

MISUSE OF FOOD STAMPS HALTED

Denied to Five Groceries Which Accepted Them for Too Many Items.

Five Indianapolis groceries have been denied participation in the federal food stamp plan because they were not properly accepting food stamps, supervisor of the agricultural marketing administration in this area, announced today.

Mr. Woods said that in some cases the stores were accepting the orange food stamps, which are good for any food, for such items as soap and brooms and in other cases were taking the blue stamps, good only for designated foods, for any food.

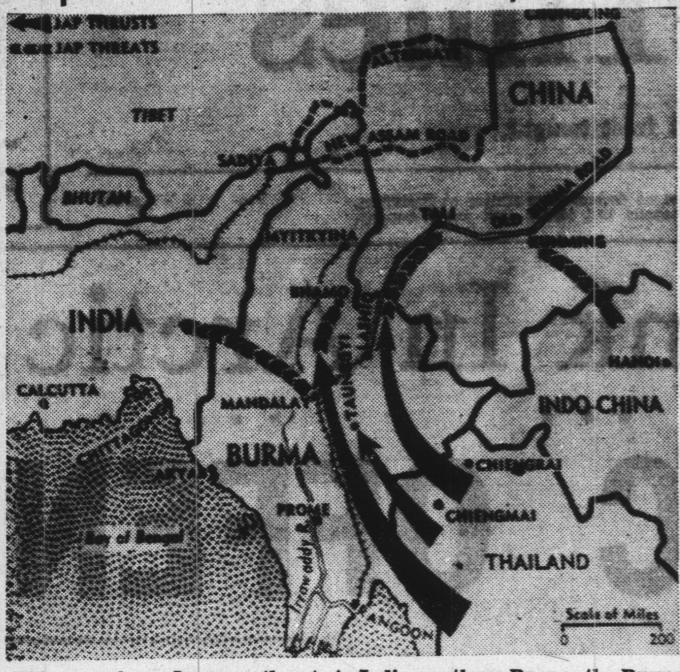

This, Mr. Woods, explained, is making the federal government pay for items not on the approved list.

He said that his office had been checking on all stores in Marion county in connection with the administration of the food stamp plan and would continue to do so.

"Our purpose," Mr. Woods said, "is to make certain that food stamps are used properly. The success of this program depends upon proper use of the stamps."

He said that the five groceries were denied participation in the plan only after a thorough investigation.

Japs Thrust at India, China

This map shows Japanese threats to India, northern Burma, the Burma road and Chungking.

HINT SHAKE-UP LOOMS IN SPAIN

Madrid Reports Tell of Rising Hostility to Nazi Collaboration.

By UNITED PRESS

A cabinet shake-up is imminent in Spain because of mounting army, monarchist and conservative opposition to close collaboration with Germany, private but reliable advices from Europe said today.

These advices reported that there had been serious incidents between the army and the Falange, the official Nationalist political organization, and that an attempt had been made to kill Jose Antonio Giron, minister of labor.

According to the advices, Ramon Serrano Suner, pro-German foreign minister and head of the Falange party, is likely to lose his post in the shake-up.

Surer May Go to Rome

London heard that Serrano Suner might be sent to Rome to fill the post of ambassador which has been vacant for months.

Reports received in New York said the army was likely to get important posts in a new Spanish cabinet which would be strongly centrist-conservative in complexion, and that Dr. Questa, Spanish ambassador to Brazil, would be brought home to lead the Falange party.

Generalissimo Francisco Franco, the Spanish leader, retains his popularity in the country, it was said, but fighting against his national Falange, corresponding to the Fascist party in Italy, is growing.

Serrano Suner is his brother-in-law. Some 800 men of the nationalist "blue division" who went to the Russian front as volunteers to fight against Russia have been killed or wounded, according to the advices, and nearly all the others have been sent home.

Early last month, the Catholic bishop of Logrono issued a pastoral letter severely criticizing Nazi philosophy, and saying that Nazism, not Communism, was Spain's real enemy.

Fighting was reported between Dniepropetrovsk, the industrial city in the bend of the Dnieper river, 120 miles southwest of Kharkov and Poltava, 82 miles west of Kharkov. Radio Moscow announced that 25 German planes were shot down Saturday, against a loss of eight Soviet aircraft.

LONDON, May 4 (U. P.)—Marshal Semyon K. Timoshenko's Russian army on the southwest front, seeking to forestall a German thrust toward the Caucasus oil fields, has by-passed Kharkov and is fighting nearly 100 miles beyond that city, Soviet dispatches said today.

Timoshenko has driven a wedge south of Kharkov, the "Russian Pittsburgh," and the major fighting now is in progress to the southwest.

Fighting was reported between Dniepropetrovsk, the industrial city in the bend of the Dnieper river, 120 miles southwest of Kharkov and Poltava, 82 miles west of Kharkov.

Radio Moscow announced that 25 German planes were shot down Saturday, against a loss of eight Soviet aircraft.

Two weeks later the letter was read in other Spanish churches, including those in Madrid, and copies of it were circulated among Catholics, it was asserted.

NEWS REPORTERS RETURN TO MOSCOW

MOSCOW, May 4 (U. P.)—Foreign newspaper correspondents have returned to Moscow from Kublyshev for an indefinite stay.

Correspondents and diplomats were moved from Moscow when the German armies last year threatened encirclement of the city.

(Their return at a time when the axis has been talking about a summer offensive in Russia appeared to indicate increased Russian confidence.)

Y. M. 'LEARN-TO-SWIM' CLASSES OPEN TODAY

The Central "Y" is sponsoring a "learn-to-swim" campaign and the first of five classes was to be held at the "Y" pool.

The classes are for county boys and is similar to the city-wide swim campaign in which 185 boys in Indianapolis grade schools were taught to swim. John Wilson, boys athletic director, is in charge.

Y. M. 'LEARN-TO-SWIM' CLASSES OPEN TODAY

The Central "Y" is sponsoring a "learn-to-swim" campaign and the first of five classes was to be held at the "Y" pool.

The classes are for county boys and is similar to the city-wide swim campaign in which 185 boys in Indianapolis grade schools were taught to swim. John Wilson, boys athletic director, is in charge.

Y. M. 'LEARN-TO-SWIM' CLASSES OPEN TODAY

The Central "Y" is sponsoring a "learn-to-swim" campaign and the first of five classes was to be held at the "Y" pool.

The classes are for county boys and is similar to the city-wide swim campaign in which 185 boys in Indianapolis grade schools were taught to swim. John Wilson, boys athletic director, is in charge.

Y. M. 'LEARN-TO-SWIM' CLASSES OPEN TODAY

The Central "Y" is sponsoring a "learn-to-swim" campaign and the first of five classes was to be held at the "Y" pool.

The classes are for county boys and is similar to the city-wide swim campaign in which 185 boys in Indianapolis grade schools were taught to swim. John Wilson, boys athletic director, is in charge.

Y. M. 'LEARN-TO-SWIM' CLASSES OPEN TODAY

The Central "Y" is sponsoring a "learn-to-swim" campaign and the first of five classes was to be held at the "Y" pool.

The classes are for county boys and is similar to the city-wide swim campaign in which 185 boys in Indianapolis grade schools were taught to swim. John Wilson, boys athletic director, is in charge.

Y. M. 'LEARN-TO-SWIM' CLASSES OPEN TODAY

The Central "Y" is sponsoring a "learn-to-swim" campaign and the first of five classes was to be held at the "Y" pool.

The classes are for county boys and is similar to the city-wide swim campaign in which 185 boys in Indianapolis grade schools were taught to swim. John Wilson, boys athletic director, is in charge.

Y. M. 'LEARN-TO-SWIM' CLASSES OPEN TODAY

The Central "Y" is sponsoring a "learn-to-swim" campaign and the first of five classes was to be held at the "Y" pool.

The classes are for county boys and is similar to the city-wide swim campaign in which 185 boys in Indianapolis grade schools were taught to swim. John Wilson, boys athletic director, is in charge.

Y. M. 'LEARN-TO-SWIM' CLASSES OPEN TODAY

The Central "Y" is sponsoring a "learn-to-swim" campaign and the first of five classes was to be held at the "Y" pool.

The classes are for county boys and is similar to the city-wide swim campaign in which 185 boys in Indianapolis grade schools were taught to swim. John Wilson, boys athletic director, is in charge.

Y. M. 'LEARN-TO-SWIM' CLASSES OPEN TODAY

The Central "Y" is sponsoring a "learn-to-swim" campaign and the first of five classes was to be held at the "Y" pool.

The classes are for county boys and is similar to the city-wide swim campaign in which 185 boys in Indianapolis grade schools were taught to swim. John Wilson, boys athletic director, is in charge.

Y. M. 'LEARN-TO-SWIM' CLASSES OPEN TODAY

The Central "Y" is sponsoring a "learn-to-swim" campaign and the first of five classes was to be held at the "Y" pool.

The classes are for county boys and is similar to the city-wide swim campaign in which 185 boys in Indianapolis grade schools were taught to swim. John Wilson, boys athletic director, is in charge.

Y. M. 'LEARN-TO-SWIM' CLASSES OPEN TODAY

The Central "Y" is sponsoring a "learn-to-swim" campaign and the first of five classes was to be held at the "Y" pool.

The classes are for county boys and is similar to the city-wide swim campaign in which 185 boys in Indianapolis grade schools were taught to swim. John Wilson, boys athletic director, is in charge.

Y. M. 'LEARN-TO-SWIM' CLASSES OPEN TODAY

The Central "Y" is sponsoring a "learn-to-swim" campaign and the first of five classes was to be held at the "Y" pool.

The classes are for county boys and is similar to the city-wide swim campaign in which 185 boys in Indianapolis grade schools were taught to swim. John Wilson, boys athletic director, is in charge.

Y. M. 'LEARN-TO-SWIM' CLASSES OPEN TODAY

The Central "Y" is sponsoring a "learn-to-swim" campaign and the first of five classes was to be held at the "Y" pool.

The classes are for county boys and is similar to the city-wide swim campaign in which 185 boys in Indianapolis grade schools were taught to swim. John Wilson, boys athletic director, is in charge.

Y. M. 'LEARN-TO-SWIM' CLASSES OPEN TODAY

The Central "Y" is sponsoring a "learn-to-swim" campaign and the first of five classes was to be held at the "Y" pool.

The classes are for county boys and is similar to the city-wide swim campaign in which 185 boys in Indianapolis grade schools were taught to swim. John Wilson, boys athletic director, is in charge.

Y. M. 'LEARN-TO-SWIM' CLASSES OPEN TODAY

The Central "Y" is sponsoring a "learn-to-swim" campaign and the first of five classes was to be held at the "Y" pool.

The classes are for county boys and is similar to the city-wide swim campaign in which 185 boys in Indianapolis grade schools were taught to swim. John Wilson, boys athletic director, is in charge.

Y. M. 'LEARN-TO-SWIM' CLASSES OPEN TODAY

The Central "Y" is sponsoring a "learn-to-swim" campaign and the first of five classes was to be held at the "Y" pool.

The classes are for county boys and is similar to the city-wide swim campaign in which 185 boys in Indianapolis grade schools were taught to swim. John Wilson, boys athletic director, is in charge.

Y. M. 'LEARN-TO-SWIM' CLASSES OPEN TODAY

The Central "Y" is sponsoring a "learn-to-swim" campaign and the first of five classes was to be held at the "Y" pool.

The classes are for county boys and is similar to the city-wide swim campaign in which 185 boys in Indianapolis grade schools were taught to swim. John Wilson, boys athletic director, is in charge.

Y. M. 'LEARN-TO-SWIM' CLASSES OPEN TODAY

The Central "Y" is sponsoring a "learn-to-swim" campaign and the first of five classes was to be held at the "Y" pool.

The classes are for county boys and is similar to the city-wide swim campaign in which 185 boys in Indianapolis grade schools were taught to swim. John Wilson, boys athletic director, is in charge.

Y. M. 'LEARN-TO-SWIM' CLASSES OPEN TODAY

The Central "Y" is sponsoring a "learn-to-swim" campaign and the first of five classes was to be held at the "Y" pool.

The classes are for county boys and is similar to the city-wide swim campaign in which 185 boys in Indianapolis grade schools were taught to swim. John Wilson, boys athletic director, is in charge.

Y. M. 'LEARN-TO-SWIM' CLASSES OPEN TODAY

The Central "Y" is sponsoring a "learn-to-swim" campaign and the first of five classes was to be held at the "Y" pool.

The classes are for county boys and is similar to the city-wide swim campaign in which 185 boys in Indianapolis grade schools were taught to swim. John Wilson, boys athletic director, is in charge.

Y. M. 'LEARN-TO-SWIM' CLASSES OPEN TODAY

The Central "Y" is sponsoring a "learn-to-swim" campaign and the first of five classes was to be held at the "Y" pool.

The classes are for county boys and is similar to the city-wide swim campaign in which 185 boys in Indianapolis grade schools were taught to swim. John Wilson, boys athletic director, is in charge.

Y. M. 'LEARN-TO-SWIM' CLASSES OPEN TODAY

The Central "Y" is sponsoring a "learn-to-swim" campaign and the first of five classes was to be held at the "Y" pool.

The classes are for county boys and is similar to the city-wide swim campaign in which 185 boys in Indianapolis grade schools were taught to swim. John Wilson, boys athletic director, is in charge.

Y. M. 'LEARN-TO-SWIM' CLASSES OPEN TODAY

The Central "Y" is sponsoring a "learn-to-swim" campaign and the first of five classes was to be held at the "Y" pool.

The classes are for county boys and is similar to the city-wide swim campaign in which 185 boys in Indianapolis grade schools were taught to swim. John Wilson, boys athletic director, is in charge.

Y. M. 'LEARN-TO-SWIM' CLASSES OPEN TODAY

The Central "Y" is sponsoring a "learn-to-swim" campaign and the first of five classes was to be held at the "Y" pool.

The classes are for county boys and is similar to the city-wide swim campaign in which 185 boys in Indianapolis grade schools were taught to swim. John Wilson, boys athletic director, is in charge.

Y. M. 'LEARN-TO-SWIM' CLASSES OPEN TODAY

The Central "Y" is sponsoring a "learn-to-swim" campaign and the first of five classes was to be held at the "Y" pool.

The classes are for county boys and is similar to the city-wide swim campaign in which 185 boys in Indianapolis grade schools were taught to swim. John Wilson, boys athletic director, is in charge.

Y. M. 'LEARN-TO-SWIM' CLASSES OPEN TODAY

The Central "Y" is sponsoring a "learn-to-swim" campaign and the first of five classes was to be held at the "Y" pool.

The classes are for county boys and is similar to the city-wide swim campaign in which 185 boys in Indianapolis grade schools were taught to swim. John Wilson, boys athletic director, is in charge.

Y. M. 'LEARN-TO-SWIM' CLASSES OPEN TODAY

The Central "Y" is sponsoring a "learn-to-swim" campaign and the first of five classes was to be held at the "Y" pool.

The classes are for county boys and is similar to the city-wide swim campaign in which 185 boys in Indianapolis grade schools were taught to swim. John Wilson, boys athletic director, is in charge.

Y. M. 'LEARN-TO-SWIM' CLASSES OPEN TODAY

The Central "Y" is sponsoring a "learn-to-swim" campaign and the first of five classes was to be held at the "Y" pool.

The classes are for county boys and is similar to the city-wide swim campaign in which 185 boys in Indianapolis grade schools were taught to swim. John Wilson, boys athletic director, is in charge.

Y. M. 'LEARN-TO-SWIM' CLASSES OPEN TODAY

The Central "Y" is sponsoring a "learn-to-swim" campaign and the first of five classes was to be held at the "Y" pool.

The classes are for county boys and is similar to the city-wide swim campaign in which 185 boys in Indianapolis grade schools were taught to swim. John