

BULLITT FEELS U. S. WILL BACK PETAIN REGIME

Ambassador Confers With Roosevelt, Relaxing at Hyde Park Home.

HYDE PARK, N. Y., July 22 (U. P.)—William C. Bullitt, United States Ambassador to France, said today there was "no question of recognition of the Petain Government" because this Government already is carrying on normal diplomatic intercourse with it.

Mr. Bullitt resumed conferences today with President Roosevelt, having accompanied him here from Washington last night. The Ambassador to France flew to New York by trans-Atlantic Clipper Saturday in order to "get in touch" with the President after being unable to communicate confidentially with his Government since June 12.

He refused to discuss reports that his conversations with the President may indicate that Mr. Roosevelt has determined not to follow the lead of Great Britain, which withdrew recognition from the authoritarian Government of Marshal Henri Philippe Petain and recognized the fugitive French committee in London.

Relations Already Exist
"There is no question of recognition of the Petain Government," he said. "Our relations with the Government already exist, and no action has been taken to break off recognition. There isn't any such question as far as I know, and I honestly have not discussed the question with the President."

"There has been speculation," a reporter told him, "that your report will color Mr. Roosevelt's decision on the possibility of recognizing the French committee in London."

The ambassador minimized such possibility.
"I believe the President makes his own decisions," he said.

"I really came up here because we have an awfully lot to talk about and we had only scratched the surface by train time last night."

Messages Delayed
"I have had no real communication with the Government since June 12—two days before the Germans came in. Since that time communications have been very difficult."

"I sent the President an extremely important and long message about three weeks ago—but when I arrived in Washington I found that three sections still had not arrived. The President sent me a message with triple priority, which still has not reached me."

Mr. Bullitt said that Robert Murphy, charge d'affaires of the U. S. Embassy in France, has established headquarters with the Petain Government at Vichy with a staff of about 20 embassy attaches. About 120 embassy people remain at Paris, he said, and another group has established itself at Touraine to handle refugee problems and American interests.

Mr. Roosevelt planned two or three days of relaxation here, and conferences with Mr. Bullitt were the only major items on his schedule.

Those Auto Nameplates Come From Indianapolis

Operating a precision instrument is Frank Haugh's job and years of practice are needed to turn out the intricate and exacting pattern required by today's automotive engineers.

Continuing the emphasis on perfection, Miss Inez Fleener inspects trays of completed nameplates ready to be attached to a 1941 automobile. Nicks and scratches are taboo.

Business Began After Rival Tried to Outwit Ford In Deal.

By TIM TIPPETT

A nameplate-maker once tried to get the best of Henry Ford in a deal.

And that's the reason Indianapolis today is the home of the plant that turns out nearly all those pretty nameplates on American automobiles.

David Ross, a young Indianapolis nameplate manufacturer, walked into Henry Ford's office to solicit an order. He found Mr. Ford pacing the floor over a "fast one" that had been pulled on him that day by another nameplate-maker.

"Here," said Mr. Ford in effect, "is a tough job. This fellow has 27 patents on this kind of work. If you can make a nameplate to fit this car that doesn't violate his patents the job's yours."

David Ross could not do it. He was making Ford plates ever since. Too, with the years, have come Chrysler, General Motors and Studebaker.

And all these plates pour out of a little plant on Lord St. Not more than 50 people work there at peak production time.

The simplest nameplate takes 29 hand operations, the complex ones many more. Some are hand-painted, some are hand-buffed and polished.

Machines are precision built to give exacting work without fail. One machine (it costs thousands of dollars) is so accurate and so precise that it can engrave the Lord's Prayer on a pin head—not Just a small shop on Lord St., and it turns out the nameplates for Detroit products. It never will be moved to Detroit because they're much too busy "to get around to it."

once but twice and with room to spare.

A pin head is .077 of an inch. The prayer can be engraved in a circle .010 of an inch. To prove it, Mr. Ross has a photograph to show the dubious.

Another machine used to stamp metal into the proper shape exerts terrific pressure. Its operator feels the strips under the hammer and it descends with great speed and with no little noise. Compressed air blows the metal into a trough and off to another department.

Obvious to the visitor are the many safety "gadgets." Before they were installed several workers were injured. Today the shop boasts a no-injury record.

For example, the stamping machine operator has a rawhide thong attached to his wrist. When the hammer descends it jerks his hand out of danger if he is slow in removing it himself.

The little shop also turns out the dies from which many of next year's hub caps will be made. Dies are made by experts trained in the field for years and these dies, needless to say, are expensive.

Nameplate designs are a composite of Detroit designers' and Mr. Ross' ideas. One sample plate may cost from $200 to $300. Several may be made before the satisfactory design is determined. From then on the cost is computed in terms of pennies.

The Ross-Adesol Co. makes trademarks and nameplates for many other things besides automobiles, but that industry is its largest.

Asked why he didn't locate his plant in Detroit, Mr. Ross said: "There isn't any reason why we haven't moved to Detroit except we started here and all our workers have been trained in their jobs and have worked at them for years. We just never got around to it. I don't suppose we ever will."

TRUCK UNION FINED IN N. Y. MILK STRIKE

NEW YORK, July 22 (U. P.)—For the first time a business concern has been awarded damages against a union for violation of a labor contract, it was revealed today.

Copies of an opinion of Arthur A. Meyer, impartial chairman of the milk industry, sent to the Sheffield Farms Co. and Local 534 of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters, A. F. of L., levied a fine, amounting to $10,000, as a result of a one-day strike called by the union on Feb. 24, when 75,000 families failed to get their milk. This, the company said, cost it $10,000. Mr. Meyer recommended that the company accept only half the fine for the sake of maintaining better labor relations. He disallowed six items totaling $18,000 listed by the company as among its losses.

'Tan Commandments' Drafted 'But Heliophiles Can Skip 'Em

NEW YORK, July 22 (U. P.)—Do your drinking in the shade, bathers, unless you're a heliophile.
And don't sprinkle perfume on your skin at the beach; if you do you're inviting perfume dermatitis.
If you're one of the 10,000,000 heliophiles in the United States, stay under a beach umbrella.
Dr. Charles P. Pabst, Brooklyn dermatologist and chairman of the press conference committee of the Kings County Medical Society, issued his "tan commandments" today. Along with them he advised persons who are taking sulfanilamide or sulfapyridine to stay out of the summer sun. These drugs, he said, render their users extremely sensitive to the sun's rays and severe burns might cause serious injury "and even death."
Dr. Pabst's commandments:
1. Acquire a coat of tan, provided you are not a heliophile, by means of short exposures.
2. Do not sleep on the beach in the direct rays of the sun.
3. Don't drink highballs or strong liquor while exposed to the summer sun; alcohol and sunlight do not

COLUMBUS, O., July 22 (U. P.)—Two Columbus policemen were relieved that today they had shone a flashlight on a suspicious-looking intruder instead of shooting when he failed to heed their order of "hands up."

Leaps at 10,000 Feet, Vanishes

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., July 22 (U. P.)—More than 250 men and Boy Scouts searched cornfields, swamp and grasslands today for the body of an aerial "bat man" who leaped from an airplane at the height of 10,000 feet and disappeared.

F. V. (Ace) Kolb, about 25, Denver, went up yesterday with pilot George Holley for a practice leap and at 10,000 feet jumped out wearing fabric wings attached to his arms and legs and a parachute.

Mr. Holley said he immediately banked his ship to watch Kolb soar to earth with his "wings" but was unable to sight him.

On the airfield below a small crowd had assembled to watch Kolb make his descent but they also failed to see him.
"Bat men" loop and soar with their wings until within several thousand feet of the ground when they abandon the wings and parachute to a landing.

12,000 HEAR BAND; 500 SIT ON CHAIRS

Twelve thousand music lovers—11,500 without chairs—thronged Garfield Park last night for the open air concert of the Indianapolis Concert Band.

Some brought blankets to sit on, some sprawled on the grass while countless others stood while the band, under the direction of William Schumacher, played its hour and three-quarters program.

Michael Bauer, Garfield custodian, said two more concerts may be held at Garfield, but the dates have not been set.

U. S. 'BLACKLIST' URGED ON FIRMS VIOLATING NLRA

Lewis Charges Government Makes Patriotism Profitable for Industry.

WASHINGTON, July 22 (U. P.)—President John F. Lewis of the C. I. O. today again advocated "blacklisting" of firms receiving Government contracts under the multi-billion dollar defense program if they fail to comply with provisions of the National Labor Relations Act. In letters to all members of the C. I. O. executive board Mr. Lewis charged that the Government, under the urge of an emergency, "is making patriotism profitable for American finance and industry." He contended that labor should share equally in any benefits derived from the preparedness program.

Proposes Executive Order

He reported that he had turned over to Sidney Hillman, labor coordinator of President Roosevelt's National Defense Commission, a proposed executive order which would:

1. Require that industries receiving Government contracts agree to "comply with all orders directed to them by the National Labor Relations Board."
2. Permit the Defense Commission to terminate a contract in event of failure to comply with an NLRB order.

Attached to each letter were copies of communications which Mr. Lewis exchanged with President Roosevelt and Mr. Hillman disclosing that the C. I. O. chairman proposed such a policy last year in connection with bidding on Government contracts but that Mr. Roosevelt rejected it, writing that the "only unquestionable valid method" of instituting such procedure was by legislation.

Stimson Names Advisory Group

San Francisco, Secretary of War Henry H. Stimson announced creation of a construction advisory section to consult with Maj. Gen. Edmund B. Gregory, Army quartermaster general, on the forthcoming $500,000,000 Army construction program that will touch almost every section of the country. The section will be composed of five outstanding business men, three of whom Mr. Stimson appointed today.

They are Francis Blossom, Sanderson & Porter, engineers, New York; Forrest S. Hart, Pasadena, Cal.; Leed, Hill, Barnard & Jewett, engineers, Los Angeles; F. J. C. Dresser, Cleveland, director of the American Construction Council, New York.

Mr. Stimson said the appointees would operate purely in an advisory capacity.

President James S. Knappe of the United States Chamber of Commerce said in a general letter to the Chamber membership that business would do its part in meeting preparedness needs but asked that the Government, in return, "remove obstacles tending to block industrial initiative."

CITY HOLDS KEY DEFENSE ROLE

Military Supplies Affect $10,000,000 Payroll Here, Green Says.

Indianapolis industries are more important in the national defense program than those of almost any other city of similar size, Myron Green, industrial commissioner of the Indianapolis Chamber of Commerce, told the Service Club today.

Payrolls of firms engaged in manufacturing or processing military supplies account for $10,000,000 of the city's annual industrial payroll and there are prospects that this total will be considerably increased by Jan. 1, he said.

"We have 170 metal-working industries in Indianapolis, and the present indications are that much of the Army and Navy business will go to these firms," Mr. Green said. "We have, also, been assured that the activity at Ft. Harrison will not be decreased permanently."

GAS CASE TO GO TO HIGH COURT

City Plans Appeal for U. S. Supreme Court Review Of Old Lease.

Attorneys for the Citizens Gas & Coke Utility today took steps preliminary to seeking Supreme Court review of the U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals' ruling that the City is bound by a 1913 lease of Indianapolis Gas Co. properties.

The Circuit Court of Appeals, at Chicago, Friday overruled the City's motion for a rehearing. Two months ago it had reversed a ruling of the Federal Court here invalidating the lease.

The firm of Thompson & Smith will file with the Circuit Court Wednesday a petition asking it to delay issuance of its mandate in order that the City may file with the Supreme Court for writ of certiorari, or review.

Copies of the petition were to be served today on opposing attorneys in the case.

The lease in question was executed in 1913 when the Indianapolis Gas Co. ceased operating in competition with the old Citizens Gas Co., taken over in 1935 by the City. It covers about half the mains used by the present utility, together with the Langside gas plant.

When the City took over Citizens Gas, it served notice that it refused to be bound by the terms of the lease, contending the predecessor Citizens Gas Co., operating under a public charitable trust, had no right to make a lease binding its successor. The lease calls for a rental of more than $500,000 a year and if it were held invalid, the City might be able to negotiate a new lease at less rental.

Plans for condemning the Indianapolis Gas properties have been held in abeyance pending settlement of the litigation.

HOW TO GET A $100 LOAN WITHOUT SECURITY

You can borrow $100 on your promise to repay; if you can pay back $6.43 a month—See table for other loan plans—No credit questions asked of friends or relatives—Quick, friendly service.

YOU can get a personal loan without security of any kind—if you can repay in small monthly installments. All you do to apply for a loan is to acquaint us with your problem. You need no security—no endorsers or guarantors. You merely give us your signed promise to repay. You may repay your loan on any of the schedules shown in the table below. Thus you may choose the payment plan which best fits your own needs and income.

Payments to fit your purse

Suppose that you need a $100 loan. You find this amount in the first column of the table. Then read across picking out the monthly payment which you wish to make. You will see, for instance, that monthly installments of $9.77 each will repay a $100 loan in full in twelve months. Or, if you wish smaller payments, as little as $6.43 a month for twenty months will also repay a $100 loan.

You will note that the sooner you repay the less your loan costs. Four monthly installments of $26.60 each, or a total of only $106.40, for instance, will repay a $100 loan in full. Installments shown in the table repay everything

Same rate to everyone
These installments include charges at Household's rate of 2 1/2% per month on that part of a balance not exceeding $150, and 1 1/2% per month on that part of a balance in excess of $150. Household has only this one rate—the same for everyone, whether new customer or former borrower.

Simple to borrow
You get your Honor Loan in a simple, private transaction. We require no security, no stocks or bonds. You merely sign a promissory note. You are spared the embarrassment of asking friends or fellow-workers to sign the loan papers with you. And no questions regarding your credit are asked of friends or relatives.

Considerate treatment
You may expect every consideration in case of sickness or unemployment while paying on a Household Finance loan. Last year legal action against assets was resorted to on only one out of each 20,000 loans. This action was taken only as protection against fraud.

If a loan can help you phone or visit us for further information. No obligation.
