U. S. TO BECOME BIGGEST LENDER

Nation Will Be Nerve Center in Post-War Financing, Briton Predicts.

By ELMER C. WALZER
United Press Financial Editor

BRETON WOODS, N. H., July 4.—United Nations delegates attending the monetary and financial conference today were in frank agreement that the United States will be the biggest lender in the post-war world.

Lord Keynes, head of the British delegation and chairman of a commission on "The Bank for Reconstruction," said that "it is in the nature of the case that the bulk of the lending can only come from a small group of member countries, and mainly from the United States."

Keynes pleaded for speed, arguing that any delay would be disastrous in establishment of good government, "and may also postpone the date at which the victorious armies of liberation can return to their homelands."

Map Reconstruction

He said that the early work of "The Bank for Reconstruction" will largely be in the field of reconstruction from the consequences of war.

Later, he said, it must develop the resources and productive capacity of the world with special attention to the less developed countries.

"In general," he told his commission, "it will be the duty of the bank, by wise and prudent lending, to promote a policy of expansion of the world's economy in the sense in which this term is the exact opposite of inflation."

Keynes proposed that all member nations should share the risks of the loans up to the limit of their capacity. Guarantees of the loans, he said, "will be joint and several, up to the limit of any member's subscription."

Name Commissions

The 700 delegates and aides representing 44 nations named two other commissions to handle the work of the conference—an international monetary fund and a group to handle other financial matters.

Up to now, the going has been smooth and fast, but the real difficulties of formulating policy of the giant institutions projected by the agenda—an international monetary fund of $8,000,000,000 to $10,000,000,000 and an international bank for reconstruction of $10,000,000,000 are developing.

SEEK 3 FUGITIVES FROM REFORMATORY

State police today were searching for three trustees who escaped from the Indiana State reformatory at Pendleton early this morning.

The escapees, all serving 10 years for holdups, are John Melvin and Walter Mavis, both 26, and of Indianapolis, and Claude E. Bobb, 27, Washington county.

Wins Air Medal

Lt. David E. Noland

Carrier Command Pilot Is Stationed in South Pacific.

Lt. DAVID E. NOLAND, a trooper carrier command pilot in the Southwest Pacific area, has been awarded the air medal, according to an announcement by Lt. Gen. George C. Kenney, commanding officer of the 5th air force.

Gen. Kenney stated that Lt. Noland was cited "for courageous service in transporting troops and dropping supplies in sustained operational flight missions against Japanese bases."

Lt. Noland is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen C. Noland, 607 E. 39th st. Lt. Noland is editor of the Indianapolis News.

A graduate of Kentucky Military Institute, Lt. Noland was a sophomore at Wabash college when he entered the army two years ago. He is a brother of S. Sgt. Stephen M. Noland, who has been overseas with the 8th air force more than a year.

CUT PAPER ORDERS, PUBLISHERS ASKED

WASHINGTON, July 4 (U. P.)—The war production board said yesterday that orders for July shipments of Canadian newspaper far exceeded authorized delivery quotas and asked newspaper publishers to trim their orders.

Arthur R. Treanor, director of WPA's printing and publishing division, said some publishers have failed to file with the division required copies of their certified newspaper orders each month.

Publishers are permitted to order monthly not more than 100 percent of their permissible quota of paper consumption quota, plus 10 additional deliveries, unless specifically authorized by WPA's director.

CITES U. S. PACIFIC COAST

A L L I E D HEADQUARTERS, SOUTHERN PACIFIC, July 4 (U. P.)—The U. S. fleet has so many carriers now that local air superiority over the Japanese almost always, Rear Adm. Daniel E. Barbaree, commander of the fleet amphibious operations, said today.

HOOSIER YANKS BUY WAR BONDS

300,000 in Armed Forces Purchase $1,477,000 in Past Month.

More than 300,000 Hoosier servicemen and women throughout the world invested $1,477,000 in war bonds last month, Eugene C. Pulliam, state war finance committee chairman, announced today.

Of this amount, $229,500 will be credited to the Marion county fifth war loan goal of $79,000,000 as having been purchased by service men and women from this area.

With only four days to go to make this quota, William H. Trimble, county chairman, reported that county sales now stand at $56,742,000, leaving more than $22,000,000 yet to attain by Saturday night.

Commend Spirit

"What a fine fourth of July spirit these Indiana sons and daughters are demonstrating to the rest of us," Mr. Pulliam declared. "They, more than any of us, realize what their homes and their country's institutions mean. They know that it takes tremendous quantities of war material of all descriptions to win the victory. They know to what extent war bond investments to the limit of each person's capacity are urgently needed for the purchase of these supplies."

"The example which these loyal men and women set should inspire each of us in the few remaining days of the fifth war loan drive to buy those extra bonds before July 8—to buy more than before. If the men on the battlefield can give of their dollars in addition to their blood, the least we can do is to invest to the limit in the world's safest security—United States war bonds," Mr. Pulliam said.

Heavy Ticket Demand

State sales yesterday were reported at $221,300,000 with almost $60,000,000 in war bond investments required for Indiana to reach its goal of $281,000,000.

A continuing heavy demand for free tickets to the war bond premiere of Bing Crosby's "Going My Way" was reported by Mrs. I. Irving Newman, chairman of bond book solicitations.

Purchasers of extra war bonds at bookstores of downtown stores throughout the city, however, indicated the bonds were bought. These were available at the Circle theater box office admission tickets to see in the second car from the end of the train and all those ahead were involved.

"Army and personnel on the train went to work giving first aid and carrying out blankets to cover the injured. Almost everyone dressed in nightclothes, a few who climbed into the wrecked cars had mad scrapes in their mad scramble to safety.

"I helped carry out a pretty girl of about 20. She was badly injured and died later. I didn't find out her name."

"Fire broke out in one of the cars but passengers and trainmen soon brought it under control."

"I talked to one of the baggage clerks I found wandering beside the twisted rails and debris scattered over the sand."

"He had been tossed 400 feet into the brush by the impact of the cars piling together. He was apparently uninjured but pretty soon he began to show signs of nervous reaction."

"I looked at the wreckage laid out on the brush-studded plain—one of the rails was bent in an arch over the top of a coach lying in its side in the ditch."

Praises Service Men

"The strangest thing was the location of the baggage car. Two of them were lying forward of the engine—nobody seems to know how they got there or just what happened."

"We were very fortunate in having army and navy personnel on the train. They pitched in and did a magnificent job both in giving first aid and in organization. The way they went about the job calmed the rest of us and we joined in, doing the best we could."

"There were several military doctors among the passengers and their work was magnificent."

MME. PROCOPE HAS SON

WASHINGTON, July 4 (U. P.)—Mme. Hjalmar Procope, wife of the ousted Finnish minister, and her 10-year-old son were reported doing "splendidly" today at Doctor's hospital.

The nine-pound, 12-ounce boy, born early yesterday, will have dual citizenship—American and Finnish—until he is 21 when he can make his own choice.

SEES PLATFORM OF FEW WORDS

Connally Says Democratic Foreign Policy Plank Will 'Mean Something.'

WASHINGTON, July 4 (U. P.)—Chairman Tom Connally (D. Tex.) of the senate foreign relations committee, predicted today the 1944 Democratic platform will be "very short with just a few things in it," but among them a foreign policy plank "strong enough to mean something."

His forecast of a "very short" platform added strength to reports that the Democrats would counter the 400 or more word Republican appeal with a thumbnail statement expressing a determination to take all steps to speed victory and insure continued peace.

Prominent Democratic congressmen here have made no secret of the fact that the Republicans placed them on the political hot spot with their detailed planks appealing to almost every segment of the voting population.
