

PROPOSE LOWER ESTATE AND GIFT TAX BRACKETS

House Committee Move Would Add 15 to 20 Millions to Coeffers.

(Continued from Page One)

asset-listing had "no place in a taxpayer's report."

"I'm not certain about the legality of such a requirement by the Treasury," he said. "It certainly is not germane to an income tax report. If such a proposal were made in connection with tax legislation in the Congress it would be thrown out."

Reserves Comment

Senator Clark (D. Mo.), member of the Senate Finance Committee, indicated doubt as to legality of the new forms but reserved comment pending a Treasury explanation.

In the meanwhile, the Administration drive for enactment of Wages-Hours legislation at the special session of Congress neared a crisis today as legislative skirmishing on other points of President Roosevelt's program extended.

President William Green of the American Federation of Labor called his executive council to meet Friday to consider the wages-hours situation. Unless 218 House members sign a petition by this weekend to bring the Wages-Hours Bill to the floor for action, consideration at the special session will be impossible.

Plan Farm Bill Foray

Wages-hours supporters planned a foray against the Farm Bill unless Southern Representatives drop opposition to the labor measure.

Other developments: Presidential housing recommendations were studied by House and Senate committees. Senator Glass (D. Va.) criticized the proposal as extending Government competition with business.

Senator Thomas (D. Okla.) injected an appeal for his plan to stabilize the dollar's value in terms of commodities into discussion of the Farm Bill.

'Deal' May Free Pay-Hour Bill

By THOMAS L. STOKES

Times Special Writer

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1.—President Roosevelt has hardly landed a decent mess hall in Florida waters before hard-line House leaders find themselves plagued by a

Doris Joins First Lady on Tour

Visiting miners in their homes to see how they eat and sleep and live in poverty. Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt and Mrs. Doris Duke, the "world's richest girl," are shown above after stopping at the Quaker community homestead project near Republic, Pa. The tobacco heiress, who recently inherited "from 12 to 18 millions," announced no motive for her tour. Mrs. Roosevelt and Mrs. Duke are shown with miners' wives and children. (Mrs. Roosevelt's column, Page 13.)

new outbreak of sectional strife within the Democratic Party over the wage-hour and farm bills. The renewed factional warfare broke out when Democrats from the East, North and Middle West interested in passage of the Wage-Hour Bill banded together to prevent Southern members from getting what they want for cotton in the Farm Bill, now before the House, unless the Southerners help to break the Rules Committee's grip on the Wage-Hour Bill by signing the charge petition on Speaker Bankhead's desk.

Threats of such action had been

YOUNGSTER, 14, FINDS MOTHER IN CITY PRISON

Waits in Detention Home as Parent Faces Two Charges.

(Continued from Page One)

Municipal Court today and hearing continued on the drunkenness charge. She was held on $100 bond. A charge of child-neglect also was placed against her by Capt. Pettit.

Eleven-year-old Louise Coulton came to Indianapolis yesterday from Murfreesboro, Tenn. She said she was to have met her mother at the bus station, but that her mother was not there.

So Louise, after waiting for some time, went to a movie and stayed through two shows. Having caught up on her movie going, she went to a policeman and told him she was lost.

"Mother failed to meet me. She lives here, and gets her mail general delivery, but I don't know her address," she told the officer.

"She slept the night at the Detention Home and today police are seeking her mother."

An 11-year-old alleged member of a band of "street arabs" who spend their time wandering the downtown streets, was to appear before Juvenile Court Judge John F. Geckler today.

Judge Geckler said he would ask him to explain why he preferred the precarious street existence, selling trinkets or magazines to get a few coins, to a normal life at home.

Police said the members of the "street arabs" were in the city and were seen at the time of the arrest.

The case of four "teen arabs" youths, charged with stealing an Indianapolis auto and driving it to California on a pleasure jaunt, was continued until Dec. 15 by U. S. Commissioner Howard Young.

The leader of the band, 14-year-old Indianapolis boy, escaped jail in Missouri and is a fugitive, Assistant U. S. District Attorney Paul Pfister said.

The four were released on their own recognizance and immediately arrested by Indianapolis police. Three of them were taken to jail and one to the Juvenile Detention Home.

Three of the boys are from Indianapolis and two from Brazil.

The threat seemed to carry effect when Chairman Jones (D. Tex.) of the Agriculture Committee, whose job it is to pilot the Farm Bill through the House, signed the discharge petition and 13 other members, including Southerners, followed suit. Among them was

Rep. Ramspeck (D. Ga.), ranking Democrat on the Labor Committee, which drafted the Wage-Hour Bill. He is the only Georgian to sign.

Today when the House met to continue debate on the Farm Bill the petition had 194 names, 24 short of the necessary 218. The lobbies buzzed with conferences, reminiscent of preludes to other bitter fights in the House.

If 218 signatures are obtained by Friday, then the Wage-Hour Bill can come before the House Dec. 13. If not it will be January before the measure can come up under the discharge rule.

She had sunk to her armpits and her head had dropped forward into the sticky, black mass by the time three park workers former to human chain to seize her wrists and haul her away with only a few minutes to spare.

She was identified as Mrs. Alice Harris. At the hospital she still screamed "My baby, my baby." Attendants learned that she was calling for her cocker spaniel which evidently fell into the pit and perished. The Brea pits have been traps for animals since prehistoric ages. Bones of saber-toothed tigers, giant elephants, ancient bears and other beasts have been recovered from them, perfectly preserved.

The pits are surrounded by three-foot walls. Their grip and suction on an object is more treacherous than quicksand or peat bog.

Sam Warren, park crew foreman, was standing nearby with two workmen when Mrs. Harris climbed the wall and leaped into the pit. The men ran over, two of them braced themselves against the wall and held to the third man, who reached out and seized Mrs. Harris' wrists.

It required all their strength to save her.

NEW YORK, Dec. 1 (U. P.).—Graham McNamee, 49, radio announcer, was under parole today to appear in court Dec. 9 to answer charges of assault and leaving the scene of an accident. The complaints alleged that Mr. McNamee's automobile struck William Gahr, 70, Nov. 24. Mr. Gahr is in Harlem Hospital with a fractured skull.

Overland Jackson, charged with first-degree murder in connection with the fatal shooting last year of Harry Ploch, Beech Grove liquor dealer, today was ordered returned to the Indiana State Reformatory as a parole violator pending trial here later this month. He has been held in the County Jail.

NEW YORK, Dec. 1 (U. P.).—Graham McNamee, 49, radio announcer, was under parole today to appear in court Dec. 9 to answer charges of assault and leaving the scene of an accident. The complaints alleged that Mr. McNamee's automobile struck William Gahr, 70, Nov. 24. Mr. Gahr is in Harlem Hospital with a fractured skull.

Overland Jackson, charged with first-degree murder in connection with the fatal shooting last year of Harry Ploch, Beech Grove liquor dealer, today was ordered returned to the Indiana State Reformatory as a parole violator pending trial here later this month. He has been held in the County Jail.

NEW YORK, Dec. 1 (U. P.).—Graham McNamee, 49, radio announcer, was under parole today to appear in court Dec. 9 to answer charges of assault and leaving the scene of an accident. The complaints alleged that Mr. McNamee's automobile struck William Gahr, 70, Nov. 24. Mr. Gahr is in Harlem Hospital with a fractured skull.

Overland Jackson, charged with first-degree murder in connection with the fatal shooting last year of Harry Ploch, Beech Grove liquor dealer, today was ordered returned to the Indiana State Reformatory as a parole violator pending trial here later this month. He has been held in the County Jail.

NEW YORK, Dec. 1 (U. P.).—Graham McNamee, 49, radio announcer, was under parole today to appear in court Dec. 9 to answer charges of assault and leaving the scene of an accident. The complaints alleged that Mr. McNamee's automobile struck William Gahr, 70, Nov. 24. Mr. Gahr is in Harlem Hospital with a fractured skull.

Overland Jackson, charged with first-degree murder in connection with the fatal shooting last year of Harry Ploch, Beech Grove liquor dealer, today was ordered returned to the Indiana State Reformatory as a parole violator pending trial here later this month. He has been held in the County Jail.

NEW YORK, Dec. 1 (U. P.).—Graham McNamee, 49, radio announcer, was under parole today to appear in court Dec. 9 to answer charges of assault and leaving the scene of an accident. The complaints alleged that Mr. McNamee's automobile struck William Gahr, 70, Nov. 24. Mr. Gahr is in Harlem Hospital with a fractured skull.

Overland Jackson, charged with first-degree murder in connection with the fatal shooting last year of Harry Ploch, Beech Grove liquor dealer, today was ordered returned to the Indiana State Reformatory as a parole violator pending trial here later this month. He has been held in the County Jail.

NEW YORK, Dec. 1 (U. P.).—Graham McNamee, 49, radio announcer, was under parole today to appear in court Dec. 9 to answer charges of assault and leaving the scene of an accident. The complaints alleged that Mr. McNamee's automobile struck William Gahr, 70, Nov. 24. Mr. Gahr is in Harlem Hospital with a fractured skull.

Overland Jackson, charged with first-degree murder in connection with the fatal shooting last year of Harry Ploch, Beech Grove liquor dealer, today was ordered returned to the Indiana State Reformatory as a parole violator pending trial here later this month. He has been held in the County Jail.

NEW YORK, Dec. 1 (U. P.).—Graham McNamee, 49, radio announcer, was under parole today to appear in court Dec. 9 to answer charges of assault and leaving the scene of an accident. The complaints alleged that Mr. McNamee's automobile struck William Gahr, 70, Nov. 24. Mr. Gahr is in Harlem Hospital with a fractured skull.

Overland Jackson, charged with first-degree murder in connection with the fatal shooting last year of Harry Ploch, Beech Grove liquor dealer, today was ordered returned to the Indiana State Reformatory as a parole violator pending trial here later this month. He has been held in the County Jail.

NEW YORK, Dec. 1 (U. P.).—Graham McNamee, 49, radio announcer, was under parole today to appear in court Dec. 9 to answer charges of assault and leaving the scene of an accident. The complaints alleged that Mr. McNamee's automobile struck William Gahr, 70, Nov. 24. Mr. Gahr is in Harlem Hospital with a fractured skull.

Overland Jackson, charged with first-degree murder in connection with the fatal shooting last year of Harry Ploch, Beech Grove liquor dealer, today was ordered returned to the Indiana State Reformatory as a parole violator pending trial here later this month. He has been held in the County Jail.

NEW YORK, Dec. 1 (U. P.).—Graham McNamee, 49, radio announcer, was under parole today to appear in court Dec. 9 to answer charges of assault and leaving the scene of an accident. The complaints alleged that Mr. McNamee's automobile struck William Gahr, 70, Nov. 24. Mr. Gahr is in Harlem Hospital with a fractured skull.

Overland Jackson, charged with first-degree murder in connection with the fatal shooting last year of Harry Ploch, Beech Grove liquor dealer, today was ordered returned to the Indiana State Reformatory as a parole violator pending trial here later this month. He has been held in the County Jail.

NEW YORK, Dec. 1 (U. P.).—Graham McNamee, 49, radio announcer, was under parole today to appear in court Dec. 9 to answer charges of assault and leaving the scene of an accident. The complaints alleged that Mr. McNamee's automobile struck William Gahr, 70, Nov. 24. Mr. Gahr is in Harlem Hospital with a fractured skull.

Overland Jackson, charged with first-degree murder in connection with the fatal shooting last year of Harry Ploch, Beech Grove liquor dealer, today was ordered returned to the Indiana State Reformatory as a parole violator pending trial here later this month. He has been held in the County Jail.

NEW YORK, Dec. 1 (U. P.).—Graham McNamee, 49, radio announcer, was under parole today to appear in court Dec. 9 to answer charges of assault and leaving the scene of an accident. The complaints alleged that Mr. McNamee's automobile struck William Gahr, 70, Nov. 24. Mr. Gahr is in Harlem Hospital with a fractured skull.

Overland Jackson, charged with first-degree murder in connection with the fatal shooting last year of Harry Ploch, Beech Grove liquor dealer, today was ordered returned to the Indiana State Reformatory as a parole violator pending trial here later this month. He has been held in the County Jail.

NEW YORK, Dec. 1 (U. P.).—Graham McNamee, 49, radio announcer, was under parole today to appear in court Dec. 9 to answer charges of assault and leaving the scene of an accident. The complaints alleged that Mr. McNamee's automobile struck William Gahr, 70, Nov. 24. Mr. Gahr is in Harlem Hospital with a fractured skull.

Overland Jackson, charged with first-degree murder in connection with the fatal shooting last year of Harry Ploch, Beech Grove liquor dealer, today was ordered returned to the Indiana State Reformatory as a parole violator pending trial here later this month. He has been held in the County Jail.

NEW YORK, Dec. 1 (U. P.).—Graham McNamee, 49, radio announcer, was under parole today to appear in court Dec. 9 to answer charges of assault and leaving the scene of an accident. The complaints alleged that Mr. McNamee's automobile struck William Gahr, 70, Nov. 24. Mr. Gahr is in Harlem Hospital with a fractured skull.

Overland Jackson, charged with first-degree murder in connection with the fatal shooting last year of Harry Ploch, Beech Grove liquor dealer, today was ordered returned to the Indiana State Reformatory as a parole violator pending trial here later this month. He has been held in the County Jail.

NEW YORK, Dec. 1 (U. P.).—Graham McNamee, 49, radio announcer, was under parole today to appear in court Dec. 9 to answer charges of assault and leaving the scene of an accident. The complaints alleged that Mr. McNamee's automobile struck William Gahr, 70, Nov. 24. Mr. Gahr is in Harlem Hospital with a fractured skull.

Overland Jackson, charged with first-degree murder in connection with the fatal shooting last year of Harry Ploch, Beech Grove liquor dealer, today was ordered returned to the Indiana State Reformatory as a parole violator pending trial here later this month. He has been held in the County Jail.

NEW YORK, Dec. 1 (U. P.).—Graham McNamee, 49, radio announcer, was under parole today to appear in court Dec. 9 to answer charges of assault and leaving the scene of an accident. The complaints alleged that Mr. McNamee's automobile struck William Gahr, 70, Nov. 24. Mr. Gahr is in Harlem Hospital with a fractured skull.

Overland Jackson, charged with first-degree murder in connection with the fatal shooting last year of Harry Ploch, Beech Grove liquor dealer, today was ordered returned to the Indiana State Reformatory as a parole violator pending trial here later this month. He has been held in the County Jail.

NEW YORK, Dec. 1 (U. P.).—Graham McNamee, 49, radio announcer, was under parole today to appear in court Dec. 9 to answer charges of assault and leaving the scene of an accident. The complaints alleged that Mr. McNamee's automobile struck William Gahr, 70, Nov. 24. Mr. Gahr is in Harlem Hospital with a fractured skull.

Overland Jackson, charged with first-degree murder in connection with the fatal shooting last year of Harry Ploch, Beech Grove liquor dealer, today was ordered returned to the Indiana State Reformatory as a parole violator pending trial here later this month. He has been held in the County Jail.

NEW YORK, Dec. 1 (U. P.).—Graham McNamee, 49, radio announcer, was under parole today to appear in court Dec. 9 to answer charges of assault and leaving the scene of an accident. The complaints alleged that Mr. McNamee's automobile struck William Gahr, 70, Nov. 24. Mr. Gahr is in Harlem Hospital with a fractured skull.

Overland Jackson, charged with first-degree murder in connection with the fatal shooting last year of Harry Ploch, Beech Grove liquor dealer, today was ordered returned to the Indiana State Reformatory as a parole violator pending trial here later this month. He has been held in the County Jail.

NEW YORK, Dec. 1 (U. P.).—Graham McNamee, 49, radio announcer, was under parole today to appear in court Dec. 9 to answer charges of assault and leaving the scene of an accident. The complaints alleged that Mr. McNamee's automobile struck William Gahr, 70, Nov. 24. Mr. Gahr is in Harlem Hospital with a fractured skull.

Overland Jackson, charged with first-degree murder in connection with the fatal shooting last year of Harry Ploch, Beech Grove liquor dealer, today was ordered returned to the Indiana State Reformatory as a parole violator pending trial here later this month. He has been held in the County Jail.

City Detective Probes Theft Of Own Auto

Detective Sergeant Morris Corbin, who is in charge of the stolen automobile division, went today to his work at police headquarters today.

His first task was to investigate the theft of his own car which disappeared from its parking place at St. Clair and Meridian Sts., last night.

Italian-owned tugs which they had appropriated, along with the Feitling.

It was the first time during the entire Chinese-Japanese war that a foreign power had obtained full Japanese recognition of any principle it felt the Japanese had violated.

Without smiling, the Japanese sailors left the tugs and returned to their own vessel. A polite, mustachioed Japanese consular police officer approached Mr. Hunt and they shook hands.

After some confusion, it developed that the consular officer wanted a receipt for the tug. Mr. Hunt reached into his pocket for a calling card and scribbled on it the equivalent of "received, one tug." The officer obtained similar receipts from the Italian authorities.

Far-Seeing Move For Peace Seen By WILLIAM PHILIP SIMS

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1 (U. P.).—It would be no exaggeration to say that there is now under way the most far-reaching world peace move since Versailles.

It will be carried out, not by means of one gigantic conference such as that following the World War, but by a series of more or less integrated diplomatic efforts.

The recent letters exchanged between Premier Chamberlain, of Great Britain and Premier Mussolini, of Italy were a part of the general scheme. So were Lord Halifax's visit to Chancellor Hitler, and this week's conference at London between the leaders of Britain and France.

Secretary of State Hull's program of economic appeasement, world trade, war-debt settlement and arms limitation also fits into the picture, as do the activities concerning the Far East.

Reduced to the simplest terms, the purpose of the "have" is to obtain from the "have nots" the frankest possible statement of their aims, then come to terms by a process of mutual accommodation.

Two Ford Plants Face New Strikes

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 1 (U. P.).—The United Automobile Workers' Union will carry its strike against Ford as Kansas City and Long Beach, Cal., next week. Richard T. Frankenstein, U. A. W. vice president, said today.

With the union in a desperate struggle to unionize Ford plants, Mr. Frankenstein revealed at Washington yesterday that union members in both plants were instructed to walk out on a moment's notice.

Hutson Predicts A. F. L.-C. I. O. Truce

FRENCH LICK, Ind., Dec. 1 (U. P.).—A voluntary movement for cooperation within the ranks of labor indicates the American Federation of Labor and the Committee for Industrial Organization will sign a truce "within a very short time," Thomas Hutson, Indiana Labor Commissioner, said today.

Speaking before delegates at the Indiana Highway Construction Association convention, Mr. Hutson pointed out that labor organizations at present generally are consolidating their gains, disciplining their ranks and "establishing sane leadership."

"While a paper feud still exists between the A. F. L. and the C. I. O. there has been within the last two months a voluntary movement for co-operation," Mr. Hutson said.

He pointed out that establishment of the Indiana Division of Labor "marks the first serious attempt on the part of the State to help employers and workers settle their disputes in a sane and orderly manner."

RETURNED TO JAIL

Overland Jackson, charged with first-degree murder in connection with the fatal shooting last year of Harry Ploch, Beech Grove liquor dealer, today was ordered returned to the Indiana State Reformatory as a parole violator pending trial here later this month. He has been held in the County Jail.

NEW YORK, Dec. 1 (U. P.).—Graham McNamee, 49, radio announcer, was under parole today to appear in court Dec. 9 to answer charges of assault and leaving the scene of an accident. The complaints alleged that Mr. McNamee's automobile struck William Gahr, 70, Nov. 24. Mr. Gahr is in Harlem Hospital with a fractured skull.

Overland Jackson, charged with first-degree murder in connection with the fatal shooting last year of Harry Ploch, Beech Grove liquor dealer, today was ordered returned to the Indiana State Reformatory as a parole violator pending trial here later this month. He has been held in the County Jail.

NEW YORK, Dec. 1 (U. P.).—Graham McNamee, 49, radio announcer, was under parole today to appear in court Dec. 9 to answer charges of assault and leaving the scene of an accident. The complaints alleged that Mr. McNamee's automobile struck William Gahr, 70, Nov. 24. Mr. Gahr is in Harlem Hospital with a fractured skull.

Overland Jackson, charged with first-degree murder in connection with the fatal shooting last year of Harry Ploch, Beech Grove liquor dealer, today was ordered returned to the Indiana State Reformatory as a parole violator pending trial here later this month. He has been held in the County Jail.

NEW YORK, Dec. 1 (U. P.).—Graham McNamee, 49, radio announcer, was under parole today to appear in court Dec. 9 to answer charges of assault and leaving the scene of an accident. The complaints alleged that Mr. McNamee's automobile struck William Gahr, 70, Nov. 24. Mr. Gahr is in Harlem Hospital with a fractured skull.

Overland Jackson, charged with first-degree murder in connection with the fatal shooting last year of Harry Ploch, Beech Grove liquor dealer, today was ordered returned to the Indiana State Reformatory as a parole violator pending trial here later this month. He has been held in the County Jail.

NEW YORK, Dec. 1 (U. P.).—Graham McNamee, 49, radio announcer, was under parole today to appear in court Dec. 9 to answer charges of assault and leaving the scene of an accident. The complaints alleged that Mr. McNamee's automobile struck William Gahr, 70, Nov. 24. Mr. Gahr is in Harlem Hospital with a fractured skull.

Overland Jackson, charged with first-degree murder in connection with the fatal shooting last year of Harry Ploch, Beech Grove liquor dealer, today was ordered returned to the Indiana State Reformatory as a parole violator pending trial here later this month. He has been held in the County Jail.

NEW YORK, Dec. 1 (U. P.).—Graham McNamee, 49, radio announcer, was under parole today to appear in court Dec. 9 to answer charges of assault and leaving the scene of an accident. The complaints alleged that Mr. McNamee's automobile struck William Gahr, 70, Nov. 24. Mr. Gahr is in Harlem Hospital with a fractured skull.

Overland Jackson, charged with first-degree murder in connection with the fatal shooting last year of Harry Ploch, Beech Grove liquor dealer, today was ordered returned to the Indiana State Reformatory as a parole violator pending trial here later this month. He has been held in the County Jail.

NEW YORK, Dec. 1 (U. P.).—Graham McNamee, 49, radio announcer, was under parole today to appear in court Dec. 9 to answer charges of assault and leaving the scene of an accident. The complaints alleged that Mr. McNamee's automobile struck William Gahr, 70, Nov. 24. Mr. Gahr is in Harlem Hospital with a fractured skull.

Overland Jackson, charged with first-degree murder in connection with the fatal shooting last year of Harry Ploch, Beech Grove liquor dealer, today was ordered returned to the Indiana State Reformatory as a parole violator pending trial here later this month. He has been held in the County Jail.

APOLOGY ENDS FLAG INCIDENT, HULL INDICATES

Hints State Department Is Satisfied After Japanese Return Vessel.

(Continued from Page One)

Italian-owned tugs which they had appropriated, along with the Feitling.

It was the first time during the entire Chinese-Japanese war that a foreign power had obtained full Japanese recognition of any principle it felt the Japanese had violated.

Without smiling, the Japanese sailors left the tugs and returned to their own vessel. A polite, mustachioed Japanese consular police officer approached Mr. Hunt and they shook hands.

After some confusion, it developed that the consular officer wanted a receipt for the tug. Mr. Hunt reached into his pocket for a calling card and scribbled on it the equivalent of "received, one tug." The officer obtained similar receipts from the Italian authorities.

Far-Seeing Move For Peace Seen By WILLIAM PHILIP SIMS

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1 (U. P.).—It would be no exaggeration to say that there is now under way the most far-reaching world peace move since Versailles.

It will be carried out, not by means of one gigantic conference such as that following the World War, but by a series of more or less integrated diplomatic efforts.

The recent letters exchanged between Premier Chamberlain, of Great Britain and Premier Mussolini, of Italy were a part of the general scheme. So were Lord Halifax's visit to Chancellor Hitler, and this week's conference at London between the leaders of Britain and France.

Secretary of State Hull's program of economic appeasement, world trade, war-debt settlement and arms limitation also fits into the picture, as do the activities concerning the Far East.

Reduced to the simplest terms, the purpose of the "have" is to obtain from the "have nots" the frankest possible statement of their aims, then come to terms by a process of mutual accommodation.

Two Ford Plants Face New Strikes

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 1 (U. P.).—The United Automobile Workers' Union will carry its strike against Ford as Kansas City and Long Beach, Cal., next week. Richard T. Frankenstein, U. A. W. vice president, said today.

With the union in a desperate struggle to unionize Ford plants, Mr. Frankenstein revealed at Washington yesterday that union members in both plants were instructed to walk out on a moment's notice.

Hutson Predicts A. F. L.-C. I. O. Truce

FRENCH LICK, Ind., Dec. 1 (U. P.).—A voluntary movement for cooperation within the ranks of labor indicates the American Federation of Labor and the Committee for Industrial Organization will sign a truce "within a very short time," Thomas Hutson, Indiana Labor Commissioner, said today.

Speaking before delegates at the Indiana Highway Construction Association convention, Mr. Hutson pointed out that labor organizations at present generally are consolidating their gains, disciplining their ranks and "establishing sane leadership."

"While a paper feud still exists between the A. F. L. and the C. I. O. there has been within the last two months a voluntary movement for co-operation," Mr. Hutson said.

He pointed out that establishment of the Indiana Division of Labor "marks the first serious attempt on the part of the State to help employers and workers settle their disputes in a sane and orderly manner."

RETURNED TO JAIL

Overland Jackson, charged with first-degree murder in connection with the fatal shooting last year of Harry Ploch, Beech Grove liquor dealer, today was ordered returned to the Indiana State Reformatory as a parole violator pending trial here later this month. He has been held in the County Jail.

NEW YORK, Dec. 1 (U. P.).—Graham McNamee, 49, radio announcer, was under parole today to appear in court Dec. 9 to answer charges of assault and leaving the scene of an accident. The complaints alleged that Mr. McNamee's automobile struck William Gahr, 70, Nov. 24. Mr. Gahr is in Harlem Hospital with a fractured skull.

Overland Jackson, charged with first-degree murder in connection with the fatal shooting last year of Harry Ploch, Beech Grove liquor dealer, today was ordered returned to the Indiana State Reformatory as a parole violator pending trial here later this month. He has been held in the County Jail.

NEW YORK, Dec. 1 (U. P.).—Graham McNamee, 49, radio announcer, was under parole today to appear in court Dec. 9 to answer charges of assault and leaving the scene of an accident. The complaints alleged that Mr. McNamee's automobile struck William Gahr, 70, Nov. 24. Mr. Gahr is in Harlem Hospital with a fractured skull.

Overland Jackson, charged with first-degree murder in connection with the fatal shooting last year of Harry Ploch, Beech Grove liquor dealer, today was ordered returned to the Indiana State Reformatory as a parole violator pending trial here later this month. He has been held in the County Jail.

NEW YORK, Dec. 1 (U. P.).—Graham McNamee, 49, radio announcer, was under parole today to appear in court Dec. 9 to answer charges of assault and leaving the scene of an accident. The complaints alleged that Mr. Mc