

Continental Gain Upper Hand in Grid Tilt With Irish

Billy Howard (left) makes a 22-yard punt return for Washington deep in his own territory while a male blocks out a pair of Irish tacklers. The play occurred just before the end of the first half.

On a sweeping end play Tom Fox, Irish left halfback, gets away for a nice gain at midfield. Fox and Ott Hurdle, fullback, did the major share of the ball-carrying for Cathedral, and during the first half the Irish played on even terms with the rugged Continentals.

FOOTBALL HEAD MAN NEXT WEEK
PURDUE AND GOPHERS TOP MENU

FOOTBALL WILL have the sports stage to itself next week-end and grid interest naturally will be whipped up to a greater degree than during the conflict with the World Series. . . . It takes a couple of rounds of big games to get the grid fans warmed up properly to something resembling midseason form.

Take a look at the Hoosier picture for Oct. 14 and write your own ticket. . . . Purdue at Minnesota, probably one of the leading attractions of the Big Ten season. . . . Indiana will be at Wisconsin for its third start on the new season and its second Western Conference encounter.

Notre Dame will be in another intersectional struggle, with a Southwest for this time, Southern Methodist University of Texas, at South Bend. . . . Butler's Bulldogs step into the major bracket by playing host to George Washington University of Washington, D. C. . . . A year ago the Bulldogs invaded Washington and were thumped, 26-0.

In 1938 Minnesota defeated the Bollermakers, 7 to 0, in a rousing melee and the Badgers downed Indiana in a close one, 6 to 0. . . . The Methodists of Dallas are new on the Irish schedule.

Play Off a Scoreless 1928 Tie

IN THE Hoosier State college field next week's games and last fall's scores follow:

Wabash (0) at Earlham (0). . . Who'll be the first to score? DePauw (41) at Evansville (0). . . It was a wait for the Tigers. Valparaiso (34) at Indiana State (20). . . A touchdown parade, no less.

Franklin at Rose Poly. . . They did not clash a year ago. Hanover at Manchester. . . No tilt between them in 1938. St. Joseph (2) at Louisville (0). . . By the margin of a safety. Central Normal (7) at Defiance (7). . . Maybe they'll settle it.

OTHER ACTION in the Big Ten a week hence calls for Harvard at Chicago, Iowa at Michigan, Northwestern at Ohio State, Illinois at Southern California. . . Nice scenic trip for the Illini and against a mighty foe.

While the Maroons hardly rate as a match for Harvard, the appearance of the Crimson in the Middle West is expected to create unusual interest and maybe Chicago will find a way to give the Ivy League eleven all it can handle.

THIS COLUMN fumbled a last week's score in Thursday's issue while listing this week's opponents in leading games together with last week's records of said opponents. . . . Hampden-Sydney, which plays Dartmouth's Big Green today, was credited with a 26-to-0 victory over the University of Maryland.

As a matter of record, the Maryland Terrapins got the 26 points, not the Virginia college, which was on the shutout end in that game.

Cooney to Become Big League Coach

JOHNNY COONEY, former star flycatcher and hitter with the Indianapolis club, will take Barney Mike Kelly's place on the Boston Red Sox staff, now that Mike has signed with the Pirates.

Paul Derringer's caustic remark: "Big league outfielders should catch fly balls." Not mentioning the names of Teammates Ival Goodman and Willie Berger, of course.

Indianapolis Indians have renewed their working agreement with the Cincinnati Reds for 1940. . . . The Redlegs also are pledged to send surplus talent to the Birmingham Barons of the Southern Association. . . . They bought controlling interest there.

COOKIE LAVAGETTO of the Dodgers wound up the season with an unofficial batting mark of 2998 which would go into the record as 300. . . . That's just making it.

The 1939 big league batting champions are young men with plenty of future to add to their laurels. . . . Joe DiMaggio is 24 and Johnny Mize 26. . . . In runs-batted-in young Frank McCormick of the Reds was best in the National League with 127, but he was topped by the Red Sox's young Ted Williams with 141.

Individual home run production was off. . . . Jimmy Fox led both leagues this year with 35. . . . The double play kings were the lowly Boston Bees with 181. . . . George Case, Washington speedster, with 51 stolen bases, was "off by himself."

Ripple and Green Win

Washington, Rockets, Tech Keep Slates Clean.

By TOM OCHILTREE

With the colors of Cathedral High School humbled for the first time this season, the football teams of Washington, Tech and Broad Ripple remained undefeated today because in the pinches they were able to explode the most powerful running attacks.

Victory didn't come particularly easy for any of the three yesterday. The two other undefeated city teams, Shortridge and Park, were to get their tests this afternoon when the former played at Culver and the latter at Howe Military Academy. Scores of yesterday's games involving Indianapolis and Marion County high schools follow:

Washington, 13; Cathedral, 0. Tech, 8; Muncie, 7. Broad Ripple, 14; Sheridan, 0. Manual, 21; Warren Central, 0. Logansport, 20; Indiana State School for the Deaf, 7. Plainfield, 0; Ben Davis, 0 (tie). New Castle, 14; Southport, 0. The Washington-Cathedral engagement was the major game on this list, because it brought together two strong city rivals who heretofore had not been defeated. Both teams were worthy of the attention attracted to them, and they put on a hard fight that probably would have aroused memories in the late General Custer. The game was played on Washington's field.

Line Play Heavy Factor

In the end, the runs of Boris (Babe) Dimancheff, the Russian jackrabbit, and the superiority of the Continental line were the factors which gave Washington the triumph.

Throughout the first half the two teams battled on even terms with the Continentals leading by a score of 13-0. Dimancheff's wide sweeps with hard-driving line plunges. But Dimancheff is an extraordinary ball carrier. It is even noticeable when the Washington team is warming up. The game was a must know and dread that time in the game where he will get a little opening and be off to the goal line like a frightened deer.

Jaynes Recovers Fumble

To start the second half Coach Joe Harmon sent in the Irish second team, which fumbled on its own 34-yard line and the ball was recovered by Capt. Kenneth Jaynes, Washington right guard. Dimancheff and Bob Millsapugh then punched up to the Irish 27 for a first down, but the Irish failed to convert.

In the first attempt for the extra point, both teams were offside, and the Continentals were given another try. This time the ball was poorly centered, and the Washington backs juggled it around between themselves, unable to buck across (Continued on Page 7)

Lou Thomas Easy Winner

Local Heavy Stops Texan in Fifth Round.

A bit rusty after a long lay-off, Lou Thomas, Indianapolis heavyweight, knocked out Battling Washington, Dallas, Tex., in the fifth round of the main event to top a card of slambang boxing at the Armory last night.

Down for the nine count in each round, Washington's rally in the fourth was discounted when a series of short right hooks to the jaw felled him for the fatal ten in the fifth.

Continued improvement on Thomas' part promises to put Indianapolis back on the map in the boxing game.

Mickey Brown, Cincinnati, substituting for his fellow townsman Pete Huber, jabbed out a decision over Jules Guidry, New Orleans featherweight, in the eight-round semi-final bout.

In another preliminary Noble Bowers and Al Sheridan, local heavyweights, fought to a draw. Bowers scored a knockdown in the fourth and final round.

Other four-round preliminary results were:

Tiger Kid Carsonia won over Dave Williams, Indianapolis middleweight.

Marshall Allison, Shelbyville lightweight, knocked out Jack Kelly, Jenkins, Ky., in the second round.

Young Tony Canzoneri, Indianapolis featherweight, decisively defeated Frankie Fay, Coatesville.

Among drivers expected to make their bids tomorrow are Vern Tresser, now fourth in the points list, and Bobby May of Dayton, O. The program is to begin at 2:30 p. m. with the 25-lap feature contest scheduled for about 4:30. Time trials will begin at 11 a. m.

A Matter of Gomez Going Against Reds in Series or Going Crazy

By HENRY M'LEMORE

CINCINNATI, Oct. 7.—Goofy Gomez goes today. It was a matter of Gomez going against the Reds or going crazy. Less than a week out of the hospital, and bound with enough bandages to make a full dress suit for a mummy, Gomez has been beside himself (and beside everybody else who had any chance in influencing Manager Joe McCarthy) for a chance to pitch against the National League champions.

When Gomez was suffering from torn stomach muscles last week only one person, other than himself, thought he would manage to work against the Reds. That was Bill Dickey, battery mate.

"McCarthy doesn't figure to use Gomez this series," Dickey told me a week ago, "then he'd better buy a lot of chains and a cage and put Lefty in it. Because he is rarin' to go, ailment or no ailment."

Yankees to Stand Pat For Another Campaign

Babe Dahlgren and Other Infield Mates Convince Chiefs No Replacements Are Needed.

By JOE WILLIAMS

CINCINNATI, Oct. 7.—So far as the master minds of the Yankees are concerned, the current World Series is over. All that remains is the formality of applying the finishing touches to the staggering National League champions here on their home grounds.

Placidly confident, there is no harm in the Reds and that the annual business of humiliating the older league will be briskly completed, the head men of the Yankees are looking forward to the 1940 season. We don't know whether it is good news or bad for the rest of baseball, but the Yankees are going to stand pat.

Considering that many expert observers are inclined to the belief this is one of the greatest teams ever put together, the decision to stand pat on the present lineup will not come as a head-snapping surprise. Just the same, there have been reports that certain changes were being considered.

Greenberg Yarn Denied

There was, for instance, the possibility of a trade with the Detroit Tigers which would bring Hank Greenberg, the slugging first baseman, to Yankee Stadium. Mr. Barrow tells us this possibility no longer exists; in fact, it never did exist. And Mr. Barrow ought to know what he is talking about. He is the Yankee president.

"We don't plan to make any changes at all," said Mr. Barrow. "The chances are we will take the field next spring with the same club you are looking at in this series. That means Babe Dahlgren will be on first base. We aren't interested in dealing for Greenberg and never have been. Where that report started is a mystery to us."

When Dahlgren replaced the ailing Lou Gehrig in the lineup this season it was looked upon as a temporary arrangement. Dahlgren had been with the club in a reserve capacity. Skilled at third and first, his value was that of an emergency (Continued on Page 7)
