THE American Association's official schedule, released today, is greeted as a harbinger of spring by the baseball fans throughout the Middle West. . . . It calls for the customary 154 games with the campaign opening on Thursday, April 16, and closing on Labor Day, Sept. 7.

It's the league's 41st year and the eight charter members still form the circuit. . . . All clubs have changed ownership frequently down through the many seasons but the cities are the same, with franchises in six states.

The A. A. swings back to the three-trip schedule this year after using the four-trip plan four seasons. . . . The three-trip calls for longer series but cuts down the over-all transportation cost, a big item in the minor leagues.

Open-day pairings stand as announced previously, with Columbus at Indianapolis, Toledo at Louisville, St. Paul at Milwaukee, Minneapolis at Kansas City. . . . Indianapolis closes on the road, at Louisville.

The Indians drew one holiday day, Memorial Day, May 30, a double-header, with Louisville at Victory Field. . . . The Indians play at Louisville on Independence Day and Labor Day.

The Tribesters drew ten Sunday dates, all double-headers, the first bargain attraction to be with Toledo on April 19. . . . four days after the championship play starts.

The Indians' road opener will be at Columbus on April 23. . . . First Western club to appear here will be Minneapolis on May 16. . . . East opens in the East and West in the West this time.

Tribes' First Trip Calls for 21 Games

THE FIRST APPEARANCE in the West by Gabby Hartnett's Indians will be in Minneapolis on May 1. . . . The schedule will test the Redskins' road form right off the bat.

Their first away-from-home trek calls for stops in six enemy parks, starting at Columbus on April 23, and then pastiming in Toledo, Minneapolis, St. Paul, Milwaukee and Kansas City for a total of 21 games. . . . The Tribesters' complete home and road dates:

During the 1941 season Fred Haney took over at Toledo and Charlie Grimm at Milwaukee. . . . New 1942 pilots are the Indians' Hartnett; Johnny Neun, Kansas City; Eddie Dyer, Columbus, and Truck Hannah, St. Paul.

MANAGERS RELEASED over the winter were Wade Killefer, Indianapolis, and Ralph Kress, St. Paul. . . . Burt Shotton departed Columbus to accept a coaching berth with the Cleveland Americans and Bill Meyer, Kansas City, transferred to the Newark Internationals, trading places with Johnny Neun. . . . Kansas City and Newark clubs are owned by the New York Yankees.

See 3-Way Tie In Indiana Loop

By UNITED PRESS

As Indiana College Conference next teams approach the season's close this week, odds increased that the three-way tie for first place between Butler, Indiana Central and Evansville would remain unbroken.

Two of the leaders, Butler and Indiana Central, complete their schedule this week.

A state college card of 28 games is on tap, with Butler meeting Wabash Tuesday night and DePauw Saturday.

25th for Greyhounds

Indiana Central's Greyhounds, after winning their 25th straight game Saturday night by downing Ball State, 42-33, come back for their last loop game Saturday against Manchester.

Evansville College suffered a non-conference loss to Ohio U. Saturday night in which high-scorer Gussie Doerner was held to 14 points.

Booked for tonight: Huntington at Valparaiso, and the Valpo quintet faces its eighth consecutive conference loss and Indiana State Teachers at Western State.

The remaining card:

TOMORROW
Butler at Wabash.
Franklin at DePauw.
St. Joseph at Central Normal.
Rose Poly at Anderson.
WEDNESDAY
Hanover at Louisville.
Taylor at Bluffton.
THURSDAY
Manchester at Anderson.
Valparaiso at Indiana State.
Earham at Susquehanna, Pa.
Western State at Evansville.
FRIDAY
Valparaiso at Central Normal.
Rose Poly at Wabash.
Earham at Swarthmore, Pa.
SATURDAY
DePauw at Butler.
Indiana Central at Manchester.
Franklin at Anderson.
Taylor at Concordia.
Western Michigan at Ball State.
Western Reserve at Notre Dame.
Chicago Teachers at St. Joseph.
Earham at Rider (Trenton, N. J.).
Shurtleff at Rose Poly.

Franklin and Manchester both added two wins to their records over the week-end, but the victories made only slight differences in the standings. Manchester's percentage raised from .818 to .846 but left the Manchester quint in sixth position because Indiana State added a win to keep No. 5 spot.

Taylor dropped from seventh to ninth position, allowing Wabash and Franklin to shift up a notch. Wabash dropped St. Joseph's to make it six victories and three defeats for .667, while Franklin's twin triumphs over Ball State and Hanover gave the Grizzlies nine wins to five losses for .646.

Oakland City, by beating Central Normal, moved from 17th to 16th spot, while the hapless Valparaiso five fell deeper into the loop cellar, taking its seventh straight loss from Manchester.

Following are current standings:

Ralph Carr Wins Casting Trophy

Ralph Carr yesterday won the McCarthy trophy for men's all-around plugging accuracy with an aggregate score of 198 in the Indianapolis Casting Club's tournament at Tomlinson Hall.

Gene Lackey placed second to Carr with 197 out of a possible 200. Charles Sutphin won the Junior McCarthy trophy. Mrs. Gladys Smith won the castoff from Miss Mary Johns to take the ladies trophy.

Purdue Celebrates 'Piggy's' 25th Anniversary Tonight

LAFAYETTE, Feb. 16 (U. P.)—Ward (Piggy) Lambert, the little silver-haired builder of great teams and great stars of the Purdue basketball court, will be "head man" tonight when Purdue celebrates his 25th year as Boilermaker coach.

"Piggy Lambert night" was designed to express a tribute to the man who, in 24 years, has:

1. Won six undisputed Big Ten championships.
2. Shared five conference championships, and finished in runner-up spot four times.
3. Averaged better than seven victories in 10 Big Ten starts, and three out of four wins for all games.
4. Produced nine Big Ten individual scoring champions since 1921.
5. Developed many All-American players, including Jewell Young, who holds the 12-game individual scoring record of 184 points set in 1938.

His All-Americans

Among Piggy's boys who were almost unanimously rated All-American were Stretch Murphy, Johnny Wooden, Norm Cotton, Bob Kessler, and Jewell Young.

Tonight's game marks the final home stand of Piggy's 25th Boilermaker creation, and although it isn't one of Lambert's best teams, the boys are keyed to defeat Wisconsin as a tribute.

Piggy led the Wabash College five in scoring when he was a 114-pound sophomore forward. From Wabash he went to Lebanon High School, where he had several successful years as predecessor to Alva Staggs and Glenn Curtis, who followed with state champions.

One Bad Year

In 1917, Piggy went to Purdue, where he remained ever since with the exception of 1918 when he was in military service. Only one year has a Lambert team dropped below 500 in the conference chase. That was in 1919 when Piggy came back from the army. Purdue handed him the team, such as it was, and the schedule, such as it was. The first game was three days away.

Lambert has sired the type of race-horse basketball that has made the Big Ten famous. His teams were the original "point a minute" men, his fast break and non-set style of play chaotic but effective.

An opposing team scout once left a Purdue game tearing up his notes. "How can you tell what they're going to do when they don't know themselves?" he complained.

Tonight's Games

In other Big Ten games tonight, Indiana University meets Michigan at Ann Arbor; Illinois' speedy sophomores meet Minnesota in Gopherland, and Chicago will give Northwestern a good scrimmage on the Wildcat floor.

In last Saturday night's games Indiana defeated Chicago, 51 to 20, with Warren Lewis, sophomore, getting 16 points for Indiana.

Purdue lost all chances for a title, Saturday, losing to Minnesota, 34 to 27. Other scores were Illinois, 52 to 29 over Michigan; Wisconsin's 49 to 39 decision at Ohio State, and Iowa's very close 46 to 44 victory over Northwestern.

After Third Title

MADISON, Feb. 16—A repeat performance this season would give Capt. Gene Rankin, Wisconsin lightweight, rank with Ted Kara of Idaho, the only three-time titleholder in N. C. A. A. history.

First Not Second

SANTA CLARA, Feb. 16—They have stopped calling Stan Patrick, Santa Clara's 20-points-a-game scorer, a "second Luisetti." Writers now refer to him as the "first Patrick."

Hogan Eyes Texas Open

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Feb. 16 (U. P.)—Money-wise Benny Hogan and Melvin (Chick) Harbert, two great pressure players, play off their tie for the annual Texas Open golf championship today at Willow Springs course.

Both had 272 totals—12 under par and a tournament record—for the 72-hole meet. The winner of the 18-hole play-off takes $1000 top money; the loser, $550.

Hogan, a Texan now playing from Hershey, Pa., carded a 65 and a 66 in the 36-hole finals Sunday to beat Sammy Snead's earlier 273 by a stroke.

Harbert, young Battle Creek, Mich., pro and winner of the Beaumont Open in the last of 1941's tournaments, trailed Snead by two strokes and Hogan by one at the end of 54 holes. He came to the last nine in the afternoon needing a five-under par 30 to tie for first, and five birdies he made gave him another chance for first money.

Snead Sliced

Harbert, leading the field by three strokes at the end of the first 36 holes, stroked a 70 and a 65 for his 272 total. Hogan's card showed rounds of 70-71-65-66-272. Sam Snead, who finished third, added a 65-68 to his earlier rounds of 71-69 for a 273 total, tying the previous tournament record set in 1941 by Lawson Little, defending champion.

Hogan trickled a 165-yard approach to within five feet of the pin on the last hole for a possible birdie and the championship. But his putt on the soggy grass stopped just inches short and he was forced to take a par and a 272 total which Harbert tied.

The tie gave Hogan a cinch on at least second money which, added to the $4900 he has earned already this year, will put him way ahead of the field for the nation's top money winner again in 1942.

Butler Still 10 Points Shy

The Bulldogs just can't do it. They can't beat Marquette this year and that's all there is to it.

And the margin is 10 points.

Saturday night it was 40 to 30 at the Field House. Earlier this year it was 39 to 29 at Milwaukee. Marquette did it Saturday on the basis of some weird one-handed push shots from beyond the foul circle, and some weird passing on the part of Butler.

The Bulldogs weren't ever really in the game, and any time they did threaten a little, either a Hiltopper would sink one, or a Bulldog would pass across the court in his own territory, and lose the ball.

As Glenn Goes—

One other observation: Butler seemed to go fine when big Glenn Miller was going hot. The whole team perks up if Glenn is working hard.

Sometimes, however, he did and sometimes he didn't Saturday night. He started slowly and Marquette took a 12 to 4 lead. Then he went into action.

Between taking the ball off Marquette's backboard and sinking pivot shots of his own, Miller paced Butler to a creditable 18 to 16 disadvantage at the half.

But Marquette just pulled away in the second half by shooting more and sinking more, grabbing the ball and not losing it.

And with eight minutes to go, that good old Butler rally never happened.

The summary:

BUTLER (30): FG FT PF
Fletcher, 8 10 10
Schmeyer, 6 8 8
Miller, 5 2 2
Hunkler, 3 3 1
Weaver, 2 2 2
Hardy, 1 1 1
Dewey, 1 1 1
B'm'tner, 0 0 0
Totals, 42 58 58
Score at half, Marquette, 18; Butler, 16.
Officials: Referee, Dick Ray (Cincinnati); umpire, Jim Knight (Chicago).

Buys Jannazzo

NEW YORK, Feb. 16—Chris Dundee purchased the contract of Izzy Jannazzo, Birmingham welter. Dundee managed Ken Overlin in the middleweight championship and lost to George Abrams to a crack at it.

For Tournament of Champs Next Monday in Chicago

While the competition and fun is over until next year for the Times-Legion Golden Gloves Novice class champions the Open bracket champs resumed training today in preparation for the big event in Chicago—the Tournament of Champions.

Teams from 47 Golden Gloves "centers" are booked to battle for glory in the Tribune Charities, Inc., amateur fistic classic that embraces 23 states.

The Indianapolis champs are scheduled to depart for Chicago next Monday morning. The tournament opens in Chicago Stadium next Monday night and lasts through Wednesday, Feb. 25.

On Monday, Feb. 23, four divisions box, flyweight, bantamweight, featherweight and lightweight.

On Tuesday, Feb. 24, the four heavier divisions perform, welterweight, middleweight, light heavyweight and heavyweight. Then on Wednesday, Feb. 25, survivors in all weight divisions will conclude the three-night program.

But back to the local Novice leather tossers. They helped in a big way to make the tenth annual Times-Legion tourney a grand success and the majority of them—if not all—will lace on the gloves again next year and gun for honors in the Open class.

Incidentally, the Open class boys who lost out in the finals staged at Butler Field House last Friday, are urged to keep in light training. In the event of injury or sickness in the ranks of the champs, runners-up will be eligible to compete in Chicago.

Grovo, Rascher Top Mat Card

Pairing of Whitey Grovo, a newcomer from Minneapolis, and Am Rascher of Cedar Lake, Ind., completes the wrestling card for tomorrow night at the Armory.

Grovo and Rascher grip for one fall as will Carlos Freeman of this city and Tony Ross of Little Rock, Ark. The latter two open the bill at 8:30 o'clock.

Ray Villmer, a grappler out of St. Louis and a recognized contender for the heavyweight crown, will seek to halt "Wild Bill" Longson, New York heavy, in the headliner. Longson has not been pinned in defeat since first showing here last fall.

Kautskys Have Busy Schedule

Faced with the prospect of two "must" wins in four remaining league contests to stay in the National Pro League playoffs, the Indianapolis Kautskys tonight start a six-game schedule in the next seven days.

They'll play the Goodyear five from Akron, O., at Rushville, Ind., tonight in a benefit for the Rushville High School band.

Tomorrow, the Ft. Wayne Zollners will be met at the Zollner's home floor. Wednesday, they play the New York Renaissance quintet in a return game at Louisville.

It's off to Atlanta, Ga., for an encounter with the New York Celts Thursday night and on Friday, the locals meet the Atlanta Policemen in a benefit game.

They take Saturday off to travel back to Indianapolis for a league game Sunday afternoon at the Armory with the Chicago Bruins. They lost to the New York Seagulls, 63 to 45, last night at Rochester, N. Y.
