

HIGH SCHOOL BOYS SERVE AS FIREMEN

TEANECK, N. J., May 8 (U. P.).—Nine Teaneck schoolboys are realizing every boy's dream of riding on the town's fire engines. What's more, they are being paid for it. They are high school seniors, all under 18, who have replaced adult firemen called for military duty. They are on duty at the firehouse nightly from 8 p. m. to 7 a. m., studying between alarms and sleeping in the dormitories.

Airlines to Use Improved Radio Beam

By CHARLES T. LUCEY
Times Special Writer

WASHINGTON, May 8.—First installations of a new ultra-high frequency radio beam system for the nation's airlines will be made in a far west area including Salt Lake City, where 17 persons died in last week's plane crash, Charles I. Stanton, acting civil aeronautics administrator, said today.

Mr. Stanton said tests have shown the new type radio guide will have two major advantages over the radio frequency now used on the airlines.

First, it doesn't break up into multiples that may confuse a pilot, as has happened near Salt Lake and in other areas of rough terrain. Second, the ultra-high frequency wave is above the frequency of static. Thus conditions which in the past often have made radio signals almost unreadable may be largely eliminated. Unintelligibility of signals due to static has figured in Salt Lake area crashes.

Orders for the new equipment already have been placed, Mr. Stanton said, and it is hoped this equipment—subject, of course, to wartime priorities—will be available so that actual installation can begin by early fall. Contracts have been let both for transmitting equipment and for a large number of receiving sets for planes.

MOUNTAIN MINSTREL OF KENTUCKY IS DEAD

ASHLAND, Ky., May 8 (U. P.).—James William Day, 81-year-old mountain minstrel known as "Jillson Setters, the singin' fiddler of Lost Hope Hollow," died yesterday after several months' illness. Day was widely known for his performances at the annual Ashland folk song festival. He appeared in London, England, in 1931 under auspices of the American Folk Song society.

100 Train at Police School

Approximately 100 Hoosiers are undergoing training at the Indiana state police school on the campus of Culver Military academy for an eight-week period. The school opened Monday and will continue through June 25. Nine Indianapolis men are among those taking the course in an effort to qualify for any of the 50 various positions. Applications for the recruit school ran unusually low this year due to the demand on manpower by the draft. Only those applicants with a "B" draft rating were accepted. The Indianapolis men include Harold F. Blades, 611 N. Pennsylvania st.; Fred V. Chew, 1235 N. Delaware st.; Daniel F. Cooper, 1635 LeGrande ave.; Jack E. Hester, 927 N. Chester st.; Paul W. Kern, 1434 Reliance st.; Elmer C. Paul, 2029 Winter ave.; Roy D. Pea, R. R. 15, Box 700 C; Daniel W. Smith, 2220 E. 10th st., and Ray H. Thompson, 2242 N. Harding st.

DAVIES RAPS FOES OF HELP FOR RUSSIANS

NEW YORK, May 8 (U. P.).—Joseph E. Davies, former United States ambassador to Russia, said last night that "stooges of Adolf Hitler" are working in this country to block aid to Russia. "It is neither good Christianity, good sense nor even good sportsmanship to challenge the good faith, honor or integrity of the promises of the Soviets," he said, at a dinner starting a $6,000,000 campaign of the Russian War Relief.
