

BERTRAND RUSSELL GETS SCHOOL POST

MERION, Pa., Oct. 17 (U. P.).—Bertrand Russell, British philosopher and writer, who was barred from teaching at the College of the City of New York, has signed a five-year contract to lecture at the Barnes Foundation here.

Mr. Russell, who was denied the C. C. N. Y. position by a New York Supreme Court ruling, will begin his new lectureship Jan. 1, according to Dr. Albert C. Barnes, wealthy founder of the institution. He will lecture on the history of ideas and cultures since the early Greeks.

Armed Men Guard Luncheon When Community Fund Reports

By JOE COLLIER

Inside, several hundred of Indianapolis' leading citizens are having a meal.

Immediately outside, two uniformed men stand alertly with shooting hands on pistols in their side holsters.

A strange setup at best, and doubly intriguing when you consider it happens in one of the best known downtown hotels at high noon.

What is it?

Only a report meeting of the Indianapolis Community Fund drive, as they file into the luncheon, for which they buy tickets, the team captains leave with accountants outside their cash and pledge receipts which are promptly totaled.

The cash—there is many thousands of dollars of it each reporting day—is immediately transferred to a central accounting table. At this table are the guards of the Merchants Delivery Service.

Inside, the meal progresses rapidly, considering the number of persons served and the irregularity with which they have arrived.

Outside the adding machines are clicking, the results are being tabulated, the cash is accumulating.

By the time the speaking is finished, the machines have reached the day's final total, have added it to the previously pledged and collected total and have, in their weird mechanical way, found the percentage of the goal already raised.

The armed guards pack up the cash in the box and seal it with a special press seal they carry around for such occasions. A tally sheet is sent to the speakers' table inside.

The guards leave with the money which they put in an armored car.

The results are announced, with cheers and promises of renewed activity from the workers. The guards take the money to Fund headquarters, where it is again audited.

The luncheon meeting breaks up.

One more milestone has been reached and passed in the Indianapolis Community Fund drive for 1941. As this particular meeting ended the report was: $67,617.69 reported pledged and collected yesterday; $323,107.89 collected and pledged to date, which is 46.9 per cent of the goal of $688,500.

SUSPECT REGISTERS, THEN SURRENDERS

TRENTON, N. J., Oct. 17 (U. P.).—John T. Cook came out of hiding to register for the draft yesterday and was arrested on a two-year-old murder charge.

Cook, accompanied by Trenton's Mayor Leo Rogers, his counsel, registered. He did not say where he had been during the two-year search for him.

Cook is charged with the 1933 slaying of Fred (Ted) Davis, once his friend.

'My Age? Can't Remember, Sir'

A MAN WHO couldn't remember his age posed a "fine" problem for the conscription registrars at 1005 S. Meridian St.

"I think I am around 35 years of age. I may be older or younger, I don't know," the man told the registrar.

The registrar consulted other registrars and it was decided to register the man as "under 35" and place a notation on the card that the registrant wasn't sure of his age.

FRENCH GENERAL'S DEATH ANNOUNCED

VICHY, Oct. 17 (U. P.).—The death in action of Gen. Francois de Courson de Villeneuve, 69, was announced officially here yesterday.

General Villeneuve was killed in action June 15 at Arc les Grey in the Haute Saone as he stood among his rearguard forces at a vital bridge covering the retreat of the main French armies from the Maginot line, it was said.

The force of gravity on the planet Jupiter is so great that a boy who weighed 100 pounds on earth would weigh 265 pounds on that planet.
