Gibson Girl Sleeves on Evening Wraps Halloween Parties in Spotlight

The slight train and delicately shirred collars and cuffs of this prune colored velvet wrap (left) contrast pleasingly with the trim reefer lines and tailored, double-breasted closing. Highly exciting are these evening wraps in fabrics unusual for formal clothes. The lovely, collarless model (center) is of dull black wool with trimming of gold leather, applied on in leaf design. Notice the Gibson Girl sleeves and the gathered pockets. Another (right) is of plaid tweed with a gold metallic stripe.

State Women Deans to Hear Author at Meeting Thursday

Mrs. Mary Beard, author, will be guest speaker Thursday at the noon luncheon program of the State Association of Deans of Women and Advisers of Girls to be held at the Hotel Lincoln. The association will hold sessions all day Thursday beginning with registration at 9:30 a. m. Mrs. Beard, in collaboration with her husband, Charles A. Beard, has written "The Making of American Civilization" and "The Rise of American Civilization." A business session will be conducted during the morning meeting with Mrs. Alice B. Wessenberg, head of the Butler University Women's Council and president of the state organization, presiding.

A program has been arranged for the afternoon session and a supper meeting will be held at 5:30 p. m. Mrs. Kate H. Mueller, new dean of women at Indiana University, is to speak in the evening. A tribute will be paid to Dr. Agnes E. Wells, former dean of women at Indiana University, founder of the association, by Dean Gertrude Theumler, Arsenal Technical High School chairman; Dean Dorothy Stratton, Purdue University, and Miss Margaret Keller, Indiana University.

Members of the committee in charge include Mrs. Della Thompson, Shortridge High School; Miss Kathryn J. Journey, Butler University, and Miss Myrtle Johnson, George Washington High School. Hostesses at the meeting will be other Indianapolis deans of women and girls.

Topper Has Wide Uses

A slimly molded topper of black quilted taffeta will do nicely for an evening jacket or dressy afternoon blouse. The long sleeves are well fitted and high shouldered, the front is slide-fastened from the waistline to the plain round neck.

Baha'i to Meet

Albert R. Windust, Chicago, will lecture at 8 p. m. Friday, Nov. 4, on "Baha'i Understanding of World Conditions" at a meeting of the local Baha'i group at the D. A. R. chapter house, 324 N. Pennsylvania St.

The committee is composed of Mrs. Arthur Boriz, chairman; Mrs. Frederick Brier, Miss Dorothy Helmer and Mrs. A. W. Strieby.

The hospitality committee includes Miss Florence Newhouse, chairman; Misses Gayle Thornbrough, Mary Jane Steeg, Martha Legdon, Mrs. Katherine Laing Scarbrough and Mrs. Warren Grimm.

Single Woman Must Campaign For Friendship

By RUTH MILLETT

The woman of 25 or 30 who has a husband and a house, cuts her own life, but she has a pattern to follow.

The woman of the same age who has chosen the lone way of living, or had it forced upon her, doesn't have any pattern to go by. The place she makes for herself in the world depends on her own ingenuity and determination.

Married women have for friends their neighbors, the wives of their husbands' friends and business associates, the women they meet at their clubs.

But the unmarried woman who works all day in an office finds that any social life she has comes only after considerable contrivance.

If she sits around waiting for others to make the first advances, or show her some pattern to follow, she'll find herself one of the many working women who have nothing in their lives after 5:30.

There is only one thing for her to do. That isn't to say "This way of living is only temporary" or "If people want to know me, they will do something about it."

The only way that she can have friends and a place for herself is to make the first move toward friendship, and never neglect a follow-up. And to look on her way of living as being permanent and important.

It is as necessary for her, as for the woman who is married, to have a place where she can entertain. If her salary is good for only one room, she had better share an apartment with one or two other women.

And she should learn how to give the apartment the ease of home, and how to cook food worth eating. For friendships flourish best on home grounds.

Then she should build consciously as definite a place for herself in the social life of her city or town as she would if she were building for a husband and children.

It won't be easy—because she is working out a new plan. But if she doesn't take the trouble, she won't be a great deal better off than the unmarried women of another generation who led such narrow lives that marriage came to be looked on as an escape.

O. E. S. Unit to Entertain

Englewood chapter, O. E. S., will entertain with a banquet tonight at the temple, 2714 E. Washington St., for Mrs. Ruth L. Miers, Greensburg, worthy grand matron. The event is in honor of Mrs. Miers' official visit to the chapter.

New Kerchiefs Painted

If you like colored handkerchiefs, look at the new colored linen kerchiefs hand-painted with sleek, proud horses and self-important dogs, or white kerchiefs with gorgeous bouquets. And it is said that they launder beautifully.

Children of I. A. C. Members to Attend Parties Sunday

Halloween, Christmas and Easter are three holidays which the children seem to enjoy as much as their elders. And so the present finds children and parents alike anticipating several Halloween outings.

Children of members of the Indianapolis Athletic Club will hold a party at the club ballroom from 3 p. m. to 5 p. m. Sunday. Prizes will be awarded for the most outstanding costumes. Each child may bring a guest.

The 1938 edition of the Black and White Ball, a supper-dance, will be held Saturday night at the ballroom.

Decorations, instead of being the traditional black and orange, will be black and white. Guests may come in costume or in formal attire, but are requested to adhere to the black and white color scheme.

Indec Juniors will hold their fall organization meeting Wednesday to plan events of the winter season. The first dance will be held from 9:30 p. m. until midnight Nov. 25.

Masked Party Planned

A masked party for children under 10 will be held at Meridian Hills Country Club from 3 to 5 p. m. Friday. Juniors, ranging in age from 10 to 14, will go on a Halloween treasure hunt at 5:30 p. m. Friday. The adult party will be a "Corrigan" bridge party Saturday night.

Invitations to the Highland Golf and Country Club, Highland Timbers, Barn Yard Bowl, Saturday night were issued today. Designed in imitation of Life magazine, the announcements read in part: "Life goes strong at a party at Highland." "Highland Members Need Relief: K. I. F. (Kum Informal)."

Parties will be held from 10 p. m. to 2 a. m. with music by Bob McKittick and his orchestra. Supper will be served at the grill from 11:30 p. m. to 2 a. m.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank S. Dowling are chairmen, with Lowell Stormont as co-chairman. Assisting them are Charles S. Raub, Drs. and Mesdames William J. Stark, William Kemper and Harry D. Leer; Messrs. and Mesdames Joseph V. Stout, John A. Welch, Paul D. Whittemore, Howard R. Williams, David Klausmeyer, C. Armon Jordan, Joseph Erwin, Stanley G. Disque, Raymond C. Fox, Leland V. Hadin, Charles M. Hammond, John J. Kennedy and Mr. James E. McManamon.

Hauer to Play

Costumes will be required at the Mardi Gras Saturday at the Indianapolis Country Club. A buffet supper will be served at 9 p. m. and the grand march, with prizes for the best costumes, will be staged at 11:30 p. m.

Johnnie Sweet and his partner will demonstrate the Lambeth Walk and music will be provided by Michael Hauer's orchestra.

The Columbia Club Halloween dance will begin at 10 p. m. Saturday, it was announced today. Dress will be optional.

Mrs. Conrad Ruckelshaus is chairman of the costume ball Saturday night at Woodstock Club beginning at 10 p. m.

Music will be provided by T. Hogan and his orchestra from the Drake Hotel, Chicago. Prizes for the most outstanding costumes will be awarded at the grand march at midnight. More than 150 couples are expected to attend.

Today's Pattern

Here's a new design. Pattern 8325, for those who want youthful fashions in women's sizes. And very charming it is, too. Nothing fussy, no gadgets, just subtle beauty of line, slenderizing as well as chic. The slight blouse at the waistline—emphasized by side belts that fasten in the back—is a very new note. It collaborates with the lengthening point in front, to make your waist look slim. All in all, this dress has just the dash and touch of difference that you want in a casual fashion.

Make it of wool crepe, flat crepe, faille, flannel or tie silk—and then make it look like several different dresses by changing the accessories often and decidedly.

Pattern 8325 is designed for sizes 32, 34, 36, 38, 40, 42 and 44. With long sleeves, size 34 requires 4 1/2 yards of 39-inch material. With short sleeves, size 34 requires 4 3/4 yards.

The new Fall and Winter Pattern Book, 32 pages of attractive designs for every size and every occasion, is now ready. Photographs show dresses made from these patterns being worn; a feature you will enjoy. Let the charming designs in this new book help you in your sewing. One pattern and the new Fall and Winter Pattern Book—25 cents. Pattern or book alone—15 cents.

To obtain a pattern and step-by-step sewing instructions inclose 15 cents in coin together with the above pattern number and your size, your name and address and mail to Pattern Editor, The Indianapolis Times, 214 W. Maryland St., Indianapolis, Ind.

Breath-Taking... Beauty in Our New FOOTWEAR REED'S 50 MONUMENT CIRCLE

Box Car Figures!

There's a term that enriches the American language. It means big figures and derives its significance from the fact that the numbers* everybody sees on the sides of box and other freight cars run high.

It takes box car figures to measure the work our American railroads do. Last year their 1,735,000 freight cars carried 37,992,928 loads amounting to 1,015,586,028 tons of freight a total of 360,620,269,000 ton-miles (tons times miles).

That meant moving 8 tons of freight 350 miles for every man, woman and child in the United States. Or it meant moving 910 tons of freight 350 miles for every employee of the railroads.

Service like that requires many cars of many kinds.

Any way you look at it, our American railroads do a tremendous job of freight transportation, and they also do it mighty well.

ILLINOIS CENTRAL SYSTEM

* Freight cars are numbered in series to identify first the type and then the individual car. The Illinois Central's 50,000 cars thus run into the hundreds of thousands in numbers.

Cranberry Dishes Are Timely Now

Writer Suggests Recipe For 12 Servings Of Jelly.

By MRS. GAYNOR MADDOX While war clouds diminish, women are preserving their October cranberries.

Cranberry Jelly (12 servings)

Two pounds (8 cups) cranberries, 1 quart water, 4 cups sugar.

Wash and pick over cranberries. Using large saucepan, cook with water until they are soft and have all burst open. Do not cover while cooking. Turn into fine wire strainer and force through.

Cook again in saucepan for 5 minutes, boiling very gently. Do not cover. Remove from heat and stir in sugar. When sugar has dissolved, boil again gently for a final 5 minutes. Turn into wet bowl or molds.

Ripe Quince Jelly (11 glasses)

For breakfast on a snappy morning, try ripe quince jelly on cornmeal muffins.

Four and one-half cups (2 1/4 pounds) quince juice, 7 1/2 cups (3 1/4 pounds) sugar, 1/2 bottle fruit pectin.

To prepare juice, remove cores, blossom and stem ends from about 3 pounds fully ripe quinces. Do not peel. Grind fine and add 4 1/2 cups water. Simmer, covered, 15 minutes. Place in jelly cloth. Squeeze out juice. (If fruit lacks tartness, add 2 tablespoons lemon juice to quince juice.)

Measure sugar and juice into large saucepan. Mix. Bring to a boil over hottest fire and at once add bottled fruit pectin, stirring constantly. Then bring to a full rolling boil and boil hard 1/2 minute. Remove from fire, skim, pour quickly. Paraffin hot jelly at once.

Alligator Skin Adapted Alligator, so right this fall for shoes, bags and belts, turns up very opportunely in cigarette and compact cases. They have that very conservative, expensive air that smart women love. And they come in the season's best shades of brown, green, blue and red, as well as black.
