

AIRPORT ACRES WILL BE ZONED FOR INDUSTRIES

Works Board Will Lease
Vacant Land Marked
By Federal Unit.

A plan to zone 429 acres of Municipal Airport land for industrial locations was being studied by the Works Board today.

The Board yesterday resolved to lease the vacant land to aviation industries to promote the City's growth as an aeronautical center. This step, which has been contemplated for three years, was taken after City and Chamber of Commerce officials had consulted the Civil Aeronautics Authority regarding sections of land which could be used for industrial purposes without interfering with air traffic.

Survey Made by U. S.
Officials of the Authority made a survey of possible factory sites at the Airport and have recommended that the City zone the property to be leased according to Federal specifications.

The CAA has selected sites where operations of industry would not jeopardize the Authority's radio or experimental station or block further expansion of runways.

Mayor Sullivan characterized the Board's action as "one of the most important steps we have taken to bring aviation industries to Indianapolis."

Protects Port Facilities
He said that plans had been discussed for several months with the Chamber of Commerce and other interested organizations. The most important feature of the lease, he said, is to protect Airport facilities. Under the Works Board plan, sites will be leased to aviation industries at a nominal fee per acre for 15 years with the possibility of lease renewals. Industries must demonstrate their natural ability to operate at the Airport and be willing to accept sites as zoned by the CAA.

Use of the flying field will be provided for testing at specified hours.

HEALTH BOARD IS REAPPOINTED

Myers and Wolf Remain in Executive Posts at City Hospital.

City Health Board officers and executives of the City Hospital today entered another year of service after their reappointment at the Board's annual reorganization meeting yesterday.

Health Board members are chosen by the Mayor for four-year terms and each year hold an organization meeting.

Dr. George W. Kohlstedt was re-elected Board president, Frank Laird was re-named vice president and Dr. Herman G. Moigati, secretary, was reappointed for his 28th consecutive year.

Dr. Charles W. Myers, City Hospital superintendent, and Earl C. Wolf, hospital business manager, were reappointed. Both have held those positions for nine years. Other members of the Board are Dr. M. Joseph Barry and Dr. L. A. Ensminger.

Mayor Sullivan commended the Board for its service to Indianapolis.

MOVES TO COLLECT FEES FOR RUBBISH

GARY, Ind., July 22.—Gary has been collecting rubbish for its residents for 10 years so City Controller John A. Sabo has decided to do some collecting, too.

He said he would assess $25,000 to $30,000 is due the city in scavenger service fees from residents. He will start an audit of city books over the 10-year period to find out how much is owed and then will move to collect. He said unpaid assessments are a lien against property owners.

LOCAL MAN TO PLAY IN WINONA CONCERT

WINONA LAKE, July 22.—Robert Clifford, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Lee Clifford, Franklin Road, Indianapolis, will be a member of the Petrie Camp Concert Band which will present a public concert here tomorrow.

The band will be directed by Dr. A. Austin Harding, director of University of Illinois bands. He arrived this week from the University of Texas where he was conductor for the Texas Band Clinic. The band is composed of almost 100 musicians from nine states.

PIONEER NEWSPAPERMAN DIES
CRAWFORDSVILLE, Ind., July 22 (U. P.).—Funeral services will be held here tomorrow for Jere M. Kenney, 84, pioneer Crawfordsville newspaperman, who died Thursday at Gilman, Ill. Mr. Kenney for several years published the Crawfordsville Sunday Star, a weekly paper. It was founded by his father, Jeremiah Kenney.

The Indiana Political Scene—

McNutt Campaigners Woo Labor Votes, Attempt to Kill Ghost of Martial Law

Demand for McWhirter's
Resignation Made by Republican.

By NOBLE REED

An attempt will be made by the McNutt-for-President headquarters next week to chase away with one thrust an almost forgotten ghost that is flapping its wings ominously in the campaign arena.

The ghost is the declaration of martial law by former Governor McNutt in Terre Haute during labor disturbances in 1935.

Thousands of imposing pamphlets, due off the presses today, will be circulated throughout the United States, telling of Mr. McNutt's labor record.

The pamphlets contain four lengthy articles entitled: "He gave Indiana labor its bill of rights."

"He approved 44 laws beneficial to labor."

"He pioneered in sponsoring progressive labor legislation."

"He has been commended by labor leaders."

Answering questions here this week about some rumblings of labor discontent as a result of the Terre Haute episode, McNutt said:

"Troops had to be sent to Terre Haute to protect lives of citizens and prevent widespread property damage. There was no action against the rights of labor."

An outspoken demand for the resignation of Felix McWhirter as treasurer of the State Republican Committee was made this week in Indianapolis Daily Telephone editorial written by B. W. Bradstreet, a Republican.

The editorial reads in part: "For several weeks the people of Indiana have been expecting to hear of the resignation of Mr. McWhirter as treasurer of the Republican State Central Committee."

"When Mr. McWhirter took to letter writing and got himself subpoenaed as a witness before the Dies Committee at Washington in connection with a red-hot racial question, he was acting as an individual and not as an official of the Republican Committee."

When the report reached Washington this week that Clarence A. Jackson, Indiana's Unemployment Compensation director, was coming here to aid Federal Security Administrator Paul V. McNutt, Chairman Arthur J. Altmeyer and his Social Security Board staff are alleged to have broken out in a cold sweat.

For Mr. Jackson is the leader of all the state director opposition to Security Board policies and never has come to town without having a first class row with Mr. Altmeyer over the matter.

A businessman's type of administrator, who plays closely with the Chamber of Commerce crowd, Mr. Jackson frankly scoffs at some of the social idealism and what he terms impracticability of "these New Dealers."

So his arrival here is anticipated with deep foreboding by Mr. Altmeyer's organization.

Nevertheless, the new Federal Administrator feels that the man he picked to head his Tax Division while he was Governor of Indiana has something to offer which will be of abiding value here.

Mr. McNutt is determined to make a record and one of the first steps likely will be putting some economy into the Security Board. They are said to have a staff of 90 lawyers there now trying to make it work.

Mr. Jackson's idea always has been to put the states on the job and not centralize power in Washington. He has cited duplications of effort wherein three governmental departments are involved in carrying out some of the program and all complicate the problem for business.

One of his pet peeves has been the Unemployment Service, which is under Mr. McNutt's jurisdiction now.

A drastic change may be brought about under the Indiana Plan as established by Mr. Jackson. Increasing economy and efficiency in any of the governmental setups under the new Federal Security Agency would rebound to the credit of Mr. McNutt.

One of the principal speculations which continues to grow out of Mr. McNutt's new job is "where does it leave Jim Farley." At the moment, the opinion here seems to be that it leaves him right behind the eight-ball.

For the President didn't tell Jim anything about Mr. McNutt's new job and the "brain-trusters," who are anti-Farley, have taken him to their hearts as a splendid asset in their campaign against the "politicking" Postmaster General.

Harold Van Orman... Hinted in Governor race.

"But he was named and designated as an official of the Republican Party of Indiana. This incident at once ended the usefulness of Mr. McWhirter to the Republican Party in Indiana."

"Why doesn't Mr. McWhirter resign?"

ONE of the biggest Democratic organization meetings of the year will be held at the Claypool Hotel on Sunday afternoon, July 30.

State Chairman Fred F. Bays has sent letters in an urgent tone to 184 county Democratic chairmen and vice chairmen, asking each to be there without fail.

The meeting is designed as a sounding maneuver to detect any new hints of factionalism in the state machine which has been declared the "smoothest since 1932."

The county chairmen will be told what the State organization expects of them next year and the State Committee will, in turn, promise aid for the counties in distress.

Clarence A. Jackson

That Mr. Farley himself has been greatly perturbed by his present position in relation to the White House he has confided to friends. Something may be done to bring about a showdown on the situation when he returns from a scheduled trip to Europe, these friends say.

Although he still holds his two top political jobs as National Democratic Chairman and New York State Democratic Committee chairman, Mr. Farley's loss of leadership, as well as the complete lack of it among Democrats on Capitol Hill, was well reflected in the Hatch Bill fight.

The National Committee commenced putting the heat on Congressmen to emasculate the bill, but what happened?

On the night of the big fight, Rep. Joseph W. Martin Jr. had his Republicans in their seats popping up and down like well trained troops and they rewrote the bill on the floor, inserting the Dempsey amendment to which the Farley forces had objected.

True, they had about 10 per cent Democratic support and these men stayed on the floor and fought shoulder to shoulder with the G. O. P. to make the bill mean what Senator Hatch (D. N. M.) had intended.

But many of the "machine Democrats" were not on the floor as crucial test votes were taken. An outstanding example was Rep. William L. Schulte (D. Ind.), who bragged that he was for preserving the patronage system and against the whole Hatch Bill idea.

Rep. Schulte never showed up and missed all of the important votes in the committee of the Whole House. On the final roll call he was listed as having a general pair with Rep. Marcellus H. Evans (R. N. Y.).

REP. GEORGE W. GILLIE (R. Ind.), the Ft. Wayne veterinarian, gets about the best publicity in the Congressional Record and here is how.

His secretary, Charles A. Baird, is the Washington correspondent for the Ft. Wayne News-Sentinel. So into the Record go clippings from that paper with such headlines as "Victory for Gillie," with stories telling how the Congressman triumphed in this or that fight.

Such services are not banned by the Hatch Bill, but Mr. Baird is banned from the press galleries under the rules.

Senator Minton (D. Ind.), who once introduced a bill to make newspapers print nothing but the truth, has discovered one newspaper which he really likes. It is the Corydon Democrat, published for 30 years by Lew O'Bannon. The Senator inserted an editorial from this paper into the Record accompanied by high praise for the paper and Mr. O'Bannon himself.

OHIO GOVERNOR IS HONOR GUEST AT FORT REVIEW

Hundreds of Parents and Friends Also Visit
2300 in CMTC.

Governor John W. Bricker of Ohio was the honored guest today at Ft. Harrison, reviewing the 2300 Citizens Military Training Camp trainees, most of whom are from Ohio.

In Governor Bricker's party were Rep. John F. Hunter of the Ninth Ohio District and Robert Jamison, civilian aid to the Secretary of War for the Fifth Corps Area. Hundreds of parents and friends of CMTC trainees also visited the camp and either picnicked or had dinner in the mess hall with their hosts.

Met by Guard of Honor
Brig. Gen. Dana T. Merrill, Ft. Harrison commander, and Col. L. A. Kunzig, CMTC commanding officer, met Governor Bricker with a guard of honor comprising a composite company of the 11th Infantry, the 11th Infantry Band and color guard.

Col. Thomas C. Musgrove, chief of the staff of the Fifth Corps Area, represented the corps area commander, Maj. Gen. Daniel Van Voorhis.

Lieut. James T. McClellan was detailed as aid to Governor Bricker, Lieut. R. A. Jones to Col. Musgrove, Lieut. D. G. Sherrard to Rep. Hunter and Lieut. Leon C. Scott to Mr. Jamison.

City Youth Honored
The review was commanded by Trainee Oliver D. Palatinus of Youngstown, O., a fourth-year "blue" in CMTC. Following the review Gen. Merrill was to welcome Bricker who was to give the principal address. Lieut. Col. John Hall, camp chaplain, was to give the invocation and Capt. Patrick J. Mulhern, reserve chaplain from Cleveland, was to pronounce the benediction.

Afternoon events were to include a formal guard mount on the main parade grounds, a baseball game between a 11th Infantry team and a CMTC team and a band concert.

Robert Craft of Indianapolis, a basic source candidate in the CMTC, was selected as an outstanding candidate receiving the daily order of merit in orders published today by Col. Kunzig. Candidate Craft is assigned to Company I and after completing four years instruction will be eligible to take examination for a Reserve commission.

Jane Is Dead

VICTIM OF AUTO CRASH MOURNED

Tragedy Ends 'Life of Great
Things' for Noblesville
Beauty, 17.

NOBLESVILLE, Ind., July 22.—The youthful laughter which usually filled the home of Mr. and Mrs. David Wilson was absent today.

The Wilson's 17-year-old daughter, vivacious and lovely Jane, lay dead—the victim of an automobile crash yesterday.

Planned Great Things
Jane had planned great things for herself, her family said. She liked to play tennis, to swim, to ride horseback and was competent at all three. Despite all her after-school activity she was a brilliant student and was graduated from Noblesville High School last June.

She liked all her studies, but was interested particularly in dramatic art. She was the leading lady in her class play last June, "Lady Spitfire."

Planned Dramatic Study
She had received bids from sororities at Purdue, Indiana and Butler Universities. She turned them down and planned to enroll at Stephens College, Columbia, Mo., to major in dramatic art. After two years there, she planned to finish her studies at a coed school.

Survivors are her parents and one brother, John Bruce Wilson. Funeral services will be held at 9 a. m. Monday at Sacred Heart Catholic Church at nearby Cicero, which she attended. The body will be returned here for burial at Crownland Cemetery. Six of her friends will be pall bearers. Ten others will be flower girls.

CYCLIST HOLD SAFETY COURT
CLEVELAND, O., July 22 (U. P.).—Two hundred members of the Windermere Bicycle Club found Joe Doakes, an imaginary motorist, not guilty of careless driving at a mock trial. Object of the trial was to impress the cyclist with the need of caution.

IRISH WOMAN MAYOR CUTS VICTORIA DOWN

DUBLIN, July 22 (U. P.).—Mrs. Tom Clarke, newly elected woman Lord Mayor of Dublin, today removed a large portrait of Queen Victoria from the Mansion House hall, explaining that Victoria "hated Ireland with a deep hatred."

"It is a beautiful painting and I have put it in a safe place," Mrs. Clarke said. The first woman Lord Mayor, said, Mrs. Clarke said she would not wear the usual robes of office which "are red rag from the British period." Her husband was executed in the 1916 rebellion.

ROSCOE FARMER, 68, DEAD
Times Special
CAMBY, Ind., July 22.—Funeral services were being arranged today for Roscoe Farmer, 68, former Morgan County sheriff who died at his home here yesterday. His wife and a son survive.

Don't Get Behind That Old "Eight-Ball"

OWNING Your Home Is One Way of Keeping Clear

If you are a family man it's high time you were thinking of your position in life when you reach the age of 50, 55 or 60 years. Will you be out in front with a home of your own and paid for, or will you be behind the "eight-ball," still paying rent?

Today's opportunities for home ownership are truly unique. Never before would your rent money pay the principal, the interest, the taxes and the insurance as it does today. And look at the small down payments necessary and the long terms available. Buy NOW and you won't wake up in later years behind the "eight-ball."
