

GOLF

By J. E. O'BRIEN

SONNY SHELBY, the state junior golf prexy, reported over long distance wire from Lebanon today that Ulen is ready and waiting for the juniors and their tournament next week.

Some 125 of the state's younger set will march to the tee Monday for the first 18 holes of the qualifying round.

Another 18 holes on Tuesday will determine the 32 members of the championship flight, and match play will extend through Friday, when the titleholder will be determined in a 36-hole final match.

Several of the competitors have been on Ulen this week tuning their games. Sonny has recalled seeing Jim Guinness of Seymour, Bill Dahl of West Lafayette, the Stackhouse boys from Meridian Hills and both Sam Crawford and Dick Freeman of Crawfordville. As for Sonny's own game, "it's not bad."

One of these may be the new champion. There's sure to be a new champion, since Henry Timbrook last year's winner and also a bridgegroom of this week, is over the age limit and ineligible.

Sonny said he might also mention the banquet Tuesday night at the Ulen clubhouse, that the field gets away at 8 o'clock Monday and that Lebanon is on Daylight Savings Time.

ANOTHER GOLF exhibition and clinic similar to the one that was held recently at Pleasant Run is scheduled tomorrow at Riverside.

Wayne Timberman, Indiana Open champion, will be paired with Russell Stonehouse, state P. G. A. champion, in a best ball match against Bill Kaiser, Kentucky Open champion, and a fourth player to be named.

The clinic will precede their 18-hole duel.

Tripping to Tipton

MONDAY'S MECCA for central Indiana's pro-amateur fans will be the Tipton Country Club, where a representative field from all the game's ability levels will gather for the first tournament sponsored by the southern section of the Indiana P. G. A.

Because Tipton is a nine-hole course, it will be necessary to begin play slightly before 1 p. m. Entry deadlines will be rigidly enforced henceforth, because late stragglers have delayed the start of several previous tournaments as much as half or three-quarters of an hour, and the fields are getting too big to start late.

Reporting on the condition of his course, Floyd Hamblen, in his first year as professional at Tipton, pointed out that "the greens are as fine as any on which a pro-am tournament has been played this summer." Greens always are of special concern to pro-am players, who come out shooting not for pars but for birdies and eagles, what it takes to win some of the big pile of money and merchandise distributed weekly.

Monday, those pros who trail Noblesville's Bill Heinlein in the pro point standings will have an opportunity to gain ground, for Heinlein will be competing in the national P. G. A. tourney at Denver, as will Bob Grant of Kokomo and Frank Champ of Bedford.

By maneuvering his team into a tie for second at Pleasant Run's record-breaking party last week, Johnny Vaughn of Speedway tied Freddie Grauer, Highland assistant, for second place in the standings. They have 60 apiece, to 82½ for Heinlein.

BYRON NELSON, former Open champion and defender of the P. G. A. title in next week's tournament, will take along 24 amateurs as one of the teams in the Highland Classic a week from Wednesday. Lord Byron also will put on an exhibition after the match, using all the clubs in the bag. This show is for club members, their guests and competitors in the Classic.

Back and Forth on the 4th

AT PLEASANT RUN—Three teams were tied with 68½ at the end of 18 holes in the all-amateur "pro-am," but Carl Smith, who had shot an eagle on the 18th, produced a birdie on the 20th to bring his team victory.

Smith's companions were Lou Leonard, Harold Smith and Charles Fulwider. The team of Ken Hoy, M. Budd, Bill McCune, W. Miller and John Minchin also had a 68 but lost on No. 20. The third team to tie was composed of Art Wettle Jr., Art Phelan, Pete Schaid, Frank Grovenberry and Ken Hoy Jr. A five on No. 19 eliminated them.

AT COUNTRY CLUB—Coupling scores of 78 and 79 to a 36-hole sum of 157, D. L. Stone Jr. won the Jilison Cup. The flag tournament victor was W. G. Guyton, who had 89 shots and went as far as the 20th hole.

AT HIGHLAND—Dr. Harry Leer, with a gross 75, and Tom Jackson, with a net 61-65, were first-day leaders in the 36-hole holiday tournament.

AT COFFIN—Wilbur Morgan and Walter Dean played in the same foursome. They both have handicaps of 10 and they both shot net 65. Morgan and Dean won the prize at stake yesterday.

AT HILLCREST—The Lamberus Trophy, the prize in the Fourth of July flag tournament, was won by A. M. Springer. He went to within two inches of the 20th cup with the strokes allotted him.

DAVE MITCHELL, the former Indianapolis golfer who won the National title in 1935, paid a call at Coffin yesterday. He is returning home to Atlanta, Ga., soon, from where he will ship his clubs to Spokane, Wash., for this year's Public Links tourney. Mitchell then will go to Havana and fly from there to Spokane. He told friends that he hasn't been playing much golf lately and "finds it hard to break 75."

Bud Ward Fires Sub-Par Golf

COLORADO SPRINGS, July 5 (U. P.)—Marvin (Bud) Ward today became a red hot favorite to win his second straight Western Amateur golf championship.

With the qualifying rounds and the first three matches out of the way and the 42d Western meet at the semi-final stage, Ward is four strokes under par, a record none of the other semi-finalists can come near matching.

School Teacher John Kraft of Denver was Ward's opponent in today's 36-hole semi-finals, and in the bottom bracket Medalist Harry Todd, a giant-sized young Texan, winner of this tournament two years ago, met Morris Norton, another Texan.

Todd, of Dallas, was a co-favorite at the tourney's beginning, and he has been shooting steady golf, but not the equal of Ward's game.

Kraft eliminated Ellsworth Vines, the tennis professional, 7 and 6, in the second round.

Boston Hitter Still Leading

NEW YORK, July 5 (U. P.)—While lanky Ted Williams of the Boston Red Sox continued smashing out hits to retain his American League batting lead, Jimmy Mize of the St. Louis Cardinals slugged his way to top the National League batsmen, averages released today and including games of Thursday revealed.

Williams dropped nine points over the last week but his amazing average of .403 still gave him a wide margin over second-place Jeff Heath of the Cleveland Indians, who is now batting .364.

Mize topped the senior circuit's batting lead from Pete Reiser, Brooklyn's Dodgers' outfielder whose stickwork kept him at the top of the league's sluggers for four consecutive weeks. Reiser boosted his mark two points to .355, but Mize, making 12 hits in his last 25 times at bat, added 17 points to top the league with an average of .366.

Elmer Riddle of the Cincinnati Reds, ran his record to eight triumphs against no defeats to maintain his National League pitching lead. Detroit Tigers' Al Benton and Boston's Mike Ryba share the lead over the junior loop moundmen with records of five victories and one defeat each.

The 10 leading hitters in each league follow:

Novikoff Hits A. A. Pitching

CHICAGO, July 5.—Lou Novikoff, baseball's Mad Russian, may not have been able to hit big league pitching but he can still pound the minor league hurlers with the greatest of ease.

The averages released this week and including Thursday's game show the ex-Cub leading all hitters with a big .469 for his 10 games.

The real leaders, however, are still the Minneapolis Millers who reveal in the averages their reason for being in first place.

The three leading Association hitters are from Minneapolis. Babe Barna is leading the loop with .368 while second place goes to Fabian Gaffke with .353 and Otto Denning with .350.

Leaders in other departments are:

Runs—Gaffke, 60.
Hits—Sanders, Columbus, 98.
Doubles—Sanders, 23.
Triples—Haas, Columbus; Casen, Louisville, 3.
Home Runs—Wright, Minneapolis, 14.

Tex Hughson of Louisville leads in the hurling department with seven wins against one loss.

Add to Roster

PITTSBURGH, July 5 (U. P.)—The Pittsburgh Steelers today added Don Williams, tackle from the University of Texas, to their 1941 roster.
