Lloyd George Declares Chamberlain Would End Free Speech.

LONDON, Nov. 2 (U. P.).—Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain told the House of Commons today that Great Britain intends to recognize the Italian conquest of Ethiopia and push through the British-Ethiopian accord in the interests of general peace.

Asking approval of a motion welcoming the Government's course, Mr. Chamberlain said:

"The step being taken must be regarded as a step toward appeasement. In approving the motion, the House will be definitely improving the prospects of peace as a whole."

"Let us put an end now to the idea that it is our desire to keep by state at arm's length. Let us remember that any advance toward the possible causes of friction on one subject makes it more probable that we can deal with those remaining unsettled."

Asked About U. S. Tie

In response to a question as to whether any steps had been taken to convene an international conference, including the United States and Russia, to discuss ways of maintaining the Munich peace agreement, Mr. Chamberlain said, "I have no reason to suppose that the calling of such a conference at the present time would prove effective."

The British Government, Mr. Chamberlain said, has received three definite assurances from Premier Mussolini of Italy:

First, the remaining Italian forces and all arms will be withdrawn when the nonintervention plan comes into operation; second, no further Italian troops will be sent to Spain; third, the Italian Government never contemplated sending compensatory forces for those withdrawn.

"No Ambitions"

Mr. Chamberlain said Sig. Mussolini and Fuhrer Adolf Hitler both very definitely assured him at Munich that they had no territorial ambitions whatever in Spain.

"My mind is quite clear that the Spanish question is no longer a menace to the peace of Europe," Mr. Chamberlain said.

Meanwhile, well informed circles reported Mr. Chamberlain intends to propose that the great powers agree to outlaw poison gas warfare and bombing attacks on civilian populations.

David Lloyd George, Liberal leader, retorted sharply today to Mr. Chamberlain's rebuke to critics of the Munich agreement delivered in his speech yesterday.

Lloyd George accused Mr. Chamberlain of trying to suppress democratic free speech, in the manner of the dictators.

Hungarian-Czech Dispute Arbitrated

VIENNA, Nov. 2 (U. P.).—Nazi Germany and Fascist Italy, exercising their new dominance over central Europe, today arbitrated the minority dispute between Hungary and Czechoslovakia with indications that their decision would be final.

Proposals for a plebiscite to decide possession of disputed areas along the Czech-Hungarian frontier have been abandoned, according to information in official sources, and the decision reached by Nazi Foreign Minister Joachim von Ribbentrop and Fascist Foreign Minister Galeazzo Ciano will be clear and effective.

The two foreign ministers heard the arguments of both Czech and Hungarian representatives and then were understood to have retired to reach a conclusion. A final decision was believed likely late this evening.

Spanish Rebels Claim Gains

HENDAYE, Nov. 2 (U. P.).—Spanish Rebel communiqués claimed continued Rebel gains today on the Ebro River front in eastern Spain.

The loyalists admitted slight gains by the Rebels, but said that they had repulsed most attacks.

DICTATORS GET HULL'S WARNING ON TRADE PACTS

U. S. Will Not Compromise On Free Business Flow, He Declares.

NEW YORK, Nov. 2 (U. P.).—The totalitarian governments today had warning from the United States that there would be "no compromise" in its trade policies to accommodate their economic theories.

Secretary of State Cordell Hull, speaking at the National Foreign Trade Convention here last night, reiterated this Government's faith in multi-lateral trade, as opposed to totalitarian bi-lateral trade systems; warned that a pursuit of autarchical policies would lead to collapse or war; and called for "redoubled vigor" in the United States' program of reciprocal trade treaties.

His speech was regarded as an advance notice of "no compromise" to Germany, whose economics minister, Walther Funk, recently suggested negotiation of a bi-lateral treaty with the United States.

The reciprocal system is grounded on the requirement that the United States must receive the "most favored nation" treatment, while the bi-lateral system provides for trade preferences in opposition to that theory.

It was Mr. Hull's first declaration since the Munich conference.

"It is my considered judgment that nothing that has occurred in recent years or in recent weeks has served to discredit in any way the principles on the basis of which we are seeking to bring about a restoration of sound economic conditions as a necessary foundation of durable peace," Mr. Hull said.

Arabs Threaten 'Boycott' of U. S.

JERUSALEM, Nov. 2 (U. P.).—Palestine faced a crisis today as a result of a general strike of Arabs. Arabs threatened to boycott U. S. institutions, churches and imports because of the stand of the Administration in favor of continued Jewish immigration to Palestine.

McNUTT TO RETURN SOON, F. D. R. HINTS

'Up to Commissioner,' Chief Executive Says.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2 (U. P.).—President Roosevelt indicated today that Paul V. McNutt, High Commissioner to the Philippine Islands, would return to the United States early in 1939.

At his press conference yesterday, Mr. Roosevelt said that he understood the former Indiana Governor was due to return about the first of the year, but that his departure from Manila was up to the Commissioner himself. Previously, Mr. McNutt had insisted that he would remain in the Philippines until the President believed his work was completed.

Frank McHale, Indiana Democratic National Committeeman, said today that former Governor McNutt did not know exactly when he would return to this country.

"Under his original plans," Mr. McHale said, "Mr. McNutt was scheduled to be back here this month. But those plans were changed. I talked with him by long distance telephone Friday night, and at that time he did not know when he would return since he had received no word on this subject from Washington."

Mr. McHale is directing Mr. McNutt's campaign for the 1940 Democratic Presidential nomination.

opinion that no portion of East Asia should be under western influence, thus indicating a possible expectation that the Nine Power Treaty would be revised.

Under the Nine-Power Treaty, the United States, Great Britain, France, Japan and other nations involved, guaranteed the sovereignty of China and agreed to maintain the "open door" policy of trade.

The "open door" policy means that all foreign powers would be on an equal basis in Chinese trade, and recently there have been mounting American and British complaints that Japan has closed the doors in areas dominated by Japanese troops.

The spokesman referred to the American Declaration of Independence references to the equality of mankind and said that it was his personal opinion that no portion of Asia should be under Western influence.

The official statement emphasized that Japan intends to set up a "mutual aid" bloc with Manchukuo and China in "political, economic, cultural and other fields."

The statement expressed "profound gratitude" to the nations "which are in sympathy with us"—presumably referring chiefly to Germany and Italy.

Earlier, the Government had declared that the Chinese Nationalist Government is regarded as no longer existing except as a local regime.

Meanwhile a Domei news agency dispatch from Hankow, Manchukuo, reported today that 12 Russian cavalrymen crossed into Manchukuo near Pogranichnaya and attacked three Japanese border patrolmen.

Two of the border patrolmen were believed killed; the other escaped, and a force of Japanese-Manchukuoans set out in pursuit of the Russians, it was said.

The dispatch added that Manchukuo had protested to Russia.

U. S. Asks Japan to Evacuate Missions

HANKOW, China, Nov. 2 (U. P.).—The United States Consulate General today asked Japanese officials to remove Japanese troops from American church missions at Hankow. Mission officials said that Japanese soldiers were storing munitions on church property.

Two Czechs Killed By Polish Terrorists

PRAHA, Nov. 2 (U. P.).—Army dispatches announced today that two Czechoslovak customs officials were killed and two gendarmes wounded when 30 Polish terrorists tried to dynamite a bridge near the village of Volova in the district of Vucov, Ruthenia.

French Finance Head Refuses Callers

PARIS, Nov. 2 (U. P.).—Paul Reynaud, drafted into the key post of finance minister to prepare a series of emergency recovery decrees denied himself to callers today and refused to answer his telephone.

M. Reynaud, who had been serving as minister of justice, switched posts with Guy Marchandeau, who asked to be released from the finance post because Premier Edouard Daladier and other Cabinet leaders refused to accept his own decrees.

German-Polish Negotiations Begin

BERLIN, Nov. 2 (U. P.).—German-Polish negotiations regarding Poland's new citizenship laws were started today at the Juridical Department of the Foreign Office.

The fate of some 150,000 Poles in Germany, and particularly of the 50,000 of them who are Jews, depended on the negotiations, as well as the fate of thousands of German residents in Poland.

Large Reception Awaits Roper at Ft. Wayne

FT. WAYNE, Nov. 2 (U. P.).—A torchlight parade and the biggest political rally held in Ft. Wayne in many years is expected to greet Secretary of Commerce Roper when he speaks here tonight.

Mr. Roper is scheduled to address the Democratic rally at the Shrine Auditorium at 8:15 p. m. Democratic leaders here said Mr. Roper will probably review the efforts of the Roosevelt Administration to cope with the depression and the recession.

STORK EXPECTED AT KING ZOG'S PALACE

NICE, France, Nov. 2 (U. P.).—Mme. Contran Girault, the former Gladys Virginia Stewart of New York, said today that her daughter, Queen Geraldine of Albania, was expecting a child and that King Zog had asked her to go to Tiana early next February. Mme. Girault said that the baby was expected in March.

A November "heat wave" brought scenes like these. Paul Bennett, 3713 Stanton Ave. (right), says "business is good." The young woman is putting her fur coat back in storage for the remainder of the "summer."

Dartmouth Quarterback Quits School to Join Religious Cult

HANOVER, N. H., Nov. 2 (U. P.).—Dartmouth University announced today that Harrington K. (Heavenly) Gates, blocking quarterback of its undefeated football team, had withdrawn from college to seek peace and contentment with "The Holy Ghost and Us Society," in the New Hampshire hills.

The university said Gates' reason for quitting was that football aggressiveness violated the principles of his religion.

Gates' classmates said however, that his sudden departure was due to his objections to commercialism of college football, and to the profanity that he heard in the team's dressing rooms.

Gates' family, "as soon as we get our breath," will make a pilgrimage to his New Hampshire religious retreat and try to persuade the Dartmouth football star to go back to college and graduate with his class, his mother, Mrs. Elder Gates, said today.

Exchanging gridiron togs for overalls, the 24-year-old Saugus, Mass., youth, a senior student, was working today with fellow-members of the religious cult, also known as the "Legion of God," on its Salem turkey farm at Amherst.

The cult believes that it alone can save souls from annihilation. Its regulations forbid the use of liquor, certain foods and contact with the outside world. Since its members believed a new great flood someday would engulf the earth, the cult's farms all are situated on high ground.

Gates' resignation from Dartmouth was disclosed last night in an extraordinary press interview hastily called in a Boston hotel by Robert P. (Whitey) Fuller, the college publicity director, on orders by Dean Lloyd K. Neidlinger.

Gates' decision to forsake college life and football fame came only 24 hours after he entered the Dartmouth-Yale game Saturday. With only three days' practice, he helped halt the Elis' first-period touchdown march and then, as quarterback, led his teammates to a 24-6 victory.

At 1 p. m. Sunday he was enthusiastically discussing with teammates at the training table prospects of a win over Cornell.

Three hours later he went to the cult farm.

His letter of resignation was received by Dean Neidlinger Sunday night and next day the dean, Mr. Fuller and Joe Fyrtke, friend and former teammate of Gates, went to the cult farm.

"He refused to leave the colony," Mr. Neidlinger said. "He seemed uncertain that he could remain in college and resist the temptation of football."

Leader of the cult at Amherst is Joseph Holland, 35, a former Bates College athlete, who resides on the farm with his wife and 7-month-old daughter Winola.

Had Gates continued at Dartmouth, he would have graduated in June. He was a hopeful student, having won at least one scholarship. Gates is one of 11 children of Elder Gates of Saugus, Mass., an employee of the General Electric Co. at Lynn, and Mrs. Gates.

Members of the family would not discuss the move.

which, he said, had given visible evidence of lasting material benefits to society.

"The money that has been expended in the Federal projects," he pointed out, "did not go to foreign countries in the form of doubtful loans. It was distributed in channels that circulate among all divisions of trade and commerce."

He pointed to 496 Indiana projects in which the Federal Government has co-operated. These projects, he said, involved the total expenditure of nearly 100 million dollars.

"The challenge to all," he said, "is to co-operate in consolidating the gains we have made under our human welfare program and safeguard against a return to outmoded procedures."

"Under this liberalized approach, the national income of our people has gained from less than 40 billions in 1932 to nearly 70 billion dollars last year."

The businessmen's luncheon was arranged by Fred Hoke of Holcomb & Hoke Manufacturing Co., and Bowman Elder.

Following the luncheon, Mr. Roper was to be taken to Ft. Wayne by R. Earl Peters, Indiana FHA Administrator, for an address there tonight.

DR. WICKS HOLDS HOPE FOR PEACE

Nazi-Soviet Clash Greatest Threat, Says All Souls Pastor-Emeritus.

A qualified prediction of continued peace in Europe was made here today by Dr. Frank S. C. Wicks, pastor-emeritus of All Souls Unitarian Church, N. Alabama St. He was to discuss the European situation this afternoon before the Elizabethans, a church group.

Dr. Wicks, Boston-born minister who served All Souls Church 35 years as pastor before retiring to become its pastor-emeritus last spring, recently returned from a summer in England. It was his 13th trip abroad in 20 years.

Dr. Wicks, who looks and speaks like his English cousins whom he visited two months this year, lighted his well-used brown pipe and observed:

"Any report as to present conditions in Europe must be marked like a railroad ticket—'Good for this day only. No one can predict what will happen tomorrow.'"

Rearming In Fear

Parts of the rapidly-shifting picture, he said, include:

An England desperately rearming in fear, but earnestly desirous of peace; a France torn and rendered impotent by internal dissensions and political chaos; a Russia of unknown strength; a well-armed but economically weak Italy ready to jump on the winning side, and a rearmament Germany, almost appeased by recent conquests, but with its eyes still fixed on further victories.

Here is what he thinks may happen:

Germany, seeking the rich Ukraine valley of Russia, will bring Rumania within the sphere of the Nazi economic domination—and England and France will not stop her. But if Germany tries to seize the Ukraine, Russia will fight.

Doubts War Over Colonies

That is the only possibility of European war that Dr. Wicks sees on a brightening horizon. For he does not believe that Germany will go to war with England and France over the colonies which were taken away from her in the World War.

The dead-end of dictator diplomacy, the eventual outcome of the Fascist regime, he believes will be a return to democracy in dictator countries.

"I cannot believe men will submit forever to deprivation of their liberties," Dr. Wicks said.

He approves of the action of Neville Chamberlain, British Prime Minister, in compromising with Herr Hitler to avoid war in the last European crisis, and he says Britons generally approve of the compromise which turned Czechoslovakia over to dismemberment by her land-hungry neighbors.

He denies that England failed to fight due to cowardice, although she was unprepared for war—he says, rather, that she did not fight because she saw clearly the consequences of war.

EX-HOOSIER REALTOR IS HELD AT DETROIT

CHICAGO, Nov. 2 (U. P.).—Henry Kinsey Brown, 50, former president of a Valparaiso, Ind., real estate company and at one time largest creditor of Valparaiso University, was held today at Detroit on a felony warrant issued by a Chicago Municipal Judge based on charges of a 68-year-old widow that she entrusted $60,000 worth of stocks and bonds to him for investment and never heard of him again.

A fugitive warrant was expected to be issued for him at Detroit today.

So of course . . . you'll be better satisfied with a WEARINGTON on your head . . . and in it!

Sometime when you have time . . . and the mood for research takes hold of you . . . try yourself out on hats.

Get a Wearington, run your hand over the felt, note its smoothness, its pliancy . . . and contrast it with the boardy, splintery feel you are apt to get on some mine-runs . . .

Note the Wearington bow and binding and other detailing . . . neat and clean and carefully done . . . (No wide open spaces).

Look at the lining . . . silk of a good grade! And then put a Wearington on . . . you'll experience a sense of comfort . . . in comparison to a pressing-in feeling!

And if you look at the colors, (take two of the same name) . . . the Wearington will seem clearer, more eye-filling . . . that's because the color has a background of real felt.

It's just a difference in methods employed by animals to get ready for winter and is comparable to human beings putting in the coal and taking down screens and putting up storm doors and windows.

Least provident, perhaps, of the common Indiana animals are raccoons and possums and their tribe. They don't hide food where they can or cannot find it. They just eat a lot, get as fat as they can, crawl away some place for the winter, and go into a troubled sleep, living off their own fat.

They wake up when the cushion of fat is exhausted and they find themselves lying around in their bones. If the winter isn't over by then, they are in a mess.
