

TURKS WERE FIRST TO WEAR BLOOMERS

CHICAGO (U. P.)—The Turks should get the ultimate credit—or blame—for American women wearing slacks today, according to Mrs. Mary Brooks Picken, American dress designer.

Mrs. Picken told the 34th annual convention of the American Home Economics Association that if it hadn't been for the balloon-like trousers of the Turks, Mrs. Amelia Jenks Bloomer might never have got the idea for the bloomer—fore-runner of modern slacks.

RATTLESNAKE STOPS
PATRONS AT DOOR

MINNEOLA, Tex. (U. P.)—Shoppers were steering clear of a store near here. The storekeeper couldn't figure out what it was all about—until he saw a big rattlesnake lying in the doorway.

But before anything could be done, the navy arrived and took the situation well in hand. Jade Wagner, navy man for 31 years, happened to be visiting at home and he hoisted anchor and went into action. A pair of well-aimed blows with a hammer killed the reptile.

FLOWERS OF ORIENT
GROW IN CORN BELT

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (U. P.)—Dr. J. R. Lieb of Springfield has proved that exotic flowers can grow in the middle of the corn belt.

During the past 25 years, Dr. Lieb has learned to cultivate Japanese and Chinese lotuses, both natural and double flowers, which he believes are the only bloom of the species outside of California.

In his garden he also has the single lotus of this country, the yellow fringe orchis of the North Carolina mountains, and tropical ilies
