

LYMAN BRYSON
AND MRS. ROHDE
TO SPEAK HERE

Both Scheduled to Address
State Convention of Teachers Oct. 27.

Hoosier educators, who will assemble here for the annual Indiana State Teachers' Association convention, will have their choice of two famous speakers at the afternoon sessions on Oct. 27.

Dr. Lyman Bryson of Columbia University will lead an open forum discussion at 2 p.m. in Cadle Tabernacle. At the same hour, Mrs. Ruth Bryan Owen Rohde, former minister to Denmark, will speak on "This Democracy of Ours" at the Murat Theater.

Dr. Bryson will speak on "Education for the Preservation of Democracy." Following his address, eight-minute papers will be read by Donald Simon, Bloomington High School principal; President W. C. Dennis of Earlham College; Virginia Kinnard, Ft. Wayne Central High School, and H. B. Allman, Muncie.

Questions and discussion are to follow.

Dr. Bryson is professor of education at Columbia Teachers College, a former International Red Cross official and a speaker of international reputation. In the field of radio, he serves as chairman of the CBS Adult Education Board and is familiar to listeners as discussion leader at the preliminary meetings of America's Town Meeting of the Air.

The daughter of William Jennings Bryan, Mrs. Rohde was the first woman to represent the "Old South" in Congress. During the World War she served as a nurse with Allenby's Egypt-Palestine campaign. She represented the United States at the Inter-Parliamentary Union in London, and was minister plenipotentiary and envoy extraordinary to Denmark.

CITY APPROVES BID ON GARBAGE GREASE

The Works Board today accepted the bid of H. J. Baker & Brothers of New York City for purchase of the City garbage plant's entire production of garbage grease. The bid, $4.52 per 100 pounds, is for the last quarter of this year.

The Baker firm acted as broker for Emery Industries, Inc., Cincinnati soap manufacturers. Board members estimated that about 180 tons of grease would be produced by Dec. 31 and would sell for about a total of $14,680.

CELAREK GAINING,
PARENTS BELIEVE

Parents of Frank Celarek, 23-year-old Butler University football player, feel assured of his "complete recovery," they advised university officials here today.

Mr. Celarek, whose skull was fractured in an automobile accident near Bluffton Saturday, is in a Bluffton hospital. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Celarek of Ft. Wayne, wrote university officials thanking them for assistance.

HONORED AT WABASH
A. Glenn Morrow, Indianapolis, has been named a freshman honor scholar at Wabash College. Honor scholars are chosen on the basis of examinations given in June and September of each year. Openings from Indianapolis who hold honor scholarships are Ward H. Hackleman and Alexander M. McVie Jr., both juniors.

Bates and Boys Get Together

Sanford Bates, executive director of Boys Clubs of America, tells two Indianapolis lads at the English Avenue Boys Club what other such organizations throughout the country offer to their members. The lads are Lawrence Love, 5 (left), and Harold Miles, 6, both of 1240 English Ave. Mr. Bates addressed 300 volunteer Community Fund workers at the Athenaeum last night.

FT. HARRISON UNIT

CORRECTION

In some copies of the Indianapolis Times, Thursday, October 5, our advertisement stated—"Real Silk DELUXE Chiffon Hose, 59c." We're sorry, but this price was in error, and should have read "Real Silk Chiffon Hose, 68c."

In later editions of The Times, this ad was corrected to read, "Real Silk Chiffon or Service Weight Hose, 59c." Amazing as it may seem, this statement was also in error, and should have read, "Real Silk Sheer Chiffon Hose, 59c." No service weight being included.

We are sorry that such conflicting statements should ever be made. However, both the "Real Silk DELUXE hose at 69c" and the "Real Silk Sheer Chiffons at 59c" are remarkable Anniversary Sale Values . . . and are worthy of your continued patronage during the Sale.

Allison Plant Is 'Adequate'

Further expansion of the Allison Engineering Co. would not be necessary in event of the repeal of the arms embargo, O. T. Kreusser, Allison president, said today.

The facilities of the enlarged factory would be adequate to fill present U. S. War Department orders and possibly orders from warring countries. The War Department, which now restricts the Allison motor to military purposes in this country, has allocated nearly 18 million dollars in orders for 800 12-cylinder motors and motor parts. If the arms ban is lifted, Mr. Kreusser said, the War Department "might permit us to make the motors available to specific allied powers."

The new factory unit, constructed at a cost of nearly five million dollars, is expected to be ready to go into quantity production of its high-speed motors some time in November. The new unit is designed to turn out 12 finished motors a day, on a 24-hour basis.
