

LEAVES GROUND FOR AIR CORPS

Jack Shaaber Joined the Infantry but Now He's Flying Cadet.

Jack D. Shaaber of Indianapolis enlisted in the 11th infantry in 1939 and for a time was perfectly satisfied with life on the ground at Ft. Harrison and Ft. Hayes, O.

However, it was not long before the urge to fly overtook him and after making application he was admitted to the air corps and stationed at Santa Ana, Cal. Now as a flying cadet he is zooming through the clouds on tactical maneuvers and practice flights.

He is the son of Mrs. Betty Mendel, 1535 E. Market st. and a graduate of Manual high school.

His brother, Pvt. Robert Shaaber, is in the medical corps and is stationed in Puerto Rico.

Mothers of Indianapolis men in navy air training will elect officers of their newly formed V-5 Mothers club today. V-5 is the class number of men in air training. The meeting will be at the home of Mrs. G. H. Shadinger, 302 Buckingham drive.

Father Wants in Navy, Too

Lieut. William Halley, Howard V. Vaughn and Glen Vaughn.

After taking his son, Glen, 17, to the navy recruiting station to help him enlist in the U. S. navy, Howard V. Vaughn, 42, of 960 N. Kealing ave., thought that he might like to take another whirl at sea soldiering. So, before they had been in the station more than a few minutes, Mr. Vaughn was discussing requirements with Lieut. William Halley, civil engineer officer. His enlistment application is pending.

Mr. Vaughn is an electrician and has been a member of the city fire department headquarters rescue squad the last four years. His son attended Technical high school and works as a carpenter.

10 BEGIN 'BOOT' SCHOOL IN NAVY

Local Youths at Great Lakes Start Training This Week.

The naval training station at Great Lakes has received 10 Indianapolis men who will begin their "boot" training this week. The men are:

Kenneth E. Carlyle, 109 S. Park ave.; Raymond A. Longworth, 1221 Windsor st.; Richard H. Papp, 1814 N. Warman ave.; Carl E. Smith, 1336 E. Raymond st.; Charles Pier-sall Jr., 1031 N. Beville st.; Albert L. Rodenbeck, R. R. 11; Frank G. Schneider, R. R. 8; Wilkes W. Neill, 730 N. Tibbs ave.; Lloyd A. Brown, 806 Warren ave., and Robert E. Stewart, 1239 S. Lee st.

They Ride Horses

Even with all the nation's mechanized troops there still remains one cavalry replacement training center. At this center, located at Ft. Riley, Kas., are six Indianapolis men who are nearing completion of their military training course in how to wage war while astride a horse's back. The men are:

Frank L. Castner, 540 N. LaSalle st.; M. Woodrow Cole, 149 1/2 Kansas st.; Harvey L. Folkening, 1719 S. Emerson ave.; Pierre B. Aiman, 4919 N. Meridian st.; Roy Walter Miller, 1536 Brookside ave., and Warren W. Harvey, 2750 N. Adams st.

Party for Soldiers

The Royal Beauty Academy, chapter of the Beta Beta Lambda, national beauticians sorority will entertain 50 soldiers from Ft. Harrison tomorrow at 8:30 p. m. The party will be at the 50-50-club, 211 N. Delaware st. Miss Ruth Archibald, faculty sorority sponsor, is arrangements chairman. Miss Martha Widener is chapter president.

DEMANDS PLANT SEIZURE POWER

Connally Presses for Bill To Let U. S. Take Over Struck War Factories.

WASHINGTON, March 31 (U. P.).—Tom Connally (D. Tex.) promised today to "keep on a-raising hell" until the senate acts on his bill authorizing the government to seize and operate strike-bound war plants.

He thought he might get an opportunity today if the senate disposes of its pending business, a bill to set up a $100,000,000 smaller war plants corporation under the war production board to act as a prime contractor and help small business get war production contracts.

Barkley Charges Plot

Mr. Connally's bill would extend the government's present plant seizure power to cover mines and "facilities," "freeze" existing closed shop and other industry-labor relations, and put wage adjustments in charge of a board. The seizure power would have the effect of outlawing strikes when it was exercised. Mr. Connally attempted to call it up yesterday, but could not get recognition. His action caused Senate Democratic Leader Alben W. Barkley of Kentucky to charge that an organized attempt is being made to "intimidate, browbeat and insult" congress into passing labor legislation by a campaign of "canned threats" of political defeat.

Fears 40-Hour Dispute

Administration leaders fear that if brought up for debate the Connally measure would be made the vehicle for enactment of other legislation, including elimination or relaxation of the 40-hour work week. Mr. Barkley said the cost of living has increased about 15 per cent since the outbreak of the World War and that overtime payments now being made to labor just about take care of it. He reasoned that if overtime rates were eliminated not only would it mean reopening of innumerable contracts on the subject, but that there would be demands from labor for increases in base pay.

Arrest Clue Given By Blind Woman

A BLIND woman today identified the voice of a young man who allegedly attempted to hold her up in her home. The woman, Mrs. Pearl Dyners, 51, of 430 Congress ave., and her guest, Mrs. Minnie Stoeffer, 462 Congress ave., ran out of the Dyners home when the youth walked in through the back door and announced: "This is a stick-up!" Mrs. Stoeffer gave police a description which led to the youth's arrest.

The suspect, registered as Earl Jenkins, 24, of 1106 W. 28th st., was charged with entering a house to commit a felony while armed.

FAVORS PLACING CCC UNDER ARMY

Ulio Sees Corps as Value To Services; Not a Relief Agency, McEntee Says.

WASHINGTON, March 31.—Major Gen. James A. Ulio, adjutant general of the U. S. army, told the senate education and labor committee that he would like to have the civilian conservation corps enrollees in the service.

About 98,000 of the approximately 108,000 CCC enrollees now are employed as labor battalions at army posts. Senator Kenneth D. McKellar (D. Tenn.), will amend his bill to abolish CCC and the national youth administration so that the army can have complete supervision of all the post CCC camps.

He expects to question director James J. McEntee of CCC today regarding such a shift. The CCC director appeared at the hearings on the McKellar bill yesterday and pleaded that his organization be kept intact. He denied it ever was a relief agency, and even suggested that it be used as a sort of pre-service training corps in order to hold it together.

"I often wonder why we do not give immediate attention to these youngsters who are physically soft," Mr. McEntee said in a prepared statement, "perhaps starting at 17 and encouraging them to spend what might be termed a six-month apprenticeship in CCC camps." Gen. Ulio, a colonel, two lieutenant colonels and two majors spent yesterday morning in the committee room trying to defend the CCC for the administration. President Roosevelt doesn't want either CCC or NYA abolished. It was only under Senator McKellar's questioning that Gen. Ulio admitted he would like to have the CCC youths in the army. The general is on the CCC advisory council. Both CCC and NYA are under Federal Security Administrator Paul V. McNutt. Director McEntee startled the committeemen with his statement that CCC never was a relief agency, although it was inaugurated at the depth of the depression in 1933 and all the testimony before congress at that time was predicated on the idea that it was for relief of both the youths and their needy parents. Here is what Mr. McEntee said: "In the minds of some people the corps is a relief agency for which a need no longer exists. The corps in its early years did a great relief job. Let me say, however, the corps never was a relief agency from the standpoint that the men enrolled in the corps are put on made work in order to give them something to do." Questioning by Senator McKellar brought out that the corps has cost $2,257,620,000 so far. He proposes to carry on the army part of it and the fire protection camps under the U. S. forest service for about $30,000,000, the Tennessee senator said. He is a member of the Byrd committee to curtail non-defense expenditures, and cutting out NYA and CCC is a major item in the committee's recommendations.

RODEO OR RANGE—TOP-HANDS AGREE: "THERE'S NOTHING LIKE A CAMEL"

GRAND CHAMPION ALL-ROUND COWBOY FRITZ TRUAN also has a Saddle Bronc ride to his credit. Cheyenne... Pendleton... wherever the riding is the roughest... you'll find Fritz in action—either on a sun-fishing saddle or enjoying a Camel (right). "Yes, mildness counts plenty in my game," says Fritz. "And Camels are extra mild. I've smoked 'em for 10 years."

"AFTER A REAL TOUGH RIDE, believe me, nothing hits the spot like a Camel," says Steer-Riding Champion Gene Rambo (right). "That full, rich flavor is great—and no matter how much I smoke, Camels always taste swell. What's more, the extra smoking in Camels is mighty welcome economy."

"LESS NICOTINE in the smoke makes good horse sense to me," explains Bareback Bronc ace Hank Mills (left). "Camels have the mildness that counts. They've got the flavor, too." Everywhere you go, it's the same—for extra mildness, coolness, and flavor, there's nothing like a Camel—America's favorite.

The smoke of slower-burning Camels contains 28% LESS NICOTINE than the average of the 4 other largest-selling cigarettes tested—less than any of them—according to independent scientific tests of the smoke itself!
