

P-T. A. TO MAP PLANS FOR PARK IMPROVEMENTS

Meeting Called for Next Month to Discuss a Course of Action.

Representatives of Indianapolis' 88 Parent-Teacher Association units are to meet at the Potter Fresh Air School late next month to map a program for improvement of playground supervision and instruction throughout the city.

Announcement of plans for the general meeting was made yesterday by Mrs. Clarence Alig, chairman of the recently formed P-T. A. recreation committee. Detailed procedure will be mapped out in a meeting with the Mayor's Advisory Committee on recreation within the next few days and also in another P-T. A. recreation committee meeting next week, Mrs. Alig said.

One result of these meetings is expected to be a statement of policy as regards co-operation with the Mayor's Committee and the Park Board.

CONNERSVILLE BANK TO PAY DIVIDENDS

CONNERSVILLE, Ind., Oct. 12.—John P. Russell, receiver for the First National Bank here, announced that on Monday he will begin distribution of dividend checks to creditors calling for 5.1 per cent.

This will bring payments to date to 85.1 per cent, he said. The amount to be distributed this time is $50,302.07. The receivership will be terminated and the office closed about Nov. 10.

McCammon, 1001 E. 58th St., a committee chairman. Members will preview the exhibit following a dinner at Ayres tearoom Saturday.

Gambling Is Admitted In River 'No Man's Land'

Gambling and liquor laws are being violated at taverns in the Dade Park "no man's land," a strip of Kentucky land on the Indiana side of the Ohio River, Kentucky authorities admitted in a report to Indiana officials today.

The area has been the subject of controversy between the states for many years because of the alleged lack of police supervision.

Several months ago the Indiana Commission on Interstate Co-operation began negotiations with Kentucky to correct the conditions in "no man's land" on complaint of Evansville officials that the area was a "hot bed" of crime.

An Indiana committee called upon Kentucky officials in Louisville recently, offering alternate plans. One was for Kentucky to grant Indiana authorities the right to police the area and the alternative was that Kentucky see that it is policed.

Agreed to Co-operate

The Kentucky committee agreed to co-operate and last week sent investigators into the area, according to William Treadway, secretary of the Indiana Commission.

"They have sent us a report that at least four taverns are violating Kentucky liquor laws and that gambling is going on down there," he said.

Mr. Treadway said Kentucky officials promised to contact Henderson County officials and urge police supervision until "more suitable arrangements are made."

Indiana to Take Lead

"Indiana probably will take the initiative in setting up some legislation at the next Legislature to pave the way for Indiana to take over the land either by outright purchase or by some other procedure," he said.

Kentucky officials said they, in turn, would seek legislative action to negotiate for correction of the conditions.

One high Kentucky official was quoted as saying that "no Kentucky land should be on the Indiana side of the river."

The strip of land, containing several hundred acres near Evansville, became part of Kentucky as result of the Ohio River's changing its course more than 100 years ago.

WARNS OF BANK CHAOS IN WAR

Butler Dean Addresses State Association at French Lick.

Times Special

FRENCH LICK SPRINGS, Ind., Oct. 12.—A monetary chaos worse than that of the World War will result if the European war lasts a great length of time, Dr. M. O. Ross, dean of the Butler University College of Business Administration, said here today.

He spoke at a luncheon meeting of the Indiana Bankers Association.

"Business and finance are not only solidly against our participation in this war," Dr. Ross said, "they realize that if the United States engaged in war our already weakened Federal financial structure would in all probability be pressed to the very brink of bankruptcy."

These leaders know that higher taxes would continue for years afterward according to Dr. Ross.

"If we enter the war, despite our efforts to stay neutral, it will not be possible to blame the international bankers, the munitions manufacturers and profiteers of big business," he added. "It is the opinion of businessmen that instead of prosperity resulting, nothing could be more devastating to our economic and social institutions."

ACKER TAKES NYA SUPERVISORY POST

Philip E. Acker has been appointed National Youth Administration supervisor in charge of activities of out-of-school young people in the Indianapolis district. It was announced today by Robert S. Richey, State Administrator.

Mr. Acker resigned recently to resume activity in educational fields. Mr. Richey said. Also appointed was Luis N. French as special field representative at Terre Haute. He succeeds Paul E. Hendry who resigned to accept a faculty position at the Indiana State Teachers College.

Mr. Acker is a graduate of the University of Illinois and for the last two years has been physical education instructor at the Warren Central High School. He will supervise approximately 1800 boys and girls in 19 counties.
