Hoover Speaking on European Crisis; Britain to Hear Hollywood Program; 'Musical Milestones' Ends Tonight

High School Orchestra and College Choir on NBC Red Network.

GUEST STAR

Rochelle Hudson, youthful veteran of six cinema years, will be one of Kate Smith's guests on her 7 o'clock CBS-WFPM hour tonight. Another visitor will be the noted swing virtuoso of the vibraphone, Adrian Rollini.

Kennedy Banqueters Will Listen to Stars of 'Yank at Oxford.'

TONIGHT
7:00—Rudy Vallee, WIRE.
7:00—Kate Smith, WFPM.
7:00—Alfred Wallenstein, WGN.
8:00—Herbert Hoover, NBC-Blue.
8:00—Good News, WIRE.
9:00—Bing Crosby, WIRE.
11:00—Benny Goodman, WIRE.

Ex-President Hoover's first address since his return from Europe is to be broadcast at 8 o'clock tonight by NBC-Blue from a Council on Foreign Relations dinner in New York.

Those citizens who aren't listening to Maj. Bowes or Robert Taylor's "Good News" program at the same time may hear Mr. Hoover's conclusions on the imminence of European war. He expected to report on his conversations with Adolf Hitler, former Austrian Chancellor Kurt Schuschnigg, and Czechoslovakian political leaders.

In order that the Hoover address may be broadcast, "America's Town Meeting of the Air," regularly heard at this hour, will move to 9 p. m. on the same network. Assistant Attorney General Brien McMahon, Maj. Gen. M. A. Rockefeller of the Maryland National Guard, and Sidney R. Montague, formerly of the Canadian Mounted Police, will discuss "How Can We Stop the March of Crime?"

Another talk of current topical interest is scheduled on CBS at 3:15 p. m. tomorrow, when Alexander V. Dye speaks on "Trade Barriers and the Effect on the Ultimate Consumer." The speaker is Director of the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce in the U. S. Department of Commerce.

His address will be before the 42d annual meeting of the American Academy of Political Science in Philadelphia. The Convention's general theme is "Present International Tensions."

Perhaps to live up to its title, and to offset the tensions mentioned above, tonight's "Good News" broadcast will carry an international greeting.

When Ambassador Joseph P. Kennedy, Anthony Eden, British cabinet members and other notable assembly in London for a midnight preview of "A Yank at Oxford," they will hear their stars' voices short-waved from Hollywood.

Robert Taylor, Maureen O'Sullivan and Lionel Barrymore, principal players, will speak as will Jack Conway, the film's director. Designed more for home consumption will be the offerings of Fanny (Baby Snooks) Brice, Frank Morgan, Connie Bennett and Meredith Willson's orchestra.

This broadcast, on NBC-Wire at 8 p. m., will be the first Hollywood-originating program ever short-waved across the Atlantic.

Bob Burns, proud papa, will replace last week's distracted Ozark comedian on tonight's Crosby clam-bake (NBC-WIRE, 9 o'clock). Bob's new daughter was born early Friday morning, and he had difficulty concentrating on Uncle Sam's program.

Smooth sailing is expected for tonight however, with Anna May Wong and Warren William of the movies, and Marion Claire, Chicago City Opera soprano, slated for guest appearances.

That benign and venerable radio institution, the Bowes Amateur Hour, goes into its fourth year with tonight's CBS-WFPM broadcast (8 p. m.). This will be the 15th program.

Says the Major: "We've brought more than 3500 aspiring youngsters—and a good many of their elders, too—before the microphone, but our audition schedules are as full today as they've ever been."

Vince Barnett, tomorrow's Lyric stage-show headliner, will be interviewed by the Lyric manager, Ted Nicholas, on WFPM at 2:30 p. m. tomorrow. Vince is a noted rapper, and tomorrow, you know, is April 1. So look out, Mr. Nicholas!

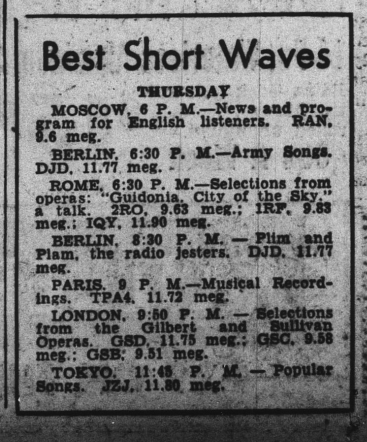

Irving Caesar's "Songs of Safety," these modern McCaffrey morals set to catchy tunes, will be a regular feature of the Rudy Vallee program for the next few weeks.

Last week Mr. Caesar, as a Vallee guest, explained how he came to write these songs. Now, if Rudy's magic touch is still working, the composer should be on his way to further fame. "Songs of Safety" really deserve widespread popularity, which is more than can be said of the mine-run radio fare.

On the same program (NBC-WIRE, 7 p. m.) will be a cutting from the current New York WPA Theater play, "Prologue to Glory." This is the story of the young Abraham Lincoln and Ann Rutledge. The latter part is played by a real Ann Rutledge, great-grandniece of the original. Stephen Courtdright will do Lincoln.

Broader Horizons: Note: You may have a "look" at some of the country's lovelier models tomorrow, via NBC-Red at 5:15 p. m. The broadcast will be from the annual Exhibition of Advertising Art in New York.

A coast-to-coast NBC broadcast of the Columbia River salmon run is planned. Date and time will be announced later—they're waiting for the salmon to make up their minds.

Tonight's broadcast from the National Music Educators Conference in St. Louis will bring you the National High School Orchestra and the Combined College Choir over NBC-Red station at 10 p. m.

Conducting the orchestra will be Vladimir Kakeinikoff, happily remembered here through his guest-conducting appearance for two seasons with the Indianapolis Symphony Orchestra. He will lead his young musicians in Mussorgsky's "A Night on Bald Mountain" and, with the choir, in Luther's "A Mighty Fortress Is Our God."

The choral program, which Maynard Klein will direct, is to include an "Adoramus Te" and "Gloria Patri" by Palestrina; the "Cucifixus" from Bach's B Minor Mass, and Dargomyzsky's "Vanka 'n' Tanka." Also from the conference at 4:15 p. m. tomorrow on the same network will be a program by the Lincoln High School Choir of Tacoma, Wash. Music by Gretschmannoff, Leontovich, Rachmannoff and Lasso is listed.

This is the night for Alfred Wallenstein's all-request program, played by his Sinfonietta at 7 p. m. MBS-WGN. The leading candidates, mentioned here last week, will be heard: The Overture No. 2 to Mozart's "Paris" Symphony; the Air from Bach's Orchestra Suite in D (better known as the "Air for the G String" in solo violin arrangement); Ravel's "Mother Goose" Suite, and Lecocq's "Malgouera."

CBS-WFPM will bring you the voice of John Barbirolli, whose music is so familiar through the New York Philharmonic-Symphony broadcasts, at 9 o'clock tonight. The British conductor will be heard from
