Dr. and Mrs. Deedie, has a temper and stamps around like a top sergeant at times. If he didn't, I would not give half a snap for him. But my chief concern in life now is to live long enough to see him grow up. And Deedie and I are not to be Grandma or Granny. I'm not. Santa has been chosen. It is to be "Olivia"—friend.

What Woman Wouldn't Like These?

What a beautiful surprise for Christmas morning! On the mantel are a comb, brush and mirror set of bleached maple, perfume and toilet water in a wine basket. On the table are a de luxe manicure case, perfume, a set of nail lacquers, bath and face powders, a rich night cream in a shiny box, jar, a tiny makeup kit no larger than a lipstick and a novel nail brush.

Bomar Cramer Is to Play for Business Club

Bomar Cramer, pianist, is to give a concert at 8 p. m. Thursday in the World War Memorial auditorium for Indianapolis Business and Professional Women's Club members and their guests.

Mr. Cramer is to be introduced by Miss Marian McFadden. His selections are to include Fantasie, F. Minor, Chopin, and six of Chopin's Etudes, including Op. 10, No. 3; Op. 10, No. 4; Op. 10, No. 5; Op. 10, No. 8; Op. 25, No. 1, and Op. 25, No. 3.

Also included in his program are to be Chopin's Scherzo, C sharp minor; Granados' "The Maiden and the Nightingale"; "Minuet," Bizet-Rachmaninoff; "Serenade," Strauss-Bachaus; "Etude Caprice," Debussy; "Etude E major," Scriabine, and "Nachtfauler Valse," Strauss-Tausig.

The Puritan Party is to be held at 8 p. m. Monday in the clubhouse. Miss Irene Douglass and Miss Louie McCarthy, East Side Section leaders, are co-chairmen.

There are dozens of new perfumes on the market, not to mention all the old favorites in new bottles and packages. Three sweet little bottles are packed together beneath a Christmas bell.

A huge cake of bath soap nestles inside a Santa Claus mask. A wonderful cologne comes in a bottle which simulates a brandy decanter. A quart-size champagne bottle contains cologne liquid for the bath and is packed in a wine basket. In a wicker steamer basket are perfume, a decanter of cologne, a lipstick and bath powder. Three bottles of perfume go in a small metal crate, and can be locked in.

For Grandma and Baby

If she's over 40, and one of your best friends, a de luxe night cream, preferably one of the new varieties that tend to eradicate fine lines and wrinkles, will delight her on Christmas and for weeks thereafter.

Give grandmother a bottle of liquid sachet which she can apply on the inside of dresser drawers, a tall crystal bottle of lightly scented cologne, a tiny packet of four white satin sachet pillows.

Give the college girl a makeup kit, containing treatment preparations as well as rouge, powder lipstick and mascara, to take back to school with her. Or a small manicure case with four shades of polish, so she'll have the right nail lacquer for each color in her wardrobe. Or a charming dresser set with comb, mirror and an excellent hairbrush of maple or ebony with her monogram in sterling.

Powdered Milk Advised

Give the baby in the family a bottle of powdered milk for his bath (this makes sky-high, foamy bubbles) and a box of dusting powder (with down puff). These two items are packed together in a stunning box, and the glass jar of powdered

Kitty Klub Meets

Men to Be Surprised

Men, bless 'em, no doubt long since tired of getting the same old shaving preparations each and every Christmas, are going to be surprised this year. Give him his favorite shaving soap and face lotion, of course, but consider adding: A talcum in the inner cover is lined with cork, and cedar compartments separate decanters of lotion and cologne, an ivory shaving bowl and a matching container of talcum.

If he travels a good deal, give him a fitted case. Or find an oil-skin-lined, unfitted case, then fill it with his favorite preparations.

Advices Use Of 'Winter Vegetables'

Brussels Sprouts, Cabbage and Broccoli Rich In Minerals.

By MRS. GAYNOR MADDOX

Broccoli, Brussels sprouts and cabbage are in season. Because they are so valuable for their minerals and vitamins, and because there are so many ways of cooking them deliciously, they are really gold mines of health and satisfaction for all the family. Be sure they come fresh from the market. Study them carefully and take only perfect ones. Because they are called "winter vegetables," don't take it for granted they are so hardy that nothing can spoil them.

The following recipes are simple and agreeable. You will like them.

Scalloped Brussels Sprouts

(4 to 6 servings)

One quart sprouts, 1 teaspoon salt, 4 stalks celery, 4 tablespoons butter, 3 tablespoons flour, 2 cups milk, 1/2 cup bread crumbs. Wash and clean sprouts, boil in salted water about 25 minutes. Boil celery after it has been washed and cut in 1/2 inch pieces in water with the sprouts. Make a sauce, melt 3 tablespoons butter, add flour and milk, cook until thick. Add the celery and sprouts and put in a baking dish. Cover with crumbs which have been mixed with 1 tablespoon melted butter. Bake in a hot oven (400 degrees F.) for about 10 minutes or until well browned.

Broccoli Italian Style

(4 to 6 servings)

One large bunch broccoli, 1 teaspoon salt, 3 cups of cream sauce, 1/2 cup of pimientos, 1/2 cup grated parmesan cheese.

Wash broccoli and cut in portions, removing large leaves, boil until tender in salted water (about 25 minutes). Remove from water and lay carefully in a baking pan. Add chopped pimientos to cream sauce, cover broccoli with sauce and sprinkle top with cheese. Bake in a hot oven (400 degrees F.) about 10 minutes.

Cream Sauce

Two cups milk, 2 tablespoons butter, 2 tablespoons flour, 1 egg yolk, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon lemon juice.

Melt butter, add flour and then milk. Stir until thick, add salt and egg yolk. Add lemon juice last.

Stuffed Cabbage

(4 to 6 servings)

One large raw cabbage or 2 small ones, 2 cups left over meat (ham or veal), 1/4 cup crumbs, 3 tablespoons butter, 1 onion, 2 teaspoons salt. Chop meat and chop the onion. Saute onion in butter, add to meat and crumbs and salt. Use a very loose leafed cabbage and pull open outside leaves and insert stuffing. The cabbage in cheesecloth and boil 15 minutes.
