SEE A REAL
P-40 PLANE
ON AYRES' SECOND FLOOR

A REAL P-40 has been installed on Ayres' second floor. The airplane is the Curtiss-Wright Tomahawk fighter "Red Ball" of the type used by the American Volunteer Group in China before the war. It was moved into the store by a crew from Wright Field, who worked most of the night assembling the plane. "Red Ball" has had an adventurous life, jammed with excitement, even though it's never been in combat.

Built in August, 1940, it was among the first P-40 Tomahawks ever constructed. It was used for tactical training . . . the plane has survived three crashes, and has seen service at Hamilton Field, Marsh Field, Selman Field, Myrtle Beach and Fairfield. In August, 1943, "Red Ball" was delivered to Wright Field and immediately put to use by Materiel Command Aircraft Laboratory for testing new types of landing gears. This veteran of four years has a total of 1,078 hours in the air.

Rep. Hamilton Fish Renominated; Champ Clark Apparently Defeated

By UNITED PRESS

The renomination of Rep. Hamilton Fish Jr., pre-war isolationist, in New York's reapportioned 29th district, highlighted the primary election returns from four states—New York, Missouri, Kansas and Virginia—today, but in Missouri, another ardent isolationist, Senator Benet Champ Clark, was trailing State Atty. Gen. Roy McKittrick by nearly 16,000 votes and apparently was defeated for the Democratic nomination.

In another contest in a newly aligned district in New York, Rep. Vito Marcantonio, seeking renomination for a fifth term, won both the Democratic and Republican nomination, leading Rep. Martin J.

Kennedy (Dem.) of the old district, 10,100 to 7,759 and Robert C. Palmer (R.), 2,949 to 2,720.

Fish's opponent, Augustus W. Bennet, Newburg attorney, conceded the nomination early today when unofficial returns from 282 of 278 precincts showed 13,975 votes for Fish and 10,891 for Bennet. Bennet, however, was unopposed for the nomination for the Democratic and American Labor parties and will oppose Fish in the November election.

A泥 and tuck race developed in the Republican gubernatorial battle. Returns from 2220 precincts gave Charles Ferguson, former state Republican chairman, 59,203 to 58,578 for Jean Paul Bradshaw, Lebanon lawyer.

State Senator Phil M. Donnelly had a 30,000-vote margin for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination.

All incumbent congressmen who had opposition in the primary were leading their opponents.

In the Kansas election, Rep. W. P. Lambertson, a Republican veteran of 16 years in congress, appeared beaten by State Senator Albert Cole. Cole polled 8704 votes to Lambertson's 6841 in 181 of the district's 428 precincts.

Returns from 722 of the state's precincts gave Senator Clyde M. Reed a total of 21,553 votes, compared to 16,757 for Carl Friend. Reed is seeking nomination for his second term in the senate.

In Virginia, Rep. Patrick H. arrived earlier this month.

Drewry (D.) won renomination on the basis of nearly complete but unofficial returns.
