

FEENEY REVISES SAFETY ORDERS FOR CHILDREN

Warns County School Pupils To Obey Officers, Bus Drivers.

Marion County Safety Education rules governing actions of children at school and on buses and bicycles have been revised by Sheriff Al FeENEY and County Safety Director John B. Dora.

The revised rules now being distributed to all county schools warn children to obey traffic officers, not to play in streets, to cross streets at corners only.

They add: Look both ways before crossing, don't run from behind or between parked cars, walk on the left side of roads facing traffic, do not trespass, do not hitch-hike and observe all rules and regulations of the school.

Bus regulations include obeying the driver and patrols, occupying assigned seats, being on time, keeping hands inside the bus, and never to stand, walk or play in the roadway while waiting for the bus.

For Bicycle Riders

Placing special emphasis on bicycle riding, the safety pamphlet lists 12 suggestions to bicycle riders. They are:

1. Obey traffic laws and directions of signs, signals and police officers as drivers of other vehicles are required to do.
2. Use the right lane. Ride with the traffic.
3. Give hand signals as required for drivers of other vehicles.
4. Ride only on the permanent and regular seat of the bicycle.
5. Carry no more persons than the number for which the bicycle was designed.
6. Have bicycle equipped with horn, bell, or other signal device, audible for a distance of 500 feet.
7. Have a white head light on the front of the bicycle, visible for 500 feet.
8. Have red tail lamp or reflector visible for 500 feet to the rear.
9. Do not hold on to any moving vehicle or another bicycle.
10. Do not ride more than two abreast.
11. Never carry anything which will prevent keeping both hands on the handlebars.
12. Watch for pedestrians and don't ride on sidewalks in towns.

"PUBLIC ENEMY No. 1" knows where to strike

Fire seems to know. It singles out for destruction the buildings that are not prepared to meet it. Mutual fire insurance companies help their policyholders to avoid fire by pointing out hazards and indicating the precautions that should be taken to head off fire. Trained fire prevention engineers survey and inspect mutually insured properties periodically to maintain the standard required of mutual risks but their attitude is one of helpfulness and co-operation.

This service benefits the policyholder of a mutual company in many ways for it not only insures the continued use of the property but it makes possible the savings which have been returned to mutual policyholders for years without interruption. The resident agent of "Grain Dealers Mutual" listed below can explain how $17,000,000 have been saved and returned to policyholders since the organization of the company.

ANDERSON TRIAL OPENS MONDAY

Follows Third Guilty Plea In Center Twp. Relief Fraud Cases.

State and defense attorneys will begin choosing a jury in Criminal Court Monday for the trial of Dan Anderson, Indianapolis grocer, on charges of filing false relief grocery claims and obtaining money under false pretenses.

The trial will be presided over by Johnson County Circuit Court Judge Charles B. Staff, who was selected special judge after the defendant asked for a change of judge from Criminal Court Judge Dewey E. Myers. An attempt by the defendant to take the case out of the County failed last week when Judge Staff overruled the request.

Monday's trial will be the next step in the legal battle of Prosecutor David M. Lewis to prosecute the five defendants indicted in the Marion County Grand Jury's Center township relief investigation.

To date, three of the defendants have pleaded guilty to one of the several charges against each of them. The latest was J. Barton Griffin, milk route owner, who pleaded guilty in Criminal Court yesterday to a charge of obtaining money under false pretenses growing out of a relief milk claim. Sentence was deferred to April 15.

The others who have entered guilty pleas and who are to be sentenced later, are Thomas M. Quinn Sr., resigned Center Township trustee and central figure in the Grand Jury's probe, and John Neenan, former order writer at the Trustee's office who was jointly indicted with Griffin.

Frank Bluestein, grocery store owner, the other defendant, has entered a plea of not guilty. His trial is not expected to be set until after completion of the Anderson case.

The Anderson trial is expected to last at least three days. Attorneys believe that at least one day will be required to select a jury.

Y. M. C. A. TO OPEN MEMBERSHIP DRIVE

The Indianapolis Y. M. C. A. will open a drive for new participating members with a dinner at 6 p. m. today in the Central building. Col. Roscoe Turner will address the 250 volunteer workers expected to attend. Fernor S. Cannon, Y. M. C. A. president; Clayton O. Mogg, general chairman of the volunteers, and Parker P. Jordan, Y. M. C. A. general secretary, also will speak.

The Y. M. C. A. Week, as the drive is called, will continue through April and workers will meet seven times. Other meetings will be Thursday, Friday and Monday noons, next Tuesday night, at noon April 4 and at night April 5, which will be the final dinner.

Mr. Cannon said the Y is seeking additional participating members now because of the expanded program inaugurated by Mr. Jordan and because the Y agreed with the Community Fund not to hold a membership campaign next fall.

The Y membership campaign last fall preceded the Community Fund drive and Mr. Cannon said the dropping of the customary fall drive was a "gesture of co-operation" to the fund.

The Rev. Carlton W. Atwater, First Baptist Church pastor, will ask the invocation tonight.

RULES TRUST LAWS COVER LABOR UNITS

WASHINGTON, March 26 (U. P.)—U. S. District Judge Peyton Gordon ruled today that labor organizations do not enjoy any "blanket exemption" from prosecution under the anti-trust laws.

He refused to dismiss an indictment against the Washington local of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters (A. F. of L.) and five of its officials. The indictment was returned as a result of a jurisdictional dispute between the teamsters and another A. F. of L. affiliate, the International Union of Operating Engineers, over control of transit milk cement trucks.

Judge Gordon's decision was an important victory for the Department of Justice in its campaign against A. F. of L. building trades unions for alleged restraint of trade.

The A. F. of L. lawyers contended that the Clayton amendments adopted in 1914 specifically exempted all labor organizations from the anti-trust laws.
