Roesinger Returns to Shelby
With Information on War's Innovations.

Capt. George A. Roesinger, 5824 Broadway, returned to Camp Shelby recently from Ft. Sill, Okla., where he completed a Field Artillery Battery Officers' Course.

Capt. Roesinger, who is a member of 139th Field Artillery Division, said field artillery at the school embodies all the latest innovations in warfare as demonstrated in Europe, Asia and Africa, and even includes "a few ideas never heard of on foreign fronts."

It's a small world when you're in the armed service. Recently Travis Glenn of Indianapolis, a member of the Marine Corps, noticed a familiar figure while walking down the street in Reykjavik, Iceland, where he is stationed. And no wonder—it was his brother, Ralph, in Naval uniform, whom he had not seen in a year. Neither knew where the other was stationed until the chance meeting.

Fred E. Johnson, former Eli Lilly Co. employee, has enlisted in the Navy. He is a graduate of Manual High School and the son of Loren Johnson, 1610 Wade St. He attended School 34 before entering Manual and is 19 years old.

Local Marine Promoted

Clarence J. Fisk, son of Mrs. Lula Fisk, 2305 Southeastern Ave., has received promotion to corporal in the Marine Corps. He is stationed at Quantico, Va. Corp. Fisk enlisted last March and received basic training at Parris, Island, S. C.

Returns to Post

Pvt. Leland Charley, member of the Medical Corps stationed at Camp Bowie, Tex., returned to his post recently after spending a short furlough with his mother, Mrs. Ada Charley of Oaktown. He has been in the Army since March.

The Navy Department today announced that all enlisted men who have had previous technical training may be advanced to lowest petty officer grades upon completion of recruit training. Heretofore, recruits have been rated after four months' service.

Plans College Tour

Lieut. Comm. S. A. Bishop, USNR, student procurement officer, will visit three Indiana colleges this month to interview juniors and seniors interested in becoming Naval Reserve officers.

On Jan. 15 and 16, Lieut. Comm. Bishop will be at Notre Dame University; he will visit Wabash College Jan. 22 and 23, and on Jan. 29 and 30 he will be at DePauw.

Under the Navy's plan juniors and seniors may now enlist in the Naval Reserve and are then placed on inactive duty until graduation.

A Ft. Wayne mother has three sons in the armed forces. She is Mrs. Cecil H. White and all of her sons are majors. John A., her youngest son, is serving with the Marines in the Asiatic area. James, the oldest, is assigned to special duties with the War Department in Washington, and Edward, the other son, is stationed at Wright Field, Dayton.

Complete Air Course

Among the recent graduates from the Army Air Corps Technical School at Chanute Field are two Indianapolis men:

Pvt. Richard H. Probst, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Probst, 1721 N. Alabama St., and Pvt. William Carvin, son of Mrs. Jennie Burton, 6511 Ferguson St.
