

Will It Be Rose Bowl Or Waikiki?

That Is Choice of Oregon State if It Comes Through Against Trojans.

By HARRY GRAYSON
NEA Service Sports Editor
PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 2.—There is at least one college football squad in the land which does not care to play in the Rose Bowl, Jan. 1.

That is the varsity of Oregon State College, which may have a chance to win the right to represent the west on New Year's Day when it tackles mighty Southern California here Saturday.

The Beavers are unbeaten and untied.

In any other year, Oregon State, which has yet to appear in the Tournament of Roses, would be simply crazy to win the honor, but this season the Farmers have games in Honolulu on Christmas and New Year's Day, and naturally the athletes prefer the trip to Hawaii to one to Pasadena.

Tough Battles Ahead

During the last four seasons, Oregon State has been gradually working its way up among major clubs in the Pacific Coast Conference. At the beginning of the season, some Far Western critics were even so bold as to pick the Aggies for first place, and at this writing it appears as if their selection may have been based on a few facts.

Oregon State reserve strength is greater this fall than at any time in the past.

The toughest end of the schedule is yet to be played, however.

Following the Southern California scrap, Oregon State travels to nearby Eugene the following Saturday to take on Oregon for the state championship. California comes to Corvallis, Nov. 18. U. C. L. A. is to be engaged in Los Angeles, Nov. 25.

Oregon State wants to whip Southern California, but it doesn't want to go to Southern California Jan. 1.

The Beavers prefer to have as their reward the trip to Waikiki. And who wouldn't?

Princeton Grigger May Lose Left Leg

PRINCETON, N. J., Nov. 2 (U. P.).—Don Herring, star tackle of the Princeton football eleven, was threatened today with amputation of his left leg at the knee.

There was only "one chance in a million," according to Donald Grant Herring Sr., that the boy's leg, severely mangled in the Brown game Saturday, would be saved from amputation. Dr. Robert W. Johnson Jr., surgeon from Johns Hopkins, removed almost two quarts of clotted blood, and found that the two main arteries that travel down the leg were shattered. The operation was decided upon when gangrene became imminent but only Herring's weakness from the loss of blood delayed the amputation.

Riley Wins Feature Bout on Fistic Card

Fred Riley of Indianapolis defeated Robert Dixon of Shelbyville by a technical knockout in the first round of last night's feature bout on the amateur boxing card at Sunset Terrace.

Other results: Foster Jones outpointed Bobby Morgan, Robert Simmons downed Bobby Franks and James McQueen scored a second-round technical knockout over Robert Caneby.

This May Be Notre Dame's Line in 1947

C. Y. O. Grid Players Are Miniature 'Fighting Irish'

By TOM OCHILTREE

It's only fair that Carnegie Tech, the Army and Southern California be warned, although even now it may be too late.

For there are some determined 12 and 13-year-olds in this city who may provide a lot of trouble for the footballers of these institutions in 1947 or thereafter. Black eyes with these stout-hearted lads are badges of distinction, and in tabloid form they contain all the competitive spirit of the "Fighting Irish."

Like most other boys of their age group, they still are undecided on whether to become G-Men or aviators, but on one ambition they are all agreed—to make the Notre Dame varsity when they have collected enough years and education.

They play in the 10-team parochial school league, and their version of the game is the McCoy with set plays, blocking assignments strategy and the whole works.

Under C. Y. O. Wing

Incidentally, this league has been in operation for years, but this season it was taken under the wing of the Catholic Youth Organization as part of an athletic co-ordination program.

In a recent issue, Life Magazine contended that the Young America League, organized in Denver in 1927, contains the "youngest organized football players in the world," but the C. Y. O. here is willing to dispute this point, contending that the local boys are just as young and play as well, or better.

These teams meet in Indianapolis public parks, and at the start of the season a nine-game schedule was arranged for each squad. Five games were played here yesterday afternoon with the following results:

Little Flower, 20; St. Philip, 7.

Lourdes, 40; Joan of Arc, 6.

St. Patrick, 41; Holy Cross, 0.

St. Anthony won through a forfeit from Holy Trinity.

St. Catherine, 32; Cathedral grade school, 7.

Best teams in the circuit are the Little Flower squad which has won seven games in as many starts to lead the league, and St. Catherine's, which has won six.

The defending champions, with six straight victories.

The St. Anthony players also are as game as salmon bucking their way up stream, and they are in third place with the only blemish on their record being the 26 to 20 decision which St. Catherine's gained over them recently.

In fact, the St. Anthony forces are expected to provide a stern test for Little Flower when the two meet at Rhodus Park at 9:30 a. m. Saturday. If the league leaders get by this one, the perfect "natural" then will be the meeting between Little Flower and St. Catherine's in Christian Park at 2:30 p. m. Nov. 12. This game will decide the title issue.

Joe Harmon, Cathedral High School coach and a former Notre Dame player, is to handle the big game which is expected to attract a record crowd of approximately 4000 people, a rather astonishing figure.

There are plenty of stars in this half-portion football. The entire St. Catherine backfield, composed of James Froelick, Tom Griffin, Joe Kavanaugh and Ray Hurrie, a younger brother of Ott, the Cathedral High School star, is exceptionally proficient.

Three Years, One Defeat

This team has only lost one game in three years, and it has a variety of offense that some colleges might envy. In fact, Father James McMahon, who coaches the boys, develops special plays for particular games, and his team is the only one in the league to try place kicks—quite a trick for boys that weigh only 85 or 90 pounds.

Lee Evans, a former professional player at Louisville and Cincinnati, and Father Richard Kavanaugh coach the Little Flower team which has in Quarterback Fred Queisser 78 pounds of chain lightning. Other backs in this aggregation are Tom Riley, Chuck Grothe and Joe Tuohy, a 13-year-old who rolled up a total of 88 points in the first five games of the season. In the line Tom Jordan, Don Rasio, John Sinclair, Dick Lawrence, John McAllen, Robert Kirby and Fran Grothe are a bit of all right.

Jim Kearney, the Cathedral grade school fullback, and Ralph Mattingly and Robert Howell, fullback and end, respectively at Lourdes, also are rated as stars.

While all the teams play a slashing, hard-blocking game, the boys are so small that there never are serious injuries. Only a few rule modifications have been made for them. The quarters are eight minutes long, and unlimited substitution is allowed to lessen the chance of injury.

Since some of the boys don't wear cleats, the ball is not automatically downed if a runner slips and his knee touches the ground. Every team uses a variation of the Notre Dame system.

It's hard to understand how these boys can grip a football well enough to pass, but there are no studies in still life during the games. You should see them chunk those strikes.

Wager Board Goes on a Bat

SAN MATEO, Cal., Nov. 2 (U. P.).—The smart boys called in alienists today to examine the mechanical brain that is the tote board at Bay Meadows track. "Iron Mike" went on a bat yesterday and hoisted the odds on St.roud, the favorite in the first race, so that the colt paid $20.40 instead of a correct 4-1.

A short-circuit in the mechanical monster ran out $1890 worth of tickets on a nag named Green Tea, pegged a Johnny-come-lately at the fancy price of 30 to 1.

As the wheels revolved and the tote began to act as if it had ants in various and sundry places, the bettors sensed a coup. Green Tea's price dropped to 4-5, and the jam at the $2 window was terrific. Every one wanted to ride with the "smart money."

Green Tea, to spoil an Alger tale, wasn't even near at the finish, but the tremendous betting that followed the electrical didoes touched the skyrocket to the price of every other horse in the race. The company that built the tote board was stuck for the $1890 and it paid.

Only two other mistakes on the tote boards have been reported on the coast. At Santa Anita last winter a $2 machine went on a spree and oversold $600, but in the big pools it didn't alter the odds.

At Hollywood Park last summer, an ineptie spilled his beer in the ticket puncher and shorted an entire battery.

end, respectively at Lourdes, also are rated as stars.

Cantatrice II Race Winner

Cheerful Star Runs Second In Cesarewitch Stakes.

NEWMARKET, England, Nov. 2 (U. P.).—Sir Alfred Butt's filly Cantatrice II, won the 100th running of the historic Cesarewitch Stakes today with F. J. Haslam's Cheerful Star second and James V. Rank's Black Speck third.

Cantatrice II won by four lengths with Cheerful Star leading Black Speck by one length. Thirty-five entries went to the post.

Betting was 7 to 2 against Cantatrice II, the favorite, and 20 to 1 each against Cheerful Star and Black Speck.

The time for the two miles and 24 yards was 3:32.1-5. It was a "war time" race on the summer track, which is shorter than the proper distance of two miles two furlongs.

James Reardon's Fulano, which was second favorite in the betting at 10 to 1, finished fourth. Valedictory, owned by John Hay Whitney, never showed in the running.

ZESTFUL!!

THAT'S THE WORD FOR

Berghoff BEER

ZESTFUL and satisfying, your first glass of Berghoff calls for another... and it, for another... yet your last glassful is as satisfying and refreshing as the first. That's zest... such as only can be had in a beer that's brewed the costly, slower, Berghoff way. The zestful flavor of Berghoff never varies... always pleases.
