Points After Touchdown Spell Defeat for Hoosiers

The point after touchdown kicking of Pat Harder, Wisconsin's great fullback, was the deciding factor in the hard fought game between the sophomore teams of Wisconsin and Indiana. Harder is shown kicking after the first Badger score as an Indiana player (in center) goes high into air in effort to spoil the attempt.

SPORTS...

By Eddie Ash

THAT was basketball on the greensward up at Madison Saturday where Wisconsin and Indiana football teams fought it out, 27-25. . . . But about 10 years ago Yale and Dartmouth put on a 33-33 tie grid thriller and only last season Manhattan and Marquette blew their tops in a 45-41 scream, won by the Jaspers.

Until Saturday Indiana U. only failed to convert in seven tries and then muffed three in four attempts. . . . and the Badgers got three in four to carry off the pigskin. . . . Like in baseball, the breaks decide the close ones.

The upsetting business started last Thursday when South Carolina upended Clemson, continued Friday night when Villanova fell before Manhattan and Detroit was edged by Arkansas. . . . And you don't have to be told what happened on the major college grid front Saturday.

Football giants took it on the chin in all sectors and even mighty Navy was held to a scoreless draw by up-and-coming John Harvard. . . . New Year's Bowl promoters are worried no end by the thinning ranks of the undefeated and untied.

In addition to the Navy-Harvard tie, the Saturday shockers were Oklahoma over Santa Clara, Mississippi over Tulane, Kansas over Iowa State, Washington State over Oregon State, U. C. L. A. over Oregon, and a mild one in Duquesne over Marquette.

This department made selections on 74 games last week and delivered 57 winners, 15 losers and there were two deadlocks. . . . Percentage for the week, 792. . . . For the season to date: Games picked, 358; winners, 273; losers, 69; ties, 16. . . . Percentage, 798.

Youthful Brown's Winning Streak Stopped

OHIO STATE'S defeat Saturday, after winning three consecutive victories, ended for the Bucks' young coach, Paul Brown, a personal string of 36 grid triumphs. . . . Brown's teams at Massillon, O., High School had rolled up 33 straight victories before he gained his promotion to the Ohio State job. . . . Pretty fair record and it took an aroused Northwestern team to break it.

The game that broke Brown's winning streak also ended Northwestern's Ohio Stadium jinx of the past decade. . . . The Wildcats had not won in the big horseshoe in Columbus since 1931.

Paid attendance at the Minnesota-Michigan game was $5,753, and at the Northwestern-Ohio State tie $1,896. . . . Just a couple of gold mines.

DUQUESNE UNIVERSITY has lost but one grid game in the last three seasons and that smashing 31-14 victory over Marquette, Saturday may mean that the Dukes are going through undefeated. . . . Barring their path are Villanova, St. Mary's of California and Mississippi State.

Duquesne's one defeat in three years was dishoed out by Mississippi U. Last fall, the Southerners winning, 14-6. . . . The Dukes' new coach is Steve Sinko who took over when Al Donelli resigned to handle the reins of the Pittsburgh professional eleven.

University of Pittsburgh broke into the scoring column Saturday for the first time this season when Duke University beat the Panthers, 27-7. . . . In four starts Pitt's record is: Points, 7; points by opponents, 112. . . . And they have yet to meet Ohio State, Fordham, Nebraska, Penn State and Carnegie Tech.

Boston Writer Predicts Baseball Changes

TURNING TO THE baseball hot stove league for a session. . . . Unprecedented trading, with big stars moving from club to club, is likely to result from the uncertainty of the effect of Uncle Sam's demands on the playing ranks, with clubs in both majors, and particularly the Red Sox and Braves, eager to improve their fronts, in the opinion of Jack Maloney of the Boston Post.

"There'll be plenty of changes made before the 1942 season gets into spring training," asserts Maloney, "if the bosses of the teams do not suffer a softening up, or change of heart, during the cool winter months. There'll be changes made in both our Boston clubs and they may be so spectacular and prominent that the entire country will be interested."

"NOT ONLY is there a dearth of major league prospects to select from, but Uncle Sam, with his own defense program, is making it tougher with the inroads he is making on young, healthy athletic material. All of which may make it necessary for the clubs to swap their players around, even more than they will be willing, in order to make changes that are considered necessary."

Promise Thrillers At the Armory

Two promised thrillers have been, son, a highly-touted newcomer lined up as the supporting route to the Sander Szabo-Joe Savoldi title match tomorrow night in the Armory wrestling ring. In one of the matches, Bill Long-Brody, Holyoke, Mass.

Caps Start League Play

DETROIT, Mich., Oct. 27.—The Indianapolis Capitals move eastward toward Springfield, Mass., today to open the American League hockey warfare against the Indians Wednesday night.

The Caps are still seeking that first victory of 1941, but this time the opposition will be in their own league. The Detroit Red Wings defeated them again last night in another exhibition game, 5 to 3, but the Caps again forced them into an overtime.

The three goals marked up last night gave the Indianapolis skaters a total of 10 in three games against major league competition.

The Caps front line of Jud and Norm McAtee and Wendell Jamieson turned the hat trick in three minutes of the third period to force the Wings into the extra session.

Left Winger Jud McAtee scored two quick goals and passed to Jamieson for the third. Connie Brown, an ex-Capital wing again proved the downfall of the Indianapolis squad.

Brown scored two goals, one in the overtime, and had an assist to his credit. Again the Caps were capitalizing on the breaks. Two of their goals came when a penalty had reduced the Wings to five men.

Naval School Has Great Netters

GREAT LAKES, Ill., Oct. 27 (U. P.).—Lieut. J. Russell Cook, athletic officer, announced today that a record number of 72 candidates will try out tomorrow for the Great Lakes Naval Training Station basketball squad.

Cook said he will cut his first squad to 15 and expects to start season play in college and service competition about the last week of November.

Those reporting include Jim Currie and Dick Klein, former Northwestern athletes; Ernie Andres and Bill Menke of Indiana; Bob White, former Dartmouth captain; George Rung and Jim Van Orsdel, Miami; Forrest Anderson, Stanford; Bob Calihan, Detroit, and Frank Baumgartner, all-American from Ohio University.

Fuhrman Wins In Table Tennis

Cal Fuhrman was the singles champion today and Sterling Mitchell and Charles Tichenor held the doubles title in the 10th annual Indianapolis Table Tennis Open tournament held this week-end at the Jimmy McClellan Club.

The Dayton, O., champion defeated John Varga of South Bend in the semi-finals and conquered Mark Neff, a fellow townsman, in the finals, 21-18, 21-11, and 21-17.

The local team of Mitchell and Tichenor won over Jimmy Stout and Jimmy Shout, 21-13 and 21-9. Leah Thall of Columbus, O., ranked third in the national, pulled the upset of the tournament by beating Sally Green of Indianapolis, the national titleholder, to win the women's singles crown.

The boys' crown went to Dale McClellan of South Bend, Max Parille of Hammond captured the veterans' division.

Awards for sportsmanship went to Dorothy Elkin of Chicago in the women's division and to McClellan in the men's division.

Taber Wins First Casting Tourney

W. O. Taber scored a 98 last night to lead the first indoor casting meet of the season at Tomlinson Hall. Mrs. Ed Bright was first in the women's division with a 92 while Charles Sutphin led the juniors with a 96.

Ace Parker Shows Pros He's A Long Way From Through

NEW YORK, Oct. 27.—Those pro football critics, who've been asking "Is Ace Parker through?" had their answer today. Picked as the National League's most valuable player last season, Parker has been something less than a ball of fire this season. Hampered by the after-effects of another of those broken ankles suffered in baseball, Parker couldn't get going and the Brooklyn Dodgers lost three straight after winning their first two games.

Parker got started Sunday and in one of the greatest one-man exhibitions ever staged in the National League, the 168-pound Dodger halfback led his club to an astounding 16-13 victory over the hitherto unbeaten New York Giants.

The Dodgers were 1-5 underdogs, but when Parker got through, the Giants had their Eastern Division lead trimmed to a half-game over the Washington Redskins.

Only last week Parker was jarred badly by the Chicago Cardinals and sent to a hospital for two days with a mild brain concussion. At 29, he is one of the league's oldest pro players and even his most ardent boosters were beginning to admit that maybe Ace's oft-injured ankles and other bodily hurts had just about closed his career.

But the former Duke star yesterday exploded in the face of the Giants. He gained 96 yards in 11 attempts, completed five of 13 passes for 88. He pitched a pass for one score, set up the other touchdown and the field goal. Altogether he accounted for 194 yards, 16 yards more than the entire team.

Big Stuff

Football games drew a total of 121,664 fans yesterday. The top crowd—32,820—thronged Griffith Stadium where the Washington Redskins humbled the Cleveland Rams, 17-13.

The figures: At Washington: Redskins-Rams . . . 32,820

At Detroit: Packers-Lions . . . 30,269

At Brooklyn: Dodgers-Giants . . . 28,675

At Chicago: Bears-Steelers . . . 17,217

At Philadelphia: Eagles-Cards . . . 12,883

Total . . . 121,664

Parker tossed an 11-yard pass to Perry Schwartz for the first Dodge score. A 36-yard pass, Parker to Schwartz, set up the Dodge field goal, kicked by Merlyn Condit from the 20. Parker's 60-yard run paved the run for the game winning touchdown in the final period. Pug Manderly lugged it across from the 5-yard line.

Bears Unstopped

While the Giants went down to the first loss, the Chicago Bears continued as the scourge of the West with a victory over the Pittsburgh Steelers, 34 to 7. It was the Bears' fifth straight triumph and gave them a total of 209 points, an average of almost 42 points per game. The Bears marched 63, 49 and 85 yards of three of their touchdowns and passed 33 and 56 yards for two more.

The Green Bay Packers rolled up 438 yards and downed the Detroit Lions, 24-7. Steve Belichick, Detroit equipment man who was pressed into service when Lloyd Cardwell broke his ankle last week scored the Lions' only touchdown on a 73-yard punt return.

Getting off to a 17-point lead, the Washington Redskins defeated the Cleveland Rams, 17-13, for their third straight 4-point victory. Sammy Baugh's passing and punting (82.9 average on five punts) featured the Redskins' fourth straight win.

The Philadelphia Eagles rolled up a three-touchdown lead and beat the Chicago Cardinals, 21-14. Jim Castiglia scored two Eagle touchdowns and Tommy Thompson passed to Wes McAfee for the third.

Beech Grove and Steele in Tie

The leadership of the Indianapolis Recreation Department Senior football league is still undecided today. Unbeaten Beech Grove and Roy Steele played to a 26 to 26 tie yesterday.

In the other league games, Holy Cross defeated Shawnee A. C., 26 to 0, while Gold Medal Bears drubbed Broad Ripple A. C., 31 to 0. The defending champions from Beech Grove were again spaced by the touchdown passing and running of Frank Welton, former Butler star. Dobkins led the Steele boys.

The Crusaders pushed over two touchdowns in the first five minutes against Shawnee and were never in trouble. The Ripple eleven failed to make a single first down against Gold Medal.

St. Patrick's football team moved into a tie for first place in the C. Y. O. Cadet League by defeating St. Catherine, 14 to 6, yesterday. St. Patrick and St. Joan of Arc are both undefeated in six starts.

In the City Recreation Department Junior League the East Side Merchants defeated Boys' Town, 12 to 0. Plaza was an easy victory over Louie's Market, 37 to 0. DeMolay and West Side played to a scoreless tie.

Phillips, Veteran of Federal Loop, Dies

CHARLOTTE, Pa., Oct. 27 (U. P.).—Funeral services will be held tomorrow for William C. Phillips, 72, former pitcher for the Cincinnati Reds and baseball manager in the Federal League, who died at his home here last Saturday night.

A native of Allentown, Pa., Phillips played with the Reds for 13 years, after which he managed teams in the Federal League. Bill McKee, the Reds' present manager, got his start in baseball through Phillips. Phillips retired in 1916 to enter business here.

Rose Poly and Pumas Stalk State Crown

By UNITED PRESS

Lines written after looking over the Indiana Conference football situation:

The Conference train came down the track—

Twelve coaches looked and cried "Stand back."

"No room," their men all sobbed in tears—

The train was full of Engineers!

But, snarling at Rose Poly's horde,

The St. Joe Pumas leaped aboard.

That's about it, in a poetic outburst. With the season past the half-way mark, Rose Poly's driving Engineers are riding into the final lap the odds-on favorite to win or share the conference crown, with only St. Joseph's able to dispute their claim.

Smashing Franklin, 54 to 6, Saturday for their fifth straight win, Rose Poly needs only to hurdle Earlham to flash an unbeaten-untied record. Earlham has floundered three times in as many conference starts, losing to Wabash, Franklin and Evansville.

Rose Poly's powerful offensive machine hit its stride in the Franklin clash under the expert guidance of Ed McGovern, the Engineers' upstart frosh halfback, who accounted for three of the touchdowns and who again heads the column for the state's high scoring team. St. Joseph's brought back a 25-to-0 victory over Detroit Tech after a jaunt into Michigan Saturday, to erase the bad taste left by the previous week's tie with Illinois Wesleyan. St. Joe is unbeaten in Conference play, with only Valparaiso to be pushed aside on Thanksgiving Day.

Varsity Scores 3 Times

Pete Varini, St. Joe's plunging fullback, drove through the Detroit line for three touchdowns, with Nick Scollard, Puma left end, scoring the third. Scollard's usually accurate toe was still slanted, however, making only one of the four conversion tries.

Butler hit another detour on their "road back" when the Ohio University Bobcats romped over the Butler Bowl and the Hinklemen's hopes with a 20 to 7 polishing that almost stopped Butler in its tracks.

Smacking down the Butler line, Ohio poured through gaping holes with tom-tom regularity, with Butler picking up the pieces most of the game. Butler's lone score came in the fourth period on a "quarterback sneak" by Rodick after a pass to the Ohio 2 yard line.

Wabash and Ball State climbed a notch on the Conference ladder with wins over Hanover and Valparaiso, respectively. Wabash downed Hanover 20 to 6 before a homecoming crowd at Crawfordsville, in a game marked by frequent fumbling.

Smith, Pukema and Frickey On the Sidelines as Gophers Await Snarling Wildcats

But—Michigan, Who Beat N. U., Could Make Only Two Threats Against the Norsemen

By BOB FLEETWOOD

The mighty men of Minnesota from out the land and pages of Paul Bunyan scowled down at Northwestern today—the only one high to hinder.

The Golden Gophers are riding alone high up on the shattered title dreams of the toughest football league in the country, the Big Nine.

Northwestern made doubly ready for the Minnesota clash Saturday by erasing the Ohio State's question mark, 14 to 7. It's their whack at football's championship. Quick, Waldorf, the Chicago Bears.

But it is a rebounding Northwestern and a crippled Minnesota. The Michigan victory cost the Gophers a bruised leg for Capt. Bruce Smith, a wrenched knee for Herman Frickey and internal injuries to Helge Pukema, an outstanding guard.

Saturday was a mad, crazy day in Big Nine football. One that sent all but one title hope spinning, and the blue prints on this week-end are along similar lines.

A Cross-Country Meet

If you scored the Wisconsin-Indiana game like any other cross-country meet the Hoosiers would have won, 25 to 27. But it was football, eight touchdowns worth of wild, dizzy, thrilling football, and Wisconsin had the 27.

Now Indiana must go West and trounce Iowa by a bigger score than Purdue, 7 to 6.

The Boilermakers and the Irish go to New York City Saturday, Purdue to stop the "Rose Hill to Rose Bowl" movement of Fordham's marching backs who are as easy to bait as their names are to pronounce. Notre Dame clashes with an unbeaten Army eleven that is on the double march.

The Irish proved their greatness Saturday by defeating Illinois, 49 to 14. Now the fighting Illini must face Michigan. Ohio State will take the Big Nine rest-cure at Pittsburgh while Wisconsin entertains Syracuse which defeated Rutgers, 49 to 7, Saturday.

The Golden Gophers beggar description. That Michigan team was pointed. That same Michigan team that halted Northwestern, 14 to 7. Minnesota stole the Wolverines' punt (75 yards), their pass (45 yards) and left them without even the prayer. With all their vaunted power and Tom Kuzma, Michigan could threaten only twice. Score, 7 to 0. Ho hum, the Yankees, the Bears and the Gophers.

Irish Pour It On

Like many great athletic teams, the Irish are complacent and their anger is systematic. Ask a fighting Illini that irked Notre Dame by injuring Steve Juswik in the last quarter. Twenty-eight points it cost Bob Zuppke's boys.

Army, for the sake of future national defense, don't scowl at Angelo Bertelli. For we must come to the conclusion that Bertelli is one of the game's great passers. He is the Irish express. The Illini stopped that big Leashy Line cold most of the time but the perfection of the sophomore's passing was too much. Three touchdowns and 11 out of 21 tosses for 178 yards. That was Bertelli.

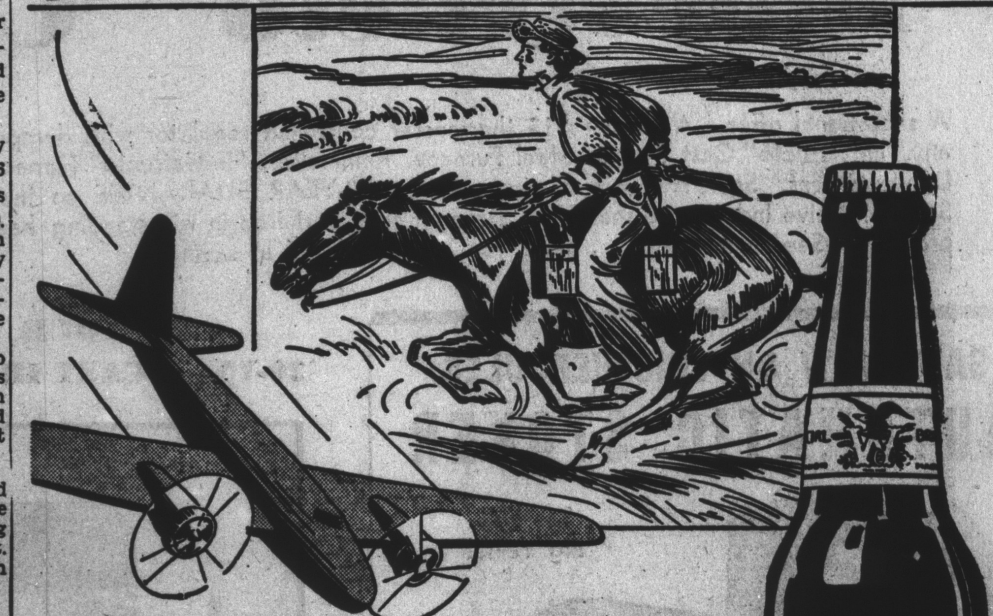

At the rate Hillenbrand is improving the Hawkeyes may have to

BASKETBALL

All members of the Castleton Eagles are to meet at Anderson College, Anderson, Wednesday evening at 7:15.

The Royal Crown Celts want to schedule out-of-town games on Sunday afternoon. Write Leo Ostermeyer, 161 English Ave., Indianapolis. The Royal Crown Celts opened their season last week by defeating Decatur Flyers, 48 to 41, in the Pennsylv Gym "warm-up" tournament. They will play the Bush-Peele League on Friday night.

TRADITIONALLY AMERICAN

America's tradition that "the mail must go through" began with the Pony Express in 1860. Alexander Majors, a Kentuckian, was the manager.

Ten years after the establishment of the Pony Express another Kentuckian, George Wiedemann, brewed the first cask of Wiedemann's Beer. Four generations of his descendants have continued in the family tradition . . . using his original formula and technique with the same slow process of ageing, brewing the same fine beer.

Always ask for Wiedemann's at your favorite cafe and at your grocer's.
