

43 WILL FACE TRAFFIC COURT; EIGHT INJURED

Alleged Hit-Run Motorist Held After Police Car Gives Chase.

Forty-three motorists were to face traffic charges in Municipal Court today, including an alleged hit-run driver and 11 charged with running red lights.

Eight persons were injured in overnight accidents, one seriously, and two other hit-skip drivers were hunted by police.

Woman Seriously Hurt

Miss Flora Warfield, 34, of 2119 Martha St., was reported in serious condition at City Hospital with a fractured pelvis and head injuries. She was riding with John Kirkham, police said, when his car collided with a truck at Minnesota St. and Pershing Ave.

Mr. Kirkham received face lacerations and a possible head injury and was reported in fair condition. Norwood Danner, 21, of 1801 Alton Ave., the truck driver, escaped injury and was arrested on charges of reckless driving.

After the collision, the truck overturned three times, the auto once, and both rolled into a vacant field, scattering a group of children who were playing baseball there. None of the children was injured.

Faces Hit-Run Charge

Olden Layton, 38, of 1947 Ruckle St., was arrested today on charges of leaving the scene of an accident. Police said they chased his car to 16th St. and Cornell Ave., after he allegedly had struck a parked car in the 500 block E. 20th St.

Beans—First, Last and Always

Arthur W. Wilson... A champion bean eater.

Arthur Wilson, the Champ, Has Eaten 'Em 26 Years

By LEO DAUGHERTY

Golden brown fried chicken may be the most famed Hoosier piece de resistance, but the choicest "delicacy" to Arthur W. Wilson, 517 E. 63d St., is a plate—or two plates—of Boston baked beans.

That's one of three reasons why he has attended a bean supper every Wednesday night for 26 years.

The occasion is the weekly meeting of the Bible Investigation Club at the Y. M. C. A. The 35-year-old club was organized when the late A. H. Goddard was Y. M. C. A. secretary. It has had two other names—the Young Men's Discussion Club and the Bean Supper Club.

The menu is just what the latter name implies.

3 LOCAL DOCTORS GIVEN ARMY RANK

WASHINGTON, June 28.—Three Indianapolis doctors have been commissioned first lieutenants in the Army Medical Reserve Corps, the War Department announced today.

They are Drs. Hubert L. Collins, 122 N. New Jersey St.; Leo N. Kirch, 1319 Leonard St.; and Robert W. McTurnan, 5816 N. New Jersey St.

Dr. Richard H. Schug, Decatur, Ind., has been assigned from the Reserve Corps to the regular service through competitive examinations, the War Department reported.

Two Infantry second lieutenants in training at Ft. Harrison also have been shifted from the Reserve Corps to the regular service through competitive examinations, the War Department reported.

They are Second Lieutenants Roger M. Bachman, Bristol, Tenn., and Jesse P. Moorefield, Greensboro, N. C.

FALLS FROM ROOF, DIES

VALPARAISO, Ind., June 28 (U. P.).—Fred La Hayne, 55, of Chesterton, was killed late yesterday when he fell from the roof of a new home he was building at Johnson's Beach on Lake Michigan, near here.

WATCH PICKET LINE AT MARTINSVILLE

MARTINSVILLE, Ind., June 28 (U. P.).—Police today watched picket lines at the Brooklyn Brick Co. plant here after an outbreak yesterday in which Wayne Taylor of Trafalgar, a truck driver, was injured.

George Quackenbush of Martinsville, a picket, was arrested after Taylor's truck allegedly was turned over as it attempted to leave the plant. He was charged with causing the wreck of the truck and freed under $500 bond.

Complaint Still Holds

The complaint remains on file and a new trial must be held next fall. However, delay in final settlement of the issue has been sought by County officials who feel that the only conclusive way to prevent such auction sales is action by the Legislature.

They testified at the auction hearings that it would require at least six months to correct book-making errors and straighten out inaccurate descriptions of County property before an accurate record could be prepared.

David Smith, attorney for the real estate dealers, repeated today his statement yesterday that he may file an appeal to the State Supreme Court.

Heard Goodrich

Governor James B. Goodrich spoke to the club.

Active membership in the club, now sponsored by Arthur Williams, Y. M. C. A. acting general secretary, numbers between 40 and 50. Meetings last one and one-half hours and never a minute longer. Hiram Lackey is the current president.

"The only time it ever looked bad for the club," Mr. Wilson said, "was during the depression. Everyone wanted to disband. I was president at the time and wouldn't let the boys call it quits."

Charter members include Austin W. Gremmer, Earl Sigman and H. F. Bond.

"I just have four interests and they keep me mighty busy," Mr. Wilson said. "They're my home, membership in the First Baptist Church, my work and the bean supper club."

COX IS PRAISED FOR RULING ON AUCTION SALES

Deputy Treasurer Terms It 'Boon to Distressed'; Legislation Urged.

County officials today praised the decision of Circuit Court Judge Earl R. Cox yesterday which halts indefinitely a threatened auction sale of hundreds of parcels of county tax delinquent property.

Chief Deputy County Treasurer Albert O. Koesters hailed the ruling as "a boon to the distressed taxpayers of Marion County."

County Auditor Fabian Biemer declared that the decision "is in the best interests of this community and the people who pay their taxes."

Sets Aside Order

Judge Cox set aside his own order for an auction sale in yesterday's ruling after County officials had declared in a petition that they were unable to comply with the order.

The first order was made two months ago after a trial and Judge Cox said at that time the law was clear but he was opposed to the efficacy of it.

In reversing his own decision yesterday, he remained unchanged in his opinion that the law provided for such auction sales but upheld the contentions of County officials that it was impossible to comply with the law.

Talks of Law Repeal

Mr. Biemer, one of several County officials who have fought the proposed sale, also said that "if the next Legislature wants to render the same service to the taxpayers that Judge Cox's decision has rendered, the first thing it will do is repeal all laws concerning tax sales. They will then immediately enact an equitable tax sale law."

County Treasurer Frank McKinney also urged legislative action to "rectify a bad situation which is dooming the tax structure, especially in Marion County."

It has been the contention of County officials that if the delinquent property were sold for as little as $1 a parcel as provided by the 40-year-old auction law, people would learn to use the law for tax evasion purposes.

Yesterday's decision which came as another climax in the 9-month-old controversial auction issue returns the case to its original status when the first complaint seeking to force the sale was filed by a group of real estate dealers in November, 1938.

Complaint Still Holds

The complaint remains on file and a new trial must be held next fall. However, delay in final settlement of the issue has been sought by County officials who feel that the only conclusive way to prevent such auction sales is action by the Legislature.

They testified at the auction hearings that it would require at least six months to correct book-making errors and straighten out inaccurate descriptions of County property before an accurate record could be prepared.

David Smith, attorney for the real estate dealers, repeated today his statement yesterday that he may file an appeal to the State Supreme Court.
