U. S. PLANES GUARD ISTHMUS OF PANAMA

PANAMA CITY, Dec. 9 (U. P.)—Dozens of deadly P-40 pursuit planes, droned back and forth across the Isthmus of Panama today, protect-ing the Panama Canal from attack.

Lieut. Gen. Frank Andrews an-nounced that war plans had been put into effect and that all com-mercial permits to fly over the Canal Zone had been rescinded.

The Zone's powerful coast artil-ery batteries were manned and ready to go into action at a mo-ment's notice.

The Government of Panama, ad-joining the Canal Zone, ordered all Japanese nationals arrested. It was expected that a blackout would be enforced nightly.

The Canal Zone was blacked out except for automobile headlights. All United States outposts in the Caribbean were on a wartime foot-ing.

JAPS' ECONOMY CALLED SHAKY

Decrees Indicate Need of Vital Raw Materials, Experts Maintain.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9 (U. P.)—Government economists doubted to-day that Japan's economy could withstand a long war with the United States.

Information received by the Com-merce Department and a series of recent Japanese Government de-crees indicated that she sorely needs vital raw materials.

Since midsummer the three major sources of Japan's raw ma-terials—the United States, the Netherlands Indies and the British Empire—have been cut off.

These three countries previously supplied the bulk of Japan's re-quirements for scrap and other iron and steel, lead, zinc, aluminum, copper, various ores, tin, machine tools, automotive products, petro-leum, wool and raw cotton.

Industry Disrupted

"Cessation of trade with these countries, accordingly, has seriously disrupted industrial activity and all business transactions in the island empire," said one of the Commerce Department's leading ex-perts on Japan.

"Japan is now primarily de-pendent on the resources of the areas within the yen-bloc (includ-ing Manchukuo and occupied China).

Prospects of early attainment of yen-bloc self-sufficiency, however—particularly in such essential items as special steels, high-speed ma-chine tools, ball bearings, aluminum, copper and lead, among other es-sentials—are not bright. There are no facilities for processing raw ma-terials even if these were readily available in large quantities."

The blockade which America, Dutch and British naval sources undoubtedly are establishing, of-ficials said, will cut off the Jap-anease from Latin America, its only other raw materials source outside the Far East.

Squeeze Began July 25

Japan first began to feel the real squeeze on raw materials after President Roosevelt ordered the "freezing" of all Japanese assets in the U. S. July 25. British Empire areas and the Dutch East Indies took action in sympathy with the United States.

This resulted in a virtual suspen-sion of all Japanese trade with these countries, which normally ac-counted for about 75 per cent of Japan's import and export business with foreign-currency countries.

As far back as mid-October, Commerce Department observers in Japan reported "apparent further declines" in that country's in-dustrial production.

Transportation of supplies pre-sented serious problems because of the increasing shortage of gasoline and oil, the poor condition of motor vehicles, and a large number of serious train wrecks, the experts said.

SENATE CLERK HAD SIMILAR ROLE IN '17

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9 (U. P.)—The man who typed out the declara-tion of war in 1917 rushed to the White House yesterday with the congressional declaration of a state of war between the United States and Japan.

He is Garrett Whiteside, now clerk of the Senate Committee on Enrolled Bills. As he bustled about with the 1941 declaration, having it printed at the Government Printing Office and returning it to the Capitol for signature there, he reminisced:

In 1917 he was called from his desk in the House bill clerk's office to take dictation from Chairman Earl Flood (D. Va.) of the House Foreign Affairs Committee. Mr. Flood read to him, from notes, the war declaration.

The British Ambassador, Cecil Spring-Rice, looked on as Mr. Flood dictated. When Mr. Flood had finished, he turned to the envoy and asked whether he thought the resolu-tion was "all right."

In his capacity now as clerk of the Senate Committee on Enrolled Bills, it was his duty to have the resolution printed and to take them to Speaker Sam Rayburn and Vice President Henry A. Wallace for sig-nature. He then delivered the resolu-tion to the White House.

FIRST 60-TON TANK DELIVERED TO ARMY

EDDYSTONE, Pa., Dec. 9 (U. P.)—The first American-built 60-ton heavy tank was delivered to the Army by the Baldwin Locomotive Works yesterday after a two-hour demonstration of its power and maneuverability.

The demonstration, before War Department officials, 350 leading in-dustrialists and several thousand Baldwin employees, was followed by a mock battle in which the heavy tank was pitted against two medium and three light tanks.

"This tank represents but one of many mechanical weapons being added to the military equipment of our Army," said Brig. Gen. G. M. Barnes of the Army Ordnance De-partment.

JUNIOR HIGH FOUNDER DIES

SEYMOUR, Dec. 9 (U. P.)—The founder of Indiana's high school system, Thomas Abbott Mott, 84, Seymour, died yesterday at his home. He was a former president of the Indiana State Teachers Associa-tion, and both the Northern and Southern Indiana Superintendents Associations.

U. S. Rounding Up Barrage Balloons for Army's Use

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9.—Uncle Sam is rounding up a herd of "mel-ancholy elephants" for the army. That, if you don't know, is what the British call the lumpy barrage balloons which are so valuable a part of London's anti-aircraft de-fenses.

With the nation now at war, we will not only need barrage balloons for its coastal cities, but also to guard locks in the Panama Canal, Welland Canal, Seattle Ste-Marie, for ship anchorages, vital bridges, ammunition plants and other national defense industries.

Army officials have set aside a 1000 acre tract of land seven miles south-east of Paris, Tenn., where officers and enlisted men can be thoroughly trained and formed into barrage balloon units. Finishing touches are being put on a school which will have six and twelve-week courses in the technique. The school, ac-commodating 7000 men, is expected to be completed by Jan. 31, 1942.

Barrage balloon units formerly belonged to the Air Corps, and have been transferred to the Coast Artillery Corps, but the Air Corps is still charged with procurement of equipment.

Two barrage balloon units were formed last summer, and four more are being organized. Until Camp Tyson, near Paris, is completed, training will continue at Camp Davis, N. C.

For safety's sake, most balloons in this country are inflated with non-inflammable helium gas. In-flammable hydrogen gas, which would be used later because there won't be enough helium to go around, is used in some balloons for training purposes so the men will learn all of the necessary precautions.

In England most of the balloons are sent up from parks and other open spaces. Army officials here are planning to attach some to the tops of skyscrapers in big cities like New York to give the balloons ad-ded altitude. Normally, the balloons soar about 8000 feet overhead.

TIME FOR UNITY, LINDBERGH SAYS

'Country Has Been Attacked And We Must Retaliate By Force of Arms.'

CHICAGO, Dec. 9 (U. P.)—Charles A. Lindbergh, isolationist spokesman, said yesterday that we must meet war with Japan "as united Americans."

"We have been stepping closer to war for many months," the aviator said. "Now it has come and we must meet it as united Americans, regard-less of our attitude in the past toward the policy our Government has followed. Whether or not that policy has been wise, our country has been attacked by force of arms, and by force of arms we must re-taliate."

"Our own defenses and our own military position have already been neglected too long. We must now turn every effort to building the greatest and most efficient Army, Navy and air force in the world."
