By Eddie Ash

BASEBALL FANS are quick to catch on... Yesterday the American Association's 1942 schedule was released to and by the press... and presto!... The Indianapolis ball club sold approximately 800 tickets for opening day before the Victory Field office locked up late in the afternoon.

The Kiwanis Club topped the day's field by ordering 500 grandstand pasteboards... and with orders of that magnitude registering in the till Tribe Secretary Al Schlenker was moved to predict a capacity crowd on April 16 when the Redskins lift the lid against the champion Columbus Red Birds.

Schlenker says the grandstand capacity is 10,240, including box seats, and that not many ducks are left... All grandstand seats will be reserved on opening day, including general admission grandstand at 80 cents... and these are available now.

Inaugural day grandstand prices (adv.) are boxes, $1.25; first eight rows back of boxes, $1; all others, 80 cents... These prices are printed for the information of some fans who gained the impression that the Indians were jacking up the gate fee.

Secretary Schlenker places the park's seating capacity at 12,440, including room for 2200 in the bleachers... Parking will be free, as in the past, for all Victory Field customers... However, the parking system will be improved, particularly the entrances and exits... And the cinder situation in the parking lots will be given a thorough going-over.

Bush and Hartnett to Depart on March 6

TRIBE PLAYERS will not assemble in Indianapolis for the trip to the Cocoa Fla. training camp... This used to be the custom in the flush early Twenties when the boys rolled out of here in a couple of Pullmans... But gone are the days!

The 1942 Indian pastimers will go from their homes to the training base... Batterymen are under orders to report at Cocoa on March 7 and infielders and outfielders on March 13.

Departing Indianapolis for Cocoa on March 6 will be President Owen J. Bush, Manager Gabby Hartnett, Trainer Jim Pierce and Pitcher Bob Logan... The last-named is the only Tribe player who resides here.

Original plans called for Trainer Jim Pierce to go to Cocoa two weeks ahead of the first squad but so many favorable reports on the park, clubhouse and hotel were received that it was decided that the presence of an advance man was unnecessary.

SECRETARY AL SCHLENSKER said the Cocoa Chamber of Commerce notified him that everything was well in hand and that the Indianapolis players and officials are going to be surprised at the reception and training facilities.

Cocoa baseball fans are well-posted on Gabby Hartnett's name and fame and they feel they are getting the next best thing to a big league club for the duration of spring training... The Indians will be there from March 7 until well into April and it's a safe guess that many Hoosier winter tourists will stop off in Cocoa to watch the boys go through the paces.

Brooklyn Club Will Share In Nation-Wide War Effort

NEW YORK, Feb. 17 (U. P.)—The Brooklyn Dodgers became the first team in organized baseball today to arrange contribution of a substantial cash sum to the armed services. They announced a four-way program designed as their share of the nation-wide war effort.

The club offered to contribute the entire receipts for one day at Ebbets Field, in addition to its share of one road game, to some national service agency.

Also, every individual on the club from President Larry MacPhail to bat boy, will purchase defense bonds and stamps and the facilities of radio broadcasts of the games, billboards, loud speakers and score cards, will be used to promote the sale of bonds and stamps.

In addition to admitting at least 150,000 service men in uniform free of charge to Ebbets Field, the Dodgers also will play exhibition games during the training season and the pennant race with camp teams, donating the profits to camp athletic funds.

Coaches Will Serve
The services of coaches, scouts and players will be made available for instruction when requested by athletic officers and health divisions of Army, Navy and Civilian Defense organizations.

All expenses of Brooklyn players chosen to participate in the two major league all-star games for the ball and bat fund will be paid by the club and all the facilities of the team, including Ebbets Field, will be available for co-operation with industries or organizations assisting in the programs of various service agencies.

The entire program will be duplicated, without exception, throughout the entire Brooklyn organization which includes 10 minor league clubs.

MacPhail, his 1942 spring program off to an auspicious start with the signing of holdout first baseman Dolph Camilli and pitcher Curt Davis, left by plane today for Miami. The signing of Camilli and Davis gave Brooklyn a total of 30 signed players and eight holdouts. Only two, veteran southpaw Larry French and rookie pitcher Jack Kraus, can definitely be classed as dissatisfied.

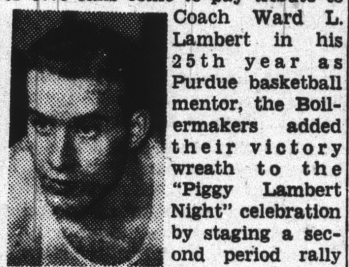

Whitlow Wyatt, an unsigned player, conferred with MacPhail here about 10 days ago but did not sign. However, he indicated at his Buchanan, Ga., home a few days ago that he expected to reach terms shortly.

Purdue Puts Wisconsin Out Of Big 10 Race

Win, 40 to '34, as They Honor 'Piggy'

LAFAYETTE, Feb. 17 (U. P.)—Purdue climbed into a three-way split with Iowa and Wisconsin today for the fourth ranking spot in Big Ten basketball with a 40 to 34 victory over Wisconsin last night, making it six up, four down for each of the four place contenders.

The defeat killed any title hopes for Wisconsin, defending champions. Before a record-breaking crowd of 8000 fans came to pay tribute to

Sprowl
Coach Ward L. Lambert in his 25th year as Purdue basketball mentor, the Boilermakers added their victory wreath to the "Piggy" Lambert Night celebration by staging a second period rally to wipe out the Badger threat that had kept the score on an even keel most of the way.

To Cecil Polk, junior Purdue guard, went the "huzzas" of the evening for an outstanding defensive game.

Kots Stopped
Assigned the task of keeping Wisconsin's John Kots, top-ranking conference point star, from the scoring column, Polk worried and nipped Kots to a three-point game total, two of them coming on a wild, one-handed shot from the sidelines.

Team	W.	L.	Pct.
Illinois	9	1	.900
INDIANA	8	3	.727
Minnesota	8	4	.667

PURDUE	6	4	.600

Purdue trailed 21 to 20 at the half. Midway in the second period, successive baskets by Menke and Blanken, and a sleeper by Riley gave the Boilermakers a six-point margin they never relinquished.

Leading the Purdue offensive, Frosty Sprowl tipped in six field goals and four from the stripe for a 16 point total. Sullivan, Wisconsin forward, high-pointed the Badgers with 13.

It was Purdue's last home game of the current campaign.

In an intermission ceremony, Lambert received a specially designed "P" blanket, emblazoned with silver basketballs in each corner and marked with a crown and his name, beneath which was carried the numerals of the 11 years in which Purdue teams have won the big ten basketball title under Lambert's tutelage.

From the Purdue Exponent, student newspaper, Lambert received a wrist watch in honor of his silver jubilee.

Among special guests present for the occasion were three former Purdue coaches: Wallace Reimann of Shelbyville, Charles Jamison of Lafayette, and Justin Maloney, Crawfordville, while several former Purdue players and captains also were on hand. Summary:

An Anniversary Gift for 'Piggy' Lambert

Butler at Wabash Tonight Headlines College Card

Butler and Wabash, two College Conference foes who delight in painting each other's campus in school colors or haze by hair shaving, meet tonight in a basketball encounter at Crawfordsville.

It will be one of four college tilts on tonight's card. Franklin meets DePauw at Greencastle, St. Joseph's plays Central Normal at Danville and Rose Poly will have an easy night with Anderson's Ravens at Anderson.

Wabash has nothing to lose and everything to gain tonight since Butler has won 29 straight games while the Little Giants dwell in seventh place away from any title hopes.

A 1938 Repeat?
It was back in 1938 and Butler went to Crawfordsville with an impressive record. The Cavemen rose up and knocked the Bulldogs off their perch, the last Butler defeat in 30 starts.

Wabash will be without Ralph Hessler, one of the squad's leading scorers. The former Shortridge player is ineligible temporarily because of scholastic difficulty. He may rejoin the squad within a few days. Otherwise Wabash will be at full strength.

Meanwhile the Butler lineup will differ from that when the Bulldogs defeated Wabash, 34 to 29, earlier in the season. Since then Butler has lost its two senior forwards through injury and ineligibility. Add to that that Wabash in its last two starts defeated Chautau Field, 39 to 37 and St. Joseph's, 61 to 29.

In other games last night, Indiana State fell before Western Kentucky, 53 to 48, at Bowling Green, Ky., and Valparaiso trounced Huntington, 62 to 45, at Valparaiso, in a conference tilt.

Pete Kelly Holds 6-Point Lead
NEW HAVEN, Conn., Feb. 17 (U. P.)—Pete Kelly of Springfield held a six-point lead today in the American Hockey League scoring race. Kelly, who went on a scoring rampage last week, now has a total of 56 points.

Sergt. Cy Valasek, former Ford City and Duke basketball, was starring for the Camp Lee team until he recently was transferred to another camp.

Sonja Henle lost a partner but the Canadian Army gained a lieutenant when Stewart Reburn crossed back over the border and went on active duty.

One of the second lieutenants at Ft. Leavenworth is Harry (Slippery) Lee, Missouri backfield ace. The Big Six also contributes two Nebraska gridgers, Harry Schwartzkopf with the Army, and Wayne Blue in the Army Air Corps.

Three of Marquette's 1942 football eligibles are already in uniform: Quarterback Chuck Beyer, Halfback Steve Zimmerman and Guard Ivy Cohen have enlisted.

Trip Michigan, 47-42, in Last-Minute Rally

Hoosiers Must Win All, Illini Drop Two

ANN ARBOR, Mich., Feb. 17.—Indiana's Hurryin' Hoosiers are still in the Big 10 title race.

They stayed that way last night by beating Michigan in a last-minute rally, 47 to 42. Captain Andy Zimmer and Warren Lewis dropped in the winning goals with minutes to go, after the Wolverines had taken a 40-to-39 lead.

So the Hoosiers have a Chinaman's chance of overtaking the Illinois sophomores, who pushed Minnesota out of the running last night at Minneapolis, 41 to 37.

If Indiana wins all four of its remaining games, the Hoosiers can tie Illinois, providing the Illini drop two of the five contests.

A See-Saw Affair
The first quarter of the tilt here last night was a see-saw affair, with Indiana holding a first-period advantage of 9 to 8. Little Irv Swanson then helped the Hoosiers pull away to a 16-to-12 advantage midway in the second period on a couple of one-handed push shots.

Indiana matched the Wolverines basket for basket and held to a 23-to-19 advantage at half time.

Although holding a 28-to-20 lead at one time, the Hoosiers finally dropped and Michigan drew up to a 35-to-35 tie in the final period.

Denton, Swanson Lead
The Wolverines went ahead, 36 to 35, and again, 40 to 39. But then came the rally that kept Indiana in the title race, winners of a hard-fought game.

Ed Denton and Swanson tallied 15 and 12 points respectively to lead the Hoosiers' scoring. But Mandler of Michigan was the game's high scorer with 17 markers.

John Logan, Indiana junior forward, remained here today with the flu while his teammates returned to Bloomington.

Logan is being treated in the health center at the University of Michigan. He did not play last night.
