SPEEDWAY H. S.
PLANS ANNUAL

Pupils Show Enthusiasm in Getting Out School's First Year Book.

By EARL HOFF
Facing difficulties keeping up with a mushrooming community, Speedway High School is right in the middle of a string of "firsts," the latest of which is the first year book.

A staff of pupils is busy after school hours, editing articles, planning layouts and arranging picture deadlines.

The subscription campaign, steered by Dorothy Moldman, circulation manager, is already finished and definitely a success. There are 114 pupils in the high school. The pupils sold 150 year-books.

Putting the financial question of publishing a year book out of the worry classification, three pupils, Robert Bland, Ferdia Crawley and Dorothy Gleason, sold all the advertising for the book before the layouts were planned.

N. D. Cory, principal and superintendent of Speedway schools, said they already have collected cash for all but $4 worth of the advertising. James Kellam is editor of the annual and Dorothy Gleason is assistant editor. Other staff members are Margie Kelly, feature editor; Richard Jennings, photography editor; and Marian Dewar, layout editor.

Mrs. Lucille Zimmerman, co-sponsor of the senior class with Mr. Cory, is faculty director. Tentatively, the pupils have selected Speedette as the name for their first annual. The school newspaper goes by the same title.

The book will have a stiff cover and will feature pictures of each class, the athletic teams, school clubs and pictures of classroom activities.

The book will be dedicated to Miss Zimmerman.

"SALUTE TO SPRING" IN SNOW
PHILADELPHIA (U. P.)—City merchants opened their annual "Salute to Spring," a week-long bedecked festival, as Philadelphia was digging out from the second 10-inch snow in a week.

Cavalade, previously heard Wednesdays, switches to Monday night broadcasts starting tonight and will be heard over WIRE at 9:30. It's a summer replacement for the Burns and Allen show. Paul Muni is to be starred in the first show on the new schedule in "Edwin Booth."

Good news for local quiz program fans is that Bob Hawk is bringing his Take It Or Leave It Program to Indianapolis on May 23.

The Muriel Theater has been engaged for the broadcast. Take It Or Leave It has one of the highest Crossley ratings (listener response) among the quiz shows and there is no doubt that tickets for the local airing will be pretty much in demand. Hawk's Indianapolis appearance will be one of a series during a tour of cities of the West and Midwest starting April 6. He recently completed a tour of the major cities in the South. The new tour will open in Kansas City on April 6 and in addition to Indianapolis will include Los Angeles, San Francisco, Portland, Ore., Seattle, Denver, Minneapolis, Louisville and Chicago where the tour will be concluded on June 2 after which the show returns to New York for the balance of the summer.

David Ross is the announcer, with music under the supervision of Ray Block. A Columbia network feature, Take It Or Leave It is heard Sunday evenings at 9 p. m.

When Columbia's Eric Seaverid interviewed Security Administrator Paul V. McNutt on a recent job for Defense program, the former Hoosier Governor turned the tables on Eric and spent nearly half the program interviewing him on his experiences in Europe as a CBS war correspondent. . . . The $3200 paid for President Roosevelt's old campaign hat by Edward G. Robinson and Melvyn Douglas when it was put up for auction by Jean Hersholt will serve to endow a bungalow unit at the new Screen Actors' Guild home soon to be constructed out of funds from the Screen Guild Theater programs. A plaque bearing the President's name will be placed on the bungalow and Mr. Robinson adds that for "good luck" he'd like to nail the Presidential chapeau over the door. . . . Following a concert tour of the West, Margaret Sparks, soprano, returns as soloist tonight on the Voice of Firestone program, WIRE at 7:30.

Wallace Beery and Mickey Rooney renew a popular partnership when they co-star tonight in Radio Theater's dramatization of "Stablemates," WFBM at 8 o'clock. Mickey Beery starred in the film version some years ago. Fay Wray and Noah Beery will have leading roles in the network adaptation.

66% OPPOSE U. S.
FIGHTING ABROAD

But 60% Fear Forces Will Go to Europe, Survey
By Fortune Shows.

NEW YORK, March 31 (U. P.)—Fortune magazine announced today that its latest survey of public opinion indicated 66 per cent of the American people believe "the chances are 50-50 or better" that the United States eventually will send a Navy and an air force to Europe.

Only about one-third of the people favor sending an expeditionary force to Europe, the poll indicated. "By parts of the country it is the West North Central states that are most opposed to war, with two-thirds of the populace opposing the use of ships and planes, and three-quarters against using an Army," Fortune said.

Isolationists Decrease
Only 6.6 per cent are against any arms shipments to Britain, the survey showed.

The survey showed that the Southern and Western states have the highest expectancy of war.

Of those polled, 38.4 per cent favored sending "about half" of our war materials to Britain; 22.5 per cent favored sending "all or most of them"; 19.7 per cent, "a small part"; 6.6 per cent, "none of them"; and 12.8 per cent were undecided.

Another question showed, Fortune said, "that more than two out of three Americans believe that Hitler wants to dominate the U. S."

New Order Seen

Fortune announced also that a majority of the 17 international specialists who comprised its eighth annual round table reported they believed a new order of free peoples could be established after the war if the United States agrees "at once to assume a large share of responsibility for reconstruction of the post-war world."

The report proposed that the United States and Britain "create at once a superior military and economic nucleus around which other peoples can gradually be rallied—a democratic bloc having enough power to dictate the termination of the present war and also the character of the new peace."

WOMEN TO OBSERVE
MISSION BIRTHDAY

As the clock strikes three Thursday afternoon, Indianapolis churchwomen and those of 33 states simultaneously will open meetings celebrating the 70th anniversary of the Woman's American Baptist Foreign Mission Society.

Seven women representing the seven special causes for which funds have been accumulated over the last six months will light candles in a seven-branched candelabra at the Woodruff Place Baptist Church. The program is typical of what will be presented in all the societies of the 33 states of the Northern Baptist Convention.

An organ recital and a tea also are included in the Woodruff Place celebration by Mrs. Royal McClain and Mrs. Gerald Martz, co-chairmen. Mrs. R. R. Mitchell of Indianapolis is president of the Indiana Society and Mrs. Jasper Scott of the Indianapolis Society.

A total of $70,000 is expected to be raised in the 33 states over and above the usual annual gifts to missions, for the seven special causes. Causes include aid to veteran missionaries, a hospital, training for native foreign missionaries, services of a nurse, and an evangelist in China, Burma or other foreign fields.

DINNER TO HONOR
FRATERNITY GROUP

Three co-founders of Sigma Delta Chi, national honorary journalism fraternity, will be special guests at the dinner to be given at the Athenaeum tomorrow night by the Indianapolis professional chapter and the Butler University chapter.

The guests will be Paul N. Fiddick, publisher of the LaGrange Standard; Eugene Pulliam Sr., president of WIRE, and Leroy H. Milliken.

Robert Nixon, International News Service correspondent, will speak on his experiences in Europe during the war. Prof. Donald D. Buchard has charge of arrangements. The dinner will be preceded by initiation ceremonies for three Butler Chapter pledges—Richard Mohr and Robert Schalk, Indianapolis, and James Neal, Noblesville.

85% of Voters in Favor of Compulsory
Mediation Before Strikes Can Begin

By DR. GEORGE GALLUP
Director, American Institute of Public Opinion

PRINCETON, N. J., March 31.—How far is the American public ready to go today to check strikes in the defense industries?

That is the key question as President Roosevelt's new 11-man mediation board takes its job in the national capital.

The evidence which has been accumulated in the Institute's current fact-finding survey of public opinion in regard to the labor situation—evidence which comes from talking with thousands of U. S. citizens in all parts of America—sums up to this:

Do you think America's production of arms, airplanes and other war materials is going ahead fast enough?
Yes—30 per cent.
No—53 per cent.
No opinion—17 per cent.

Do you think industrial leaders are helping the national defense production program as much as they should?
Yes—18 per cent.
No—68 per cent.
No opinion—14 per cent.

Do you think labor union leaders are helping the national defense production program as much as they should?
Yes—51 per cent.
No—31 per cent.
No opinion—18 per cent.

Which do you think is trying harder to help national defense production—labor union leaders or industrial leaders?
Industrial leaders—56 per cent.
Labor leaders—10 per cent.
Both the same—16 per cent.
No opinion—18 per cent.

Would you favor a law compelling employers and union to submit their differences to a Federal labor board?
Yes—74 per cent.
No—26 per cent.
