

CITY WILL ISSUE $95,000 BONDS FOR FLOOD WORK

Needs Funds for Acquisition Of Rights-of-Way; River To Be Widened.

A $95,000 flood prevention bond issue will be floated to pay the City's share of a $500,000 U. S. Army flood project on the east bank of White River, City Engineer M. G. Johnson, Flood Board president, said today. The bonds will pay for acquisition of the right-of-way between Washington St. and New York St. Negotiations on the payment of damages to the Bemis Bag Co. and Acme-Evans Co., both of which have property rights and equipment on the bank, were completed yesterday.

The Board agreed to pay approximately $50,000 in damages to the Bemis Bag Co., whose pipes and other equipment in the river bed will probably have to be removed in the course of completing the flood work.

Property to Be Bought
About $15,000 in damages for land will be paid to the Acme-Evans Co. and about $30,000 will be spent to buy 17 other pieces of property along the bank.

Work on the huge project, which is to protect the City Hospital and the U. S. Medical Center, will be started as soon as deeds certifying acquisition of the right-of-way have been received by U. S. Army engineers at Louisville, Mr. Johnson said.

The project will probably cost about $450,000, which will be paid by the Federal Government, he said. In order to bring the project here, the City was required, under Army regulations, to provide the right-of-way.

Included in the flood prevention work will be a levee to extend to the present concrete levee, which runs north of Washington St. along the east bank; a dirt levee from the end of this extension to New York St. and a widened dirt levee on which a boulevard eventually will be built from New York to Michigan Sts.

River to Be Widened
This will bring the southern terminus of White River Parkway, East Drive, from Michigan to New York Sts. In addition, the river will be widened to a uniform 650 feet and dredged to a maximum depth of eight feet below low water level, according to plans.

Immediately after its meeting yesterday, the Flood Board requested the City Legal Department to prepare its options for the new land to be acquired. The lots are distributed generally between Washington and Michigan Sts. and will complete a strip of City-owned property running along the east bank from Washington St. to Fall Creek.

When completed, the project will tie in with previous flood prevention work on the east bank, protecting the entire City south of Fall Creek. The Army eventually plans to continue flood work along Fall Creek. This work will come under a large Federal flood-control program designed to build up flood protection for the Mississippi, Ohio Rivers and their tributaries.

PAY DISPUTE CLOSES SAN FRANCISCO PORT
SAN FRANCISCO, June 17 (U. P.).—The Port of San Francisco was closed today by a dispute between waterfront employers and ship clerks over hours and wages.

The dispute reached a climax when the union, a C. I. O. affiliate, rejected an ultimatum from the employers stipulating that the port would be closed unless pickets were withdrawn from the American-Hawaiian docks.

Waterfront activity, normally quiet on Saturday, came to a standstill as the disputants prepared for another peace meeting called by Federal conciliators for later in the day. Five thousand workers went out of jobs today and 7500 more may be affected if the strike continues.

All cargoes on which cargo checkers are employed were stopped by the dispute. Oil, lumber and other bulk cargoes were not affected.

Each side accused the other of violating standing agreements. E. P. Foisie, spokesman for the dock checkers' employers' association, said the union rejected a proposal made by Federal conciliators to resume work pending arbitration.

WATER CO. REPORT SET FOR NEXT WEEK
Judson Dickerman, Federal utilities expert, will report on his survey of the Indianapolis Water Co. "sometime next week" to a subcommittee of officials investigating the purchase, Mayor Sullivan said today.

Mr. Dickerman, who was "borrowed" from the Federal Trade Commission to make an independent appraisal of the company, began writing his report last week.

The subcommittee named by the Mayor to study the purchase of the City met last yesterday, but discussed "nothing of importance," Mayor Sullivan said. The committee will be reconvened when Mr. Dickerman makes his report, the Mayor said.

TOURS ARE ARRANGED DURING HOTEL WEEK
Indianapolis hotels today were completing the observance of the first National Hotel Week. Literature describing the hotel industry, number of persons employed and how much is expended for taxes and merchandise was distributed in guest rooms. Visitors were shown through the hotels.

A more extensive observance will be planned for next year, P. E. Ruppert, Hotel Lincoln manager and president of the Indiana State Hotel Association, said.

State Fight Against Southern Freight Rate Cuts Embarrasses McNutt-for-President Supporters

500-Word Letter Sent in Answer to Queries of Arkansas Governor on Stand.

By NOBLE REED
The State administration's fight against freight rate reductions for Southern states is embarrassing the McNutt-for-President organization. Recently Governor Carl E. Bailey of Arkansas wrote Frank McHale, campaign manager, demanding to know if Mr. McNutt's attitude on the question was the same as Governor Townsend's stand.

The State administration has been opposing rate revisions for the Southern states for two years and the recent Legislature appropriated $10,000 to continue the fight.

A 500-word letter, containing plenty of strategic compliments for the rights of Southern states, was hurried back to the Arkansas Governor by return mail.

Away for Two Years
Mr. McHale's letter to Governor Bailey stated in part: "With regard to your question as to what demonstration can be made to satisfy the agriculture section of the McNutt-for-President campaign, I can only say that he has been out of the country for more than two years and I am certain he had no foreknowledge of the action taken."

"As president of the Council of Governors, Mr. McNutt was the first to espouse the cause of removal of inequities in interstate commerce. One of the first acts of Governor McNutt was to bring about a correction of agricultural tax injustices. It may interest you to know that Mr. McNutt married a girl from Texas and he is somewhat familiar with the problems of the South-west."

Hoosiers aspiring to the spotlights of the 1940 voting are setting a precedent in campaign "gun-jumping."

With the state conventions still a year away, several prospective candidates have been actually stumping the state.

VOTE AGAINST FOREIGN WAR
Indiana State Student Poll Shows 21 Per Cent Would Volunteer.

Times Special
TERRE HAUTE, Ind., June 17.—Only 21 per cent of the male students at Indiana State Teachers College would volunteer for foreign service in a war against Germany, it was revealed in a poll by Ink Sense, campus magazine.

The coeds were 99 per cent against "the men they know" volunteering for foreign military service.

Forty-two per cent of the students favored the proposed war referendum to the Constitution.

Sixty-seven per cent said it would be "hypocritical" for the United States to approve a firm English-French stand against Germany and then remain neutral in the event of war.

Students listed 1940 Democratic Presidential preferences in order as Paul V. McNutt, Vice President Garner, President Roosevelt, Postmaster General James A. Farley, Stanley Reed and one vote for Mrs. Roosevelt.

Republican choices were Thomas E. Dewey, U. S. Senator Vandenberg, of Michigan, Governor Bricker, of Ohio, Senator Taft, of Ohio, John D. M. Hamilton, Herbert Hoover and one vote each for Alfred M. Landon and Mrs. Alice Longworth.

SCOUTS ENTERTAIN AT CAMPFIRE FETE
Campfire services featured a senior staff program at the Boy Scout camp last night. The program was sponsored by S. L. Norton and was produced by Edward Liljedahl and Richard Gripe for the benefit of camp visitors.

Patrol leaders announced by Allen Vestal, camp commandant, are Harold Negley, Tom Smith, Roland Rust, Kenneth McAbee, Jack Shideler, Roderic Sheridan, Dan Orwiler, Roy Myles, Richard Hill, Ed Galm, Robert Glassmeyer, Robert Meyer, Herbert Harrington, George McNaughton, Eugene Heath, Robert Schweinsberger, Hans Mengerling, Francis Pray, Ned Hendrickson, William Norton, Paul Cain, John Stahl, Max Tuttle and Bruce Kilfene.

Louis Wolf was the first Scout to achieve the second camp rank, Woodman. Others attaining the rank were James Grimes, Robert Simpson and Robert Stark.

Picket Charms Jeweler, Now He Won't Join Union
KANSAS CITY, Mo., June 16 (U. P.).—Raymond Carter, sole worker in his jewelry shop, has decided not to join the union because it might get awfully lonesome around the place without Carol Harrison, the picket.

The 22-year-old professional picket has been pacing the 20 feet in front of Mr. Carter's store since Dec. 13, 1938, and has learned the path to and fro so well that she now reads four or five books a week as she walks.

"It's a lot of fun having Carol around," Mr. Carter said. "She is perfectly sincere about the union and doesn't seem to care about the picket lines of the fence. But she's a very sweet girl."

He said he tried to offer her haven when it rained but she spurned any offers of help. When she complained of aching feet he had a carpet put on the sidewalk but she asked that it be removed because passersby laughed. "The only thing she'll let me do for her is telephone the beauty parlor for appointments," Mr. Carter said. "I'm more than glad to do this. It is an asset to have anyone so closely associated with your business always look neat and clean."

He said all his customers like Carol and when she was sick a few days this spring they asked about her and hoped she would have a speedy recovery.

"It really seemed sort of lonesome around here without her," he said.

Fred F. Bays

"In my memory campaigning has never started this early preceding an election year," a veteran politician remarked at the State House recently.

State Democratic Chairman Fred F. Bays has made 39 campaign speeches in the last two months and is booked for 14 during the next four weeks, six of them next week. He takes a troupe of vaudeville entertainers and circus performers with him everywhere he goes.

Jenner and Emmert Busy
State Senator William Jenner (R. Paoli) has been stumping the state for three weeks in the interests of his campaign for the gubernatorial nomination. His opponent for Republican nomination, James A. Emmert, of Shelbyville, also has been making speeches with definite campaign slants for two months.

Lieut. Gov. Henry F. Schrieker and R. Earl Peters, Indiana FHA director, Democratic aspirants for Governor, also have been conspicuous on platforms recently. It is significant that the McNutt-for-President Club at Logansport arranged for Mr. Schrieker to be the principal speaker at the club's rally next Wednesday night after State Chairman Bays had to cancel his engagement there.

Several hints at what some of the Democratic claims will be in the 1940 campaign were disclosed this week.

State House workers have compiled the total yearly savings to the public in utility rate reductions during the Democratic administrations. This figure will be announced at $10,000,000 annually.

Another rallying point already taken to some of the townships is the state's contention that State parks actually have made a profit in the last six years. In an Evansville speech recently, State Park Director Charles De Turk said the maintenance cost of the State parks has been $186,000 while revenues totaled $187,000.

Prospective Father Positive He Can Predetermine Sex
Announces His Child Will Be Boy and Plans to Open Expert Knowledge to Others.

NEWARK, N. J., June 17 (U. P.).—Sidney A. Fortel, at present the proprietor of a linen supply house, announced today that he expects to go into the business of planning children for parents who know what they want.

For two years Mr. Fortel has been predetermining for his friends the sex and birth date of their children, on a strictly amateur basis—the sex and this week-end he expects Mrs. Fortel to confirm all his theories by giving birth to "a perfect boy baby."

Mr. Fortel knows the baby will be a boy and that it will be born today or Sunday, he said, "because we planned it that way." The planning, he said, was based on a complicated "secret formula" which Mr. Fortel worked out during 20 years of study.

"It may even be twin boys," he said, "but of that I am not certain. I am still studying the problem of twins."

SEX predetermination—by which he means the determination of sex before conception—has been just a hobby with him up to now, Mr. Fortel said, "but I expect to capitalize on it later."

"But suppose your child turns out to be a girl?" a reporter asked.

"Impossible," Mr. Fortel retorted. "It will be a boy—100 per cent."

MR. FORTEL became interested in sex predetermination as a young man.

"I got to wondering," he said, "why my mother had seven girls and only one boy, myself? Did he learn the reason?"

"Absolutely."

"Mr. Fortel said he had helped more than 50 of his friends to have children of the particular sex they wanted."

"When I predetermine the sex of a child," he said, "it will be perfect, normal all around, with brains and body perfect."

MR. FORTEL said he followed strictly the "laws of nature" and did not indulge in any hocus-pocus.

His method, Mr. Fortel said, assures perfect deliveries and obviates all danger of mental or physical abnormality in the child.

Questions asked of parents have to do with age, weight, height, health, occupation and place of residence, Mr. Fortel said. "My system never has failed," he added.

SENATOR MINTON saw nothing of criticism in Mr. McHale's failure to second his stand this week. He said that the state's anti-Roosevelt campaign was a national committee had been discussed with him over the phone from Indianapolis before it was issued.

In his statement, Mr. McHale merely said that the McNutt-for-President campaign will continue to carry out the 1938 mandate of the Democratic state convention and try to nominate their man.

One interpretation of the Minton statement is that it was made to counteract the anti-administration voting of Senator Van Nuys (D. Ind.), who this week joined with the Republicans and such disgruntled Democrats as Senator George (D. Ga.) to turn down funds for Department of Commerce business research which were asked by President Roosevelt.

His anti-Roosevelt record is almost 100 per cent this session, it has been pointed out.

Convention's a Year Away but Candidates For Hoosier Offices Are Busy Stumping.

State Democratic leaders appeared to be a little roller off this record this week at Senator Minton's remark in Washington that Mr. McNutt would support President Roosevelt for a third term.

Some Democrats described the remark as "bad timing" and others doubted that Senator Minton could be renominated next year if he incurs the disfavor of the McNutt organization.

The effects of the recent Democratic factional healing drive were demonstrated at a State House banquet at the Claypool Hotel this week.

Sitting together at the speakers' table were R. Earl Peters, Indiana FHA director; Walter Myers, former speaker of the House of Representatives; Sheriff Al Feeney, Lieut. Gov. Henry F. Schrieker and Frank McHale, McNutt-for-President manager.

Eighteen months ago, neither Mr. Peters, Mr. Myers nor Mr. Feeney would have been seen at the speakers' table of a State House banquet. Both Mr. Peters and Mr. Feeney were ousted from the State House organization during the McNutt regime.

Several hints at what some of the Democratic claims will be in the 1940 campaign were disclosed this week.

WARNS AGAINST SPOTTED FEVER
Harvey Advises Picnickers Especially to Beware of Ticks on Skin.

The dread Rocky Mountain spotted fever has spread to Indiana through ticks that cling to the human skin, Dr. Verne K. Harvey, State Health Director, warned today.

"About 50 per cent of it is of the utmost importance that persons watch for the ticks on their skin especially after picnicking in un-cleared land," Dr. Harvey said.

Two cases have been reported in Indiana in the last two weeks. "Removal of any ticks quickly is important," Dr. Harvey advised. "Be careful, in removing them, not to crush them between the fingers. If the insect is deeply imbedded use small forceps. Swap the wound with iodine."

SCHOOL BOARDS ASK FUNDS TO RENOVATE
Several Indiana school boards have applied for WPA funds for renovation projects, John K. Jennings, State WPA administrator, said today.

Proposed projects are located in Parke, Carroll, Vigo, Forest and Clinton counties.

A $69,800 project to include renovating of school buildings and grounds at Muncie has already been approved, Mr. Jennings said.

HOOSIERS IN WASHINGTON—By Daniel Kidney
WASHINGTON, June 17.—Among Hoosier Democrats here, the question up for discussion now is whether or not Senator Minton knocked a home run in the state's struggle with his statement that the McNutt organization will back President Roosevelt if he seeks a third term.

Opinion is divided in the matter. Some of the Congressmen say that the Senator's statement was a fine bit of bait to attract the White House blessing for Paul V. McNutt's own presidential candidacy.

Others termed it "premature" or "unwarranted." The idea that it might be a buildup for Senator Minton for Vice President in a third term ticket was widely discussed.

Conservative forces behind the 1940 boom for Vice President Garner feel that the New Deal Senator was then a curvilinear statement that the McNutt organization will back President Roosevelt if he seeks a third term.

The Senator himself declares that he based his conclusions on the fact that Frank McHale, Mr. McNutt's campaign manager, in seeking support from various Democrats by mail, never failed to point out that the McNutt candidacy is predicated upon the idea that the President would not seek a third term.

It was recalled here that Mr. McHale issued a statement pointing out the McNutt candidacy second to that of President Roosevelt the day before Senator Minton put on the gargantuan cocktail party for the High Commissioner of the Philippines at the Mayflower Hotel last March.

SENATOR MINTON saw nothing of criticism in Mr. McHale's failure to second his stand this week. He said that the state's anti-Roosevelt campaign was a national committee had been discussed with him over the phone from Indianapolis before it was issued.

Campaigning is rapidly reaching the big business stages in Indiana. Letters selling the McNutt-for-President campaign are going out of headquarters here at the rate of 12,000 every week compared to last year when only 3,000 were sent.

Several hundred dollars more are being sunk every week in Mr. McNutt's future. And it's all coming out of the pockets of a few personal backers up to this point. No contributions from the general public have been reported.

Mr. McHale recently appealed for contributions from Indiana Democrats but the flow is negligible.

Unseasonable activity has gripped the State Democratic headquarters, too. In the last six weeks, 75,000 campaign letters have been sent out to party workers over the state.

Indiana will suffer an attack of the political jitters next week when some 12,000 Townsends will gather here for some significant action at the national meeting of the Townsend Old Age Pension Movement.

Some tricky oratory is expected as result of the recent defeat of the pension plan in Congress. Some sharp jabs at a few Indiana Congressmen is believed inevitable.

V. F. W. TO CONCLUDE CONVENTION TODAY
EVANSVILLE, Ind., June 17 (U. P.).—The Indiana Veterans of Foreign Wars will conclude their annual convention here today with the election of officers and selection of a city for the 1940 convention.

Vincennes and Lafayette applied for next year's meeting and it was indicated that Lafayette was supported by a majority of the delegates.

The delegates yesterday unanimously defeated a motion to remove the charter of any post found guilty of maintaining a gambling device in violation of state laws.

In the House, Rep. Landis is a member of the Townsend Plan strategy board which rode to a bad fall by letting their old-age pension bill be brought up and overwhelmingly defeated.

TOWNSEND CLUB SESSION BRINGS FIRST OF 15,000

Founder Coming on Special Train Next Wednesday From California.

The vanguard of delegates to the fourth national Townsend Club convention, opening at Cadle Tabernacle Thursday, began arriving today, according to B. G. Rankine, convention manager.

Dr. Francis E. Townsend, founder and president of the pension movement, and about 15,000 delegates are expected, Mr. Rankine said.

Dr. Townsend, Mrs. Townsend and about 500 delegates from California are to arrive on a special train at 1:35 p. m. Wednesday. He will open the convention at 10:30 a. m. Thursday. Other special trains are due the same day.

Caravan to Form
An automobile caravan is to originate at Denver and will be joined by cars bearing delegates from eight other states. Mr. Rankine said it would reach Indianapolis in a 10-mile-long procession.

One of the highlights of the convention is to be a dinner Saturday night at the Manufacturers' Building at the Fairgrounds. Mrs. Townsend is to be guest of honor and is to be presented flowers by delegates from 20 states.

Six United States Senators are expected to attend, according to convention leaders. They are Gerald P. Nye (R. N. D.); Claude Pepper (D. Fla.); Sheridan P. Donnelly (D. Cal.); Elmer Thomas (D. Okla.); Rufus C. Holman (R. Ore.) and Edwin C. Johnson (D. Cal.).

Political Plan Due
Leaders said that the convention will formulate a campaign of political action to be taken between now and the 1940 election. A greater program of organization, especially in the Southern states, is to be drafted.

The convention proper will close with the annual dinner, but a mass meeting is scheduled for Sunday.
