'Small Timers' of Harness World Get Their Chance Today.

By TOM OCHILTREE

Lacking the glamour of their Grand Circuit kinfolk but possessing the same kind of gameness, the "small timers" of the harness world were to get their opportunity here this afternoon to stretch out on a track that is something besides turns and sandy ruts.

In scores of county fairs, over half-mile tracks only a few stages removed from pastures, these plucky trotting and pacing horses have faithfully done their two laps, which is a partial explanation, at least, for their humble time marks.

But at the Indiana State Fair Grounds today they will be running on a mile track of table-top evenness, and since they will be required to make only one circuit in each heat their elapsed time records should be approximately four seconds faster than usual.

Off to Early Start

The purse in each of the three events is $400, and the 2:23 pace, which opens the program, is scheduled to begin at 1:30 p.m. with the call a half-hour earlier.

Among the side-wheelers entered in this pace that have turned in victories within the last two or three weeks and are rated strong contenders here are Mary Lee, Miss Princess Laurel, Pat W. and Linda Lou. Pat W. has won two races within the last two weeks. If you have some feeling about the Old South and plantations, Linda Lou should be the one you root in—it's such a swell name. In all there are seven entries.

Three standouts in the 2:21 trot are Betty Pewsey, C. J. Grattan and Exeter. This will be a six-horse field and the others, Arie McElwain, Barbara Brewer and Fayre Lew, may like the large track and come romping home.

Eight in 2:16 Pace

An eight-horse field, largest of the day, has entered the 2:16 pace and included in the list of previous winners are Betty Grattan, Dr. B. Grattan, Josedale Tiger, Madeline Brook and Potempkin, making this an exceptionally well balanced field.

In harness racing there seems to be such a thing as being too successful. Take the case of Greyhound, holder of the world's mile trotting record at 1:55 1/4. Harness horses are raced in classes determined by the amount of money they have earned.

Since Greyhound has earned so much, he now is almost in a class by himself, and there will be no event during the Fair program which he will be eligible to enter, although he is to be quartered at the track. From the present outlook, he will not run in exhibition either, since the State Fair Board has not appropriated money for that purpose.

All Stalls Engaged

Harrie Jones, directing the Fair's racing program, announced that all of the 302 stalls in the several barns have been engaged, and more than 150 already are occupied.

Many of the top flight horses are to arrive over the week-end from Syracuse, N. Y.; Columbus, O.; Des Moines, Iowa, and Goshen, Ind., where meets were held this past week. They will go in the Grand Circuit events here Monday through Friday. The New York State Fair's rich events in Syracuse attracted some of the classics of the lot.

Since it wouldn't be an Indiana Fair racing program without Sep-Palm, Indianapolis' trainer and driver, it is a pleasure to report that he already has sent 10 horses here from Syracuse and the remainder are on the way.

Palm is the man credited with making a champion out of Greyhound, and in his stable this time is Sister Mary, entered in the L. S. Ayres $1500 trot Thursday against Peter Astra, winner of this year's Hambletonian.

Sister Mary is a black mare with a stout heart who did a mile at Syracuse in the fine time of 2:09 1/2. Also in the string is High Volo, champion 2-year-old colt entered in the $1800 trot of the Indiana Trotting and Pacing Horse Association Labor Day.

H. C. Fitzpatrick, Springfield, Ill., brought in nine horses, including this year's champion pacer, Am. Vonian, 2:04 1/2, a highly-rated candidate for the $12,000 Fox Stake Wednesday.

Cedar Rapids Wins Three-I Loop Flag

If Hans Kampfer, the German mat star, wins the world's heavyweight championship wrestling belt—and he thinks he will—at Sports Arena next Tuesday night, the prize will not leave this country.

Kampfer is coming the days when he will be a full-fledged American citizen. He already has his first naturalization papers and will be eligible in eight weeks for the final papers. He speaks with enthusiasm about becoming an adopted son of Uncle Sam. His mother, two sisters and two brothers live in Dresden, Germany, and his father was killed in the World War.

Kampfer is in training here for his title match with Bruno Nogurski, recognized as champion by the National Wrestling Association. The German's last trip home was in 1938 when he won the European Greco-Roman style heavyweight title.

Hearts Are Heavy as Cup Players Go Into Action

By HENRY MILEMORE
United Press Staff Correspondent

HAVERFORD, Pa., Sept. 2 (U. P.)—A group of Australian athletes, who soon may be summoned to a much sterner task, today will challenge the United States for possession of the most prized trophy in tennis, the Davis Cup.

Jack Bromwich and Adrian Quist, both of whom would fly home by Clipper to join their regiments in case of emergency of war, by Great Britain's plan. Bobby Riggs and Frankie Parker, respectively in the two opening singles matches on the courts of the Merion Cricket Club.

Today's ominous world situation is reminiscent of another year when another Australian team fought an American side for the cup. In 1914 Norman Brookes and Tony Wilding went directly from New York, after winning the Cup, to Flanders, where Wilding was killed in an attack on a German stronghold.

It was Brookes, now Sir Norman, who drew the names of the players out of the Davis Cup itself yesterday to determine the alignment of today's play. Not by word or gesture did he or his fellow Australians indicate the names under which they were laboring.

The chances are that today's play will result in a stand-off, with Bromwich bowing to Riggs and Quist beating Parker.

A week ago Bromwich, generally recognized as the foremost amateur player in the world, would have been favored over the Chicagoan, but in practice Bromwich showed signs of staleness. His two-handed backhand and forehand shots lacked sting, and his service was weak and inept. Riggs on the other hand, was tremendous in practice.

Local Nines Open Series

The annual City Series conducted by the Indianapolis Amateur Baseball Association and involving teams from the Indiana Recreation Association state title tomorrow night at Softball Stadium. The game is scheduled for 8 o'clock.

A former Butler University batter, composed of Pitcher Jim Blackaby and Catcher Dick Wilson, were to be at the points for the Hi-Brus, while Carl Rearick and Dick Heydon were to form the Maloney battery.

During the season in both league and non-league contests, the Hi-Brus have won 34 and lost six, while Mallory, which limited itself to Manufacturers League competition, has a record of 13 victories and two setbacks.

Polk's Milk and Hosiery Union were to meet this afternoon in a playoff for second place in the Industrial League at Riverside 1, and the winner was to oppose General Exterminators in a tournament contest immediately after conclusion of the playoff.

Two other series games also were scheduled for today, Baird's Service was to meet United Builders at Garfield 3 and Bowers' was to oppose Ajax Beer at Brookside 1. Winners will play winners and losers will play losers tomorrow.

CITY READY FOR GALA HOLIDAY ON LABOR DAY

C. I. O. Parade, A. F. of L. Rally at Fair Grounds Among Features.

By NOBLE REED

THE fate of the Republican party in Indiana's 1940 campaign will hinge upon the outcome of the factional revolt against the machine leadership that broke into the open this week.

Meanwhile church groups, family reunions and just ordinary picnics will crowd city parks for holiday outings.

Highlights of the organized celebration will be a C. I. O. parade and a mass meeting of the Central Labor Union at the Fair Grounds.

Expected to Fill Grandstand

The 9000-capacity grandstand is expected to be filled with A. F. of L. union members who will gather there at 10 a.m. for an hour and three-quarters program of speeches.

The C. I. O. parade will form at N. Meridian and St. Clair Sts. It will proceed south on Meridian to the Madison Ave. fork, south on Madison to Southern Ave., west on Southern to East St. and south on East to Columbia Park.

The celebration there will be climaxed by an amplification of John L. Lewis' radio speech.

Anticipating the tremendous strain on traffic arteries, State, County and City police will be on full shift duty with all leaves canceled.

Capt. Walter Eckert of the Indiana State Police said that all troopers will be assigned to main roads and that 60 men will be assigned to the Fair. Special precautions will be taken to patrol the main highways leading to and from the City, he said.

Deputies to Patrol Roads

Sheriff Feeney said all available deputies, including those assigned to office duty in the Court House, will be in uniform to patrol the roads.

Capt. Lewis Johnson, Indianapolis Traffic Department head, urged all motorists to use the utmost precaution during the holiday.

Police not only will be stationed on all thoroughfares but will be assigned to the 16 danger intersections in the City, Capt. Johnson said.

Flags will be flown from downtown buildings and streets as is done on each national holiday, and all downtown stores, office buildings, banks and governmental units will be closed.

No Mail Deliveries

The Post Office will be closed, no deliveries will be made and mail will be picked up from boxes for outgoing trains, Postmaster Adolf Seidensticker said.

The C. I. O. mass meeting will end at 11:45 a.m. Featured speaker on the program will be Henry Her, director of organization of the American Federation of Government Employees International Union.

Others will be Lieut. Gov. Henry F. Schricker and Leon Worthall, educational director of the International Barbers Union.

Mr. Her replaces William Green, A. F. of L. president who could not appear because of a previous engagement, Charley Lutz, C. I. O. president.

Mullen to Broadcast

In addition to the C. I. O. program at the State Fair, Carl Mullen, Indiana Federation of Labor president, will broadcast a speech to Federation members in the state.

It is expected that approximately 3000 cars, 80 floats, 100 motorcycles, 50 bicycles and 100 horses will take part in the parade.

The marchers will be divided into five divisions, each led by its own drum and bugle corps.

Among events scheduled for City parks are the Harry Family reunion at Garfield Park; the South Cavalry Church at Douglas Park; the South Side Church of God at Christian Park; the Church of Living God at Douglas Park; the Kitte reunion at Ellenberger; the Bethel Baptist Church at Christian Park; a Grace Jay reunion at Christian Park; the Church of God South Side at Riverside Park; the Old Hickory Furniture Co. at Garfield Park; the Nazarine First Church at Christian Park, and the Wheeler Rescue Mission at Washington Park.
