

ECONOMY NOTE IS STRESSED IN BUDGET PLANS

Deery Tabulates Estimates;
Sullivan Seeks to Keep
$1.28 Tax Rate.

The 1941 budget-making season opened officially today with the City budget-makers in an economy mood. City officials met with Mayor Reginald H. Sullivan yesterday in a pre-budget conference. The Mayor reiterated his request that estimates for next year not exceed this year's appropriations.

It was the first time that the Mayor has called together the City executives this year. The estimates of a few departments where increases are requested were reviewed briefly but no action was taken toward revision.

Works for $1.28 Rate

"We are doing everything in our power to keep the 1941 civil city tax rate at $1.28," the Mayor said. "I can't say now what the new rate will be. That depends on too many factors."

While the Mayor did not elaborate on the factors, it was understood that the City budget-makers had two hurdles to face which were not present last year.

The more immediate of these is the sudden decline in the assessed property valuation of Indianapolis from $312,000,000 in 1939 to $307,000,000 in 1940.

The $5,000,000 drop will be reflected in a higher rate if the same amount of money as last year is needed and current municipal services are maintained.

U. S. Tax Factor Weighed

A second factor is defense preparation, with the imminent possibility of higher Federal taxation. While this matter has only recently come into the budget picture, it is being seriously considered as a barrier to any drastic budget increases.

City Controller James E. Deery said his department workers would make a tabulation of departmental estimates within the next week or 10 days so that a tentative total budget figure can be determined.

About the first of July, another conference of officials will be called to make adjustments which will involve the slashing of some estimates. The revised budget will then be submitted to the City Council Aug. 15 for approval.

Democrats Draft State Platform

These Democratic leaders are drafting planks for the Democratic platform which will be submitted to the party's State convention in the Coliseum June 27. They are (seated, left to right) Judge Louis A. Weiland, Indianapolis; William J. Harrington, Hammond; State Chairman Fred F. Bays; Clarence Donovan, Bedford; and Jay Stanley, Richmond. Standing (left to right) are John W. Baumunk, Brazil; John M. McFaddin, Rockville; and Walter L. Clements, South Bend.

Pussy In the Corner (Mailbox) Isn't Fun for the Postman

When somebody puts a cat in an Indianapolis mailbox that box usually gets collected early.

Postmaster Adolph Seidensticker says that a cat is put into one of the corner mailboxes about every three months and that the last occasion was at McLean Pl. and Illinois Sts. He says that the cats are usually put into the boxes by mischievous boys who worry some humane lady, who immediately calls the Post Office and demands that some one come immediately to release the cat from its imprisonment. The request is complied with as soon as possible.

A lot of things are dropped into mailboxes accidentally, Mr. Seidensticker says. When a woman accidentally drops her purse into a box, she usually stands right beside the box waiting for the next collection, he says. Then when the mailman comes, she has to go down to the Inquiry Section of the main Postoffice and identify herself and the purse.

Lots of money, particularly checks that haven't been taken from their envelopes, get dropped into mailboxes accidentally, he said, and one girl sent to a bank by a downtown firm dropped the bankbook and all the money into a box.

A lot of empty purses and pocketbooks get into mailboxes, too, Mr. Seidensticker says. It seems that the pickpockets like to put rifled pocketbooks into the nearest mailbox. When there used to be a wrestling arena near Pennsylvania and St. Clair Sts., the box there was a favorite pickpockets' dumping ground, and the police once caught a couple of "dips" by just waiting at that box.

The carrier at St. Clair and College once found a tiny silver and diamond wristwatch in the box at that corner. He brought it into the office and almost at the same time the girl who had lost it came to claim it. She said she had lost it and the person who had found it had dropped it into the box for safekeeping and then told her it was at the Postoffice.

A week later the same carrier came in with the crystal of the same watch, found in the same mailbox.

AD CLUB TO INSTALL WILLIAM HUTCHINSON

William M. Hutchinson will be installed as president of the Indianapolis Advertising Club tomorrow night. He succeeds Herbert H. Linsmith.

The installation will be held at the Woodstock Country Club at the club's annual outing and dinner. "Dusty" Miller, Ohio newspaperman, will speak.

Other officers to be installed are Boyd Brown, vice president; Harold L. Ross, secretary; W. B. Smith, treasurer, and H. F. Goheen, sergeant-at-arms. New directors are Lyman Hunter, R. Blayne McCurry and Maxwell Droke.

The committee in charge of the party includes Emmett Belzer, Mr. Goheen, Carl Patterson and Walter Shirley.

SLAYING TRIAL DELAYED

CRAWFORDSVILLE, Ind., June 18 (U. P.).—The trial of E. W. Bratton on a manslaughter charge in connection with the slaying of a neighbor last October today was ordered postponed until Nov. 18. His attorneys said he was unable to appear in court due to his health.

COUNCIL TAKES AIRPLANE RIDE AFTER MEETING

Gets First-Hand View of Airport; Police Bill
Loses.

If the City Fathers feel kinder toward the proposed $5000 increase next year in the Airport's budget, it's because the members have acquired a new interest in the City's aeronautical possibilities.

Among other things, they discovered that Indianapolis, from 2000 feet on a moonlit night, is a fair-land, ablaze with light. The members were guests of Col. Roscoe Turner and Airport Superintendent I. J. Dienhart last night on a flight over the city.

For most of them, it was the first time up. Several also admitted they'd had only a vague idea of the City's $3,000,000 airport which may play a significant role in U. S. air expansion.

A 'Cool-Off' Ride

The flight cooled off the Councilmen after a sultry meeting at City Hall, where the temperature and the debate was hot.

Councilman Harmon Campbell's measure to permit police and firemen to run for public office without resigning from the force was rejected by a majority vote.

Mr. Campbell, a Republican, asserting that police and firemen should not be denied "the rights of ordinary citizens." Opposing the measure, Councilman F. B. Ransom, Democrat, said such an ordinance would jeopardize freedom of the ballot. Police candidates "might intimidate" voters, he said.

Action Is Delayed

Action on the Indianapolis Railways, Inc., petition to run south-bound trackless trolley buses on Pennsylvania St. from 22d to 16th St., was postponed.

Tax anticipation loans totaling about $750,000 to finance municipal operations until fall, were approved. Deputy Controller Herschel M. Tebay explained the money was needed to meet payrolls next month. The appropriation of $250,000 from the sale of sewer bonds to finance the City's share of a $750,000 WPA sewer reconstruction program, was approved.

'Though Queen Liked Red, They Wouldn't Let Her Bee

Stubborn Swarm Defies Law
And Order—for a While.

A swarm of bees was captured at the intersection of New York and Delaware Sts. yesterday afternoon by a beverage salesman and a meat cutter. There were no casualties.

Origin and destination unknown, the bees zoomed down upon a traffic signal and covered it. Traffic stopped. Pedestrians stopped. Even police were baffled.

For a few minutes, the bees defied all efforts of law and order. Then William Johnson of 2114 Station St., the beverage salesman, and James P. Hutto of 304 E. New York St., the meat cutter, appeared on the scene.

It was no trick at all for the two men to scrape the bees off the blinking traffic signal into a box with a stick. Mr. Hutto explained his dexterity by saying he was "just a farmer boy from Tipton." Mr. Johnson has 10 bee hives of his own.

Mr. Johnson estimated there were 16,000 bees in the swarm, probably led by a capricious queen who grew fond of the pretty red and green traffic signal.

The bees were turned over to an apiary on N. Alabama St.

James P. Hutto... the Queen was not amused.

3 WILL ADDRESS U. S. JR. C. OF C.

Nine Others From Here to Attend 21st Annual National Meeting.

Three members of the Indianapolis Junior Chamber of Commerce are to speak at the organization's 21st annual convention in Washington tomorrow, Thursday and Friday.

They are Ralph L. Swingle, Indianapolis Water Co. accountant, who will speak on "Public Utility Accounting"; J. Russell Townsend Jr., field assistant here of the Equitable Life Insurance Co. of Iowa, who will discuss "Profitable Recruiting" at the Life Insurance Forum; and Edward J. Green, Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance Co. special agent, speak at the Local Organization Affairs seminar on "What Educational Projects Can Be Sponsored by Junior Chambers?"

Indianapolis officers of the organization are Harry T. Ice, national vice president; Doyle Zaring, a national director; George J. Smith, chairman of the national committee on unemployment.

Other delegates from Indianapolis to the convention will be Harlan B. Livengood, state treasurer; H. Burch Nunley, local executive vice president; Fletcher S. Hubbard, Berkeley W. Duck Jr., local president, and Daniel J. Young and John H. Eiam.

EFFICIENCY TO BE TOOL MEN'S TOPIC

Methods of stepping up the efficiency of tool manufacturing plants will be the keynote of a meeting Saturday of the Indianapolis branch of the American Society of Tool Engineers.

The speaker will be H. W. Riddle of the Warner & Swasey Co., tool manufacturers. The meeting will be held in connection with an all-day outing at the Speedway Golf Club.

The speaker will discuss means to "partially offset the shortage of skilled mechanics which exists at the present time." The Society has announced that it recognizes a need for skilled help and increased industrial efficiency. Its members have offered the use of Mr. Riddle's talk in other factories.

I. T. White of Greenwood, Ind., society industrial relations chairman, is in charge of the program.

GIRL HELPING DOG IS BITTEN SEVERELY

Nine-year-old Betty Jean Walker, 235 E. St. Joseph St., loves dogs.

Last night, when a dog was struck by an automobile near her home, her first thought was to go to the animal's aid.

As she reached out to pick the dog up, she was severely bitten on the left hand. Police sent her to the City Hospital. The dog was taken to the dog pound for observation. Police charged the dog's owner for harboring a vicious dog and failure to have a dog license.

COMMERCIAL BANKING

A ready audience with understanding officers awaits executives of business—whether large or small—who seek consultation in the interest of any responsible business.

Fidelity Trust Company
123 E. MARKET ST.
Member Federal Deposit Insurance Corp.

SAVE...IN OUR 8th ANNUAL JUNE BARGAIN JAMBOREE AYRES DOWNSTAIRS STORE

SALE! 1940 Fashions "Designed for You" FUR COATS

During the "Off" season when Fur Coat manufacturers find idle time in their shops, these coats are made to provide their trained craftsmen with work during the dull period. They work with ease and care, they're never rushed. This results in the superb construction of these coats. The styling is the newest that can be offered. Savings are tremendous!

$38 $58

Seal-Dyed Cones	Brown Kidskins	Mendoza Beaver-Dyed Cones	Dyed Skunk Chubbies
Manchurian Wolf Chubbies	Sable-Stripe Dyed Cones	Seal-Dyed Cones	Black Broadtails With Hat
Eel Grey Kidskins	Squirrel-Stripe Dyed Cones	Sable-Dyed Wallaby	Kaffa Broadtails With Hat
Black Kidskins	Mink-Dyed Cones	"Safari"-Dyed Mouton Lamb	Skunk-Dyed Opossum Caraculs

$78 $88

Mendoza Beaver-Dyed Coney	Mink-Dyed Muskrats	Black Pony	Silver Fox Chubbies
Black Pony	Raccoon-Dyed Opossum	Brown Pony	Black Caracul
Brown Pony	Caracul Kidskin	Mink-Dyed Muskrat	Brown Caracul
Silvertone Muskrats	Chekiang Lamb	Silver-Dyed Fox Chubbies	Squirrel Paw
			Laskin-Dyed Mouton Lamb

Mink-Stripe Dyed Coney With Yoke Back, Size 16

Long-Term Layaway Plan Available... Ask Your Salesperson for Details.

$98

Mink-Dyed Marmot Mink-Dyed Fitch Let-Out Mink-Dyed Fitch Mink-Dyed Muskrat Silver-Dyed Fox Chubbies Cross Fox-Dyed Chubbies

—Downstairs at Ayres.

Look Your Prettiest, Please!

SALE! Washable DRESSES

$2.00 EACH

SIZES 9 to 17, 12 to 20, 38 to 44!

Look your prettiest in washable prints that glorify and flatter you from dawn to dusk. Choose several of the styles that are becoming to you and pay such a little for them. Priced to help you save... styled to bring happiness and correct fashion into your life.

COLORS COME IN

White	Navy
Pink	Black
Blue	Luggage
Aqua	Prints

Sharkskins
Spun Rayons
Rayon French Crepes
Rayon Bemberg Sheers

Wear Them for
The Street
For Sports
Casual Wear

2-Pc. Dresses, Coat
Dresses, Shirred Bodices,
Tucking Trims,
Self Belts, Patent Belts,
Lace Trims.

—Downstairs at Ayres.

See Page 15 for More Sale News