TRY TO FORCE BONDS FOR DREDGING WORK

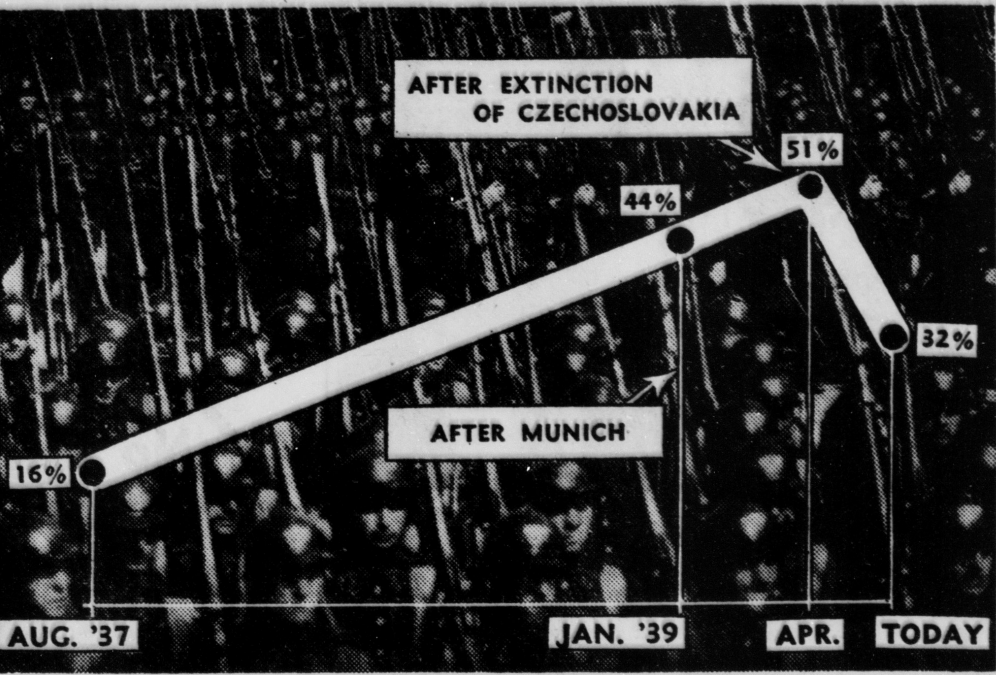

DECATUR, May 19 (U. P.).—The Wabash River dredging case, battled through the courts here for the last 25 years, today was subject to new legal action in a suit which seeks to force the Board of Adams County commissioners to issue bonds for the work.

The suit was filed by John L. De Voss, Decatur; Roscoe D. Wheat, Portland, and Morton E. Emery, Princeton.

They ask the Circuit Court to set aside an ordinance passed in September, 1938, which forbids the sale of bonds on the grounds of a discrepancy between the amount of bonds to be offered and the estimated cost of the construction of the dredging project.

War Fear in U. S. Turning Downward

The percentages show the number of voters in Institute surveys who have answered "yes" to the question "Do you believe there will be a war between any of the big European countries this year?" Note how war fear has declined in the last six weeks.

The Gallup Poll

68 Per Cent Think 'There'll Be No Conflict in Europe in 1939.'

Copyright, 1939, by American Institute of Public Opinion

NEW YORK, May 19.—American public apprehension over the possibility of war in Europe this year has decreased sharply during the last six weeks, coinciding with a lessened tension abroad, according to the results of a national survey by the American Institute of Public Opinion.

Whereas slightly more than half of American voters said last April that they believed war would break out in Europe this year, the number believing this today has dropped to approximately one-third.

During the period since early April the British Government has made alliances with several European countries in an attempt to thwart Herr Hitler, press dispatches from Berlin have reported a softened tone in Nazi official circles, and Sig. Mussolini has declared that war is "unnecessary."

The Institute has concluded four separate surveys in the last two years to test American apprehension of war. Each survey asked the same question:

"Do you believe there will be a war between any of the big European countries this year?"

The trend of sentiment follows:

	Yes	No
January, 1937	16%	84%
January, 1938	41	59
April	51	49
Today	32	68

As the results show, there was a gradual increase in war fear between January, 1937, and January, 1939, the latter date being after the peace of Munich. When several months later, Herr Hitler seized the rest of Czechoslovakia, apprehension of war rose again, and began to decline only in recent weeks.

REASONS for the change in sentiment are shown by an analysis of comments made by voters in explaining their attitude. The chief reason is a belief that the "powers are bluffing," particularly Germany and Italy. Second is that "none of the countries have enough money to fight," or as one voter put it "there won't be a war because this time the United States isn't putting up the money."

The minority who do feel there will be a war declare that the tension has gone so far they do not see how war can be avoided, and that "Hitler is unpredictable." Their general attitude is that any relaxation of tension at the present time is merely a lull before the storm.

The belief that war will not come this year shows little variation by geographical sections, or by ages. There is a difference, however, among men and women. Whereas only 29 per cent of men voters in the survey fear that war will break out this year, 36 per cent of women voters fear this.

BOTANIST PLANS SOUTH SEA TRIP

Dr. Yunker of DePauw Gets Yale Grant for Year Of Research.

Times Special
GREENCASTLE, May 19.—Dr. Truman G. Yunker, head of the DePauw University Botany Department, will spend a year in the South Sea Islands doing botanical research.

He has been awarded a research grant by Yale University and DePauw has granted him a year's leave of absence. He has chosen the Tonga group of islands, southeast of the Fiji Islands for his work.

Dr. Yunker and his family will sail July 13 from Los Angeles for Honolulu where he will do preliminary work at the Bishop Museum. Members of his family will return to the United States in September when he will leave for the scene of his work.

The area to which he is going is difficult to reach. A commercial shipping line touching the islands has been discontinued and he expects to obtain passage on a copra fishing boat.

This is the second grant that Dr. Yunker has received from Yale. In 1932-33 he was on leave from DePauw to do botanical research in the Hawaiian Islands. In 1934, 1936 and last year he made summer expeditions to Honduras for research.

CHANGE HEALTH SYSTEM AT I. U.

Student Fees to Be Hiked $3 Each Semester for Added Service.

Times Special
BLOOMINGTON, May 19.—A student health and medical service will be established at Indiana University this fall, President Herman B. Wells announced today.

The university physician system, used as a means of guarding student health, will be abolished and the duties now performed by university physicians merged into the new service.

Student fees will be increased three dollars a semester to provide for the increased service. The State Health Board will inspect all eating establishments patronized by students, including the university dining halls, boarding clubs, fraternities and sororities. Headquarters of the service will be in Alpha Hall on the campus.

The studies of blind fish by the late Carl H. Eigenmann, dean of graduate school, will be commemorated in ceremonies in connection with the dedication of an Eigenmann tablet tomorrow at Spring Mill State Park.
