

CITY TO NOTE HOLIDAY WITH SPECIAL RITES

Thanksgiving Services Set
For Churches; Featured Speakers Scheduled.

Thanksgiving is to be observed here tomorrow and Thursday with special church services throughout the city.

While many churches are to hold individual services for their members others will co-operate in offering combined services. Many of the churches are to have featured speakers or sunrise prayers and sermons from guest pastors.

Among the featured speakers will be Miss Louise Meebold, a missionary just returned from China. She is to speak at the West Park Christian Church at 7:30 p. m. tomorrow.

A complete list of church programs follow:

Roosevelt Praises New Tennessee Dam

Standing on the concrete ramparts of the unfinished Chickamauga Dam, President Roosevelt is shown (right) as he spoke yesterday to several hundred workmen who line the opposite wall. He praised the men on the job and hailed the construction of the dam as a "contribution to American civilization." He predicted similar progress in electrification in other parts of the nation.

NEED FOR CLASS WAR IS HINTED

WPA Aid Says It May Be Inescapable, Calls for Wealth-Sharing.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Nov. 22 (U. P.).—Aubrey Williams, assistant WPA administrator, said last night: "I am not sure that class warfare is not all right."

Mr. Williams made the remark at a forum of the Southern Conference for Human Welfare, which had received a message from President Roosevelt earlier yesterday saying that "the South's unbalance is a major concern not merely of the South, but the whole nation."

Mr. Williams said "our industrial structure was predicated on development of special privileges for a few, and there must be fundamental changes, but we do not have to alter our form of Government."

"A fundamental reorientation of the industrial structure of this nation with the Democratic form of Government is needed."

In the reorientation, he said, he was not sure that the country could escape class warfare "and as a matter of fact I'm not sure that class warfare is not all right." He said that "unless we can work out some redistribution of wealth produced by the machine, we may not be able to save democracy itself."

Mr. Williams said that in the past generation machinery had been developed to the point that "never again need anybody on the face of the earth want for anything."

"The problem is how to get this machine-produced wealth in the hands of the people; how to get machines to be our blessing instead of our curse."

Praises New Deal
"It is not going to be solved by industry as presently organized. There must be fundamental changes. We should not alter our form of Government, but we can make fundamental changes in our economic system."

He praised the New Deal as an Administration that puts the interest of the people above prosperity.

In defense of New Deal spending, he said that national income had increased.

Mr. Williams was once a store clerk in Birmingham. He protested against the Jim Crow law that had been invoked to keep white and Negro delegates separated at the conference. The delegates had passed a resolution deploring the law.

"I am happy to see Negroes here, but I see we still have a Jim Crow law," he said. "I wish we didn't have it."

VIRGIN ISLANDS' AID PROMISED REFUGEES

CHARLOTTE AMALIE, Virgin Islands, Nov. 22 (U. P.).—The Virgin Islands Assembly had adopted a resolution today offering the Virgin Islands as a place of safety for refugees.

The resolution informed President Roosevelt, Secretary of State Cordell Hull and Frances Perkins, Secretary of Labor, that when and if the United States immigration barriers are removed, refugees will find haven here.

YOUR WILL-POWER...THE MODERN HAZARD TO YOUR NERVES

BEAGLE HOUND

English fox-hound in miniature. Solid and big for his inches, true beagle has the long-wearing look of the hound that can last in the chase. One of the oldest breeds in history—close to the original breed of hounds. U. S. standards specify 15 inches maximum height—any truer hound color acceptable.

"Let up—light up a Camel"

In the heart of the Congo, Leila Denis (right) and her explorer husband filmed Universal Pictures' epic, "Dark Rapture." Camels were an important item in Mrs. Denis' 42,000-mile trek. She says: "Such ventures can be quite nerve straining, but it's my rule to pause frequently. I let up and light up a Camel. Camels are so mild, so soothing."

DID YOU KNOW?

—that cigarette tobacco is dried for the market, or "cured" by several general methods, which include air-cured and flue-cured? Not all cigarettes can be made from the choicest tobacco, the fine top grades—there isn't enough of it available! Therefore it is important to know that Camel cigarettes are a matchless blend of finer, MORE EXPENSIVE TOBACCOS—Turkish and Domestic.
