youth; possible city-manager government; a clean city; reduced taxes; smoke abatement; improved fire and police departments; freedom from labor disturbances; municipal ownership of the Water Co. "If feasible."

He predicted a Republican victory at the polls Tuesday.

Mr. Jewett pledged his support to the Townsend Old-Age Pension Plan, and said it should be "thoroughly analyzed by expert economists and actuaries."

If it is sound in principle, he said, "some practical application of it should be put into law." If it won't work, he said, he is for a similar plan "to meet this great need."

He declared that his opponent, Louis Ludlow, Democratic incumbent running for re-election, "believes in and votes for New Deal measures which I believe are un-American, unsound and, if carried to their logical conclusion, will wreck our system of free competition enterprise and destroy our evenly-balanced Republican form of government."

Reform Promised

Reform in City, County and State governments is promised voters by the Republican Party, Mr. Richardson declared.

"Its candidates are unbossed and free agents," he said. "They owe no allegiance superior to the people whom they hope to serve."

Enslavement of labor is inevitable under the New Deal, Mr. Meadows declared.

"If the present totalitarian system of government continues, you... will be nothing but a serf," he said.

"There is too much bureau law in these United States today."

"We have seen in the past six years an attempt to make our daily lives over."

"Business and industry and personal initiative have been subject to so much restrictive regulation because there is not a law yet passed by the New Deal that anybody understands."

"There were 9,000,000 men out of work in June, 1933, and there are 12,000,000 out of work now."

Mr. Meadows charged that the only "prosperity" since the New Deal took office came in 1934, 1935 and this year. He pointed out that these were "election years," and declared that Federal money was spent at these times to win votes.

State-Wide G. O. P. Victory Predicted by Willis

Times Special

FT. WAYNE, Nov. 5.—A State-wide victory next Tuesday for the Republican Party was predicted last night by Raymond E. Willis, Republican Senatorial nominee.

Speaking at a party rally here, Mr. Willis asserted: "The scent of victory is in the air, and it seems to emanate most noticeably here."

Attacking Democratic tariff policies, he charged that the money sent abroad for imports last year would have "given, to two million of our unemployed."

"Last year, three billions of dollars worth of goods were imported into this country," he said, adding that New Deal reciprocal trade treaties were responsible for these importations.

"Let's be fair to American labor," he said. "Let's aid it in getting a proper share of the wealth we produce, and in hours and conditions of work, but more than all else, let's provide jobs."

Candidate for Prosecutor Pledges Economy

Edwin Haerle, Republican candidate for Prosecutor, today had promised that if elected he will keep down expenses and hire the most capable lawyers available as deputies.

Speaking last night at the Wolff-Mayor headquarters, he declared:

"I promise you that the Prosecutor's office will be open to your inspection at all times. I will appoint deputies whose integrity and ability are unquestioned."

"There will not be any under-cover or shady transactions or dealings with any person, group or organization. I will prosecute those who deserve prosecution. I will not use the powers of my office to get even with or get revenge upon anyone."

Communist-Democrat 'Alliance' Charged

Times Special

PAOLI, Nov. 5.—An "unholy alliance" between Democrats and Communists was charged by James M. Tucker, Republican candidate for Secretary of State, in an address here last night.

He said Governor Townsend's guarantee of free speech and assembly for a Communist rally in Bloomington is evidence of the "alliance."

He described the Democratic Party as "founded by Thomas Jefferson but dumfounded by Franklin D. Roosevelt."

"The Republican Party is not campaigning against the Democratic Party; it is campaigning against the New Deal," Mr. Tucker continued.

Remy Well Fitted for Judgeship, Claim

William H. Remy, Republican candidate for Juvenile Court judge, "possesses all the qualifications" for the job, Harry O. Chamberlain declared in an address at Republican headquarters yesterday.

"Through years of close contact the Juvenile Court during his term as county prosecutor, and his constant study of its problems since, Mr. Remy is probably better fitted for that position than any other living man or woman in this community," Mr. Chamberlain said.

"He possesses all the qualifications necessary to make an ideal judge of a court charged with the responsibility not only of saving, but helping children, before they become delinquents."

41 ARE INDORSED BY NONPARTISAN LABOR LEAGUE

38 Democrats, Four G. O. P. Candidates Listed by Organization.

The Marion County Nonpartisan League today endorsed 38 Democrats and three Republicans for election to Federal, State, County, City and Township offices Nov. 8, James Robb, chairman, announced.

At the same time the league "subscribed" fully to President Roosevelt's statement last night about the need for electing liberals and pro-New Dealers to office this fall.

A letter, said by Mr. Robb to have been sent to 20,000 Marion County workers together with the printed slate, read:

"The Marion County Committee of Labor's Nonpartisan League of Indiana urges you to support the candidates it has endorsed on the enclosed slate. These candidates have been endorsed by the league on the basis of their records and our belief that they are the most progressive, pro-labor candidates for the respective offices."

No Senate Indorsement

"Labor's Nonpartisan League has not endorsed a candidate for the United States Senate and other offices on the state ticket, but urges all working people to vote for those candidates who they feel will uphold the principles and purposes of the New Deal as enunciated by President Roosevelt and Governor Townsend."

"While the Marion County Committee has not endorsed a candidate for Mayor of the City of Indianapolis, it is firmly opposed to Herman C. Wolff, feeling that he is the candidate of reactionary elements in our city and his record while on the School Board proved his unfitness to be organized labor."

"We call your attention to the fact that you may vote for nine City Councilmen. We urge you to vote especially carefully for those eight candidates endorsed by the league."

"Yours for progressive and efficient government."

Labor League Fails To Indorse VanNuys

Times Special

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5.—All Democratic congressional candidates in Indiana have been endorsed officially by the C. I. O. dominated Labor's Nonpartisan League, the League headquarters here reported today.

But the league's indorsement has been withheld on Senator VanNuys. The senior Senator was indorsed by the A. F. of L. Labor, however.

A. F. of L. indorsement letters also were sent upon request, to Reps. Glen Griswold, Fifth District Democrat, and Charles A. Haisick, Second District Republican, both of whom seek re-election.

Democrat Poll Workers Warned on Tampering

Times Special

Democratic Election Board workers today had been warned that anyone attempting to tamper with vote totals at the polls Tuesday will face "the penalty of long prison terms."

The warning was given by Russell Ryan, assistant Democratic county chairman, at the first of a series of instruction meetings for Democratic canvassing board workers last night.

"And any board worker seen taking a single drink while on duty will be removed by the Sheriff and replaced at once," Mr. Ryan warned.

"We are not going to tolerate any foolishness at this election because the confidence of the people of the entire nation is at stake."

He also warned the board workers that it is their responsibility to see that every qualified voter gets a chance to vote and "it must be counted correctly at all costs."

"There is no reason to take any kind of chances. Remember we have an election law with teeth in it—some very long teeth and the prison terms are heavy. So be on your guard, everyone, against anything that looks like the slightest irregularity."

VanNuys Outlines Campaign

Senator VanNuys, in his semifinal address of the campaign, spoke here over the radio last night.

Discussing the campaign, he said he had assiduously "refrained from personalities and invectives," adding that "I have been subjected to the most vicious attack upon the part of certain leaders... which I have ever witnessed in nearly 40 years of activity in Indiana politics."

"My integrity and honesty of purpose have been questioned in every community in the State," he said. "It is none of my business how the opposition conducts its campaign, but I cannot refrain from the observation that if the opposition is really desirous of building a strong, militant and appealing opposing party—which is always a wholesome condition for the country—mudslinging personal invectives are a flimsy foundation upon which to build its appeal."

Cites Accomplishments

The senior Senator recited accomplishments of the present Administration, and pledge "my continued and unremitting fidelity to our constitutional form of government."

Discussing the European situation, he declared:

"I see but one course to pursue—to stay out of the vortex of greed, selfishness, persecution and international anarchy which today is destroying European civilization. Through no vote of mine will the United States of America ever become a party to it."

"The voters throughout the country should remember that need for continuous liberal government when they vote next Tuesday," he said in charging that broken continuity interrupted progress. Too many persons, he added, talk of saving democracy but really desire only to save things as they were.

From Chicago came a parallel accusation by Earl Browder, leader of American Communists, that former President Hoover was a representative of fascism and that the elements fighting the New Deal represented the forces that brought the peace of Munich.

At Walla Walla, Wash., former President Hoover said he would make a real and genuine reply to the Fascist label put on the old-line Republicans by Mr. Roosevelt and Mr. Browder in his radio speech at Spokane tonight.

A new and unexplored election issue was proposed in dispatches from Germany quoting the newspaper Der Angriff which spread across its front page a charge that the visit of His Eminence George Cardinal Mundelein to the Pope today was part of an "election deal."

The paper argued that 21 million American Catholics would decide Tuesday's election here and that Mr. Roosevelt had won them with a promise to re-establish diplomatic relations with the Holy See broken off in 1945.

"Mundelein, the dictator-devourer and incidentally close friend of Mr. Roosevelt," said Der Angriff, "hopes to bridge the last gap in the negotiations."

Issues closer home included the plea of Mr. Roosevelt seconded by Interior Secretary Ickes, in Pennsylvania, and by others that the last bulwark of democracy, Tuesday's election here, should be warned that retreat from New Deal liberalism would raise fascism and communism to significant heights here. But Mr. Roosevelt assured the nation last night that as of today neither is a real threat.

"The voters throughout the country," he said last night, "should remember that need for continuous liberal government when they vote next Tuesday."

"But," he warned, "if there should be any weakening of the power of a liberal Government next Tuesday, it would resurrect false hopes on the part of some businessmen, now beginning to change antiquated ideas, that if they can hold out a little longer, no adaptation to change will be necessary."

Republicans campaigned generally on a prosperity issue and Mr. Roosevelt countered with the assertion that under the New Deal the United States has enjoyed "a more stable and less artificial prosperity than any other nation in the world."

"No Threat Now"

"I reject," he continued, "the merely negative purposes proposed by old-line Republicans and Communists alike—for they are people whose only purpose is to survive against any other Fascist threat than their own."

"As of today, fascism and communism—and old-line Tory Republicans—are not threats to the continuation of our form of government."

"But I venture the challenging statement that if American democracy ceases to move forward as a living force, seeking day and night by peaceful means to better the lot of our citizens, fascism and communism, aided, unconsciously perhaps, by old-line Tory Republicans, may grow in strength."

Mr. Roosevelt's unusual and emphatic denial of the fitness of Republican Thomas E. Dewey to be Governor of New York last night was part of the New Deal drive to tolerance and unity at home, but one militant against social oppression or military aggression.

Backs Profit System

Pledging himself again to support the private profit system, Mr. Roosevelt said Government must eliminate abuse where private initiative failed to do so. He said the large majority of business men had accepted "certain necessary supervision" of private business.

"The voters throughout the country should remember that need for continuous liberal government when they vote next Tuesday," he said in charging that broken continuity interrupted progress. Too many persons, he added, talk of saving democracy but really desire only to save things as they were.

DOG RESCUE WORK IS HALTED BY RAIN

CLARKSBURG, W. Va., Nov. 5 (U. P.).—If Sport, the Spelter "community dog," is still alive in the mine sink hole that has imprisoned him 17 days, he must wait another 24 hours before rescue workers break through the rock that holds him.

Cold rains beat down on the crew of men that has been toiling night and day for more than two weeks to save Sport, their pet, a brown and white beagle hound. They said they could not sink a shaft to the point where Sport is believed lying before Sunday.

Using a hose and bellows, the miner-rescue workers pumped fresh air into the fissure in which Sport was trapped.

Called by Old Trinity

COUNCIL BLUFFS, Iowa, Nov. 5 (U. P.).—Rev. Rodney F. Cobb, Episcopal pastor here, announced today he has accepted a call to become assistant pastor of Old Trinity Church, Broadway and Wall St., New York. Mrs. Cobb yesterday filed suit for annulment of their marriage last June 22.

There were scattered reports from coast to coast of division among labor leaders in choice between Democratic and Republican candidates but no conclusive demonstration that the phalanx of privates in the ranks has been broken either by the Republican charge or the 1937-38 depression and continued unemployment.

Pensions promises echoed from coast to coast. Pre-election indications were that local candidates of all parties were about equally eager to get on the various band wagons driven by the aged.

Governor Philip La Follette, candidate in Wisconsin for re-election as leader of his new National Progressive Party, is the latest among the pension campaigners. He directly asked aged pensioners to vote for him and repeated promises of increased pension aid.

Rains Bring Relief To Southern Area; W. Va. Fights Fires

was torn from the sheds of the Vigo American Clay Co. in West Terre Haute.

Wind swept through Evansville at 53 miles an hour, blowing down an old brick wall, shattering windows, wrecking signs and uprooting trees.

Vincennes suffered from the shock of the wind and crops in the area were damaged badly.

With the rains came a drop in temperature in many sections as much as 30 degrees within two hours. Rain was forecast for the northern part of the State today and "probably" in the southern portion.

Fighters Disband

State Forester, Hershell Woods, who directed fire fighters from headquarters at Columbus, said if the rain continued it would completely extinguish the fires that were whipped out of control yesterday.

The main body of fire fighters, composed of Civilian Conservation Corps enrollees, state foresters and farmers, disbanded last night when the deluge struck.

One of the fires near Hindustan, south of Martinsville, blown by shifting winds, trapped four CCC workers who had attempted to head off flames spreading in another direction. They were saved a few minutes later when rain started falling.

They were part of a crew of 20 who had been fighting the fire since it broke out early yesterday.

Saved by Rain

Headed by Ivan Perkins, crew foreman, the men left the main group and crossed the fire lane in an attempt to head off the fire, which was spreading in another direction.

Others in the crew were Sam Bryant, Carl Glover and Francis Waldon. When they had been missing more than an hour, their companions set up shouts to guide them to safety, but to no avail.

Then the flames died down as a drenching rain started falling, and a few minutes later the trapped youths emerged from the blackened woods, unhurt.

Wild life suffered heavy losses in the fire regions.

Sections hardest hit were Harrison and Union Townships in Bartholomew County, where 3000 acres were destroyed, and Monroe and Morgan Counties.

News Fires Threaten

Fires also had been raging near Mooresville, Monrovia, Hindustan, Rattsville, Paragon, Fredericksburg, Orangeville, Campbellburg, Tunnelton, Williams, Columbus, Brooklyn, Mahalsville, Ogilvie, Mitchell, Bowling Green, Montezuma and Bloomington.

Eugene Wilson, assistant State forester, warned that the danger of new fires breaking out is not past. "Most of the fires seem to be out or under control," Mr. Wilson said, "and I think we'll be all right for a day or two."

"But if we get more sunshine, the ground and trees will dry out, and will again become highly inflammable."

For this reason, he said motorists should continue to exercise care in throwing cigarettes and matches from auto windows, and farmers should not light brush fires where they can spread.
