

CITY PREPARES WELCOME FOR RACE VISITORS

Citizens Speedway Group Will Meet Next Week To Complete Plans.

The Indianapolis Citizens Speedway Committee's courtesy division is to meet next week to complete "welcoming plans" for race visitors, Paul L. McCord, Chamber of Commerce civic activities vice chairman, said today.

The citizens' committee, established last year, has been reorganized this year with three basic objectives in mind, Mr. McCord said. "We have organized to promote courtesy and hospitality on the part of our citizens; place civic interest behind the giving of lap prizes, and make plans for the annual victory dinner," he said.

Start Made Last Year

"We have thousands of people coming into Indianapolis each year for the Memorial Day Race and until last year there was no move on the part of any civic group to extend a welcome hand to these visitors," Mr. McCord said.

"Last year we made it obvious to the visitors that they were welcome by the use of badges on policemen, and firemen which said 'Welcome to Indianapolis. If you need help ask me.' Through these badges and other forms of hospitality we hope to encourage more and more people to return each year and bring their friends," he explained.

Ralph S. Norwood, president of L. Strauss & Co. and chairman of the Speedway committee, is general chairman of the citizens committee; Oscar B. Perine of the Perine Oil Refining Co., vice chairman, and Samuel Mueller, director of promotion and extension of the Chamber, secretary.
