

CAROLINE EDSON DIES IN OREGON

Sculptress and Artist Was Daughter of Deceased Local Pastor

Miss Caroline Edson, Indianapolis-born sculptress and artist, died recently at Portland, Ore., where she lived with her brother, Dr. Elmer Rockwood Edson, superintendent of the Veterans' Hospital there.

Miss Edson was the member of a well-known family here. Her father, the late Rev. Hanford A. Edson, had been pastor of the Second and Memorial Presbyterian Churches in Indianapolis, and her mother, Mrs. Helen Mar Rockwood Edson, was the daughter of the founder of the Rockwood Manufacturing Co.

A member of the New York Art League, Miss Edson was 60. She had studied in Paris, France and Munich, Germany and for three years was an art instructor at Oklahoma State College.

She attended Wheaton Seminary and Vassar College and also held a bachelor of science degree from Columbia University.

Funeral services were held at Portland. Cremation followed.

George W. Padgett

Funeral services were to be held today in the Moore & Kline Funeral Home for George W. Padgett, a former carpenter here who died Saturday at his home in Fortville after a year's illness. Burial was in Floral Park.

Mr. Padgett was 73 and had retired 13 years ago. A native of Danville, he was a member of the 101 Men's Class of the Broadway Baptist Church here.

Mrs. VanHorn was a member of Olive Branch Bazaar Lodge, Olive Branch Social Circle, Olive Branch Past Noble Grands Association and Queen Esther Chapter, O. E. S.

She was a member of the West Michigan Street Methodist Church, having been affiliated with the church when it was the old King Avenue Methodist Church.

Mrs. VanHorn was born the daughter of Charles J. and Fannie E. Schlee. She was married to Edward E. VanHorn Nov. 29, 1899.

Besides her husband, she is survived by a son, Wilbur Schlee Daubert of Indianapolis, three grandchildren, four great-grandchildren and several nieces and nephews.

Philmer Eves

Philmer Eves, a founder of the Indiana Gas Association and the Indianapolis Nature Club, died yesterday at his home in Topsham, Me. He was 84.

Once an executive of the old Indianapolis Gas Co., Mr. Eves was widely known as a pioneer in the field of social hygiene. As an executive of the Patterson, N. J., Gas Co., he organized one of the first home economics courses sponsored by a public service company.

Survivors are his wife, a daughter, Mrs. Betty Prester of New York, and four sons, James of Passades, N. J., Philmer of Patterson, Arnold of New York and William of Topsham.
