

EMPHASIS IS PUT ON SMALL FIRES

Can Stop Production in an Entire Plant, Prevention Leaders Warn.

Declaring that a small blaze may halt production in an entire plant, fire prevention officials today stressed the importance of special precautions as a measure of national defense.

The warning was issued to 700 Indiana fire marshals by the Indianapolis Chamber of Commerce and Indianapolis Fire Department, fire prevention bureau, as part of the observance of National Fire Prevention Week.

"With many plants operating at capacity in our national preparedness program, it is important to realize that even a small fire in just one section of a plant may stop production in the entire plant or in other dependent plants, the bulletin stated.

"Thus the enforcement of stringent fire prevention measures by industrial concerns is today a matter not only of self interest, but an obligation of importance to the entire nation."

The necessity of putting heating plants in order and repairing defective flues and pipes in order to eliminate the hazards due to winter firing and reduce the number of fires from these causes also is being emphasized in the fire prevention campaign.

MASTER MINDS GET $1 A YEAR

Government Gets Millions of Dollars Worth of Brains For $84 Annually.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8 (U. P.).—The Government is getting the services of millions of dollars worth of brains for its defense program at a cost of only $84 a year, a survey showed today.

In addition to the 84 men who will be paid only a dollar for 12 months' work, there are the seven members of the National Defense Commission who are serving without compensation. Two of the commissioners are now on the payroll of other Government agencies—Leon Henderson, member of the Securities and Exchange Commission, and Chester C. Davis, governor of the Federal Reserve Board.

Topping the list of those working without compensation from the Government is William S. Knudsen, who gave up a $30,000 a year job as president of General Motors Corp. to head the commission's materials division.

Most of the "one buck boys" are industrialists, lawyers, and financial and technical experts.

TELL OF CRASH WHICH KILLED 2

Friends of Driver Say They Called His Attention To Accident.

Two friends of Eugene Swope testified in Municipal Court yesterday that Swope's car struck two pedestrians Saturday and that he refused to stop his car immediately when they called his attention to the crash.

Both pedestrians died in the accident, which happened in the 900 block Massachusetts Ave.

The two witnesses were Henry Lane and Louis Ayres, who said Swope was taking them home from an E. Washington St. tavern when the accident occurred.

The victims of the accident were William R. Cox, 41, of 359 W. Ray St., and Nicholas H. Staneu, 39, of 1707 Lafayette Road.

On Wrong Side of Street

Lane testified before Judge Pro Tem, Harry L. Gause that the accident occurred as Swope turned out for a car that had started to pull out from the curb. He testified that the Swope car was on the wrong side of the street when the men were struck.

"I asked him if he knew he had just hit some one, and he replied, 'Did I?' He didn't stop until we were at the overpass, about 150 feet from the scene of the accident."

Ayres testified that Swope was driving 60 miles an hour shortly before the accident and that he called the driver's attention to it.

"He said, 'I'll take care of that.' Then he slowed down to 55 miles an hour and the accident happened," Ayres testified.

Disagree on One Point

Ayres testified, however, that the accident occurred on the right driving side of the street, the only particular of the accident on which the two witnesses disagreed.

"When the car struck the men, he kept on going. I said, 'You'd better stop,' and he replied, 'I'll take care of that.'"

Both Lane and Ayres testified that they left the car after Swope stopped it and returned to the scene. Police said Swope did not return. He was arrested Saturday night.

Swope was represented by Attorney Peter A. Cancilla, who pleaded that the bond of $10,000 be reduced "to something reasonable." The charge of vagrancy was dismissed and Judge Gause set a new bond of $500 on a charge of leaving the scene of the accident.

Swope did not testify.
