

Church News— Crusade of Victory Now In 2d Week

'If Hitler Wins' Will Be Lecture Topic at First Baptist.

"If Hitler Wins" is the title of a lecture by Dr. Charles Forbes Taylor which will open the second week of the spiritual victory crusade tomorrow at 3 p. m. in the First Baptist church.

Laurie Taylor, concert pianist and composer, will present a recital of classical piano music Friday evening. Selections from Schumann, Chopin and Liszt are among those scheduled. The B. Y. P. U. council of Indianapolis will sponsor attendance for the recital and other groups, for the services on the other evenings.

After the sermon Monday evening, Dr. Taylor will show colored movies of South America. Movies also will be shown Thursday night. Dr. Taylor will preach on "The Man of the Hour," tomorrow evening at 7:45 o'clock and calls his service "Friday Night" Monday and "Church Night" Wednesday. Baptist Men, Inc. will further attendance Monday evening; Sunday schools, Tuesday evening, and the Baptist pastors' conference, Wednesday evening.

India Missionary To Lead Revival

Members of the Victory Memorial Methodist church will meet at 7 a. m. tomorrow to pray for their revival opening in the evening in the church.

The Rev. E. A. Seamon, missionary to India, who returned in January, will give the evangelistic sermons. He will hold services each morning at 9:30 except Monday and Saturday. The Woman's Society of Christian service will present the thank offering tomorrow evening. The Rev. M. O. Robbins is pastor.

LOCAL CHAPLAIN WINS PROMOTION

Chaplain James McMahon of Indianapolis who entered the army with the rank of captain has been made a major.

Father McMahon was an assistant to the Rev. Fr. James M. Downey at St. Catherine's Catholic church, before enlisting.

Plan Catholic Service Club, Dormitory

It takes thought and planning to launch a new service men's center and dormitory, say the Rev. Fr. August Fussenegger (second from left), diocesan director of the National Catholic Community Service, Miss Leonore Moesmer, Father Fussenegger's secretary, the Rev. Fr. Richard Langen, his assistant, and Miss Patricia Byfield, captain of the C. Y. O. cadettes who will help entertain service men.

Service Set By Organists

Music Program to Follow Dinner for Guild.

The Indiana chapter of the American guild of organists will hold its first dinner of the autumn, followed by a festival service directed by Cheston Heath, dean, Wednesday evening at Christ Episcopal church.

Mr. Heath, who is the organist and choirmaster of the host church, will present his choir of 50 men and boys in a varied program of sacred music beginning at 8:15. Warren's "God of Our Fathers" has been chosen as the processional hymn and Smart's "Stars of the Morning" as a recessional. Other composers to be represented are Tallis, Sowerby, Schubert, Tschalkowsky, Haydn, Bach, Sullivan, Hyde and Swain.

Miss Mary Awater and Miss Blanche Harris will play "The Arrival of the Queen of Sheba" by Handel as a two-piano feature tomorrow morning at the meeting of the men's class of the First Baptist church. Miss Awater is the daughter of Dr. C. W. Awater, the church pastor. There will be talks by L. E. Hall, Allen C. Miller and Charles O. Lawler.

Opens Late in November; St. John's Hall to Be Scene

Indianapolis Catholics will open club rooms and a dormitory for service men of all faiths the latter part of November.

The new service club will occupy St. John's hall, 124 W. Georgia st. The dormitory will be open on Saturday nights, only, but the recreation rooms will be open for the men, daily, from 8 a. m. through the evening. The project is sponsored by the local committee of the National Catholic Community Service with the cooperation and consent of the Most Rev. Joseph E. Ritter, bishop of the diocese of Indianapolis. The Rev. Fr. August Fussenegger is committee chairman and the Rev. Fr. Richard Langen, his assistant. The club to be financed by the community fund.

Showers, lavatories and a game room will be installed in the basement; and an office, reading and writing room and lounge, on the first floor. Bishop Ritter will name certain priests to mingle with the boys and be friendly and helpful in many ways.

"Furniture is going to be scarce," says the Indiana Catholic and Record. "How about that little table you don't often use, or the lamp that only needs to be painted? Start looking around for any games, records, books—anything in which you think a son of yours might find a few hours of relaxation. And when it all gets started, perhaps you will donate a few cookies now and then."

Honor Navy At Services

Churches to Offer Prayer for Sailors.

Indianapolis people of all faiths are expected to say special prayers and hold services and devotions, tomorrow, in preparation for Navy day, Tuesday. Special mention is requested for the men in the service, those who have been killed in action and for the work of the chaplains.

The Naval Armory Glee club will sing and the congregation will dedicate a service flag tomorrow at 10 a. m. at the IMMANUEL EVANGELICAL AND REFORMED CHURCH.

The Rev. Ralph O'Dell is giving a series of brief talks on the theme, "The Christian Basis for Marriage," at the meetings of the new forum for young people each Sunday at 7:30 p. m. in the TABERNACLE PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH.

The Rev. Mr. O'Dell, assistant to Dr. Roy Ewing Vale, church pastor, first presented the talks as lectures at the University of Tennessee. He opens the meeting for questions following his remarks. Tomorrow, he will discuss the special phase of the theme, "What Constitutes a Successful Date?" The Tabernacle forum is for young people above high school age whether married or single.

Plan Home-coming

Members, former ministers and friends of the UNIVERSITY HEIGHTS UNITED BRETHREN CHURCH will observe their fifth annual home-coming and anniversary tomorrow. Dr. Roy H. Turley, pastor, will speak at 9 a. m. on "Make the Church Good." The choir and Delmar Huppert, soloist, will sing, directed by Prof. Eugene Mogge.

Following the noon basket dinner, Prof. Willis Hollman, who is writing the church history, will speak.

Former pastors expected to assist with the program are the Rev. L. P. Cooper of Brazil, Bishop Fred L. Dennis of the Northwest area, whose headquarters are here; Dr. E. E. Long and Dr. W. R. Montgomery, also from Indianapolis; the Rev. N. P. France of Anderson, the Rev. M. F. Wolverton of Detroit, and the Rev. J. R. Simmeron of Terre Haute.

Hugh McK. Landon will speak on the work of the Indiana Committee for Victory at the forum tomorrow at 10 a. m. in ALL SOULS UNITARIAN CHURCH. The committee's objective is "victory now and ending peace afterward."

"Must We Hate Our Enemies?" is the address to be delivered by Dr. E. Burdette Backus tomorrow at 11 a. m. at All Souls.

Young people of the NORTH METHODIST CHURCH will present music and readings at the angelus hour service beginning at 6 p. m. tomorrow. Dr. C. A. McPheters will speak on "Choosing One's Religion and there will be a light supper at 6:40 p. m.

Dr. John F. Edwards, pastor, will preach on "Are You Hard of Hearing?" first sermon of a series on the parables of Jesus, tomorrow at 10:45 a. m. at the BROADWAY METHODIST CHURCH. Sermons on the same general theme will follow on alternate Sundays.

Asks Million For Wartime

Presbyterian Churches of the Nation Seeking Funds.

Presbyterians of Indianapolis and the nation have sounded a call for united action to raise a minimum of $1,000,000 to meet the church's wartime obligations.

Out of millions of members of the Presbyterian Church in the U. S. A., Dr. Alexander E. Sharp of Indianapolis has been chosen to direct the raising of the funds. Dr. Sharp is executive secretary of the synod of Indiana.

As a preliminary to two local mass meetings held in the interest of the million-dollar fund, he will speak tomorrow at 11 a. m. at the Sutherland Presbyterian church. A 6:30 p. m. fellowship dinner will precede the mass meeting Tuesday in the Irvington Presbyterian church and Friday, Nov. 6, in the Tabernacle church.

Dr. Talbot to Speak
Dr. George H. Talbot of Passaic, N. J., a chaplain in world war I, the first camp pastor of the denomination in present war work and a member of the general assembly's committee on camp and church activities, will be the guest speaker. Questions will be answered afterward.

The campaign for the million-dollar fund comes as a direct appeal from the moderator of the general assembly to people in their homes. This is a new departure for Presbyterians since such messages are usually relayed to them through the synods and presbyteries. The appeal of the moderator, Dr. Stuart Nye Hutchison, was mailed to 1500 homes in this vicinity this week.

It's My Duty
"It is my duty to place before you," said Dr. Hutchison, "the obligations confronting your church as the result of total war. . . . Since that fateful Sabbath in December, 1941, need has risen like a tide, until we, too, must rise to great heights, if we are to meet it. . . ."

Among the listed causes the fund will serve are that of the army and navy chaplains, camp and church activities, prisoners of war, war-industry communities, Christian refugees, medical war relief, emergency repatriation of missionaries, China relief, orphaned missions and aid to British and European churches.

SCHEDULE BAZAAR FOR NEXT FRIDAY

The annual bazaar sponsored by the ladies' aid of the Union Congregational and Christian church, 17th and Rembrandt sts., will be held next Friday at the church.

A chicken and noodle supper will be served from 5 to 7 p. m. and fancy sewing work and canned goods will be for sale. The Rev. W. G. Proctor is church pastor and Mrs. Grace Clark is president of the ladies' aid.

10 Lutheran Congregations Join in Reformation Rite

Ten Indianapolis Lutheran congregations will join in an annual reformation festival service tomorrow at 2:30 p. m. in Cadle tabernacle.

The service is sponsored by the Federation of Evangelical Lutheran (Missouri synod) churches of Greater Indianapolis. The Rev. Richard A. Jesse, dean of men and instructor of pastoral theology at Concordia seminary, St. Louis, will speak.

The reformation festival choir, directed by William J. Kirchoff, and the children's festival choir, by Theodore Wukasz, will sing. The Rev. William H. Eifert will serve as liturgist and Edwin L. Kirchoff will play the organ. Co-operating congregations are, Calvary, Emmanuel, Grace, Our Redeemer, Our Saviour, St. John's, St. Paul's, St. Peter's, Trinity and Zion.

The service commemorates that period in history known as the reformation which was led by Martin Luther in Germany in the 16th century and marked the rise of Protestantism in the world.

Institute to Study Peace

Convene for Sessions
Nov. 7 and 8

The central Indiana institute for the "Study of the Churches and a Just and Durable Peace" will convene Saturday afternoon and evening, Nov. 7, and Sunday afternoon, Nov. 8, at the First Congregational church.

Study sessions of the institute are for delegates, the minister, an adult layman and a young person from each congregation. A mass meeting Saturday evening, Nov. 7, at 7:30, will be open to the public.

Speakers for the mass meeting are Pres. William Cullen Dennis of Earlham college and Dr. Charles F. Boss Jr., executive secretary of the commission on world peace of the Methodist church. Dr. Boss will also serve as resource leader for the Sunday afternoon session and conclude the institute with a summary and a consecration service.

Commitments to Meet
The church and the political, economic and social bases for the future peace will be studied by four separate commissions each with a chairman and a secretary, or reporter. Each delegate will be assigned to one commission.

Dr. Blaine E. Kirkpatrick is the chairman and the Rev. Charles Armentrout, reporter for the commission on "The Church." The commission on "Political Bases" has Dr. John F. Cady, dean of Franklin

C. M. B. ATTENDANCE RECORDS CITED

Four members of the Christian Men Builders class who have had perfect attendance records of from two to 12 1/2 years will be honored by the class in the Third Christian church tomorrow.

E. J. Stanbrough has been present at C. M. B. for 663 consecutive Sundays, George Pugh for 599, William Colt, 455, and Harry Wilson, 104.

David Hempling will sing accompanied by Mrs. Charles Hamilton and Merle Sidener will talk about "The Modern Volunteer." The regular class radio broadcast will begin at 10 a. m. due to conflict with the "Wings Over Jordan" program from Indianapolis over WFMM-CBS.

Hooray for Navy Day—

THE OLD HOME TOWN is getting ready for a big time Tuesday, which happens to be Navy day. . . . Big parade 'n everything. . . . Rear Admiral Randall Jacobs, chief of naval personnel will be here to give a talk at a public luncheon, then swear in a group of navy recruits. . . . Not to be outdone, the local marine detachment is getting ready for a celebration, too. . . . It's the 167th anniversary of the U. S. marine corps, Nov. 10. . . . And they boast that the marine corps is the oldest branch of the U. S. armed forces. . . . Everybody was glad to see Yeoman (2c) Robert Howard get commissioned as an ensign this week. He did a nice job with the recruiting office publicity. . . . You can imagine the thrill Mrs. Clint Cowan (1402 W. Ray st.) got the other day when she answered the door and found—Carpenter's Mate (2c) Lloyd Cowan—her son. . . . He was wounded in action in the Solomon Islands, and came home unannounced to surprise the home folks.

Back to the Farm—

HATS OFF to Lieut. Albert Thom, of nearby Noblesville. . . . He has been awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross for bombing a Jap warship in the South Pacific. . . . The Man's Store is proud of you, Lieut. Thom. . . . You fellows may be interested in knowing that Hoosier farm boys enrolled at I. U. are going to be excused from classes for a week, if their grades are up to snuff, to go home and help get in the corn crop. . . . Bet some of them would rather stay in school.

Blackout King, Queen—

OUT AT BUTLER they've got a new Blackout King and Queen. . . . The "eds" and co-eds held an election to tell who they'd rather be with during a blackout. . . . The boys chose Miss Jackie Blomberg, and nice choosin' it was, too. . . . The girls picked husky William Witt. . . . Now the boys and girls can hardly wait for a blackout to see if they voted right. . . . You'll hardly know the old town when you get back, it will be so free of junk. . . . The newspapers put on a drive. . . . Something like 210,000 tons of junk—better than 80 pounds for every man, woman and child—has been picked up around the state and sent to the blast furnaces to make bombs for those axis buns.

What's Cookin' in the Army—

LIEUT. ELLIOTT PEABODY (Gas Co. sales manager) has been visiting the home folks. . . . On leave from San Antonio. . . . Looks like a millions dollars, too, with his "chest" back in place—above his belt. . . . That's what army life will do for you. . . . And from the Emerald Isle comes word that Pvt. Leonard Wedding (127 S. State) has been there since Aug. 19. . . . Howdy Pvt. Wedding. . . . A couple of the home town pals are with the quartermaster corps over in India. One is Staff Sgt. C. W. Griffith; the other, Pfc. Opal R. Wilde. . . . The news from the camps makes it look like Uncle Sam is pretty smart about making promotions. . . . For instance, Capt. Harold C. Carpenter, down at Camp Shelby, has been made a major. . . . And out at Ft. Ord, Cal., Robert H. Fechtman has been promoted to first lieutenant. . . . Maj. Frank C. Henry, the insurance man, now is a lieutenant colonel. . . . At the Charleston port of embarkation. . . . And Dr. Harvey E. White, down at Ft. Jackson, S. C., has traded his captain's bars for a gold leaf. . . . Gabe E. Frand (State Auto Insurance) has been commissioned a captain, reports at the Aberdeen proving grounds, and B. F. Hake (Gulf Oil Co.) has just been commissioned a major and ordered to report at an embarkation station. . . . And we have several new second lieutenants. Among them are Leo F. Welch Jr., Louis E. Boeldt, Raymond L. Reed, William L. Beaning, John Edwin Billingsley, Harold McKinley and James D. Percifield. . . . Congratulations, all you fellows.

In the Mail Bag—

FROM SOMEWHERE in the South Pacific, George Woodrow Harmon, machinist's mate (2c), writes to tell us how much he likes "What's Cookin'." He's been in the battle zone six months, and says the naval air force has been doing wonderful work. . . . The well dressed native, where he is, writes George, is going strong for gay flowered prints for his sarong (wrapped like pants). . . . Thanks, Mechanic's Mate Harmon for keeping us posted on the South Pacific style trends. . . . And Pvt. Harry Hunter writes from Orlando, Fla., that even "many of the boys here who know nothing of Indianapolis enjoy 'What's Cookin' immensely.'" . . . And Philip Greenberger of Brookley field, Ala., asks to have this letter sent to him every week as he'd hate to miss it. . . . Take care of yourselves, now. . . . We'll be back next week with more of "What's Cookin'."
