

LOYALTY WINS AMERICAN HOME

Chinese Boy, 16, Rewarded For Aiding Yankees in Jap Camp.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7 (U. P.).—Sixteen-year-old Henry White, Chinese boy adopted by Americans, yesterday was rewarded by the house immigration committee with a permanent U. S. residence permit for displaying "those singular American traits, loyalty, generosity and a willingness to help other people."

Henry, adopted son of merchant marine officer Kenneth M. White, of Portland, Ore., nursed, ran errands, interpreted and acted as general factotum for Americans in a Japanese internment camp, the committee said.

The young Chinese, according to Rep. Homer D. Angell (R. Ore.) became White's ward and while at school in China was interned with Americans at the outbreak of the war. He so earned the gratitude of other prisoners that they insisted he be given space to come to this country on the exchange liner Gripsholm.

Henry has been legally adopted by White and is an honor student at Virgil Junior high school, Los Angeles, although he studied English only two years before his arrival. The committee's action followed several letters of appreciation from prominent co-internees.

Soy Beans Good in Bread—But Who Knows How Much?

By ANN STEVICK
Times Special Writer

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7.—Requests for new hearings with the pure food and drug administration may disclose the use of soy flour in bread from the horns of the dilemma on which it now rests.

Previous hearings with PFDA found that the requested use of 3 per cent of soy bean flour to wheat flour was not beneficial to the consumer.

If the product is sold as white bread, the consumer is apt to notice the soy aroma and think something is wrong. If it's sold as soy bread the consumer is apt to be misled by statements about its added nutritive values. The addition of this small amount of soy flour, in the opinion of the PFDA, makes no significant improvement on food value.

Some 400,000,000 pounds of soybeans were produced in 1943. In 1944, 1,350,000,000 is the estimated total, with a billion pounds going to lend-lease and occupied areas. Bakers want to use it, but not enough to change the character of the bread. In the same controversy over use of soybeans flour in noodles, the PFDA decided a minimum of 15 per cent soy flour was necessary to make a distinctive product.

No 2-Pants Suits

THE TWO-PANTS suit is not likely to return to the American scene soon, according to the war production board. It was thought that we might follow Canada's lead and put them back in production at the forthcoming wool conference. Pleats in trousers, and perhaps vests, would probably be considered first.

Odds and Ends

TWO OUT of three tin cans are still getting away from salvage. Housewives are being asked to do everything they can to increase the number saved. . . . Groups such as P-T. A.'s and lodges can get special ration points for occasional meals which seem necessary. . . . No new wallpaper patterns can be manufactured, but producers may use 60 per cent of the paper used in 1941-42. . . . Shorter length matches are another product of the effort to save critical wood pulp.

Liver Often Gets Blame Belonging to Other Ills

By DR. THOMAS D. MASTERS
Times Special Writer

A variety of vague indispositions, including fatigue and lassitude, even failure to gain weight, and especially constipation, are frequently attributed by the public to disturbances of the liver. Doctors approach the subject with much more reticence, because they know that the liver has great reserve power and remarkable regenerative capacity, and that the signs of known liver disease are few and fairly distinct.

The most important sign of liver disease is jaundice. This is a condition in which the bile, normally secreted into the intestinal tract, is backed up into the blood and ultimately into the tissues of the body, until the whites of the eyes become tinged with a yellowish green, and the bile is usually excreted by the kidneys into the urine.

This condition may come as the result of a block in the duct that conveys the bile into the intestine, either by a gallstone or by inflammation and swelling, or it may follow various injuries to the liver cells themselves.

Another sign of liver disease is dependent upon the fact that the veins carrying the blood from the gastro-intestinal tract pass through the liver. Obstruction of the free passage of the blood passing on its way to the heart forces a diffusion of fluid into the abdominal cavity, and the enlargement of otherwise inconspicuous vessels capable of by-passing the liver.

Changes in the size, shape and consistency of the liver also indicate disease of this organ. Since the liver is the largest gland in the body, these alterations are usually readily detected and frequently give considerable information as to the character of the disease. Cirrhosis of the liver is the most striking cause. In addition to the secretion of bile, which aids in the digestion of fat, the liver serves as a reservoir for sugar. It not only has the ability to store sugar and release it into the blood as the need arises, but it also converts other substances into sugar for their ultimate use by the body.

The liver also breaks down the building-blocks out of which proteins are formed, and plays an important role in the utilization of fat. It manufactures substances concerned with the clotting of blood. It serves as a storage depot for a substance capable of stimulating the production of red blood cells, and a practical consequence of this function is the use of liver in the treatment of pernicious anemia. It also stores iron and copper necessary in blood production. Vitamin A is formed from its precursor, carotene, in the liver, and the reservoir for Vitamin B is in that organ.

The liver begins its work before birth by forming blood, a function which is later assumed by the bone marrow. Various toxic substances that are absorbed into the bloodstream are carried to the liver, and there rendered innocuous. Because of the numerous reactions going on in the liver, it is a source of much of the body's heat.

An organ possessing all these and still other functions might easily go astray, but the liver is remarkably reliable, and rarely fails its owner.

SPEAKERS CLUB WILL ELECT NEW OFFICERS

SHORTRIDGE BOWLING LEAGUE HAS MEETING

Approximately 40 girls attended the reorganization meeting of the Shortridge high school girls' bowling league yesterday afternoon.

Officers of the group are Jean Gross, vice president; Betty Kendall, secretary, and Marilyn Holloway, treasurer. Miss Norma Miller is sponsor.

Tired Kidneys Often Bring Sleepless Nights

Doctors say your kidneys contain 15 miles of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy. When they get tired and don't work right in the daytime, many people have to get up nights. Irregular or painful elimination sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder. Don't neglect this condition and lose valuable, restful sleep.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may also cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

HITS 4TH TERM CAMPAIGN PERIL

Nebraska's Governor Fears Danger of Disunion During War.

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 7 (U. P.).—Republican Governor Dwight Griswold of Nebraska, in a speech before the annual convention of the Ohio Federation of Republican Women's clubs yesterday, declared that a fourth-term campaign by President Roosevelt would "bring bitterness and hatred," and "throw a terrific strain upon our war effort."

Indorsing the proposal of Governor Bricker of Ohio that the 1944 Republican candidate be pledged to one term of service, Griswold said "the decision to throw the nation into that maelstrom rests in the hands of one man, yet there is nothing any of us can do."

Griswold recommended that the Republicans "continue Secretaries Stimson and Knox, to insure continuity" in the conduct of the war, should the Republicans win the presidency in 1944 before the war has ended.

Deaths Drop

Victory on the home front is seen in the sharp drop of auto accident fatalities since Pearl Harbor to 41,000, as compared with 64,000 estimate on basis of 1941 levels, according to Cleveland Trust Co. figures. Gas rationing, slower driving, and induction of young men into the services are credited with this drop in the death rate.

Walkie-talkie one-man radio stations, made for army scouts, are now used on shipboard for communication with nearby boats; their range is about 10 miles.

RAPS SUBSIDIES AS SOCIALISM

Roosevelt's 'Back Office' Blasted by Michigan Representative.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7 (U. P.).—Rep. Jesse L. Wolcott (R. Mich.) charged in an interview yesterday that the administration is subsidizing farm products as a prelude to a system of socialized agriculture.

Wolcott is a member of the house banking and currency committee considering an administration proposal to increase the commodity credit corporation's borrowing power by $500,000,000. He said President Roosevelt's "back office" advisers want to socialize industry, agriculture and medicine with a view to post-war participation in a dream federation of socialized nations.

At the committee hearing yesterday Wolcott said, "You can sum up that back office with just six names: Harry Hopkins, personal friend and confidential adviser to the president; Felix Frankfurter, associate justice of the supreme court; Samuel Rosenman, presidential adviser; R. V. Gilbert, chief
