

COURT REVISION PLAN REVIEWED

Proposed Measure Creating
Substitute for J. P.'s
Is Changed.

Times Special
TERRE HAUTE, Ind., Jan. 7.—Recommendations for revision of the procedure and scope of Indiana courts were reviewed by the Indiana Judicial Council at a meeting yesterday at Indiana State Teachers' College.

Several minor changes were made in the draft of a proposed measure creating a county system of courts superseding the Justice of the Peace and magistrate courts, with city courts reorganized as county courts. This measure probably will be rewritten.

In the proposed constitutional amendment the group decided against including the Appellate Court along with the Supreme and Circuit Courts as constitutional courts.

Also reviewed was a measure providing for the non-partisan election of judges.

Attending the meeting were Supreme Court Judge Curtis W. Roll, chairman; Dean Bernard C. Gavit of the I. U. School of Law, secretary; Appellate Court Judge Paul E. Laymon; Judge Herdis F. Clements, Posey Circuit Court; Judge Fred N. Prass, Tippecanoe Superior Court; attorneys George O. Dix, Terre Haute, and Louden L. Bomberger, Hammond. Two members of the Council, former State Senator Jacob H. Weiss, Indianapolis, and Rep. Glenn R. Slenker, Monticello, were unable to attend.

TOWNSEND, COFFIN REMAIN IN CAPITAL

Governor Townsend and his secretary, Tris Coffin, who have been in Washington discussing Indiana's part in national defense with Federal officials, will return to Indianapolis tomorrow.

They originally planned to return today, but the Governor sent word that he will be detained another day.

Queen Candidate

In the opinion of Delta Delta Sorority, Miss Mildred Craigie, Butler University co-ed, is mighty like a rose. And so she is a candidate to reign over the Freshman Rose Dance Friday at Murat Temple.

CAUGHNAN DISPUTES KORTEPETER PLEA

District Attorney B. Howard Caughnan has filed an answer in Federal Court to the plea of former jeopardy filed by Carl F. Kortepeter, former Marion County WPA coordinator.

Kortepeter, one of five defendants in two cases charging them with defrauding the Government by diverting labor and funds from approved WPA projects to work on privately owned subdivisions, based his plea on his conviction last year in a similar case.

Mr. Caughnan's answer denied the allegation of former jeopardy, holding that the new case, set for trial Jan. 27, includes an entirely different set of circumstances from those in the former case.

Also scheduled to go on trial Jan. 27 are Arthur F. Eickhoff, banker and head of the Eickhoff Realty Co., and Charles E. Jefferson, contractor and former County Flood Control Board member.
