

BUMPER WHEAT CROP PREDICTED IF RAINS CEASE

Grain Prices Lowest in Three Years; 717-Million-Bushel Harvest Seen.

Prospects for a bumper wheat crop, although threatened by recent heavy rains, are reflected in the lowest cash grain prices in three years, M. D. Guild, manager of the Indiana Grain Co-Operative, Inc. reported today.

"Crop experts are predicting the third largest crop of winter wheat ever raised in the United States," Mr. Guild said. "The estimate is for a production of 717,000,000 bushels. This compares with 685,000,000 harvested last year, and an average of 623,000,000 bushels harvested annually during the period from 1928 to 1932."

"The glowing crop prospect has had its effect upon cash grain prices. Values now are the lowest they have been within the last three years. However, corn prices have held remarkable well in face of wheat's heavy decline."

"Favorable weather conditions for the growing crop and its unusually heavy foliage lead most of us to think that the crop is from two to three weeks earlier than usual. Prospects, however, do not assure such a crop."

"Heavy rains the last few days caused agricultural interests not a little alarm. Much of the wheat area has been inundated."

The school is conducted each summer for workers in farm organization. It is sponsored by state Farm Bureaus of the Midwest and the American Farm Bureau Federation.

Loans through the Commodity Credit Corp. will be made on Indiana wool after they are warehoused at Indianapolis, graded and warehouse receipts have been issued, T. I. Ferris, Indiana Wool Growers Association president, announced today.

"At present the flat advance on delivery is 14 cents for good ewe wool, 10 cents on dead, black and rejects," Mr. Ferris said. "The loans are available to any Indiana wool grower who signs our marketing agreement."

FRIENDS HONOR FORD AND WIFE

'Stick to One Model,' Says Auto Magnate, Married 50 Years.

DEARBORN, Mich., April 12 (U.P.)—The whole town will celebrate the golden wedding anniversary of the Henry Fords today.

A petition two miles long and bearing 500,000 signatures, will be dedicated in Mr. Ford's honor. It is directed to President Roosevelt, requesting that the Government stop criticizing Mr. Ford and other business men.

Tonight thousands of townpeople will attend the Dearborn Pioneer Club's party. The only requirement for admission will be residence in Dearborn. It will be a party to honor a native son, who came from a farm in nearby Wayne County in young manhood, sought his fortunes in his own neighborhood, and started here while founding and operating one of the world's greatest industrial empires.

Low-salaried and rough-handed workers and their families will be welcome. They are the ones for whom Mr. Ford designed his cheap car in the early years of the century, and whose "tin lizzies" bought on the installment plan in later years contributed to the Ford fortune, one of the greatest in the world.

Celebration Delayed

The 50th wedding anniversary was yesterday, but the community celebration was withheld so that Mr. and Mrs. Ford could spend last night quietly with relatives and close friends at the home of their son and only child, Edsel Ford.

Today, as yesterday, Mr. Ford planned to be in his office.

Asked for his formula for happy married life, he said:

"Stick to one model and you never will go wrong."

"We Tobacco Planters smoke Camels"

Henderson Carroll has been growing tobacco for 18 years, knows it from the ground up

THE CAMEL BUYERS BOUGHT THE BEST LOTS OF MY LAST CROP. THEY TOOK JUST ABOUT EVERY TOP GRADE LOT AT ALL THE SALES I WENT TO. I PREFER CAMELS FOR MY OWN SMOKING. I KNOW THERE'S FINER TOBACCO IN THEM. YOU'LL FIND THAT MOST OTHER PLANTERS PREFER CAMELS, TOO

Men like Mr. Carroll, with a lifetime's experience in growing tobacco, don't smoke "just any cigarette." They know that one cigarette—Camel—is made from finer, more expensive tobaccos. So it means a lot when they say that most smokers who grow tobacco smoke Camels themselves. Make Camel, the cigarette of these experienced tobacco planters, your cigarette too.

STUDY OF LOW RENTALS URGED

FHA Aid Tells Architects to Help in Promotion Of Building.

Indiana architects today had been urged to survey the demand for low and moderate rentals in large-scale projects.

John C. Bollenbacher, Chicago, architectural consultant for the Federal Housing Administration, suggested the step when he spoke yesterday before the Indiana Chapter of the American Institute of Architects.

He declared that architects must take a more prominent position in the promotion of building operations.

Explaining the scope of FHA, Mr. Bollenbacher called attention to new opportunities for construction work.

He urged the architects to study population trends, the demand for lower-cost rentals, locations, the city plan, business and industrial development and transportation facilities.

Edward D. Pierre was chairman of the meeting held in the Architects' and Builders' Building.
