

The City Hall...

ATTACK ON DOUBLE PARKING RENEWED

Stoops Charges Truck Drivers Abuse Privilege, Just as Promise of Safety Board Action Was Forgotten; Junior Thespians Star at Playgrounds.

By RICHARD LEWIS

The charge that truck drivers are "abusing parking privileges" has been issued by Todd Stoops, Hoosier Motor Club secretary. It comes just as everybody was beginning to forget that the Safety Board planned to do something about that problem.

Mr. Stoops asserted that truck drivers have become accustomed to double parking, to the point where they would rather double park than pull into a curb space. He also calls attention to the danger of angle parking, which is a common sight between 7 and 9 a. m. when inbound traffic is at its height.

Safety Board members had warmed up to the downtown parking problem, which involves passenger cars as well as trucks, when the political conventions happened along. Board members haven't said "boo" about parking since.

It was the Board's plan to ask City Council for blanket powers to establish loading zones for trucks. Mr. Stoops said, "The Police would forbid double parking. When this was done, the Police would forbid double parking."

This plan was endorsed by the Indianapolis Chamber of Commerce's Traffic Safety Committee. But the Board appears to have forgotten the whole thing.

Same Background on It...

At one time, the Safety Board had power to create speed limit, time parking and loading zones. This power was conferred on it by just such an ordinance as the present Board members have had in mind.

But one day, a City Councilman parked in a loading zone and dared the police to give him a ticket. The Police took the dare, the Councilman went to Court, and the ordinance giving the Board blanket powers went out the window.

The ordinance was held invalid by the Circuit Court, on the theory that the Safety Board is not a legislative body and hence cannot be granted the power to make traffic laws.

If the Board revives its plan of a few months ago to ask Council for blanket authority, it will have to reckon with this decision.

Mr. Stoops

When this was done, the Police would forbid double parking.

This plan was endorsed by the Indianapolis Chamber of Commerce's Traffic Safety Committee. But the Board appears to have forgotten the whole thing.

Same Background on It...

At one time, the Safety Board had power to create speed limit, time parking and loading zones. This power was conferred on it by just such an ordinance as the present Board members have had in mind.

But one day, a City Councilman parked in a loading zone and dared the police to give him a ticket. The Police took the dare, the Councilman went to Court, and the ordinance giving the Board blanket powers went out the window.

The ordinance was held invalid by the Circuit Court, on the theory that the Safety Board is not a legislative body and hence cannot be granted the power to make traffic laws.

If the Board revives its plan of a few months ago to ask Council for blanket authority, it will have to reckon with this decision.

ROBERT W. BOYER IS DEAD IN DENVER

Funeral services for Robert W. Boyer, former Indianapolis resident who died Saturday night in Denver, will be held at 2 p. m. Wednesday at the Hisey & Titus Funeral Home.

Boyer was 46 and a World War veteran. He worked for the American Telephone and Telegraph Co. here for 25 years.

Survivors are his wife, Mrs. Dorothy Matthews Boyer; a brother, Herbert J. Boyer, and two sisters, Ruth H. Boyer and Mrs. A. McCleery, all of Indianapolis.

60TH ENGINEERS TO MEET HERE

Reunion to Open Thursday; Sullivan and Chaillaux On Program.

The 60th Railway Engineers, A. E. F., will hold their reunion here Thursday through Sunday.

Mayor Reginald H. Sullivan will give the welcoming address Friday at the Hotel Antlers. This will be followed by a speech by Maj. D. G. McGregor, Ordnance Department, Fifth Division, Ft. Harrison. Homer L. Chaillaux, American director for the Legion also will speak.

A memorial service will be conducted at the Indiana World War Memorial Sunday at 10 a. m. The services will be conducted by the Rev. Allen K. Trout, in memory of the 124 members who died either in France or since returning home.

The Engineers include railroad men who volunteered their services in the first World War and who served overseas helping operate the railroads for the American Army.

This unit mobilized at Ft. Harrison on May 18, 1918 and served in France in the advanced sector.

LEGION ANNOUNCES CONTEST WINNERS

Winners of the American Legion Auxiliary's national defense essay contest in which thousands of high school pupils in the country competed have been announced at national headquarters here.

First prizes went to Dorian Janison, Cedar City, Utah, and Edith Hutchinson, Vista, Cal. Second prize was won by Richard Kinney, East Sparta, O., and honorable mention was earned by June M. Fallis, St. Louis, Mo.; Ralph Smith, Caro, Mich., and Vivian Knight, Clarkson, Neb.

Spring Grove Houses Now Haven for War Refugees

Times Special

RICHMOND, Ind., July 8.—The dream of I. E. Woodard, president of the Acme-Evans Co. and head of the Quaker Hill Foundation, to transform the Evans homestead at Spring Grove here into a Quaker shrine is fast becoming a reality.

A center for Quaker activity is taking shape where 70 years ago Mr. Woodard's grandparents, Isaac P. and Mary Ann Evans, were hosts to their hundreds of friends.

Repaired and remodeled, the large 14-room house is now serving as a hotel for war refugees. To accommodate more refugees the foundation has leased a nearby house as a dormitory. At the present, approximately 30 refugees are being cared for.

Using the homestead as a hostel is only a temporary measure and after the war emergency is over, work will continue in creating the memorial.

Charles J. Anthony, formerly of the Southern Methodist University faculty, will take the new post in the College of Business in September. He was the 1939 winner of the silver medal presented by the American Institute of Accountants for the second highest grade in the nation for the Certified Public Accountant examination.

Final class meetings and examinations for the College of Religion summer session will be held this week. The last class meeting will be held Friday.

TOWNSEND NO. 48 TO MEET

Townsend Club No. 48 will meet tomorrow night at the I. O. O. F. Hall, 1336 N. Delaware St., to hear a report from Indianapolis club members on the fifth Townsend Club national convention which closed at St. Louis Saturday.

For the Best STEAM OIL Permanent, $1 to $8 Guaranteed—Go to the SMILE BEAUTY SHOP French Salon 622 Mass. Ave. LI-0026

News of the future shrine has filtered through Quaker circles throughout the United States and Quaker Hill receives a steady stream of visitors. Persons come from as far as California.

The Foundation hopes to create here in the Quaker City of the Middle West a center where Quakers can gather for educational and social activity.

Mrs. Hussey came from Maine as a child and spent the rest of her life at the Evans homestead. Much of the furniture which she brought from Maine will be used in the memorial room which will be reconstructed with the aid of photographs found recently in the attic of the house of an Indiana Quaker. The prints are judged by Mr. Woodard to be "at least 60 years old."

House Attracts Visitors

Charles J. Anthony, formerly of the Southern Methodist University faculty, will take the new post in the College of Business in September. He was the 1939 winner of the silver medal presented by the American Institute of Accountants for the second highest grade in the nation for the Certified Public Accountant examination.

Final class meetings and examinations for the College of Religion summer session will be held this week. The last class meeting will be held Friday.

TOWNSEND NO. 48 TO MEET

Townsend Club No. 48 will meet tomorrow night at the I. O. O. F. Hall, 1336 N. Delaware St., to hear a report from Indianapolis club members on the fifth Townsend Club national convention which closed at St. Louis Saturday.

For the Best STEAM OIL Permanent, $1 to $8 Guaranteed—Go to the SMILE BEAUTY SHOP French Salon 622 Mass. Ave. LI-0026

News of the future shrine has filtered through Quaker circles throughout the United States and Quaker Hill receives a steady stream of visitors. Persons come from as far as California.

The Foundation hopes to create here in the Quaker City of the Middle West a center where Quakers can gather for educational and social activity.

Mrs. Hussey came from Maine as a child and spent the rest of her life at the Evans homestead. Much of the furniture which she brought from Maine will be used in the memorial room which will be reconstructed with the aid of photographs found recently in the attic of the house of an Indiana Quaker. The prints are judged by Mr. Woodard to be "at least 60 years old."

House Attracts Visitors

Charles J. Anthony, formerly of the Southern Methodist University faculty, will take the new post in the College of Business in September. He was the 1939 winner of the silver medal presented by the American Institute of Accountants for the second highest grade in the nation for the Certified Public Accountant examination.

Final class meetings and examinations for the College of Religion summer session will be held this week. The last class meeting will be held Friday.

TOWNSEND NO. 48 TO MEET

Townsend Club No. 48 will meet tomorrow night at the I. O. O. F. Hall, 1336 N. Delaware St., to hear a report from Indianapolis club members on the fifth Townsend Club national convention which closed at St. Louis Saturday.

For the Best STEAM OIL Permanent, $1 to $8 Guaranteed—Go to the SMILE BEAUTY SHOP French Salon 622 Mass. Ave. LI-0026

News of the future shrine has filtered through Quaker circles throughout the United States and Quaker Hill receives a steady stream of visitors. Persons come from as far as California.

The Foundation hopes to create here in the Quaker City of the Middle West a center where Quakers can gather for educational and social activity.

Mrs. Hussey came from Maine as a child and spent the rest of her life at the Evans homestead. Much of the furniture which she brought from Maine will be used in the memorial room which will be reconstructed with the aid of photographs found recently in the attic of the house of an Indiana Quaker. The prints are judged by Mr. Woodard to be "at least 60 years old."

House Attracts Visitors

Charles J. Anthony, formerly of the Southern Methodist University faculty, will take the new post in the College of Business in September. He was the 1939 winner of the silver medal presented by the American Institute of Accountants for the second highest grade in the nation for the Certified Public Accountant examination.

Final class meetings and examinations for the College of Religion summer session will be held this week. The last class meeting will be held Friday.

TOWNSEND NO. 48 TO MEET

Townsend Club No. 48 will meet tomorrow night at the I. O. O. F. Hall, 1336 N. Delaware St., to hear a report from Indianapolis club members on the fifth Townsend Club national convention which closed at St. Louis Saturday.

For the Best STEAM OIL Permanent, $1 to $8 Guaranteed—Go to the SMILE BEAUTY SHOP French Salon 622 Mass. Ave. LI-0026

News of the future shrine has filtered through Quaker circles throughout the United States and Quaker Hill receives a steady stream of visitors. Persons come from as far as California.

The Foundation hopes to create here in the Quaker City of the Middle West a center where Quakers can gather for educational and social activity.

Mrs. Hussey came from Maine as a child and spent the rest of her life at the Evans homestead. Much of the furniture which she brought from Maine will be used in the memorial room which will be reconstructed with the aid of photographs found recently in the attic of the house of an Indiana Quaker. The prints are judged by Mr. Woodard to be "at least 60 years old."

House Attracts Visitors

Charles J. Anthony, formerly of the Southern Methodist University faculty, will take the new post in the College of Business in September. He was the 1939 winner of the silver medal presented by the American Institute of Accountants for the second highest grade in the nation for the Certified Public Accountant examination.

Final class meetings and examinations for the College of Religion summer session will be held this week. The last class meeting will be held Friday.

TOWNSEND NO. 48 TO MEET

Townsend Club No. 48 will meet tomorrow night at the I. O. O. F. Hall, 1336 N. Delaware St., to hear a report from Indianapolis club members on the fifth Townsend Club national convention which closed at St. Louis Saturday.

For the Best STEAM OIL Permanent, $1 to $8 Guaranteed—Go to the SMILE BEAUTY SHOP French Salon 622 Mass. Ave. LI-0026

News of the future shrine has filtered through Quaker circles throughout the United States and Quaker Hill receives a steady stream of visitors. Persons come from as far as California.

The Foundation hopes to create here in the Quaker City of the Middle West a center where Quakers can gather for educational and social activity.

Mrs. Hussey came from Maine as a child and spent the rest of her life at the Evans homestead. Much of the furniture which she brought from Maine will be used in the memorial room which will be reconstructed with the aid of photographs found recently in the attic of the house of an Indiana Quaker. The prints are judged by Mr. Woodard to be "at least 60 years old."

House Attracts Visitors

Charles J. Anthony, formerly of the Southern Methodist University faculty, will take the new post in the College of Business in September. He was the 1939 winner of the silver medal presented by the American Institute of Accountants for the second highest grade in the nation for the Certified Public Accountant examination.

Final class meetings and examinations for the College of Religion summer session will be held this week. The last class meeting will be held Friday.

TOWNSEND NO. 48 TO MEET

Townsend Club No. 48 will meet tomorrow night at the I. O. O. F. Hall, 1336 N. Delaware St., to hear a report from Indianapolis club members on the fifth Townsend Club national convention which closed at St. Louis Saturday.

For the Best STEAM OIL Permanent, $1 to $8 Guaranteed—Go to the SMILE BEAUTY SHOP French Salon 622 Mass. Ave. LI-0026

News of the future shrine has filtered through Quaker circles throughout the United States and Quaker Hill receives a steady stream of visitors. Persons come from as far as California.

The Foundation hopes to create here in the Quaker City of the Middle West a center where Quakers can gather for educational and social activity.

Mrs. Hussey came from Maine as a child and spent the rest of her life at the Evans homestead. Much of the furniture which she brought from Maine will be used in the memorial room which will be reconstructed with the aid of photographs found recently in the attic of the house of an Indiana Quaker. The prints are judged by Mr. Woodard to be "at least 60 years old."

House Attracts Visitors

Charles J. Anthony, formerly of the Southern Methodist University faculty, will take the new post in the College of Business in September. He was the 1939 winner of the silver medal presented by the American Institute of Accountants for the second highest grade in the nation for the Certified Public Accountant examination.

Final class meetings and examinations for the College of Religion summer session will be held this week. The last class meeting will be held Friday.

TOWNSEND NO. 48 TO MEET

Townsend Club No. 48 will meet tomorrow night at the I. O. O. F. Hall, 1336 N. Delaware St., to hear a report from Indianapolis club members on the fifth Townsend Club national convention which closed at St. Louis Saturday.

For the Best STEAM OIL Permanent, $1 to $8 Guaranteed—Go to the SMILE BEAUTY SHOP French Salon 622 Mass. Ave. LI-0026

News of the future shrine has filtered through Quaker circles throughout the United States and Quaker Hill receives a steady stream of visitors. Persons come from as far as California.

The Foundation hopes to create here in the Quaker City of the Middle West a center where Quakers can gather for educational and social activity.

Mrs. Hussey came from Maine as a child and spent the rest of her life at the Evans homestead. Much of the furniture which she brought from Maine will be used in the memorial room which will be reconstructed with the aid of photographs found recently in the attic of the house of an Indiana Quaker. The prints are judged by Mr. Woodard to be "at least 60 years old."

House Attracts Visitors

Charles J. Anthony, formerly of the Southern Methodist University faculty, will take the new post in the College of Business in September. He was the 1939 winner of the silver medal presented by the American Institute of Accountants for the second highest grade in the nation for the Certified Public Accountant examination.

Final class meetings and examinations for the College of Religion summer session will be held this week. The last class meeting will be held Friday.

TOWNSEND NO. 48 TO MEET

Townsend Club No. 48 will meet tomorrow night at the I. O. O. F. Hall, 1336 N. Delaware St., to hear a report from Indianapolis club members on the fifth Townsend Club national convention which closed at St. Louis Saturday.

For the Best STEAM OIL Permanent, $1 to $8 Guaranteed—Go to the SMILE BEAUTY SHOP French Salon 622 Mass. Ave. LI-0026

News of the future shrine has filtered through Quaker circles throughout the United States and Quaker Hill receives a steady stream of visitors. Persons come from as far as California.</p