

THIEVES PREY ON TOWNSEND PLAN VISITORS

Six Report Loss of Money And Rail Tickets; Three Slugged by Holdup Men.

Thieves who "worked" convention sessions stole railroad tickets, money and jewelry from six Townsend followers over the week-end, police reported today. Three other persons reported they were robbed by slugging holdup men.

Three Townsend followers told police they lost or were robbed of valuables at the Townsend National Reunion at the Fair Grounds yesterday.

Frank Davis of Junction, Colo., reported his billfold containing $15 was taken from his pocket and C. F. Stolzenberg of Sheboygan, Wis., said thieves took his purse containing a round-trip Chicago-Indianapolis railroad ticket and $2.

Losses $50, Return Ticket

Mrs. Clara Swisher of Danville, Ill., lost her purse containing $50 and a return railroad ticket to Danville.

Richard Jucker, Chicago, reported a thief lifted his billfold containing $9 at a Cadillac Tavern Tuesday morning.

Mary Adkins of Yakima, Wash., said she lost or was robbed of her purse near the City Market Saturday. Her purse contained a ring, watch and $11.

Thelma McKee of Michigan City reported the theft of her purse containing $2 and her Townsend Club membership card Friday.

Slugged, Watch Taken

The three robbery victims were Barney Boner, 61, of 127 S. Noble St., who said two men took his watch and $20 after slugging him at Noble and Washington Sts.; Frank Kintana, 44, of 218 S. East St., who was slugged and robbed of $7 near his home; and Albert Adams, 36, of 308 W. Ohio St., who said he was robbed of his watch by three men who forced him into an alley on Senate Ave. near Ohio St.

The Rev. George Henninger, pastor of the Fifty-First Street Methodist Church, reported that vandals entered the church, 515 S. Central Ave., and did $75 damage to the pipe organ.

The Universal Beverage Co. offices, 925 Fulton St., were entered last night and a safe was opened. Officials said no more than $10 in cash was in the safe.

LUNCHEON TO EXTEND ROBINSON WELCOME

Dr. Daniel S. Robinson, Butler University president, will be formally welcomed to Indianapolis at a luncheon Thursday in the Columbia Club sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Speakers will include Mayor Sullivan, Lieut. Gov. Schrickler, Hilton U. Brown, Butler trustees board chairman; Dr. Herman B. Wells, Indiana University president; Dr. William C. Dennis, Earlham College president; DeWitt S. Morgan, Indianapolis public school superintendent.

Meanwhile, it was announced that Harry T. Ice was elected vice president of the United States Junior Chamber of Commerce convention in Tulsa, Okla. He has been active in the local Junior Chamber since 1935 and has been state president.

Dr. Townsend Presses Fight for State-by-State Vote And Maps Way to Help Devotees Spend Pensions

Resolution Calling for Amendment Approved By Senate Group.

By DAVID MARSHALL

Dr. Francis E. Townsend will go to Washington tomorrow or Wednesday to personally lead the Senate fight to pass the Constitutional Amendment providing for a state-by-state vote on the pension plan.

The Senate Judiciary Committee approved the amendment resolution today, 10 to 6. Adoption requires a two-thirds vote in the House and Senate and ratification by three-fourths of the states.

The 72-year-old pension club leader made his plans for the capital trip before leaving with his son, Robert, for national headquarters at Chicago. Both had been here for the Townsend national convention which was brought to an uproar close yesterday at a mammoth Fair Grounds rally.

WASHINGTON, June 26 (U. P.).—The Senate Judiciary Committee today approved, 10 to 6, a Constitutional Amendment proposed by advocates of the Townsend Pension Plan.

Introduced by Senator Andrews (D. Fla.) the amendment provides that "Congress shall have the power to levy taxes for old-age assistance."

The committee voted as follows:

FOR—Neely (D. W. Va.), McCarran (D. Nev.), Van Nuys (D. Ind.), Logan (D. Ky.), O'Mahoney (D. Wyo.), Austin (R. Vt.), Danaher (R. Conn.), Wiley (R. Wis.), Chairman Ashurst (D. Ariz.) and Miller (D. Ark.).

AGAINST—King (D. Utah), Hatch (D. N. M.), Burke (D. Neb.), Borah (R. Ida.), Norris (Ind. Neb.) and Hughes (D. Del.).

The committee rejected, 9 to 7, another amendment by Senator Andrews which would require selection of justices of the Supreme Court on a geographical basis.

Before bidding them "God speed," Dr. Townsend told the 5000 enthusiasts at the rally that when they receive the pension money "we will map out a program of spending for you."

"Most of you will have more than you ever had before," he said. "You'll have to learn how to spend it. Of course, there will be lots of things like shoes and clothes that you will have to buy."

"Not a Wild Dream"

After that, he said, the money should be used for building and equipping huge convention halls and the construction of schools for teaching citizenship.

He said, however, that between 50,000 and 60,000 persons receiving $200 a month.

"We'll ask them to chip in $50 a month to help put up these buildings," he went on. "This is not a wild dream. We are going to do it."

TECH PUPIL, 17, DIES OF BULLET WOUNDS

Dewey Wiley, 17-year-old Technical High School pupil of 1146 S. Capitol Ave., died at City Hospital yesterday of bullet wounds inflicted by a night watchman who suspected him of attempted burglary.

The youth was shot by Horace Whitaker, 27, of 1326 Fletcher Ave., watchman at the Highway Truck & Parts Co., Inc., 1125 E. Georgia St., police said.

Mr. Whitaker said he fired when the youth failed to obey a halt command when found in the company's office at 2 a. m. Thursday.

The boy, wounded in the abdomen, went to his home. His mother called police and a doctor, who sent him to the hospital.

He was born here and was a member of the Tech basketball, football and track teams. He was a member of the Second Church of Christ, Scientist.

Survivors are his mother, Mrs. Dortha Hall; two brothers, Merrill and Donald Wiley, both of Indianapolis. Funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. tomorrow at the Montgomery Funeral Home. Burial will be at Crown Hill.

ACCOUNTS BOARD TO HIRE 2 TYPISTS

It costs $25 a day to have two State examiners type their reports. As a result, there will be jobs for two typists at the State Board of Accountancy July 1.

Chief Examiner Edward P. Brennan said the examiners know $12.50 worth of typing a day, but not $12.50 worth of typing and when it takes them several days to type a report the State is paying excessive typing costs.

He asked Attorney General Omer S. Jackson about hiring help. He said all right.

They will be paid $37.5 a month each or about $3.75 a day against the examiners $12.50.

THREE HERE CAPTURE MODEL PLANE PRIZES

The Indiana Gas Model Association of Indianapolis today had brought back three first prizes from a model airplane contest held at the Richmond Airport yesterday. The winners were James Bennett Jr., Gene Foxworth and Harlan Dinwiddie.

The delegates wave goodbye to Dr. Townsend as the convention ends at the Fair Grounds.

All we have to do is supply the cash market demand."

The Doctor also said that the "California Plan" of reorganizing the Townsend national setup would "probably" be the one chosen by a committee he has named to study a method for strengthening the organization.

National leaders indicated that without a doubt the California plan, or one similar, would be the one ultimately chosen to be ratified by executives when they meet at Chicago in January. Almost without exception, they stated the plans of the Doctor have been followed.

California Is Active

Dr. Townsend was going to present the plan for the approval of the convention here last week, but some delegates objected to "having California tell us what to do." Since the movement was started in California that state has been much more active than any other and half a dozen of the national leaders have come from there.

The 1940 convention city also will be chosen by the Doctor, the executives said.

He predicted that by 1940 there would be so many delegates that one national convention could not be held and that separate state conventions would be necessary.

He said the enactment of the plan would see the beginning of a new civilization in which "every man, woman and child would have enough of the material things."

He flayed business for buying at the lowest possible cost and selling at the highest margin of profit.

"We are going to take civilization from the hands of the selfish who control that," he said, "and when we do there will be an end to 'illegitimate profits'."

A membership drive in the "Trail Blazers League," organized to defeat Congressmen who voted "no" to the Townsend plan, was launched by F. Manley Goldsberry of Los Angeles, a former Hoosier, and uncle of the Washington College football coach, Alonzo Goldsberry.

Fair Grounds in the Manufacturers Building. It was the first formal entertainment provided for the delegates and the only session without speeches.

At the concluding business session Saturday afternoon, the convention authorized Dr. Townsend and his staff to select the 1940 convention city.

They also agreed to support congressional candidates approved by Dr. Townsend and, after reading of the "Townsend Creed," agreed to launch the "Townsend Party" unless one of the major parties adopts the plan.

The first resolution read, and the one adopted with the loudest roar of approval, was one recommending that Dr. Townsend continue as president, and that in event he should be unable to continue, to be succeeded by his son, Robert C. Townsend, "thus perpetuating the name Townsend, which has come to mean justice, security, courage and recovery."

Dues Continued
The organization continued the 25-cent annual dues, leaving the cent-a-day contributions for a proposed million dollar radio campaign on a voluntary basis.

Resolutions asked each club to donate $2 a month to finance work of the club-forming Trail Blazers, authorized Dr. Townsend to name a committee to work with congressmen in preparing a new bill; the clubs sponsor celebrations of Dr. Townsend's birthday, Jan. 13, the proceeds to go to the Townsend Foundation; that all Townsendites buy American-made goods, and that members support congressmen who voted for the former pension bill, provided they repledge themselves to the program.

CO-OPERATION IN TRUSTS ADVISED

Banks, Attorneys and Life Underwriters Urged to Work Together.

Co-operation between trust companies, attorneys and life underwriters was urged by Daniel D. Grubbs, of the Indiana Trust Co., in an address before the Indianapolis Chapter of Chartered Life Underwriters at the Columbia Club at noon today.

He said such co-operation would be in the interests of owners and inheritors of property and estates. "An important element in security and protection for the family is the conserving of an estate in a co-operative job in which the lawyer, the life underwriter and the trust company join," Mr. Grubbs said.

Urges Flexible Trusts
"The trust arrangements should be tailor-made and reasonably flexible for each individual to be served or estate to be administered," Eber M. Spence, co-general agent of the Provident Mutual Life Insurance Co., here was elected president of the Indianapolis Association of Life Underwriters in mail balloting.

Pastor Says Eggs Laid On Sunday Could Aid Church.

Times Special
LAFAYETTE, June 26.—Give eggs laid on Sunday to the church.

That was one of the methods suggested by Dr. A. R. Felton, of Drew University, in a lecture here before the 11th annual Rural Leadership School of Purdue University on increasing the economic income of the church.

Dr. Felton said he knew of one community where the women were helping the church by giving all eggs laid on Sunday.

He said church income could be increased by an increase in the size of parishes, equalization of salaries of ministers and working out new methods of giving.
