

NAVY DAY RALLY STARS CORNELL

Actress Flies Here for Butler Fieldhouse Program.

The Navy Booster Day rally, already promising Hoosiers the biggest promotion program they have ever seen, will boast Katharine Cornell, as a star attraction Sunday night in the Butler Fieldhouse.

Miss Cornell, who is scheduled to open at English's Monday in the play "Rose Burke," agreed by telephone to fly to Indianapolis in time to make an appearance at 7:30 p. m. Sunday, according to Russell W. McDermott, secretary of the Indiana Navy Booster Club.

The mothers of men already in the Navy have been invited to take reserved places at the rally, with special seats for those mothers having two, three and four or more sons in the Navy.

"Attack" on Sunday

A parade and mock air attack on the city is planned as part of the all-day Navy program at 1:45 p. m. Sunday.

Although the airports of the state have been closed pending identification checks and installation of systems for checking fliers in and out of fields, Walker W. Winslow, wing commander of the civil air patrol of Indiana, expressed confidence that they would be re-opened in time to permit civilian fliers to take part in the "bombing."

During the mock raid, fliers will circle the city at altitudes of 2000 to 4000 feet. After the 12-minute rain of leaflets, instead of bombs, upon Indianapolis, there will be a parade in which Army as well as Navy units will be seen.

The Booster Day program is being arranged by the Indiana Navy Booster Club, which is headed by L. T. Dwyer. William P. Flynn is treasurer, and Mr. McDermott secretary.

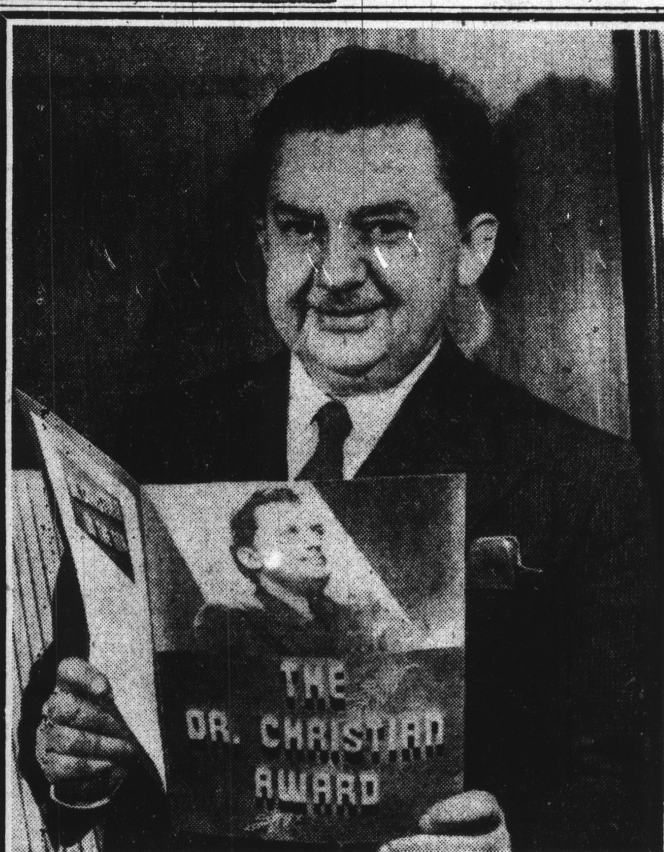

Present New Song

A new song will be presented at the evening program. It is "Come On and Fight," written by Howell Ellis, Indianapolis attorney, with Mrs. Grover B. Turner and Mrs. Jerome Bash. It was arranged by Henry Watkins.

The song will be sung by the Butler-Jordan Philharmonic Choir, accompanied by the Butler University Band.

Besides Miss Cornell, Governor Schickler, Lieut. Comm. Grover B. Turner, assistant to the officer in charge of Navy recruiting in Indiana, and Capt. E. M. Senn, inspector of Navy recruiting, will speak.

CLYDE STAGG RITES WILL BE TOMORROW

Services for Clyde A. Stagg, a former resident of Indianapolis, will be held at 11 a. m. tomorrow in the Clyde V. Montgomery Funeral Home. Burial will be in South Park Cemetery, Greensburg.

Mr. Stagg, who was 63, was born in Decatur County, came to Indianapolis in 1929, and then moved to Long Beach, Cal., where he died Saturday.

He was a member of the Methodist Church and the Greensburg Masonic Lodge.

Survivors include his wife, Eva; two daughters, Mrs. Louise Phelps of Madison, Wis., and Mrs. Marie Montgomery of this city, and a granddaughter.

BERTHA TOMLINSON DIES IN HOSPITAL

Mrs. Bertha Tomlinson died yesterday in St. Vincent's Hospital after a year's illness. She was 43 and lived with her husband, Thomas G., at the Seville Hotel.

Born in Pontiac, Mich., she came to this city last November after living in Detroit for 24 years. She was a member of the Christian Science Church.

Other survivors are a daughter, Mrs. Virginia Trewhella of Detroit, and her mother, Mrs. Belle Cook of Pontiac.

Services will be conducted in Detroit at the C. R. Hamilton Funeral Home with burial in Roseland Park Cemetery there.

CADWALLADER SERVICES SET

Civil War Veteran, 103, to Be Buried Tomorrow in Minnesota.

Funeral services will be conducted at 2 p. m. tomorrow for one of the last of the Civil War veterans, Nathan A. Cadwallader, at the Clyde V. Montgomery Funeral Home. Burial will be in Fairbairn, Minn.

Death came yesterday, a week to the day after Mr. Cadwallader had celebrated his 103rd birthday. He died at the residence of a second cousin, Mrs. John N. Gebhardt, 5226 Broadway, with whom he had made his home for the past seven years.

Enlisted in '61

Back in '61 he donned the Blue of the North as a member of the 55th Ohio Regiment in the Civil War. In '62 measles struck down 17 of his regiment.

Pvt. Cadwallader was one of them. He and an Indiana buddy were the only two to survive, but the price was high. Left blind in one eye, young Cadwallader did hospital nursing until discharged from the service. But he had his reward, the honor of shaking hands with Abraham Lincoln.

Heads for West

Still a young man of 24, he turned to the open stretches of the West. By stagecoach he traveled to Minneapolis. By foot, over Indian trails, he traveled the 60 miles to his future home in Fairbairn. It was there that Mr. Cadwallader lived until coming to Indianapolis seven years ago.

A native of Seneca County, Ohio, the soldier, farmer, and real estate agent had been a member of the Fairbairn Masonic Lodge for 77 years. On his last birthday, 134 members of the lodge sent him a signed card 3 feet 6 inches wide and 4 feet 6 inches long. It was delivered by mail.

He is survived by a granddaughter, Mrs. Alfred Paulson of Fairbairn, and several nieces and nephews in Ohio.

Mary E. Turner

A resident of Indianapolis for the past 20 years, Mrs. Mary E. Turner died yesterday in her home, 1840 Roosevelt Ave., after an illness of three days. She was 83.

Born in New Albany, she was a member of the Hillside Christian Church.

She is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Eliza M. Terry of this city; a son, R. P. Turner of Marion; two brothers, E. Z. Moore of Wichita, Kan., and G. E. Moore of Middletown, O., and six grandchildren.

Burial will be in Crown Hill following 1:30 p. m. services Friday at the Hillside Christian Church.

William Stickon

William Stickon died yesterday at the home of a nephew, William Engelking, 1705 S. Talbot St.

Mr. Stickon, who was 77, was a charter member of the Elks lodge and Prousen benefit societies.

Services will be conducted at 1:30 p. m. Friday at the G. H. Herrmann Funeral Home and at 2 p. m. in Friedens Evangelical and Reformed Church. Burial will be in Crown Hill.

Seven other nephews; four nieces; one great-niece; five great-nephews, and one great-great-nephew, survive him.

ALIENISTS MUM ON PAYNE TESTS

Bloomington's 'Jealousy' Trial Will Begin Tomorrow.

By JOHN BOWEN

BLOOMINGTON, Ind., Feb. 18.—Two court-appointed alienists today withheld their findings as to the mental condition of Mrs. Caroline Payne who goes on trial tomorrow charged with the "jealousy" slaying of Charles O. Mattingly, Indianapolis lawyer, last July 5.

Both Dr. Albert L. Crane, proprietor of a private sanatorium near Evansville, alienist for the prosecution, and Dr. Russell LaBlair of Terre Haute, defense psychiatrist, declined to comment today upon the mental tests completed yesterday.

Their testimony will be among the last evidence presented to the jury. The mental plea results in test examinations were made as the result of a special pleading filed by defense attorneys, Q. Austin East and J. Frank Regeater, in which they contended that at the time of the alleged slaying Mrs. Payne was of unsound mind.

Defense attorneys have indicated that the insanity pleading will be the foundation of their defense for the 43-year-old Bloomington newspaper executive.

Mrs. Payne is charged with killing Mr. Mattingly by firing five shots into his body through a window of a home where the attorney and his wife were visiting.

The State will charge that the shooting grew out of her jealousy over the marriage of Mr. Mattingly to Lorraine Oberholzer, his secretary.

The marriage took place in May, 1940, several months after Mr. Mattingly and Mrs. Payne broke off a romantic relationship of many years' standing.

GIVENS TO GIVE 3 TALKS IN 2 DAYS

State Treasurer James Givens, who will seek renomination on the G. O. P. ticket, will make three talks today and tomorrow at Richmond City and Tell City.

He will address Spencer County Republicans tonight at Richmond City, the Kiwanis Club tomorrow and Perry County Republicans tomorrow night at Tell City. He will be the guest at a reception given by Southern Indiana and Kentucky bankers tomorrow afternoon at Tell City.

Rites Tomorrow For Esta Ward

Burial in Riverside Cemetery will follow 10 a. m. services tomorrow at the Englewood Christian Church for Mrs. Esta Ward, who died yesterday at her home after an illness of two years.

Mrs. Ward, who was 49, was born in Spencer but came to this city in 1916. She resided at 3023 Newton St.

She was a member of the Englewood Christian Church and a past matron of the Englewood Chapter, O. E. S.

Survivors include her husband, Chester; a son, Paul G.; a sister, Mrs. Clarence Ward; two grandsons, Ronnie and Phillip Ward, all of this city; two half-brothers, Foster and Marshall Gates, and her stepmother, Mrs. Nola Gates, all of Spencer.

HEALTH CLASS MEETS

A class to study accident and health insurance from a standpoint of home and personal defense was inaugurated today by members of the Indianapolis Accident and Health Club. The class will meet each Wednesday at 8 a. m. for three months in the Indianapolis Athletic Club.
