

9 HOSPITALS IN LOCAL AREA ON APPROVED LIST

Seven in Indianapolis Among Those O. K'd by Surgeons' Group.

Seven hospitals in Indianapolis, one in Beech Grove, and one at Ft. Harrison were announced today as being on the approved list of the American College of Surgeons, in convention in Philadelphia.

Thirty-six other Indiana hospitals were listed as approved and two others were provisionally approved.

The approved Indianapolis hospitals were City, Methodist, St. Vincent's, Riley, Coleman, Long and U. S. Veterans. St. Francis in Beech Grove and the Post Hospital at Ft. Harrison were approved.

Requirements Rigid

The nine hospitals, which have passed the most rigid existing tests to be accepted, have a total of 2444 beds. Requirements for approval, as announced by the College of Surgeons, are:

1. Modern physical plant, assuring the patient safety, comfort, and efficient care.
2. Clearly defined organization, duties, responsibilities, and relations.
3. Carefully selected governing board with complete and final authority in the management of the institution.
4. Competent, well trained superintendent responsible to the governing board for carrying out all the policies of the hospital.
5. Adequate and efficient personnel, properly organized and completely equipped.
6. Organized medical staff of ethical, competent physicians and surgeons.

Adequate Diagnosis Needed

7. Adequate diagnostic and therapeutic facilities under competent medical supervision.
8. Accurate and complete medical records, readily accessible, for research and follow-up.
9. Regular group conferences of the administrative staff and of the medical staff for reviewing activities and results so as to maintain a high plane of scientific efficiency.
10. A humanitarian spirit—the primary consideration being the best care of the patient.

Approved hospitals are inspected each year to see that they are up to standard before being included on the next year's list.

Also listed as approved by the College of Surgeons were the cancer clinics at City Hospital and the Indiana University Hospitals.

Two Approved in 1921

Methodist Hospital with 579 beds, and St. Vincent's Hospital, with 238 beds, were approved in 1921 and have been on the list continuously since then.

City Hospital, with a capacity of 686 beds, has been approved each year at least since 1920 and perhaps earlier. The records were not immediately available.

The U. S. Veterans Hospital has been on the list since it opened in 1932. It has a present capacity of 172, but will open its new wing in about 10 days which has an additional 174 beds for a total of 346.

Indiana University Hospitals were approved as follows: Riley, with 270 beds, in 1924; Long, with 110 beds, in 1917; and Coleman, with 100 beds, in 1927.

The Ft. Harrison Hospital, with 240 beds, was first approved in 1929. Records for St. Francis were not immediately available. It has 170 beds.

Snoods Were New 85 Years Ago Too

One wore a snood...

One fine day about 85 years ago, James Martin, who lived and took pictures at No. 1 Bleury St., Montreal, Canada, had two charming young clients.

Each had her picture taken. The scene shifts to 85 years later one fine day in Indianapolis. Mrs. C. R. Gutermuth, 3025 N. Meridian St., saw a picture of a new-fashioned snood in a department store newspaper advertisement, and immediately had an attack of where-have-I-seen-that-before.

Mrs. Gutermuth thought she knew, and, sure enough, she found the two pictures, taken, it turned out, of her great-aunts. The one wore a snood and the other wore costume jewelry, two fashion caprices that have the present-day girls go-ga.

Mrs. Gutermuth wouldn't take anything for memories of these great-aunts who were so ahead of the times, as fashions go, 85 years ago. Or maybe they were fashions then?

And one costume jewelry.

PLAN TO ASK FOR NEW SCHOOL BUS

Lowell Parents Will Report Overcrowded Condition To State Board.

Overcrowded condition of the three Lowell School buses will be brought to the attention of the State Tax Board "as soon as possible," Edward J. Huber, chairman of a special parents committee, said today.

Mr. Huber said he had talked privately with one member of the State Board, and that he had been told if the Board found the buses to be overcrowded, money would be appropriated to buy a fourth bus.

Describe Conditions
"That would solve the whole problem," Mr. Huber said. "A fourth bus would do away with the overcrowding."

Parents of Lowell School children met last Friday at the school building to protest to Warren Township trustees of the "dangerous, overcrowded conditions" of the three buses and described instances of the buses, built to seat 35, carrying as many as 68 children.

Seeks Action Soon
The Tax Board is scheduled to start hearings on the Marion County budget, as approved by the Tax Adjustment Board, Nov. 6, but Mr. Huber said he would try to get the bus action before then. A meeting of the committee will be held either tonight or tomorrow night to select a date for the entire group to go before the Board.

LABOR'S VIEWS ARE EVALUATED IN LIGHT OF 1940

Conservatives Given Little Encouragement From Conventions.

By LUDWELL DENNY

WASHINGTON, Oct. 16.—Politicians with their eyes on 1940 are trying to forecast now the labor vote on the basis of the A. F. of L. convention in Cincinnati and the C. I. O. convention in San Francisco.

Republicans naturally are rejoicing over the A. F. of L. and C. I. O. attacks on New Deal agencies. And Democrats are grumbling about "blaming the hands that feed you."

But it does not follow that the organized labor vote will go to the Republic in the 1940 elections. Indeed the best guess is that New Deal candidates will continue to get more union votes than their opponents.

Of course there is no such thing as a solid labor vote—any more than a solid women's vote, or a solid farm vote, or a solid other kind. But there is more of a "labor" vote now, with a total union membership of eight million, than there was when union membership was under four million.

"Delivery" More Difficult
It is increasingly difficult, however, for any labor leader to "deliver" votes to major candidates whose labor record is bad in the eyes of the rank-and-file.

As for the rank-and-file who do the voting, it is interesting that many C. I. O. state and local organizations and national C. I. O. unions have endorsed the New Deal and even a third term for President Roosevelt.

When the question is asked why the C. I. O. convention in San Francisco pointedly refrained from endorsing the New Deal or the third term, it is pointed out that John L. Lewis dictates—and that he considers this good trading strategy.

At the moment there is just one issue on which President Roosevelt needs very much the support of the A. F. of L. and C. I. O.—his Neutrality Bill fight. Both Mr. Lewis and Mr. Green delivered for the President on this.

Agencies Attacked
It is also emphasized that the A. F. of L. and C. I. O. convention attacks were not against the President or the New Deal as such, but against certain administrative agencies such as the National Labor Relations Board, the Social Security Board, and the Labor Department.

In any event, the general trend of C. I. O. and A. F. of L. convention criticism seems to indicate that organized labor wants more rather than less New Dealism—whatever the party label of the administration handing it out. So there is little encouragement from organized labor for the conservative politicians, whether Old Guard Republicans or Garners.

Byrum's Oil, 'The Saddle,' Has Place of Honor in Art Exhibit

Indiana Show Is Opened at L. S. Ayres & Co.; Winners in Annual Contest Announced.

THE EIGHTH ANNUAL Indiana Artists Club exhibit which includes Ruthven H. Byrum's first prize oil, "The Saddle," opened today at the tearoom foyer of L. S. Ayres & Co.

Winners in the annual contest which precedes the exhibit were announced at the dinner-preview Saturday.

Dr. Daniel Sommer Robinson, Butler University president, praised the work of Indiana artists and Hoosier patrons for their support.

Winners of purchase prizes were: Frederick Polley, first prize; Clara M. Hamilton, second, and Fanny Blase, third.

In the water color division, Jane Messick won first prize, Essie Long, second, and Helen Magner, third.

Commercial awards donated by the Hatfield Paint Co., H. Lieber Co. and Lyman Brothers were presented to Edward K. Williams, Marie Goth and Elizabeth G. MacCollum.

Prizes totaled more than $1000, Gordon Mess, club president, announced.

MR. BYRUM'S PAINTING, which he completed last year in Tennessee, was inspired by the Blue Ridge Mountain's famous saddle.

Mr. Byrum, deviating from his former style of "close-up" painting, has captured the elusive warm glint of sunshine in the foreground which is usually found in the majority of Spanish works in the last decade.

The exhibit will be open to the public for two weeks. After the exhibit the purchase prize paintings will be placed in the public schools.

The committee which selected the winning pictures was composed of C. Curry Bohn, Brown County artist; Miss Anna Hasselman, curator of the John Herron Art Museum, and Albert L. Zoller, of Charles Mayer & Co.
