

20 Bouts on Second Golden Gloves Program Tomorrow Night

More than 20 bouts are expected to be fought tomorrow night in the second session of the 1941 Indianapolis Golden Gloves boxing tournament at Butler's giant Fieldhouse.

The opening night's action (last Friday) saw 24 bouts, of which 14 ended in knockouts.

Tomorrow night's battles may see at least two defending Open champions striving to retain their titles. There are two classes in Golden Gloves—Novice and Open. Last Friday's bouts all involved novices. Tomorrow night's will see both Novice and Open fighters throwing rights and lefts.

SPORTS... By Eddie Ash

CHUCK ALENO, star third baseman from the Birmingham Barons, is one player the Indianapolis club hopes to land from the Cincinnati Reds for the 1941 season. He is 23 years old, 6 feet 1 inch tall and weighs 190 pounds.

Last year, with Birmingham he batted .332 and made 182 hits good for 248 bases. He was rated the best defensive hot corner man in the Southern Association.

Aleto will go to training camp with the Reds, of course, but he is unlikely to supplant the veteran Bill Werber, one of the idols of the Queen City fans. Werber added to his family by going great guns in the 1940 World Series and he'll have to slip into infiel'd to be nudged out of a regular job on the champs' infield.

And Hoosier eyes are upon Aleto through the working agreement between the hometown Indians and Reds. The Tribe has a hole at third base where Wayne Blackburn finished last year. Wayne is a good batsman but is weak defensively at that important spot on the innerworks. He doesn't have the hands for spearing the hot ones.

Johnny Hill and Don Lang were others who had whirs at the third base last year and both were weak in the field and at bat. The Cincinnati club's press bureau contributes the following rundown on Aleto:

"He has a baseball philosophy that has helped him over the rough spots of his short career, and he believes it will do the same for him here on in. His idea is to go out there and do the very best you can, batte for every inch, and then let happen what may."

"It was this philosophy that helped him win a regular berth with the Birmingham team last spring, when most people figured he would be just one of those boys spending some time in the Barons' camp. . . . Reason for the lack of enthusiasm surrounding his chances centered in his 1939 record at Durham in the Class B Piedmont League."

Operation Gives Him New Start

"BATTING AVERAGES showed that Aleto's record with a club two classes below Birmingham was .233 but they didn't show that the boy had compiled this while playing with an injured knee that would have kept most players out of the game altogether."

"The averages also didn't show that Aleto had the knee operated on after the 1939 season, nor did they reveal anything about the nerve and perseverance of young Mr. Aleto."

"At any rate, when the Southern League season opened, Chuck was on third base. . . . When the season closed, he was still on third base, but by then was a sensation."

"This upward movement vindicated the judgment of the scouts, who, when Chuck broke in with Deland of the Florida League in 1937, claimed he was a sure-fire prospect, one who was a cinch to climb up the baseball ladder quickly. . . . That year Aleto batted .326 in 110 games."

"The next season, the one in which he became injured, he divided his time between Deland and Muskogee, of the Western Association, batting .314 at Deland and .333 at Muskogee. . . . In 1939 he was at Durham."

"Aleto bats right-handed. . . . He certainly has the physical qualifications, plus a fine temperament."

Lelivelt Well Known in A. A.

THE DEATH of Jack Lelivelt in Seattle the other day comes as a shock to many friends in the American Association. He was a fine player in the A. A. and also a successful manager.

As a matter of fact, when Lelivelt piloted the Milwaukee Brewers that city made a habit of breaking attendance records, there today.

As manager of the Seattle team he also set up attendance records in the Pacific Coast League that made some A. A. cities look feeble in comparison to population.

Lelivelt was a smart developer of young talent and was always hustling out on the field. . . . He was a familiar figure at baseball meetings and seldom was outsmarted in a player deal.

"GENE THOMPSON is no half-way pitcher. . . . The star young righthander of the Reds can tell very early if he has his stuff. . . . When he hurls a complete game, it's usually a winner, as evidenced by his 1940 record, which shows that he hauled 17 complete contests, 15 of which were victories. . . . He hauled one two-hit game and three three-hitters."

Only once in the last six seasons has Paul Derringer of the Reds walked more than 50 men. . . . The high mark for the period came in 1937, when he passed 55 batters.

Four Share Cue Lead After Pair Is Toppled in Upsets

CHICAGO, Jan. 22 (U. P.)—Four entrants shared the lead in the 1941 world's three-cushion billiard tournament after upsets knocked two other contestants from the undefeated ranks.

Welker Cochran, San Francisco, defeated Irving Crane, Livonia, N. Y., for his fourth consecutive victory yesterday to advance into a tie for first place with Otto Reisel, Philadelphia; Allen Hall, Chicago, and Jay Bozeman, Vallejo, Cal., all of whom were idle.

Cochran won, 50-28, in 44 innings. Each had a high run of four.

Art Thurnblad, Kenosha, Wis., and Earl Lookabaugh, Chicago, who had won three straight, each suffered his first defeat and fell into a four-way tie for second place.

Art Rubin, Philadelphia, upset Thurnblad, 50-38, in 58 innings, and

Pair of Young Buc Pitchers in Fold

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 22 (U. P.)—The Pittsburgh Pirates announced today that two of their young pitchers, Bill Clemens, 21, of Santa Cruz, Cal., and Lloyd Dietz of Cincinnati have signed their 1941 contracts.

Both pitchers played with the seventh-place Syracuse club of the International League last year. Dietz won nine and lost 13; Clemens won one and lost four games.

The $1 seats are on sale downtown at the Sportsman's Store, 126 N. Pennsylvania St., and at the Bush-Feeze Sporting Goods Co., 126 E. Washington St.

Holders of $1 and 50-cent seats enter the Fieldhouse at Gates 5 and 6 and holders of 25-cent tickets at Gates 7 and 8. The 25 and 50-cent tickets are sold only at the Fieldhouse boxoffice on the night they are used.

There is bus service directly to the doors of the Fieldhouse. The N. Meridian bus runs from the Circle to the Fieldhouse and return. The trip takes 23 minutes. The program will get under way at 7:30 p. m.

The Indianapolis Golden Gloves tournament is sponsored by The Indianapolis Times and the Bruce Robison Post of the American Legion. There are 10 tickets set aside for the working press and not a single spectator passes into the arena on a complimentary ticket.

The proceeds all go to charity. Sixty per cent of the net receipts are used for American Legion philanthropic and welfare work and 40 per cent goes directly to The Times Clothe-A-Child fund. It is for this reason that the bars are up on complimentary tickets.

The winners of the Open championship here will go to Chicago for inter-city competition with other Golden Gloves winners.

The time is 7:30 p. m., the place is the Butler Fieldhouse and the day is tomorrow.

Blue Quiz Kids Return Friday To Hardwood

Bulldogs Face Franklin And Ball State

Tony Hinkle's "quiz kids," on a limited furlough at present because of final semester examinations, will resume defense of their Indiana College basketball Conference title Friday night, meeting Franklin College in the Fieldhouse at 8:15 p. m.

It was against Franklin in the last game of the 1937-38 season that the Bulldogs began their consecutive string of 18 conference victories. Saturday night, Butler will meet Ball State at Muncie.

Butler has not played in Muncie since 1927 and the Cardinals have yet to score a major athletic victory over the Bulldogs.

Leaves for East Sunday

After the Ball State encounter, Butler will return home and will prepare for an invasion of the East. Hinkle is expected to select a 10-man squad that will leave Sunday afternoon for New York City where Long Island University will be met next Wednesday night in Madison Square Garden. Friday, Jan. 31, Butler will play St. Joseph at Philadelphia, then return home to meet Ohio State here the following night.

A decision over Franklin Friday night will give the Bulldogs a .500 percentage for the season. They have won four and lost five games to date. But Hinkle is not expecting any breather from the Grizzlies and probably will call upon his No. 1 combination of Capt. Bob Dietz, and Wilbur Schumacher, forwards; Bill Hamilton, center, and Lyle Neat and Jim McCray, guards. This quintet has accounted for 24 of the team's 346 points in nine games.

Hinkle to Speak in N. Y.

Capt. Dietz is leading Butler scorers with 85 points. Following him in order are Hamilton, 63; Schumacher, 52; Neat, 51; and McCray, 43. Dietz needs but 74 points in the remaining 13 games to set a new all-time university scoring record for three years.

Ned Irish, director of basketball at the Garden, has arranged a luncheon in New York for Hinkle, who will speak before members of the Basketball Writers' Association and basketball coaches.
