

STATE'S BEER DRINKERS SHOW FORM REVERSAL

Once Clamored for Draught, But Now Prefer Packaged Product.

Beer drinking habits in Indiana have undergone a complete reversal of form since repeal, according to figures of the Indiana Brewers Association issued today.

Consumption of packaged beer (bottles or cans) reached a new high of 72.6 per cent in the state during the six-month period ending June 30. This marks the peak of a steady climb since 1934, when the public was clamoring for draught beer.

Point to Price

When legal beer returned, the bottled variety accounted for only 29 per cent of the total consumed. However, it rose to 42 per cent in 1935, 61 per cent in 1936, 68 per cent in 1937 and 70.2 per cent last year. Brewers attribute the preference for packaged beer to the fact that 12-ounce bottles cost less than the prevailing price in Indiana. The trend is considered the more significant since beer can be bought by the drink in 424 licensed establishments, while packaged beer is sold in but 378 carry-out establishments.

Consumption Gains

General beer consumption also rose in Indiana during the first half of the current year to 507,014 barrels, an increase of 18,472 barrels over the same period in 1938.

This increase, .036 per cent, is below the national average increase of 1.7 per cent.

Sky's Limit in Show Tonight

VANSTON, Ill., Aug. 11 (U.P.). Turn to the northeast sky tonight and you will see the Perseids—pinhead meteors—according to Dr. Oliver J. Lee of the Northwestern University Astronomy Department.

Dr. Lee said the display would continue until Aug. 15. It is caused by passage of the earth through the meteor region. The tiny particles and "shooting stars" burn up because of friction with the earth's atmosphere.

Saturday night between 50 and 100 meteors should be visible every hour, with best visibility between 2 a.m. and 4 a.m.
