

MOST PLANKS OF G. O. P. APPROVED

Only Those Advocating Ban on Third Term and Critical Of Reciprocal Trade Policy Differ From Public Reaction.

By DR. GEORGE GALLUP
Director, American Institute of Public Opinion

PRINCETON, N. J., July 4.—In most of its major planks the Republican platform is closely in accord with American public opinion as measured by Institute surveys. In only two notable instances—the planks on reciprocal trade treaties and on a constitutional amendment to prohibit third terms—is there any major deviation between public sentiment and the program of action advocated at Philadelphia.

WILLKIE HOLDS TO 'GRINDSTONE'

Abandons Immediate Plans For Vacation to Organize Advisory Setup.

NEW YORK, July 4 (U. P.).—The fourth of July was just another Thursday to Wendell Lewis Willkie, Republican Presidential candidate who has run into the hard fact that campaigning for high office is a seven-day a week job.

Mr. Willkie's vacation schedule, originally calling for departure yesterday for some cool Midwestern resort, has been pushed back now into next week. And it may be further delayed by a journey to Washington to confer with Senator Charles McNary (R. Ore.), Republican Vice Presidential candidate, House Minority Leader Joseph W. Martin and other Congressional Republicans.

Abandoning immediate vacation plans or even the holiday weekend enjoyed by many New Yorkers, Mr. Willkie goes to his office today for further discussion of campaign organization. He will meet there tomorrow with a subcommittee of the Republican National Committee in an effort to name campaign managers for the 1940 drive against the New Deal.

Stassen to Be Adviser
It appears now to be practically certain that the campaign will be directed by a three-man strategy board with the advice of a committee of a dozen or so Republican sectional leaders who will be headed by Governor Harold E. Stassen of Minnesota. Mr. Willkie told questioners he hoped to be able to name his campaign manager, reveal who will be chairman of the Republican National Committee and announce his personal representative on the strategy board by tomorrow evening. He will meet with the Republican subcommittee at 3 p. m. tomorrow.

Some lake resort in Wisconsin or Minnesota probably will be Mr. Willkie's vacation headquarters. But planning for it is a complicated task because of the newspaper and political camp followers who must accompany a Presidential candidate from the time his name comes out of the hat until the votes are in on the morning after election day.

Abandons Boat Trip
A plan to put all hands aboard a Great Lakes tramp steamer for two or three weeks was abandoned because no vessel could be found which could accommodate more than eight persons.

The candidate is avoiding major questions of policy now and hopes to remain silent on them until he formally accepts the Republican nomination on the steps of Central High School at Elwood, Ind., in the last week of July. The acceptance speech will come on or soon after July 25 according to tentative plans. That will enable Mr. Willkie and his advisers to size up the situation in the Democratic Party after the Chicago convention at which President Roosevelt now either must accept renomination or refuse to run.

World's Largest Screen Opened
NEW YORK, July 4.—The world's largest projection screen, 200 feet long, has been put into use here in the Hall of Aviation at the New York World's Fair.

A battery of 20 projectors, located in a central revolving tower, flashes a group of pictures on a wide expanse of curving wall. Reproduced in color from paintings and photographs made especially for the display, the pictorial pageant depicts the far-flung activities of present-day aviation. A voice narration accompanies the pictorial presentation.

Sponsored by the aviation industry and the New York Museum of Science and Industry, technical experts on the Museum staff developed the technique by which the individual pictures, each 24 feet long and 16 feet high, are projected so accurately that they flow into each other and the audience has no feeling of separate units.

Visitors view the 20-minute pageant standing in the main part of the building, darkened for the performance.

Roosevelt: 'I've Received Nice Wires From Elwood'

WASHINGTON, July 4.—"I have received some nice telegrams from the loyal Democrats of Elwood," Roosevelt said yesterday.

With a characteristic loss of his head and a chuckle, President Roosevelt yesterday made that comment on the Republican nomination of Wendell Willkie of Elwood, Ind., for President.

The President had just heard Fred Bays, Indiana Democratic State chairman, visiting the White House with Senator Sherman Minton (D. Ind.), assure him that "it would take a whole carload of Willkies to beat Roosevelt in Indiana."

TEARS ACCENT TALE OF FLIGHT

Lady Mendl Weeps as She Tells U. S. of Despair and Death in Europe.

NEW YORK, July 4 (U. P.).—Children wept for food their mothers could not give them. "I have seen peasants thought only of flight before the Nazi enemy... starvation and disease became more deadly enemies than invading armies... those were the stories told yesterday by refugees from the French war zone who were among the 21 passengers arriving here aboard the Yankee Clipper of Pan American Airways from Lisbon.

Many of them wept as they disembarked at La Guardia Field—weeping as much for the people and the land they left behind as for joy in reaching safety here.

Lady Mendl, who as Elsie DeWolf charmed American theater audiences decades ago, shed tears as she described her flight from her Biarritz home.

Cries for Planes
"It was awful," said the former actress, now almost 80. "Those scenes at the frontier I shall never forget—hundreds sleeping on the ground, mothers unable to give their children milk."

"I do hope America is going to act quickly. Planes are the only thing that will win the war. They don't need American soldiers."

The aged woman who plainly showed the rigors of the flight, seized the arm of a nearby newspaperman.

"Planes! Planes! Planes!" she cried, pounding the reporter's arm. "It ought to be a slogan."

"Shall I tell you about my home?"

Composure Breaks
Then the former actress' composure broke and she wept.

"I walked out of my home and left it standing just as beautiful as ever. I took nothing. All the silver, all the pictures, all the collections—I left them because I wouldn't destroy my home. I have heard nothing of it since."

One of the passengers, Gustaf Miesegans, whose home is in the Dutch East Indies, carried more than $500,000 in cash and securities with him. He said he had been living in Beaufort, France, but would not discuss his business here.

Allison Aboard
The passengers said many told Britishers are in Lisbon, seeking some means of getting either to the United States or to England. It was rumored in Spain, they added, that a flying boat of the British Imperial Airways will bring some of them to the United States.

Several corporation officials, who would not explain their admitted "mission" to France, also were aboard the flying boat. They included Harold H. McMahon of the Allison Engineering Corp.

PRO AMERICANS UNITE AT A. Y. C.

Tunney Bloc Seeks Definite Resolutions to Check All 'Isms.'

LAKE GENEVA, Wis., July 4 (U. P.).—A rebelling "pro American" delegation to the American Youth Congress convention meets today to formulate a constructive program for combating alleged communistic domination of the Congress.

Michael Church of Detroit, spokesman for the insurgent group led by Murray Plavger, New York City, and supported by ex-heavyweight champion Gene Tunney, said, "our first job is to get together."

At the first general convention session today Jack McMichael, Quitman, Ga., chairman of the Congress, will deliver the keynote speech.

The credentials committee will be elected at the opening meeting and will hear the appeal of the Tunney-Plavger group that it be seated.

Church, leader of 30 Detroit anti-communists, said, "we don't have a constructive program yet, but we're going to map one out."

The Tunney delegation, numbering about 50, hoped to be able to obtain passage of resolutions condemning communism, nazism and fascism, but Joseph Cadden, executive secretary of the Congress, said the delegation had failed to register before the deadline, June 24, and could not be given delegates' credentials.

McMichael proclaimed loyalty to the United States in his welcoming speech last night but denounced any defense program "behind which we would lose our democratic rights."

He contended the country is overarming at the cost of individual liberty and opposed military conscription.

'NO HYPOCRISY,' BYRNES WARNS

Senator Advises G. O. P. Not To Make Preparedness Election Issue.

WASHINGTON, July 4 (U. P.).—Republicans received today the New Deal's first reply to the attack leveled by them at their recent convention at the Administration's preparedness program.

Senator James F. Byrnes (D. S. C.), a close friend and adviser of President Roosevelt, assailed the criticism of former President Herbert C. Hoover as "petty."

In a radio address last night, Senator Byrnes warned Republicans not to make preparedness an issue in the November elections. He said that Republicans and Democrats must share alike the responsibility for failing to foresee "the magnitude and urgency of the danger of aggression against our hemisphere interests."

In the task of building up our national defense, he said, the American people cannot "tolerate political hypocrisy."

"And the worst kind of political hypocrisy is to deceive the public about the facts of defense to win the overall spoils of political power in a national election," he declared.

In any other nation, he said, the Republican platform plank undertaking to fasten upon the New Deal full responsibility for unpreparedness and for the consequent danger of involvement in war, would be considered "Fifth Column activity."
